CHAPTER 6 FOR HIRE VEHICLES

§6-14 Probationary Licenses.

(a) An applicant will be issued a probationary license valid for a period of one-year subsequent to the date the license was issued. The Commission will evaluate the applicant at the conclusion of the one-year probationary period and will determine if renewal of the license is appropriate. In making such determination, the Commission may consider the driving record, any violation of the For-Hire Vehicle Rules, or any other evidence that suggests that the driver no longer meets all requirements for a license.

(b) Renewal of a probationary license will be automatically barred or the Commission may revoke a probationary license at any time if any of the following occurs during the probationary period:

(1) The driver is convicted of a crime in any jurisdiction.

(2) The driver is convicted of driving while impaired by alcohol or drugs.

(3) The driver is convicted of refusing to submit to a breathalyzer or other chemical test.

(4) The driver is convicted of leaving the scene of an accident.

(5) The driver accumulates eight or more points against his New York State Chauffeur's License or comparable license issued by his State of residence, the total of which shall include points existing on the driver's State license prior to his or her application for a license with the Commission.

(6) The driver is convicted of three or more moving violations.

(7) The driver is convicted of two speeding violations.

(8) The driver accumulated four or more points in accordance with the Commission's persistent violator program described in Rule 6-23.

(9) The driver is convicted of two or more violations of Rule 6-16(d), 6-16(f), or 6-16(g).

(c) For purposes of subdivision (b) of this rule, the Commission will consider the date of occurrence rather than the date of conviction when determining if a violation occurred within the probationary period.

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

§6-15 Driver License Requirements.

(a) (1) A driver shall not operate a for-hire vehicle unless he is licensed by the Commission and affiliated with a licensed base.

(2) A driver shall not operate a for-hire vehicle without a valid New York State chauffeur's license or a valid license of equivalent class of the state of which he is a resident. For the purposes of these rules, a valid chauffeur's license or a license of equivalent class shall mean a license which is neither probationary, suspended, revoked, conditional, nor restricted as to use by the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles or agency of another state which issued such license for violations of traffic laws or regulations.

(3) An applicant for a for-hire vehicle driver's license, other than an applicant who is a City of New York Police Officer, shall be tested, at the applicant's expense, for drugs or controlled substances, as set forth in §3306 of the Public Health Law. Such testing shall be performed by an individual or entity designated by the Commission and possessing a requisite permit issued by the New York State Department of Health. A positive test result shall result in the denial of a new application. Said determination shall be a final agency decision. A renewal applicant must be tested for drugs in accordance with §6-16(v) of this chapter.

(b) An applicant for a for-hire vehicle driver's permit shall agree that service of any paper, notice, letter, summons, complaint or legal process of any kind or nature may be made by the City of New York, or any department thereof, upon the person to whom the permit is issued by leaving a copy of any such paper, notice, letter, summons, complaint or legal process with any member of his or her family or any other person with whom he or she may reside at the address listed in his or her application.

(c) A driver shall immediately surrender his for-hire vehicle operator's permit to the Commission upon the restriction, suspension or revocation of his chauffeur's license.

(d) (1) A driver, within twenty-four (24) hours, exclusive of holidays and weekends, shall notify the Commission of the loss or theft of his for-hire vehicle operator's permit and shall replace said such permit.

(2) A driver shall not alter, deface, mutilate, or obliterate any portion of his for-hire vehicle operator's permit or the attached photograph.

(3) A driver shall immediately surrender to the Commission an unreadable or unrecognizable for-hire vehicle operator's permit and shall replace such permit.

(4) A driver shall not permit another person to use his for-hire vehicle operator's permit.

(e) An applicant for a for-hire operator's permit shall be fingerprinted for the purpose of securing criminal history records from the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. The criminal history of any applicant, including a renewal applicant, shall be reviewed in a manner consistent with Article 23-A of the New York State Correction Law and the application of any applicant denied, or the for-hire operator's permit of any current holder shall be revoked, after notice and a hearing, following conviction of such applicant or holder for any serious criminal offense as set forth in §498.1(f)*1 of the New York Vehicle and Traffic Law. The applicant shall pay any processing fee required by the State. A driver shall immediately inform the Commission when convicted of any crime and shall supply the Commission with a certified copy of the Certificate of Disposition issued by the Clerk of the Court with respect to such conviction.

(f) A driver shall, upon filing for Workers' Compensation benefits because of a disabling work-related injury, submit the driver's for-hire vehicle driver's license to the Commission and cease driving, for so long as the driver claims a disability that prevents the driver from operating a vehicle for hire. Such license shall not be returned until such driver presents to the Commission documentation of cessation of Workers' Compensation benefits due to recovery from such work-related disability, as provided in §6-07(d) of this chapter.

(g) A driver shall notify the Commission in person or by first class mail, within seven (7) days, exclusive of holidays and weekends, of any change of mailing address. Any notice from the Commission shall be deemed sufficient if sent to the last mailing address furnished by the driver.

(h) The holder of a for-hire operator's permit issued under this chapter shall satisfy any outstanding judgment and pay any civil penalty owed for a violation relating to traffic in a qualified jurisdiction or a violation of the regulations of a qualified jurisdiction.

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

§6-16 Conditions of Operation for For-Hire Vehicle Drivers.

(a) A driver shall not operate a for-hire vehicle in such a manner or at such a speed which endangers users of other vehicles, pedestrians or such driver's passengers.

(b) A driver who, knowing or having cause to know that personal injury or damage to property has been caused by the driver's culpability or due to an accident involving the driver's for-hire vehicle, shall, before leaving the place where such damage or injury occurred, exhibit to the person or persons who were injured or whose property was damaged the driver's chauffeur's license, for-hire vehicle operator's permit, and vehicle permit, and give to such other person or persons the driver's name, operator's permit number, and vehicle permit number, as well as the name of the vehicle's insurance carrier and the insurance policy number.

(c) A driver shall operate his for-hire vehicle at all times in full compliance with all New York State and New York City traffic laws, rules and regulations and all rules, regulations and procedures of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, the Triboro Bridge and Tunnel Authority, and any regulatory body or governmental agency having jurisdiction over motor vehicles, with respect to matters not otherwise specifically covered in these rules. Violations of the foregoing shall be classified as follows for purposes of this subdivision:

(1) Laws, rules or regulations governing stationary vehicles.

(3) Laws, rules or regulations governing moving vehicles which involve hazardous moving violations defined as follows:

(ii) failing to stop for school bus;

(iii) following too closely;

(iv) inadequate brakes (own vehicle);

(v) inadequate brakes (employer's vehicle);

(vi) failing to yield right of way;

(vii) traffic signal violation;

(viii) stop sign violation;

(ix) yield sign violation;

(x) railroad crossing violation;

(xi) improper passing;

(xii) unsafe lane change;

(xiii) driving left of center;

(xiv) driving in wrong direction;

(xv) leaving scene of an accident involving property damage or injury to animal.

(d) A driver shall not operate an unlicensed for-hire vehicle.

(e)(1) A driver must not operate a for-hire vehicle without a current, valid and unexpired for-hire vehicle permit decal or decals issued by the Commission. The decal shall be affixed to the front right side of the windshield of the vehicle and, if three decals are required, also on each of the two rear quarter windows. The decals must be plainly visible. In addition, until July 1, 2009 the following items shall be present in the for-hire vehicle:

(A) the driver's for-hire vehicle driver's license;

(B) the certificate of registration or legible photostat thereof;

(C) the for-hire vehicle permit or legible photostat thereof;

(D) the insurance card or legible photostat thereof;

(E) if such for-hire vehicle is used for providing pre-arranged transportation for hire between the City of New York and an issuing jurisdiction, a trip log conforming to the requirements of §6-25 of this chapter.

(2) Beginning on July 1, 2009, the driver's for-hire vehicle driver's license must be displayed in a protective holder mounted behind the driver's seat and the vehicle must contain all other items listed in paragraph (1) of this subdivision.

(3) Beginning on September 1, 2009 a driver must not operate a for-hire vehicle without three (3) current, valid and unexpired for-hire vehicle license decals, issued by the Commission's Licensing Division, affixed, one to the front right side of the windshield of the vehicle and one to each of the two rear quarter windows, so as to be plainly visible, and the following items shall be present in the for-hire vehicle:

(A) in the right visor or on top of the right side of the dashboard or in the glove compartment:

(i) the certificate of registration or legible photostat thereof;

(ii) the insurance card or legible photostat thereof;

(B) in a protective holder mounted behind the driver's seat in the vehicle:

(i) the for-hire vehicle driver's license of the driver; and

(ii) the for-hire vehicle permit.

(C) if such for-hire vehicle is used for providing pre-arranged transportation for hire between the City of New York and an issuing jurisdiction, a trip log conforming to the requirements of §6-25 of this chapter.

(f) A driver shall not solicit or pick up passengers by means other than prearrangement through a licensed base, except that the driver of a wheelchair accessible livery may be dispatched as provided in chapter 16 of this title.

(g) A driver shall not pick up a passenger at an authorized taxi stand.

(h) A driver, while operating a for-hire vehicle, shall not, without the Chairperson's written authorization, have in his or her possession or in the vehicle, a weapon as defined by §6-01 of these Rules, or any other instrument which is intended to be used as a weapon.

(i) (1) A driver, whether in his vehicle or not, shall, at all times at all Port Authority of New York and New Jersey facilities, conduct himself and operate his vehicle in accordance with all rules and regulations and procedures of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey.

(2) A driver shall at all times at all Port Authority of New York and New Jersey facilities remain inside his or her vehicle or with fifteen (15) feet thereof or in areas designated by the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey and shall not solicit or pick up passengers at any Port Authority of New York and New Jersey facility except by prearrangement.

(3) A driver shall comply with all Commission rules at all Port Authority of New York and New Jersey facilities.

(j) A driver shall not smoke in a for-hire vehicle.

(k) A driver shall not engage in mechanical maintenance or repair of any vehicle on public streets and sidewalks, except to make such emergency repairs as may be necessary to move a disabled vehicle. A dead battery or a flat tire is an example of a disabling condition.

(l) A driver shall not refuse to transport any person with a disability or any guide dog accompanying such person.

(m) A driver shall permit a passenger who is unable to enter or ride in the rear passenger part of the vehicle, to occupy the front seat alongside the driver.

(n) Upon request of a passenger, the driver shall load or unload a passenger's luggage, wheelchair, crutches or other property in or from the vehicle's interior or trunk compartment, and shall secure such compartment.

(o) A driver shall not charge or attempt to charge a fare above the pre-approved rate quoted by the dispatcher. A driver shall not impose or attempt to impose any additional charge for transporting a person with a disability, a service animal accompanying a person with a disability or a wheelchair or other mobility aid. No passenger shall be asked or required to tip.

(p) A passenger who is unable to enter or ride in the rear seat of a for-hire vehicle must be permitted to occupy the front seat alongside the driver. If a passenger's luggage, wheelchair, crutches, three-wheeled motorized scooter, other mobility aid or other property occupies the rear seat of the for-hire vehicle, the passenger must be permitted to occupy the front seat alongside the driver.

