

Glenmore Residents' Symptoms

Anxiety
Appetite loss
Blurred vision
Chest vibration
Cold-like symptoms lasting for long periods of time
Disequilibrium
Depression
Digestive problems
Difficulty concentrating
Desire to get outside
Ear pressure, pain, itching, “popping” and/or ear infections
Fatigue
Headaches
Heart palpitations
Heavy chest
Insomnia
Malaise
Memory loss
Muscle & joint pain
Muscle spasms
Nausea
Panic attacks
Sinusitis
Vertigo
Weakness

All symptoms reported by the Glenmore families who are living in, or have lived in proximity to the eight 492' Shirley Wind project wind turbines are only symptoms that began, or were significantly exacerbated, once these turbines began operation. Great care was exercised to not allege symptoms frivolously or to exaggerate or misrepresent what was and is being experienced by these families. These are NOT the only families experiencing adverse health effects.