

STATE OF NEW YORK
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

CASE 12-C-0566 - In the Matter of Compliance with Requirement to have a current Telecommunications Carrier Critical Information form on file at the Department.

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION OF CERTIFICATES OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

(Issued March 25, 2013)

In 2005, the Office of Telecommunications developed, and has maintained, the Telecommunications Company Information Database (TCID) containing basic contact information for all telecommunications carriers under the jurisdiction of the Commission. At that time, the Telecommunications Company Critical Information (TCCI) form was created to obtain this contact information from carriers and the Commission instituted the TCCI form as the Department's official record that all companies were required to file an annual basis. The information contained in the TCCI form is used to populate company records in the TCID.

In September 2012, Staff of the Office of Telecommunications began an investigation in an ongoing effort to improve the accuracy of the company records in the TCID. The investigation focused on the inactive companies in the database that had not filed a TCCI form since 2009 or earlier in an effort to determine whether or not these companies were still doing business in New York State. These companies were notified of the requirement to file a TCCI form and given 30 days in which to comply with this requirement.

Upon the conclusion of staff's investigation and recommendation, the Commission issued an Order in this proceeding on February 13, 2013 cancelling the Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity of those companies that failed to have a current TCCI form on file at the Department. The Commission concluded that these telephone corporations are no longer operating in New York and do not have a need for either a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity (CPCN) or a tariff. The cancellations became effective 30 days from the issuance of the February 13, 2013 Order or March 13, 2013. Therefore, pursuant to the Order, the Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity of the companies listed in the Attachment are cancelled.