(q) (1) A driver shall not refuse by words, gestures or any other means, without justifiable grounds set forth in subdivision (r) of this section, to provide transportaion, when dispatched, for a person who has prearranged the trip and the destination is within the City of New York, the counties of Westchester or Nassau or Newark Airport. This includes a person with a disability and any service animal accompanying such person.

(2) a driver shall not require a person with a disability to be accompanied by an attendant. However, where a person with a disability is accompanied by an attendant, a driver shall not impose or attempt to impose any charge in addition to the authorized rate of fare for transporting the attendant.

(3) A driver shall not refuse to transport a passenger's luggage, wheelchair, crutches, other mobility aid or other property.

(r) Justifiable grounds for the conduct otherwise prohibited by subdivision (q) of this section shall be the following:

(1) the passenger is carrying, or is in possession of any article, package, case or container, other than a wheelchair or other mobility aid, which the driver may reasonably believe will cause damage to the interior of the for-hire vehicle, impair its efficient operation, or cause it to become stained or foul smelling;

(2) the passenger is escorted or accompanied by an animal which is not properly or adequately secured in a kennel case or other suitable container. This provision shall not apply to service animals accompanying people with disabilities;

(3) the passenger is disorderly or intoxicated. Provided, however, that a driver shall not refuse to provide service to a person with a disability solely because such person's disabilty results in an appearance or involuntary behavior which may offend, annoy or inconvenience the driver; or

(4) if the passenger has refused a request by the driver to obey the no-smoking requirement of law, the driver may discharge the passenger after asking the passenger to cease smoking in the for-hire vehicle. Provided, however, that, if the driver discharges the passenger, it must be at a safe location.

(s) If the Commission has reasonable suspicion to believe that a driver has a drug or controlled substance impairment that renders him or her unfit for the safe operation of a for-hire vehicle, it may direct the driver to be tested or examined for such impairment, at such driver's expense, by an individual or entity designated by the Commission and possessing a requisite permit issued by the New York State Department of Health. If the results of said test(s) or examination(s) are positive, the driver's license may be revoked after a hearing. Failure of a driver to be tested or examined as directed may lead to suspension or revocation of such driver's license in accordance with §8-16 of this title.

(t) A driver shall not operate a for-hire vehicle while his driving ability is impaired by either intoxicating liquor (regardless of its alcoholic content), drugs or other controlled substances, nor while driving such for-hire vehicle or for six hours prior to driving or occupying such for-hire vehicle shall he consume any intoxicating liquor regardless of its alcoholic content or any drugs or other controlled substances.

(u) (1) A driver shall not use a portable or hands-free electronic device while operating a for-hire vehicle, unless such for-hire vehicle shall be lawfully standing or parked. "Use" of a portable or hands-free electronic device means that the driver is deploying any of the functions of the portable or hands-free electronic device, or has a device that permits the hands-free use of a portable or hands-free electronic device in the immediate proximity of the driver's ear. "Use" of a portable or hands-free electronic device by a driver does not include a short, solely business-related communication in connection with a dispatch from a base using a FCC-licensed commercial two-way radio or if the electronic device used is mounted in a fixed position in the vehicle and is not hand-held, and if the communication is by voice or by use of one-touch pre-programmed buttons or function keys.

A driver may offer as an affirmative defense that he or she was using a portable or hands-free electronic device while operating a for-hire vehicle for the sole purpose of communicating with an emergency response operator that there exists an imminent threat to life or property, and that it was impossible for the driver to safely stop the vehicle before placing the call. The driver must provide documentary proof that the electronic communication was to an emergency response operator.

(2) Additional penalties for use of a portable or hands-free electronic device while operating a for-hire vehicle.

(i) For purposes of this paragraph (u)(2), "portable or hands-free electronic device violation" shall mean a violation of §6-16(u)(1) of this chapter or a violation of any state law or rule prohibiting or restricting the use of a portable or hands-free electronic device while driving, such violation having been adjudicated by a court or other tribunal having jurisdiction over such violations.

(ii) Any for hire vehicle driver who commits a portable or hands-free electronic device violation is required to attend and satisfactorily complete an authorized course of training in the dangers of driving while distracted by portable or hands-free electronic devices. The course shall be a minimum of one hour and shall include a review of the rules governing the use of portable or hands-free devices, and the dangers of driving while distracted. The course must be completed and verification of course completion provided by the designated school within sixty days of TLC's issuance of a directive to the for hire vehicle driver that he or she is required to take such course.

(v)(1) Notwithstanding the foregoing, each licensee, other than a licensee who is a City of New York Police Officer, also shall be tested annually, at the licensee's expense, for drugs or controlled substances, as set forth in §3306 of the Public Health Law. For licensees in the first year of a two-year license, such testing must occur no sooner than thirty (30) days prior to, and in any event no later than, the date one year prior to the expiration date of such license. For licensees in the second year of a two-year license, such testing must occur no sooner than thirty (30) days prior to, and in any event no later than the expiration date of such license. Such testing shall be performed by an individual or entity designated by the Commission and possessing a requisite permit issued by the New York State Department of Health.

(2) If the results of said test are positive, the driver's license may be revoked after a hearing in accordance with §8-15 of this title. A finding that the driver has failed said test will result in revocation of the driver's license.

(3) Failure of a licensee in the first year of a two-year license to be tested no sooner than thirty (30) days prior to, and in any event no later than, the date one year prior to the expiration date of such license shall result in suspension of the driver's license in accordance with §8-17 of this title. If such licensee undergoes the required testing within thirty (30) days after the date one year prior to the expiration date of the current license, the suspension of the driver's license shall be lifted. If such licensee undergoes the required testing more than thirty (30) days after the date one year prior to the expiration date of the current license, such licensee shall also be required to pay a penalty of $200 to have the suspension of the driver's license lifted.

(4) Failure of a licensee in the second year of a two-year license to be tested by the expiration date of such license shall result in denial of a license renewal application, if any, and expiration of the license.

(w) A driver while stopped at the base with which the driver's vehicle is affiliated shall use the off-street parking facilities required by section 6-04(b) of this chapter or, if not, shall comply with all applicable traffic and parking regulations.

(x) A driver while stopped at the base with which the driver's vehicle is affiliated must not create a nuisance such as by engaging in littering or the playing of loud audio material within the area set forth in section 6-07(b)(3) of this chapter. A driver must never engage in horn honking while stopped at the base.

(y) No driver of a for-hire vehicle shall require that any prospective passenger must share a ride with another prospective passenger.

(z) A driver during his or her workshift must keep the vehicle's interior clean and scent free.

(aa) All audio equipment controlled by the driver must be turned on or off at the request of the passenger. The passenger shall have the right to select what is played on the audio equipment. Whether or not the vehicle is hired, an audio device must be played at normal volume only, and all noise ordinances shall be complied with.

(bb) A driver must turn on or off heating or air-conditioning equipment at the request of the passenger.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Jan. 15, 1999:

The rule promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") is authorized under §2303(a) of the New York City Charter, which empowers the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in New York City; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; and under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter.

The rules establish a "Critical Driver Program," by which the Commission will review all driving infractions by taxicab and for-hire vehicle drivers which result in the imposition of "points" under Part 131 of the Regulations of the Department of Motor Vehicles ("DMV"). Those taxicab and for-hire vehicle drivers who accumulate six or more points on their New York State Department of Motor Vehicle Driver's Licenses within 18 months will have their TLC taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver licenses suspended for 30 days. Taxicab or for-hire vehicle ("FHV") drivers who accumulate ten or more points within a period of 18 months will have their taxicab or for-hire vehicle driver licenses revoked. This action will be taken irrespective of any action taken by DMV with respect to the licensee's state-issued operator's license.

The purpose of this rule is to protect public safety by suspending or revoking the licenses of individuals who have an unsatisfactory driving record. This rule will relate the existing DMV "point" system, whereby motorists convicted of certain moving violations are assigned points based upon the severity of the offense, to the motorists's TLC license. The number of points required for TLC action against an individual's hack or FHV operator's license is less than the number of points that would result in licensing action being taken by DMV. However, where DMV has assigned points for more than one violation arising out of a particular incident, only the violation carrying the greatest number of points will be used in calculating Critical Driver penalties. The result of this program will be to hold licensees of the Commission to a higher standard with respect to their TLC licenses than the DMV currently holds the general public with respect to state-issued driver's licenses. This higher standard is justified based upon the direct impact licensees of the Commission have upon public safety.

A review of the driving records of TLC licensees indicates that a significant number of licensees have accumulated excessive points on their DMV licenses and are still permitted to hold both a State-issued driver's license and a TLC license. Many of these drivers have been involved in serious accidents causing personal injury and property damage. For example, there are more than 100 TLC licensees who have accumulated at least 17 points on their DMV licenses within the past eighteen months. No action against these licensees has been taken by DMV.

The Commission believes that adoption of the Critical Driver Program will reduce accidents and compel taxi and livery drivers to obey traffic regulations and operate their vehicles safely. This rule amendment may also reduce insurance costs by creating a better pool of qualified drivers. The Commission believes that a direct correlation between a licensee's DMV record and his or her ability to safely operate a taxicab or for-hire vehicle has been clearly established.

The proposed text of this rule was first published in the City Record on April 26, 1998. A public hearing on this proposal was held on May 28, 1998. The text of the proposed rule was redrafted to clarify language contained in the earlier draft and to respond to comments received by the Commission in writing and at the public hearing.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record June 26, 1998:

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under Section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under Section 2303(b)(2) of such Charter, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes and to regulate standards and conditions of service; and under Section 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter.

The regulations increase the penalties for discourteous conduct and smoking in a taxicab, increase the penalty for smoking in a for-hire vehicle, and prohibit discourteous conduct against passengers by for-hire vehicle operators.

The purpose of the regulations is to protect the riding public and enhance the quality of life for passengers who utilize taxicab or for-hire vehicle services. The existing rules of the Commission prohibit licensed medallion taxicab drivers from engaging in rude and discourteous conduct toward passengers. The present penalty of $25 is not a deterrent to such misconduct. Commission studies have shown a substantial increase in the number of convictions under this rule in recent years. There were 672 convictions for discourteous conduct during 1997, and 350 convictions for this violation during the first four months of 1998.

The penalty imposed for smoking in a taxicab or for-hire vehicle ($25) is inconsistent with provisions of the New York State Public Health Law and the New York City Indoor Clean Air Act, which impose higher penalties for similar misconduct. State and local laws carry penalties of at least $100 per violation for such activity. While state and local laws do not prohibit drivers from smoking in unoccupied taxicabs, there is a serious concern regarding the health risks of breathing second hand smoke in enclosed places, such as taxicabs. Convictions under the smoking rules increased by more than seventy (70%) percent in 1997, to 172 convictions for smoking in a taxicab or for-hire vehicle. The conviction data shows that smoking in taxicabs remains a serious health concern.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. A driver of for-hire vehicles licensed pursuant to this chapter, who actually received a Commission summons to attend a licensing standards hearing but failed to appear at the hearing, thereby violated paragraph (g) of this section. Taxi and Limousine Commission v. Herrera, OATH Index No. 509/98 (Nov. 20, 1997).

¶ 2. Car service violated section 6-18(d), which prohibits acts against the best interest of the public, by permitting drug trafficking on its premises. License revocation imposed. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Haven Car Service Corp., OATH Index No. 652/99 (Jan. 22, 1999).

¶ 3. Respondent refused to comply with reasonable directions to produce his driver's credentials when pulled over for operating an unlicensed for-hire vehicle. Respondent shoved inspectors and resisted arrest. License revocation recommended for resisting authority and physical assault on inspectors. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Jacotin, OATH Index No. 396/99 (Jan. 26, 1999).

¶ 4. For-hire vehicle driver threatened a passenger and drove in a manner that caused her to sustain physical injuries. Passenger credibly identified respondent as the driver of the vehicle. Respondent's version of events lacked credibility and was not supported by the documentary evidence he submitted. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Fofana, OATH Index No. 151/00 (Oct. 15, 1999).

¶ 5. For-hire vehicle driver asked passengers on trip from Newark airport to Manhattan for $45 instead of the pre-approved fare of $30 plus tolls and tip quoted by the dispatcher. When passengers refused, the driver stopped the car and indicated that he would not continue because passengers had a dog in the car. A verbal exchange took place between the driver and passengers. After a conversation with the livery owner appeared to resolve the matter, the trip resumed, but the driver continued to complain and the passengers got out of the cab at a stop light. Driver violated paragraph (I) of this section, but it appeared that one passenger may have intimidated him, there was no physical contact, and the driver ultimately agreed to continue the trip, although the passengers eventually left the vehicle. Suspension of license for one year recommended. Commissioner imposed revocation, stating that it has consistently revoked the licenses of drivers who have committed similar violations. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Hadeir, OATH Index No. 1560/99 (May 27, 1999), modified on penalty, Comm'n Dec. (July 12, 1999).

¶ 6. Respondents were two for-hire vehicle drivers. One of respondents instigated an argument with a passenger and then drove the passenger to an unrequested destination, physically dragged the passenger's ten-year-old son out of the vehicle, and punched the passenger and brandished a knife. The other respondent was found to have struck the passenger with a tire iron. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Luna, OATH Index Nos. 2129-30/99 (July 16, 1999).

¶ 7. For-hire vehicle drivers are prohibited from soliciting or picking up passengers by means other than by prearrangement through a licensed base. 35 RCNY § 6-16(f). In a default proceeding, respondent Luna was found to have violated rule 6-16(f) when he accepted a street hail. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Luna, OATH Index Nos. 2129-30/99 (July 16, 1999).

¶ 8. Administrative law judge found respondent to have offered a gratuity to Commission clerk to process his application out of turn. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Luna, OATH Index No. 774/00 (Mar. 6, 1999), modified on penalty, Comm'n Dec. (May 22, 2000).

¶ 9. Respondent engaged in misconduct, when he directed profanities and spit at Commission inspectors who wrote three summonses and confiscated respondent's TLC driver's license. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Dadon, OATH Index No. 2147/00 (June 29, 2000), modified on penalty, Comm'r Dec. (Dec. 11, 2000).

¶ 10. Commissioner/Chair held a racial slur made by a driver, which was directed against a Commission ALJ in a communication to the Commission's presiding ALJ, constituted violation of subsection (d)(2), an act against "the best interests of the public," and subsection (i) of this section, harassment and/or abuse of a Commission representative. The OATH ALJ had found only a violation of subsection (i) and no violation of subsection (d)(2) because the communication was to a Commission representative and petitioner did not demonstrate a nexus to the public. The Commissioner/Chair adopted the OATH ALJ's penalty recommendation of license revocation and $1700 fine. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Shavel, OATH Index No. 2410/07 (Aug. 23, 2007), accepted, Comm'r/Chair Decision (Sept. 4, 2007).

¶ 11. Pursuant to subsection (g) of this section, for-hire vehicle drivers are required to comply with directives from the Commission and its representatives. Driver was found to have failed to comply with a directive to appear at an interview to answer questions regarding an allegation that he used a fraudulent Social Security number to obtain two licenses from the Commission. The penalty for a proven violation of this rule is a $200 fine and license suspension until driver complies with directive. Suspension until compliance, without fine, imposed where Commission requested only that sanction. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Avila, OATH Index No. 1299/08 (Jan. 11, 2008).

¶ 12. Under subsection (i) of this section, a licensee is considered to be "performing his duties and responsibilities as a licensee" while on Commission property conducting business with Commission representatives. The respondent was the holder of a for-hire vehicle license who used profanity toward a Commission employee while applying for a hack license. Although he was not engaged in the duties and responsibilities of a driver, the licensee should have comported himself in accordance with Commission rules. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Sandy, OATH Index No. 362/09 (Sept. 8, 2008).

CHAPTER 6 FOR HIRE VEHICLES

§6-20 Seizure and Forfeiture of Unlicensed Vehicles for Hire.

(a) Seizure. In accordance with §19-506(h) of the Administrative Code, any officer or employee of TLC designated by the Chairperson of TLC, and any police officer may, upon service of a summons for violation of subdivision b or c of §19-506 of the Administrative Code, seize any vehicle which such officer or employee has probable cause to believe is operated or offered to be operated without an appropriate vehicle license in violation of such subdivision b or c. A vehicle seized in accordance with such §19-506(h) shall be removed to a designated secured facility.

(b) Summons and Notice of Seizure. (1) The officer or employee effecting seizure shall serve a summons for violation of subdivision b or c of §19-506 of the Administrative Code upon the owner of the seized vehicle, by service upon the owner or upon a person who uses or owner, express or implied.

(2) An officer or employee of TLC who effects seizure as described in §6-20(a) shall also deliver to the vehicle owner a notice of seizure, including identification of the seized vehicle and information concerning these regulations and the designated secured facility to which the vehicle was or will be taken. Such notice of seizure may be delivered in the same manner as service of the summons.

(3) An officer or employee of TLC shall also mail a notice of seizure and a copy of the summons to the owner of the vehicle. Any defect in delivery or mailing of a notice of seizure or in mailing of a copy of the summons shall not affect the validity of service of a summons upon the owner as described in §6-20(b)(1) herein.

(c) Expedited hearing concerning a seized vehicle. The summons shall set forth a date and time for a hearing in the administrative tribunal of TLC. Such hearing shall be held within fourteen business days after seizure. If the seized vehicle has been released pursuant to §6-20(d), such hearing is not required to be scheduled on an expedited basis.

(d) Release of a seized vehicle prior to the scheduled hearing. (1) An owner may obtain the release of the vehicle by appearing at the administrative tribunal with the notice of violation, on or before the scheduled hearing date, either to:

(i) Plead Guilty and be assessed a civil penalty by an administrative law judge. TLC staff shall also determine the amount of removal and storage fees. The owner must pay in full the civil penalty and removal and storage fees. Upon such payment, TLC shall issue an order to release the vehicle. The owner or his agent may present the order at the designated secured facility to obtain the vehicle.

(ii) Post a bond in the amount of the maximum civil penalty, plus removal and storage fees. Upon the posting of such bond, TLC shall issue an order to release the vehicle. The owner or his agent may present the order at the designated secured facility to obtain the vehicle.

(2) If the owner does not obtain the vehicle by the date specified in the order of release, the owner shall be responsible for any further storage fees, and payment of such fees shall be made before the release of the vehicle.

(e) Decisions at the expedited hearing. (1) If the Administrative Law Judge dismisses the summons, the Administrative Law Judge shall issue an order for release of the seized vehicle without removal and storage fees.

(2) If the Administrative Law Judge finds that the owner was in violation and that this was not the third or subsequent violation by the owner of subdivisions b or c of §19-506 of the Administrative Code committed on or after February 20, 1990 and within a thirty-six month period, the Administrative Law Judge shall assess a civil penalty as provided in §19-506(e) of the Administrative Code, and TLC staff shall assess removal and storage fees. The owner must pay the civil penalty and removal and storage fees in order to obtain from TLC an order for release of the seized vehicle.

(3) If the Administrative Law Judge finds that the owner was in violation and that this was the third or subsequent violation by the owner of subdivisions b or c of §19-506 of the Administrative Code committed on or after February 20, 1990 and within a thirty-six month period, the Administrative Law Judge shall set a civil penalty, as provided in §19-506(e) of the Administrative Code, and shall issue a notice to the owner and to the Chairperson of TLC or his designee that the vehicle is subject to forfeiture upon a judicial determination.

(4) Inquest hearings. If the owner of the seized vehicle fails to appear for the hearing, an inquest hearing will be held. An administrative law judge shall make a determination pursuant to paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of this subdivision (e). TLC will inform the respondent of the inquest determination by first class mail. The information mailed to the owner shall include the provisions of §6-20(i) herein concerning abandoned vehicles. The respondent may appear at TLC offices within seven business days of such mailing to comply with the inquest determination or to move in the administrative tribunal to vacate such inquest determination. In the event that such inquest determination is vacated, the respondent shall be entitled to a hearing de novo on the original summons. Such hearing shall be scheduled within fourteen business days of the order vacating the inquest determination.

(f) Appeals. If found in violation of subdivisions b or c of §19-506 of the Administrative Code, an owner must pay the civil penalty together with removal and storage fees in order to appeal. However, if the decision to be appealed was made pursuant to §6-20(e)(3), the owner must pay only the civil penalty in order to appeal. If upon appeal the decision is reversed in whole or part, the owner shall receive a refund of the relevant civil penalty and fees.

(g) Forfeiture. (1) In addition to the penalties set forth in §19-506(e) of the Administrative Code, if an owner is convicted in the criminal court or found in the TLC administrative tribunal to be in violation of subdivisions b or c of §19-506 of the Administrative Code three or more times, and all of such violations were committed on or after February 20, 1990 and within a thirty-sixth month period, the interest of such owner in any vehicle used to commit such third or subsequent violation shall be subject to forfeiture upon notice and judicial determination.

(2) The Chairperson of the TLC or his designee shall determine whether to pursue the remedy of forfeiture. If such person determines not to pursue the remedy of forfeiture, the owner shall be so notified by first class mail. The owner may obtain an order of release of the vehicle by paying the civil penalty determined pursuant to §6-20(e)(3) together with removal and storage fees.

(3) A forfeiture proceeding shall be commenced by proper service upon the owner of a summons and other papers pursuant to the provisions of the civil practice law and rules.

(h) Public sale pursuant to forfeiture. (1) After a judicial determination of forfeiture, but no sooner than thirty days after such determination and upon notice of at least five days, the TLC shall sell such forfeited vehicle at public sale, except as provided in paragraph (2) herein. Such notice of sale shall be published in the City Record or in a newspaper of general circulation, and shall also be mailed to any lienholder or mortgagee shown in the records of the jurisdiction which issued the number license plates on the vehicle.

(2) Any person, other than an owner whose interest is forfeited pursuant to §19-506 of the Administrative Code and these rules, who establishes a right of ownership in a vehicle, including a part ownership or security interest, shall be entitled to delivery of the vehicle if such person:

(i) redeems the ownership interest which was subject to forfeiture by payment to the city of the value thereof;

(ii) pays the reasonable expenses of the safekeeping of the vehicle between the time of seizure and such redemption; and

(iii) either

(A) asserts a claim in the forfeiture proceeding, or

(B) submits a claim in writing to the Commission within thirty days after judicial determination of forfeiture.

(3) Notwithstanding paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subdivision (h), establishment of a right of ownership shall not entitle a person to delivery of a vehicle if TLC establishes in the forfeiture proceeding or in a separate administrative adjudication of a claim asserted pursuant to §6-20(h)(2)(iii) herein that the violations of subdivisions (b) or (c) of §19-506 of the Administrative Code upon which the forfeiture is predicated were expressly or impliedly permitted by such person.

(4) If a person asserts a claim pursuant to §6-20(h)(2)(iii)(B) herein, the TLC shall schedule an adjudication of such claim in its administrative tribunal. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed to the claimant at least ten business days in advance of the hearing. The administrative law judge shall rule as to whether the violations upon which the forfeiture was predicated were expressly or impliedly permitted by the claimant. If the administrative law judge finds that there was such permission by the claimant, the claim shall be denied.

(i) Abandoned vehicles. (1) If an owner does not assert an interest in a seized vehicle by removing it from storage within the time periods specified in paragraph (2) of this subdivision (i), the vehicle shall be deemed abandoned. A declaration of such abandonment may be made by the Deputy Commissioner for legal affairs of TLC or his designee, without further hearing.

(2) A vehicle shall be deemed abandoned, pursuant to paragraph (1) herein, if an owner:

(i) has not removed the vehicle from storage within five days of obtaining an order of release pursuant to §6-20(d) or (e) herein; or

(ii) has not paid the civil penalty and removal and storage fees within five days of a hearing determination of violation pursuant to §6-20(e)(2) herein, or within seven days after notice of an inquest determination of violation was mailed to the owner pursuant to §6-20(e)(4) herein; or

(iii) has not obtained an order vacating inquest determination of violation and setting a hearing de novo, within seven days after notice of such inquest determination was mailed to the owner pursuant to §6-20(e)(4) herein; or

(iv) has not paid the civil penalty and removal and storage fees, within seven days after a notice that the TLC shall not pursue the remedy of forfeiture was mailed to the owner pursuant to §6-20(g)(2) herein.

(3) In the event that a vehicle has been deemed abandoned pursuant to paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subdivision (i), TLC shall mail to the owner a notice that the vehicle has been recovered by TLC as an abandoned vehicle and that, if unclaimed, its ownership shall vest in TLC and it will be sold at public auction or by bid after ten days from the date such notice was mailed. Such notice shall also be mailed to any lienholder or mortgagee shown in the records of the jurisdiction which issued the number of license plates on the vehicle.

(4) An owner, lienholder or mortgagee may claim the vehicle within ten days from the date that the notice described in paragraph (3) of this subdivision (i) was mailed, by paying the removal and storage fees due and, in the case of an owner, the civil penalty claimed as a lien by TLC on such vehicle.

(5) In the event that an abandoned vehicle is not claimed within ten days after the notice described in paragraph (3) of this subdivision (i) was mailed, ownership of the abandoned vehicle shall vest in TLC. TLC may sell an abandoned vehicle at public auction or by bid. Any proceeds from the sale, less expenses incurred for removal, storage and sale of the vehicle, and less the civil penalty claimed as a lien by TLC, shall be held without interest for the benefit of the former owner of the vehicle for one year. If not claimed within such one year period, such proceeds shall be paid into the general fund of TLC.

(j) Removal and storage fees. (1) The removal fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars ($150).

(2) The storage fee shall be a rate set by New York City Department of Transportation.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Aug. 29, 1997:

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under section 2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under section 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; and under section 19-506(h) of such Code, authorizing TLC to promulgate regulations concerning the seizure and release of seized vehicles.

The promulgated rule extends the period of time within which TLC is required to schedule a hearing for the owner of a seized vehicle for hire. This time period is extended from seven calendar days to fourteen business days. That is an extension of between eleven and thirteen more calendar days which would be permitted prior to holding a hearing. Under the new rules, TLC may schedule such hearings within up to twenty days rather than within seven days. This flexibility will allow for more efficient scheduling and management of TLC's case load.

Based upon comments received, the proposal was modified, to permit those vehicle owners who are currently prohibited from posting a bond to be permitted to post a bond. Under current rules, the owner of a seized vehicle may not post a bond, if the owner has been found in violation for operation of an unlicensed vehicle for hire on two or more occasions within thirty-six months. The purpose of this modification is to ensure that all owners have the opportunity to redeem their vehicle prior to a hearing, when the time which may elapse prior to a hearing is extended.

The rulemaking has also been modified to include technical amendments. Citations to section numbers have been amended to reflect the correct section.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Section added City Record Nov. 22, 2006 §10, eff. Dec. 22, 2006. [See Note 1]

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Nov. 22, 2006:

The rules amend previously existing rules to implement the reciprocity provisions recently enacted as §498 to the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law (the "VTL"). Pursuant to that enactment, promulgation of these rules is intended to qualify the City of New York for reciprocity, thereby entitling for-hire vehicles and drivers licensed by the New York City Taxi & Limousine Commission (the "TLC") to (1) pick up passengers in New York City for travel to or through Westchester or Nassau Counties; (2) pick up passengers in Westchester or Nassau for travel to New York City; and (3) transit through Westchester and Nassau for travel beginning and ending elsewhere.

Under the amendments to the VTL, in order for drivers and vehicles licensed by one of the above-mentioned jurisdictions to qualify for reciprocity, the regulations regarding transportation for hire of the vehicles and drivers licensed by such jurisdiction must meet certain minimum requirements. Vehicles must be marked as being licensed by their home jurisdiction and must, among other things, maintain trip logs in the vehicles which contain records of interjurisdictional travel. Drivers of such vehicles must be licensed to operate such vehicles by their home jurisdictions and must be subject by their home jurisdictions, among other things, to fingerprinting and a criminal background check and an annual drug test. Any qualified jurisdiction is authorized to order the repair or replacement of any vehicle, including those licensed by other qualified jurisdictions, and failure to comply within ten days can lead to suspension of the recognition of such vehicle's home jurisdiction license in any other qualified jurisdiction. Each qualified jurisdiction must notify the other jurisdictions of its continuing status as a qualified jurisdiction at least every three years, must maintain a dedicated phone line or electronic database sharing certain vehicle license information with other qualified jurisdictions, and must notify other qualified jurisdictions of the issuance and dispositions of summonses to such jurisdictions' licensees. The rules amend existing TLC rules to assure that TLC rules regarding for-hire vehicles and operators comply with the requirements of §498 of the VTL, among other things by affording reciprocity to vehicles and drivers licensed by qualified jurisdictions.

Finally, the amendments to the VTL eliminate tier 2 and tier 3 permits; the rules implement this change by repealing rules regarding tier 2 and tier 3 permits. Outstanding tier 2 and tier 3 permits became void upon the effective date of §498 of the VTL, which is November 14, 2006.

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record June 26, 1998:

The regulation promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") is authorized under section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under section 2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under section 2303(c) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to establish and regulate conduct at its adjudications tribunal, and under section 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter.

The regulation requires that representatives authorized to appear before the Commission's tribunal be sponsored by an attorney licensed to practice in New York State who agrees to directly supervise the work product and conduct of the representative.

The purpose of the regulation is to ensure that representatives appearing before the Commission on a regular basis are supervised by an attorney who shall assume ultimate responsibility for the representative's performance. The Commission's tribunal adjudicates matters involving the application and interpretation of Commission rules, the provisions of the Administrative Code and the Vehicle and Traffic Law as they apply to persons engaged in activities subject to Commission regulation. Substantial penalties, including fines, and suspension or revocation of licenses, may be imposed. Respondents who appear before the TLC tribunal are entitled to a fair hearing and competent representation. In many cases, they rely upon non-attorney representatives to appear on their behalf. These representatives are required to be familiar with the rules and procedures of the Commission; however, such representatives are not subject to the same standards of conduct imposed upon licensed attorneys. Requiring attorney oversight and supervision of a representative's work product and conduct will protect the interests of respondents appearing before the TLC tribunal by assisting them in obtaining competent representation directed and supervised by a member of the Bar.

(2) Willful disregard of an Administrative Law Judge's authority prior to, during or after the course of an administrative hearing conducted at the Commission.

(3) Actions, gestures or verbal conduct which show disrespect for the proceedings of the Commission.

(b) A representative shall not leave a hearing in progress without the express permission of the Administrative Law Judge presiding.

(c) A representative shall, at all times, cooperate with all law enforcement officers, authorized representatives of the Commission and the New York City Department of Investigation, and shall comply with all their reasonable requests.

(d) A representative shall promptly and truthfully answer and comply as directed with all questions, communications, directives and summonses from the Commission or its representatives and the New York City Department of Investigation or its repre- sentatives.

(e) A representative shall not offer or give any gift, gratuity or thing of value to any employee or member of the

(f) A representative shall supply the bridge with a written list of all cases to be handled by that representative no later than 3:30 p.m. of the day before the day in which such cases are scheduled to be heard. CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. The respondent, a non-attorney representative appearing before the Commission's tribunal pursuant to this chapter, engaged in a pattern of misconduct in violation of this section-disrupting hearings, showing disrespect toward the Commission's administrative law judges, and failing to comply with their requests-for which the penalty imposed was revocation of permission to practice before the tribunal. Taxi and Limousine Commission v. Falese, OATH Index No. 169/98 (Dec. 8, 1997), as modified by Comm'n Decision (Jan. 14, 1998).

¶ 2. A non-attorney representative registered to appear before the Commission did not violate standards of conduct, namely section 7-03(c) (refusal to cooperate with a reasonable request made by an authorized representative of the Commission) when he voiced an objection to a Commission hearing officer's order to leave the hearing room when the hearing officer told the representative that the hearing would be continued in his absence. The hearing officer's order was unreasonable because it did not allow the client sufficient time to secure alternative representation; therefore, the non-attorney representative could not be sanctioned for failing to comply without voicing his objection. The facts did not establish that the representative disrupted the proceedings in violation of section 7-03(a)(1) or that he displayed a disregard for the hearing officer's authority in violation of section 7-03(a)(2). In a separate incident, the non-attorney representative did not violate section 7-03(c) when he failed to comply with the request of a Commission inspector to go back to the representative's area because the inspector's request was unreasonable. The OATH administrative law judge found that the inspector forcibly separated the representative from his client during recess in order to personally serve the client with a summons that could have been served by mail (see section 1-85(b)). Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Dickens, OATH Index No. 1455/98 (June 2, 1998).

§7-10 Procedures in the Event of a Violation of Commission Rules.

(a) Upon an allegation of a violation of any of these rules by a representative, the Commission may institute proceedings to suspend or revoke such representative's authorization to appear before the Commission. Such proceedings shall be commenced by notifying the representative by both certified and first class mail of the formal written charges against him/her. Such charges shall be specific and shall advise the representative that a finding of guilty will result in the suspension or revocation of the authorization to appear before the Commission as a representative. A written notice shall accompany the charge, stating the date, time and place of the scheduled hearing of the charges.

This hearing shall be held at, and under the auspices of, the New York City Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (also known as OATH), before an administrative law judge specially designated by OATH to conduct such a hearing. At the conclusion of the hearing, the judge will prepare and submit to the Chairperson a report containing his or her findings of fact and conclusions of law together with any recommended penalties. The Chairperson shall make the final agency decision as to findings of fact, conclusions of law, and penalties.

(b) If the Commission finds that emergency action is required to ensure public health, safety or welfare, it may order the summary suspension of the representative's authorization to appear before the Commission, pending a hearing on written charges held pursuant to §7-10(a). NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Feb. 27, 1997:

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under section 2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; and under section 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter.

The promulgated rules provide that hearings to determine whether representatives violated the rules governing their conduct will be conducted by the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings, rather than by the Commission tribunal. OATH would make a recommendation as to findings and penalties to the Chairperson, who will then make the final decision.

The purpose of the promulgated rules is to provide a forum separate from the one in which representatives appear on a daily basis.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Sept. 18, 2008:

The promulgated rules implement Local Law 16 of 2008 by making several changes to Taxi and Limousine Commission adjudications procedures.

First, the rules codify the Commission's existing practice of referring discretionary revocation cases to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings ("OATH").

Second, these rules specifically allow Commission prosecutors to call witnesses by teleconference or videoconference when they are unable to appear at the hearing in person. This provision will enhance the credibility determination when, for example, the complainant is a foreign tourist who is unable to travel to New York to appear personally at a hearing.

Third, the rules codify the Commission's existing practice of summarily suspending a license only when continued licensure poses a direct and substantial threat to public health or safety.

Fourth, these rules increase the time for respondents to vacate inquest determinations from 120 days to two years and require that the Commission maintain a record detailing how the respondent was informed of the inquest determination. That record will be available to the respondent upon request.

Fifth, these rules require exedited appeals decisions where the administrative appeal is taken from a decision imposing a license suspension or revocation, and provide that fines imposed after a hearing are stayed pending decision of the administrative appeal.

Finally, the rules provide that, if the Commission fails to produce a timely copy of the recording of the hearing in response to a timely request filed by a respondent seeking to appeal, the decision appealed from must be dismissed. Given the Commission's recent conversion from audiocassette recording to digital recording of hearings, copies of recordings are available promptly and reliably.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record Dec. 1, 1999. Note Statement of Basis from City Record Dec. 1, 1999.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Procedures mandated by the Administrative Code have been incorporated into these Rules. In addition to unifying procedures with respect to the adjudication of summonses, these Rules also establish clear procedures to be followed with respect to the review of the fitness of licensees and applicants to obtain a license from the Commission and procedures to be followed in the event the Commission seeks the discretionary revocation of a license.

Several changes were made to the text of the Proposed Rules published in the City Record on August 23, 1999. These changes were made in response to written comments and public statements received by the TLC at or prior to the Public Hearing. The changes to the proposed Rules, as adopted by the TLC:

· Increase the time during which a respondent may file an appeal from twenty-one (21) to thirty (30) days;

· Provide that a respondent served with a summons alleging a rule violation, by personal service upon a driver as agent, will not be suspended upon a failure to appear until at least ten (10) days after the default has occurred;

· Respondents in discretionary revocation proceedings may appeal the final Agency decision of the Chairperson to the full Commission.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record Dec. 1, 1999. Note Statement of Basis from City Record Dec. 1, 1999.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Procedures mandated by the Administrative Code have been incorporated into these Rules. In addition to unifying procedures with respect to the adjudication of summonses, these Rules also establish clear procedures to be followed with respect to the review of the fitness of licensees and applicants to obtain a license from the Commission and procedures to be followed in the event the Commission seeks the discretionary revocation of a license.

Several changes were made to the text of the Proposed Rules published in the City Record on August 23, 1999. These changes were made in response to written comments and public statements received by the TLC at or prior to the Public Hearing. The changes to the proposed Rules, as adopted by the TLC:

· Increase the time during which a respondent may file an appeal from twenty-one (21) to thirty (30) days;

· Provide that a respondent served with a summons alleging a rule violation, by personal service upon a driver as agent, will not be suspended upon a failure to appear until at least ten (10) days after the default has occurred;

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record Dec. 1, 1999. Note Statement of Basis from City Record Dec. 1, 1999.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Procedures mandated by the Administrative Code have been incorporated into these Rules. In addition to unifying procedures with respect to the adjudication of summonses, these Rules also establish clear procedures to be followed with respect to the review of the fitness of licensees and applicants to obtain a license from the Commission and procedures to be followed in the event the Commission seeks the discretionary revocation of a license.

Several changes were made to the text of the Proposed Rules published in the City Record on August 23, 1999. These changes were made in response to written comments and public statements received by the TLC at or prior to the Public Hearing. The changes to the proposed Rules, as adopted by the TLC:

· Increase the time during which a respondent may file an appeal from twenty-one (21) to thirty (30) days;

· Provide that a respondent served with a summons alleging a rule violation, by personal service upon a driver as agent, will not be suspended upon a failure to appear until at least ten (10) days after the default has occurred;

· Respondents in discretionary revocation proceedings may appeal the final Agency decision of the Chairperson to the full Commission.

(a) Service of a summons or other notice upon a licensee may be accomplished by any of the following methods:

(i) by personal service; or

(ii) by first class mail in a postpaid envelope addressed to the last mailing address filed with the Commission; or

(iii) if the licensee is the owner of a taxicab, for-hire vehicle, paratransit service vehicle or commuter van, by personal service upon the driver of such licensed vehicle. CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. Commissioner/Chair determined that directive was served in accordance with this section. Affidavit of service attesting that the directive had been placed on a particular date in a depository maintained for pick-up by the Commission's mail room was sufficient proof of both that it was mailed by first-class mail and that it was mailed on the day it was placed in the depository or within one business day thereafter. The Chair held that the Commission was entitled to rely upon a rebuttable presumption of regularity to establish timely service. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Nitram Cab Corp., Comm'r/Chair's dec. (Sept. 8, 2008), adopting, OATH Index No. 2809/08 (Aug. 4, 2008).

¶ 2. Commissioner/Chair held that proof of actual notice is a complete substitute for proof of technically correct service. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Nitram Cab Corp., Comm'r/Chair's Decision (Sept. 8, 2008), adopting, OATH Index No. 2809/08 (Aug. 4, 2008).

¶ 3. The Chair rules no additional certification, beyond that provided by the attorney who initially certified that he deposited the notice addressed to the respondent with the TLC mail service, is required to establish proper service. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Henry, Comm'r/Chair's Decision (Sept. 9, 2008), adopting with modification OATH Index No. 245/09 (Aug. 4, 2008).

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

§8-06 Contents of Summons or Notice of Violation.

(a) A summons or notice of violation shall contain, at a minimum, the following information:

(i) the date, time and location of the alleged violation;

(b) A notice for a fitness hearing, as described in §8-15 herein, shall set forth the basis for the Commission's charge that the respondent is not fit to possess or retain a license issued by the Commission.

CHAPTER 8 ADJUDICATIONS*1

§8-07 Guilty Pleas and Scheduling of Hearings.

(a) The Commission Rules may set forth violations for which a personal appearance is not required. With respect to any summons issued for such violation, the respondent may plead guilty at or prior to a scheduled hearing, and pay the scheduled fine in person or by mail. By pleading guilty, the respondent admits the charges contained in the summons or notice of violation, and waives any right to appeal the ALJ's determination, including but not limited to the assessment of fines, imposition of points and penalties pursuant to the Persistent Violator or the Critical Driver Programs, or other penalties. If the respondent does not choose to plead guilty prior to the hearing date, he shall be required to appear at the scheduled hearing.

(b) A summons or notice of violation may inform the respondent of the date, time and location of the scheduled hearing on the summons or notice. In such case, no further notice to the respondent shall be provided. If the respondent does not plead guilty pursuant to subdivision (a), or if the summons or violation requires a personal appearance, the respondent shall appear for a hearing at the location, date and time indicated on the summons or notice of violation.

(c) If the summons or notice of violation does not inform the respondent of the date, time and location of the scheduled hearing, and if the violation is one for which a personal appearance is not required, the respondent may request a hearing by pleading not guilty to the summons or by otherwise following the instructions contained on the notice from the Commission. Upon receipt of a not guilty plea, the Commission will schedule a hearing and inform the respondent of the date, time and location of the hearing by first class mail. The failure to enter a plea of not guilty in a timely manner shall constitute a default to the charges and subject the respondent to penalties which may include license suspension or revocation as set forth therein.

(d) A respondent may present witnesses at a hearing. A respondent shall be entitled to be present throughout the entire hearing; however, witnesses shall be excluded from the hearing room except while actually testifying.

(e) The Commission may, for cause, deny any non-attorney the opportunity to appear at a hearing.

(f) In the event that the Commission is unable to produce a complaining witness in person at the hearing, where such witness's credibility is relevant to the charges made in the notice of violation, the Commission shall make reasonable efforts to make such witness available during the hearing by videoconferencing or teleconferencing. If the complaining witness is not available to testify at the hearing in person, or by videoconference or teleconference, the Commission shall produce a statement outlining its efforts to produce such witness. The ALJ must determine whether the Commission's efforts to produce the complaining witness were reasonable and if found to be inadequate, the ALJ shall dismiss the notice of violation.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record Dec. 1, 1999. Note Statement of Basis from City Record Dec. 1, 1999.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Procedures mandated by the Administrative Code have been incorporated into these Rules. In addition to unifying procedures with respect to the adjudication of summonses, these Rules also establish clear procedures to be followed with respect to the review of the fitness of licensees and applicants to obtain a license from the Commission and procedures to be followed in the event the Commission seeks the discretionary revocation of a license.

Several changes were made to the text of the Proposed Rules published in the City Record on August 23, 1999. These changes were made in response to written comments and public statements received by the TLC at or prior to the Public Hearing. The changes to the proposed Rules, as adopted by the TLC:

· Increase the time during which a respondent may file an appeal from twenty-one (21) to thirty (30) days;

· Provide that a respondent served with a summons alleging a rule violation, by personal service upon a driver as agent, will not be suspended upon a failure to appear until at least ten (10) days after the default has occurred;

· Respondents in discretionary revocation proceedings may appeal the final Agency decision of the Chairperson to the full Commission.

§8-11 Hearing Procedure.

(a) No licensee shall be permitted to appear at a hearing unless he or she shows a valid photo ID to the Commission prior to the hearing.

(b) All hearings shall be conducted before an ALJ who shall consider all relevant testimony and review documentary evidence submitted at the hearing. Evidence at a hearing may include affidavits or affirmations submitted under penalties of perjury and may also include the records of the Commission or of another governmental body maintained in the regular course of business. Failure of the respondent to produce at a hearing any document either requested by the Commission or required to be maintained by the respondent pursuant to Commission Rules shall lead to a rebuttable presumption that the document, if produced, would have been adverse to the respondent. Although the formal rules of evidence do not apply, all witnesses shall testify under oath.

(c) All hearings shall be recorded. The record of the hearing and the written decision of the ALJ shall constitute the only official record of the hearing. No individual may record or photograph the hearing without prior written permission from the Commission.

(d) At the conclusion of the hearing, the ALJ shall issue a decision which shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law. If the ALJ finds a violation has been committed, the appropriate penalties shall be imposed, which may include a fine, and/or suspension or revocation of the respondent's license. CHAPTER 8 ADJUDICATIONS*1

§8-12 Procedures in the Event of a Failure to Appear.

(a) In the event that a respondent fails to appear at a scheduled hearing, the Commission shall conduct an inquest on any violation of the Administrative Code or the Commission Rules. At said inquest, to be conducted on or after the hearing date, the ALJ shall impose any penalties deemed appropriate, including additional penalties for the failure to appear at such hearing imposed upon licensees pursuant to Commission Rules.

(b) The Commission shall inform the respondent of the determination of the inquest by regular, first class mail to the address of the respondent on file with the Commission. The Commission shall prepare a record containing the name of the person who mailed the notice, and the date and time of the mailing of the notice. The Commission shall make this record available upon request to the respondent.

(c) If the penalty imposed at the inquest includes the suspension of a license as a result of a violation of a Commission Rule or the Administrative Code, said suspension shall not commence until ten (10) days after the mailing of the ALJ's decision with respect to the inquest conducted herein.

(d) A respondent may move to vacate the inquest determination within two (2) years of the date of the inquest. Said motion must be made in writing unless otherwise authorized by the Executive Director of Adjudications or his designee and shall be filed in accordance with the Commission procedures for the submission of such motions. In support of this motion to vacate, the respondent shall present written evidence as to:

(i) the reasons for his failure to appear at the hearing; and

(ii) a defense to the charge, which, if established and proven at a hearing, would result in the dismissal of the summons.

If the respondent fails to make a timely motion to vacate the default, any penalties imposed pursuant to Rule 2-70 or 6-23 shall be assessed and the respondent shall be notified of this determination by regular, first class mail.

(e) If the ALJ determines that the respondent has established both a valid excuse for his failure to appear at the hearing and a defense to the violation which, if proven, would be legally sufficient, the inquest determination shall be vacated and the respondent shall be entitled to a hearing de novo. Any suspension or revocation imposed at the inquest shall be vacated.

(f) If the ALJ denies the motion to vacate, the penalties imposed at the inquest shall be assessed. In addition, the ALJ shall impose any appropriate penalty required pursuant to §2-70 or §6-23 of the Commission Rules.

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 8 ADJUDICATIONS*1

§8-13 Procedures on Appeal.

(a) The respondent may appeal the decision of an ALJ as follows:

(i) An appeal must be addressed to the Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs/General Counsel and received within thirty (30) calendar days of the date of the decision to be appealed. If a respondent timely files an appeal, any fines imposed by the Tribunal shall be stayed until a decision is made in such appeal; however, the Commission shall not be required to refund any fines paid before respondent made his or her appeal unless such appeal is successful.

(ii) The appeal must be accompanied by a copy of the ALJ decision.

(iii) The respondent may request a copy of the recording of the hearing within seven (7) calendar days of the ALJ's determination. Such request must be made in writing on a form to be prescribed by the Chairperson. Such form shall be completed and submitted in accordance with instructions to be printed on the form. If, for the purposes of appealing a decision, a respondent requests a copy of the hearing recording, such recording shall be produced to such respondent within thirty (30) days after receipt of a written request from such respondent. If the Commission cannot produce the recording to the resondent within the thirty (30) day period the determination being appealed shall be dismissed without prejudice. An appeal must be received by the Commission within twenty-one (21) days of the issuance of the requested copy by the Commission, whether by mailing or otherwise.

(b) If the ALJ's decision resulted in the suspension or revocation of a license, the determination of the appeal shall be expedited. If the ALJ's decision resulted in the suspension of a license, the Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs/General Counsel or his designee may, in his discretion, issue a temporary license after an appeal has been filed which may remain in effect pending the determination of the appeal. In making the determination as to whether or not to issue a temporary license, the following factors may be considered: the respondent's record, the seriousness of the charges, the likelihood of the success of the appeal and the significance of the issues raised on appeal.

(c) The Commission may seek review of a determination by an Administrative Law Judge by filing an appeal with the Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs/General Counsel within thirty (30) calendar days of such determination. If a Commission appeal is filed, the respondent will be notified by mail. The appeal will include a written statement setting forth the basis for the appeal. The respondent may respond to the appeal within twenty-one (21) calendar days of the mailing of the appeal. The respondent may request a copy of the recording of the hearing within seven (7) calendar days of the notice of appeal. Such request must be in writing on a form to be prescribed by the Chairperson. Such form shall be completed and submitted in accordance with instructions to be printed on the form. If a respondent requests a copy of the recording of the hearing, his or her time to respond to the notice of appeal is extended until twenty-one (21) calendar days after the issuance of the requested copy by the Commission, whether by mailing or otherwise.

(d) Review of an ALJ's decision shall be limited to the issues of law raised in the appeal submitted. Upon appeal, the determination of the ALJ may be affirmed, reversed in whole or in part, or modified. In the event that a decision on appeal results in the reversal of a decision by an ALJ to dismiss a summons, the matter shall be remanded to the Commission Adjudications Tribunal for a new hearing. If a decision on appeal affirms a determination of guilt by an ALJ, but modifies a penalty which had been incorrectly imposed, the decision may correct the penalty, without remand for a new hearing.

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Apr. 11, 2006:

The rule allows for digital recording of hearings conducted in the administrative tribunal of the Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC"). Previously, hearings were tape recorded, and §8-13 of the TLC's rules contains numerous references to tape recordings and cassette tapes. The TLC is upgrading from audiotape to digital recording of hearings, and the rule change makes the appropriate technical changes in §8-13.

Prior to the present amendment, respondents who requested copies of tape recordings were required to supply blank cassette tapes with the requests. The amended rule provides that a form to be prescribed by the TLC Chairperson will contain instructions on the submission of requests for copies of recordings. Those instructions will direct respondents to submit any blank recording medium that may be required. However, it is anticipated that in most cases copies of digital recordings of hearings will be e-mailed to respondents who request copies of such recordings. It is also anticipated that a respondent who is unable to receive e-mail may be required to submit a blank CD-ROM.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

§8-14 Discretionary Revocation Proceedings.

(a) The Commission may institute proceedings to seek the revocation of any license for the violation of any Commission Rule, whether or not the penalty of revocation is provided therein.

(b) If the Commission seeks the penalty of revocation for a Rule violation not providing for mandatory revocation as a penalty, as provided for in §8-03(b), said proceeding must be commenced before the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (OATH). The Commission shall not commence such a proceeding unless the Chairperson makes a determination that the continued licensure of the respondent presents a threat to the public health, safety or welfare.

(c) The Commission shall notify the respondent of such proceeding by serving a written summons or notice detailing the charged misconduct and warning the respondent that a finding of guilt could result in the revocation of his license.

(d) Said written charges shall be served upon the respondent in accordance with §8-05, if the hearing is to be conducted before the Commission's Tribunal. If the hearing is to be conducted before OATH, the respondent shall be served with charges according to the procedures adopted by OATH.

(e) Said charges shall inform the respondent of the location, date and time of any scheduled hearing.

(f) If the hearing is commenced before OATH, it shall be conducted by an ALJ assigned by OATH, and the procedures of OATH shall govern with respect to the conduct of the hearing. If the hearing is commenced at the Commission's Adjudications Tribunal, the procedures set forth in this Chapter shall apply. The affirmative defenses set forth in subdivision b of §19-512.1 of the Administrative Code may be available in any such hearing.

(g) If the proceeding is conducted by OATH, the ALJ, upon a finding of guilt, may recommend to the Chairperson license revocation, license suspension for a period up to six (6) months, and/or a fine not to exceed $10,000 for each offense for which a taxicab owner, base owner, taximeter business owner, taxicab broker or taxicab agent is found guilty and/or a fine not to exceed $1,000 for each offense for which any other licensee is found guilty.

(h) If the proceeding is conducted by the Commission Adjudications Tribunal, the decision of the ALJ shall be a Recommended Decision to the Chairperson. In such case, the ALJ will prepare and submit to the Chairperson a Recommended Decision containing his findings of fact, conclusions of law and recommended penalties.

(i) Upon the issuance of a Recommended Decision in accordance with either subsection (g) or (h), containing findings of fact, conclusions of law and any recommended penalty, the respondent shall be provided with an opportunity to provide a written response to said Recommendation, limited to the record of the hearing and the determination of the ALJ with respect to penalty only.

(j) The Recommended Decision issued in accordance with either subsection (g) or (h) will be submitted for consideration to the Chairperson. The Chairperson shall consider any written comments submitted pursuant to subsection (i) and shall determine whether to accept, modify or reject the Recommendation of the ALJ.

(k) A final decision of an ALJ may be appealed to the Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs/General Counsel pursuant to the provisions of §8-13. The final decision of the Chairperson, affirming, modifying or rejecting the Recommendation of an ALJ rendered pursuant to this Section may be appealed to the TLC Commissioners. The respondent may appeal the Chairperson's decision within thirty (30) calendar days of the date of the Chairperson's final decision by filing a written appeal, setting forth the basis for the appeal and all statements and arguments made in support thereof, with the Deputy Commissioner for legal Affairs/General Counsel. The Chairperson may prescribe the form for the conduct and filing of such appeals. Review of the Chairperson's decision shall be limited to the issues of law raised in the appeal submitted, and whether the decision of the Chairperson and the recommended decision of the ALJ is supported by substantial evidence. The Commissioners may not review findings of fact or determinations of credibility by an ALJ. The Agency may submit a written response to any appeal received by the Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs/General Counsel. The respondent shall be afforded the opportunity to respond in writing to the Agency's written submission. The Commissioners shall receive a copy of the ALJ's Recommendation, the Chairperson's decision, the appeal, and any responses filed by the Commission or the respondent. The Commission shall, by majority vote of the Commission at a meeting at which a quorum is present and in which it is acting in a quasi-judicial capacity, either affirm, modify, or reject the Chairperson's decision and penalty. The Chairperson shall not vote on such appeals. The results of the vote and action taken by the Commission shall be communicated at a public meeting. The Commission shall also have the authority, where appropriate, to remand the matter to the ALJ for further consideration prior to rendering a decision.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record Dec. 1, 1999. Note Statement of Basis from City Record Dec. 1, 1999.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Procedures mandated by the Administrative Code have been incorporated into these Rules. In addition to unifying procedures with respect to the adjudication of summonses, these Rules also establish clear procedures to be followed with respect to the review of the fitness of licensees and applicants to obtain a license from the Commission and procedures to be followed in the event the Commission seeks the discretionary revocation of a license.

Several changes were made to the text of the Proposed Rules published in the City Record on August 23, 1999. These changes were made in response to written comments and public statements received by the TLC at or prior to the Public Hearing. The changes to the proposed Rules, as adopted by the TLC:

· Increase the time during which a respondent may file an appeal from twenty-one (21) to thirty (30) days;

· Provide that a respondent served with a summons alleging a rule violation, by personal service upon a driver as agent, will not be suspended upon a failure to appear until at least ten (10) days after the default has occurred;

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 8 ADJUDICATIONS*1

§8-15 Special Procedures Relating to Fitness Hearings.

(a) If the Commission believes that a licensee or applicant for a license (hereinafter referred to as "respondent") does not meet or does not continue to meet the qualifications for licensure, as set forth in Commission Rules, it may direct that such respondent appear for a fitness hearing. Such hearing shall be conducted by an ALJ.

(b) The Commission shall prepare a notice of hearing which shall be served upon the respondent in accordance with §8-05. Such notice shall set forth, at a minimum, the date, time and location of the hearing and the basis for the Commission's charge that the respondent fails to meet the minimum requirements for licensure.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section, the Commission may order the summary suspension of a driver's license to ensure the public safety in cases where the Commission receives notice that a licensee has failed a required drug test. The Commission shall notify the licensee either by personal service or by first class mail of the summary suspension, within five (5) calendar days of the suspension. An expedited fitness hearing shall be scheduled within ten (10) calendar days of such suspension. The hearing shall be conducted by an ALJ in accordance with subdivisions (d) and (e) of this section, and based upon the ALJ's findings, either the suspension shall be lifted or the license shall be revoked.

(d) The hearing shall be conducted before an ALJ who shall review the documentary evidence and testimony submitted by the Commission and afford the respondent an opportunity to respond under oath and to proffer evidence on his or her behalf. The hearing shall be recorded.

(e) The ALJ shall issue a Recommended Decision which shall include a determination as to the respondent's fitness to possess a license. If the respondent is or has ever been a licensee, the Recommendation shall be issued to the Chairperson. If the respondent is an applicant who has never held a license issued by the Commission, the Recommendations shall be issued to the Deputy Commissioner for Licensing, his or her designee, or any other person designated by the Chairperson. The Chairperson, Deputy Commissioner for Licensing, or designee, may accept, reject or modify said Recommendation. The decision of the Chairperson, Deputy Commissioner for Licensing, or designee shall constitute the final determination of the Commission.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. Commission/Chair revokes license for unfitness under this section based upon licensee's conviction for driving while impaired, which occurred off-duty driving his personal car. Commission/Chair rejected ALJ's finding that license could be revoked under sections 2-61 and 8-14 of this title but not this section because the Commission did not prove that licensee lacked moral character and was thus unfit under this section based upon the conviction for a traffic infraction, where the driver showed remorse at the hearing and had completed a rehabilitation program. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Pardo, OATH Index No. 798/08 (Oct. 31, 2007), adopted on other grounds, Comm'r/Chair's Decision (Nov. 19, 2007).

¶ 2. ALJ recommends dismissal of charge that probationary licensee lacks moral character based upon conviction for driving private car while under the influence of alcohol, a violation, where licensee candidly admitted his misconduct and showed remorse at the fitness hearing. Nevertheless, license revocation was recommended pursuant to rule 6-14, where conviction occurred during probationary term. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Alexandridis, OATH Index No. 202/08 (Aug. 28, 2007). ¶ 3. Taxicab driver's recent conviction for driving while impaired, coupled with his lack of candor at his fitness hearing demonstrated that he lacked fitness to retain his license. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Chulsky, OATH Index No. 233/08 (Aug. 28, 2007); Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Corrales, OATH Index No. 259/08 (Aug. 24, 2007) (same).

¶ 4. Taxi driver who was recently convicted of petit larceny and identity theft lacked moral character required to maintain license. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Dhillon, OATH Index No. 364/08 (Sept. 7, 2007).

¶ 5. Taxi driver who was recently convicted of insurance fraud lacked moral character required to maintain license. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Carpio, OATH Index No. 395/08 (Sept. 20, 2007); Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Guillca, OATH Index No. 574/08 (Oct. 10, 2007) (same).

¶ 6. Documentary evidence was found sufficiently reliable, by itself without witness testimony, to establish prima facie case that licensee's urine tested positive for marijuana, which licensee failed to rebut. Documents included an affidavit from a toxicologist, with accompanying chain of custody form, toxicology reports and a confirmation from a medical review officer. Licensee was found unfit, license revocation recommended. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Shakoor, OATH Index No. 860/08 (Nov. 30, 2007).

¶ 7. Subsection (a), which authorizes the Commission to direct a licensee to appear for a fitness hearing, does not require an inquiry into the licensee's moral character. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Liriano-Blanco, OATH Index No. 1196/08 (Feb. 1, 2008).

¶ 8. When the Commission elects to bring a fitness proceeding, the sole issue is whether the licensee is fit to possess a license. Commission rules do not permit the imposition of a penalty short of revocation once a licensee is found unfit. Driver convicted of criminal possession of forged instruments was found unfit and license revocation was recommended. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Feldman, OATH Index No. 2016/08 (Apr. 8, 2008).

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record Dec. 1, 1999. Note Statement of Basis from City Record Dec. 1, 1999.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Procedures mandated by the Administrative Code have been incorporated into these Rules. In addition to unifying procedures with respect to the adjudication of summonses, these Rules also establish clear procedures to be followed with respect to the review of the fitness of licensees and applicants to obtain a license from the Commission and procedures to be followed in the event the Commission seeks the discretionary revocation of a license.

Several changes were made to the text of the Proposed Rules published in the City Record on August 23, 1999. These changes were made in response to written comments and public statements received by the TLC at or prior to the Public Hearing. The changes to the proposed Rules, as adopted by the TLC:

· Increase the time during which a respondent may file an appeal from twenty-one (21) to thirty (30) days;

· Provide that a respondent served with a summons alleging a rule violation, by personal service upon a driver as agent, will not be suspended upon a failure to appear until at least ten (10) days after the default has occurred;

· Respondents in discretionary revocation proceedings may appeal the final Agency decision of the Chairperson to the full Commission.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 8 ADJUDICATIONS*1

§8-16 Summary Suspension Pending Revocation to Protect the Public Health or Safety.

(a) If the Chairperson finds that emergency action is required to insure public health or safety, he/she may order the summary suspension of a license or licensee, pending revocation proceedings.

(b) Such revocation proceedings shall be initiated within five (5) calendar days of the summary suspension.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b) of this section, the Chairperson may summarily suspend a license subject to the provisions of subdivisions (a) and (d) through (g) of this section based upon an arrest on criminal charges that the Chairperson determines is relevant to the licensee's qualifications for continued licensure. At the hearing pursuant to subdivision (e) of this section, the issue shall be whether the charges underlying the licensee's arrest, if true, demonstrate that the licensee's continued licensure during the pendency of the criminal charges would pose a direct and substantial threat to the health or safety of the public. Revocation proceedings need not be commenced during the pendency of the criminal charges. In such a case, within five (5) calendar days of the Commission's receipt from the licensee of a certificate of disposition of the criminal charges, the Chairperson shall either lift the suspension or commence revocation proceedings.

(d) The Chairperson shall notify the licensee either by personal service or by first class mail of the summary suspension, within five (5) calendar days of the suspension. If the licensee wishes to receive a hearing concerning the suspension, he or she may request a hearing within ten (10) calendar days of receipt of the notice of suspension. Upon receipt of a request for a hearing, the Commission shall schedule a hearing, which shall be held within ten (10) calendar days of the receipt of the request, unless the Commission determines that such hearing will be prejudicial to any ongoing civil or criminal investigation. This subdivision shall not apply, and no summary suspension hearing shall be required, where the Commission schedules the revocation hearing within fifteen (15) calendar days of the suspension.

(e) A summary suspension hearing conducted pursuant to this section shall be held before an ALJ who shall consider relevant evidence and testimony under oath, according to the hearing procedures set forth in this Chapter. In any such hearing, where applicable, the affirmative defenses may include those set forth in subdivision b of §19-512.1 of the Administrative Code.

(f) Upon the conclusion of the summary suspension hearing, the ALJ shall issue a written Recommended Decision to the Chairperson, who may accept, reject or modify the recommendation. The decision of the Chairperson shall be the final determination of the Commission with respect to the summary suspension.

(g) In the event no decision is rendered by the Chairperson within sixty (60) calendar days of the conclusion of the suspension hearing, the suspension shall be thereafter stayed until such decision is rendered.

¶ 2. Pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, where the pre-hearing suspension is based upon the licensee's arrest, at the summary suspension hearing "the issue shall be whether the charges underlying the licensee's arrest, if true, demonstrate that the licensee's continued licensure during the pendency of the criminal charges would pose a threat to the health or safety of the public." ALJ found that the licensee posed a threat to the health or safety of the public based upon proof of his arrest for second degree assault and criminal possession of a weapon and she recommended continuation of summary suspension. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Shahbaz, OATH Index No. 1014/08 (Nov. 30, 2007).

¶ 3. While rule 8-16 requires that this tribunal consider the arrest charges to be true, there is nothing to prevent the licensee from explaining the facts underlying the arrest should he so wish. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Chaudhry, OATH Index No. 1012/08 (Nov. 30, 2007).

¶ 4. In a summary suspension hearing where license was suspended based upon an arrest for assault, under subsection (c) of this rule, ALJ must presume arrest charge is true and then determine whether "the licensee's continued licensure during the pendency of the criminal charges would pose a threat to the health or safety of the public." ALJ had found the Commission did not establish that continued licensure presented a risk to public safety and recommended that the suspension be lifted. Commissioner/Chair found continued licensure of driver who was arrested for third degree assault would pose a threat to public safety. Suspension continued pending the final outcome of his criminal charge. Taxi & Limousine Comm'n v. Mirakov, OATH Index No. 1053/08 (Dec. 7, 2007), rev'd, Comm'r/Chair Dec. (Jan. 8, 2008).

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record Dec. 1, 1999. Note Statement of Basis from City Record Dec. 1, 1999.

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, empowering the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of the transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations as are necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-506 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose fines, suspend or revoke licenses for violations of Commission rules; and under §19-528 of said Code, authorizing the Commission to impose additional penalties for unlicensed activities.

The rules repeal the existing Chapter Eight of the Rules of the TLC, relating to Adjudications Procedures, as well as other sections of Title 35 of the Rules of the City of New York ("RCNY"), relating to procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of Commission Rules. A new Chapter Eight, setting forth procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of the Administrative Code or Commission rules has been enacted to replace these repealed sections. This new Chapter also includes changes in adjudications procedures necessary to conform with Administrative Code amendments that were enacted into law on May 26, 1999.

The purpose of these amendments is to clarify the Commission's adjudications procedures. Presently, each Chapter contained within Title 35 has its own section describing procedures to be followed in the event of a violation of TLC Rules. These amendments will create a unified, comprehensive set of procedures applicable to all Commission Rules and Administrative Code violations adjudicated before the Commission.

On May 26, 1999, amendments to the Administrative Code were enacted into law. These amendments adopted specific time periods which must be followed in the case of a summary suspension of a taxicab or for-hire vehicle license, or where a respondent is charged with taximeter tampering. Procedures mandated by the Administrative Code have been incorporated into these Rules. In addition to unifying procedures with respect to the adjudication of summonses, these Rules also establish clear procedures to be followed with respect to the review of the fitness of licensees and applicants to obtain a license from the Commission and procedures to be followed in the event the Commission seeks the discretionary revocation of a license.

Several changes were made to the text of the Proposed Rules published in the City Record on August 23, 1999. These changes were made in response to written comments and public statements received by the TLC at or prior to the Public Hearing. The changes to the proposed Rules, as adopted by the TLC:

· Increase the time during which a respondent may file an appeal from twenty-one (21) to thirty (30) days;

· Provide that a respondent served with a summons alleging a rule violation, by personal service upon a driver as agent, will not be suspended upon a failure to appear until at least ten (10) days after the default has occurred;

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 8 ADJUDICATIONS*1

§8-17 Summary Suspension Pending Compliance with Commission Rules.

(a)(i) If the Chairperson or his or her designee determines that a licensee is not in compliance with the requirements of §2-19(b)(3) or of §6-16(v)(3) of this title, such licensee's TLC-issued license shall be summarily suspended pending an opportunity to be heard.

(ii) Upon a determination made pursuant to paragraph (i) of this subdivision that a TLC-issued license shall be summarily suspended, the Commission shall notify the licensee either by personal service or by first class mail to the last mailing address filed with the Commission that the licensee's TLC-issued license shall be suspended either immediately upon service of such notice if made by personal service, or five (5) days after the date of the mailing of such notice if mailed. Such notice shall contain, at a minimum the following information:

(1) a notice that the licensee's TLC-issued license is being suspended for a violation of the Commission's rules or applicable Administrative Code section;

(2) a description of the nature of the violation;

(3) the rule or Administrative Code section alleged to have been violated; provided, however, that if there is a conflict between the rule or code section cited and the description of the violation, the description shall be dispositive; and

(4) a notice that if the licensee wishes to be heard concerning the suspension, he or she may provide the Commission with a single submission of written documentation refuting the suspension of his or her license within ten

(10) calendar days of the receipt of the notice if notice was given by personal service, or fifteen (15) calendar days of the mailing of the notice of suspension if the notice was mailed.

(iii) The documentation submitted by a licensee refuting the suspension shall be reviewed by an ALJ. Suspension of the TLC-issued license shall continue while documentation is under review by the ALJ. After review of the documentary evidence, the ALJ shall issue a decision which shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law. If the ALJ finds that a violation has been committed, the appropriate penalties shall be imposed, which shall include continued suspension of the driver's license until compliance and may also include a fine. If the ALJ finds that no violation has been committed, the suspension shall be vacated. The decision of the ALJ shall be final, and may be appealed pursuant to §8-13 of this chapter. Where an ALJ decision made pursuant to this subdivision lifting a suspension is reversed on appeal, such matter will be remanded for a new hearing pursuant to this subdivision, and the TLC-issued license shall be suspended until final disposition of the case or until compliance as appropriate.

(iv) In the event that no decision is rendered by the ALJ within sixty (60) calendar days of the receipt of written documentation provided by the licensee, the suspension shall be thereafter stayed until such decision is rendered.

(v) In the event that a licensee does not provide the Commission with written documentation refuting the suspension within ten (10) calendar days of the receipt of the notice if notice was given by personal service, or fifteen (15) calendar days of the mailing of the notice of suspension if the notice was mailed, it shall be deemed that the opportunity to be heard has been waived and a violation has been committed, and the appropriate penalties shall be imposed, which shall include continued suspension of the TLC-issued license until compliance and may also include a fine.

(vi) Suspension of TLC-issued licenses pursuant to this subdivision shall continue until the fines assessed pursuant to paragraph (iii) of this subdivision have been paid and until compliance with the underlying Commission rule or Administrative Code section has been shown to the satisfaction of the Chairperson or his or her designee.

(vii) At any time after a licensee has been notified of suspension, a licensee may pay any applicable fine, comply with the underlying Commission rule or Administrative Code section and furnish proof of such compliance to the satisfaction of the Chairperson or his or her designee. Upon such payment and submission of proof of compliance, the suspension of the TLC-issued license shall be lifted. If the licensee pays any applicable fine and furnishes proof of compliance either in lieu of submitting documentation or after documentation has been submitted but before a decision has been rendered, the suspension shall be lifted and the opportunity to be heard shall be deemed to have been waived.

(b)(i) If the Chairperson or his or her designee determines that a licensee is not in compliance with a rule in this title that provides for summary suspension until compliance, such licensee's TLC-issued license may be summarily suspended until compliance pending an opportunity for a hearing.

(ii) Upon a determination made pursuant to paragraph (b)(i) of this section that a TLC-issued license shall be summarily suspended, the Chairperson shall notify the licensee either by personal service or by first class mail to the last mailing address filed with the Commission that the licensee's TLC-issued license shall be suspended either immediately upon service of such notice if made by personal service, or five (5) days after the date of the mailing of such notice if mailed. Such notice shall contain, at a minimum the following information:

(1) a notice that the licensee's TLC-issued license is being suspended for a violation of the Commission's rules or applicable Administrative Code section;

(2) a description of the nature of the violation;

(3) the rule or Administrative Code section alleged to have been violated; provided, however, that if there is a conflict between the rule or code section cited and the description of the violation, the description shall be dispositive; and

(4) a notice that if the licensee wishes to receive a hearing concerning the suspension, he or she may request a hearing within ten (10) calendar days of receipt of the notice of suspension if notice was given by personal service, or fifteen (15) calendar days of the mailing of the notice of suspension if the notice was mailed.

(iii) Upon receipt of request for a hearing, the Commission shall schedule a hearing, which shall be held within ten (10) calendar days of the receipt of the request, unless adjourned upon consent of the licensee or for good cause by the ALJ. Such summary suspension hearing shall be conducted by an ALJ who shall consider relevant evidence and testimony under oath, according to the hearing procedures set forth in this chapter.

(iv) The ALJ shall issue a decision which shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law. If the ALJ finds that a violation has been committed, the appropriate penalties shall be imposed, which shall include continued suspension of the TLC-issued license until compliance and may also include a fine. If the ALJ finds that no violation has been committed, the suspension shall be vacated. The decision of the ALJ shall be final, and such decision may be appealed pursuant to §8-13 of this chapter. Where an ALJ decision made pursuant to this subdivision lifting a suspension is reversed on appeal, such matter will be remanded for a new hearing pursuant to this subdivision, and the TLC-issued license shall be suspended until final disposition of the case or until compliance as appropriate.

(v) In the event no decision is rendered by the ALJ within sixty (60) calendar days of the receipt of written documentation provided by the licensee, the suspension shall be thereafter stayed until such decision is rendered.

(vi) Suspension of TLC-issued licenses pursuant to paragraph (b)(iv) of this section shall continue until the fines assessed pursuant to that paragraph have been paid and until compliance with the underlying Commission rule or Administrative Code section has been shown to the satisfaction of the Chairperson or his or her designee.

(vii) In the event a licensee does not provide the Commission with a request for a hearing regarding the suspension within ten (10) calendar days of the receipt of the notice if notice was given by personal service, or fifteen (15) calendar days of the mailing of the notice of suspension if the notice was mailed, it shall be deemed that the opportunity to be heard on an expedited basis pursuant to this subdivision has been waived and the licensee shall be scheduled for a hearing on the underlying violation pursuant to the procedures in this chapter. In such an event, the summary suspension of the TLC-issued license shall be continued until either lifted by the ALJ in such regularly scheduled hearing, or until the licensee furnishes proof of compliance to the satisfaction of the Chairperson or his or her designee.

(viii) At any time after a licensee has been notified of suspension, a licensee may pay any applicable fine, comply with the underlying Commission rule or Administrative Code section and furnish proof of such compliance to the satisfaction of the Chairperson or his or her designee. Upon such payment and submission of proof of compliance, the suspension of the TLC-issued license shall be lifted. If the licensee pays any applicable fine and furnishes proof of compliance either in lieu of submitting documentation or after documentation has been submitted but before a decision has been rendered, the suspension shall be lifted and the opportunity to be heard shall be deemed to have been waived.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 9*1 COMMUTER VANS

§9-01 Definitions.

Commuter van. A "commuter van" is a motor vehicle operated in a commuter van service having a seating capacity of at least nine passengers but not more than twenty passengers and carrying passengers for hire in the city duly licensed as a commuter van by the Commission and not permitted to accept hails from prospective passengers in the street. For purposes of the provisions of Chapter 9 relating to prohibitions against the operation of an unauthorized commuter van service or an unlicensed commuter van and to the enforcement of such prohibitions and to the imposition of penalties for violations of such prohibitions, the term shall also include any common carrier of passengers by motor vehicle not subject to licensure as a taxicab, for-hire vehicle, or wheelchair accessible van or not operating as an authorized bus line pursuant to applicable provisions of law.

Commuter van service. A "commuter van service" is a subclassification of common carrier of passengers by motor vehicles as such term is defined in subdivision seven of section two of the New York State Transportation Law, that provides a transportation service through the use of one or more commuter vans on a prearranged, regular daily basis, over non-specified or irregular routes, between a zone in a residential neighborhood and a location which shall be a work related central location, a mass transit or mass transportation facility, a shopping center, recreational facility or airport. A "commuter van service" shall not include any person who exclusively provides (1) any one or more of the forms of transportation that are specifically exempted from article seven of the transportation law; or (2) any one or more of the forms of transportation regulated under chapter five of title nineteen of the administrative code other than transportation by commuter vans.

Operator. An "operator" is any person, partnership or corporation, other than a lien holder, who is authorized by the Commission to operate a commuter van service.

Owner. An "owner" is any person, firm, partnership, corporation or association, other than a lien holder, having the property in or title to a commuter van. The term includes a person entitled to the use and possession of a vehicle subject to a security interest in another person and also includes any lessee or bailee of a vehicle having the exclusive use thereof, under a lease or otherwise, for a period greater than thirty days. If a vehicle is sold under a contract of sale which reserves a security interest in the vehicle in favor of the vendor, such vendor or his assignee shall not, after delivery of such vehicle, be deemed to be an owner, but the vendee, or his or her assignee, receiving possession thereof, shall be deemed an owner notwithstanding the terms of such contract, until the vendor or his or her assignee shall retake possession of such vehicle. A secured party in whose favor there is a security interest in any vehicle out of his or her possession shall not be deemed to be an owner.

Person with a disability. A "person with a disability" is an individual with a physical or mental impairment or incapacity, including a person who uses a wheelchair, crutches, three-wheeled motorized scooter, other mobility aid, or a service animal, but who can transfer from such a mobility aid to a commuter van with or without reasonable assistance.

Portable or hands-free electronic device. A "portable or hands-free electronic device" is any electronic device able to:

1. make a wireless telephone call

2. send or receive a text message

3. allow its user to speak on the telephone hands-free or operate a device by voice command, even when otherwise allowed by New York State law

4. act as a personal assistant (PDA)

5. send and or receive data from the internet or from a wireless network

6. act as a laptop computer or portable computer

7. receive or send pages

8. allow two-way communications between different people or parties

9. play electronic games

10. play music or video; or

11. make or display images; or

12. any combination of the above

This definition is to be liberally construed in light of its purpose to minimize the distraction of drivers, and in recognition of the rapid development of electronic technologies and proliferation of electronic devices that may be made available in the future that similarly transfer digital images, sounds or messages.

"Portable or hands-free electronic device" does not include: (1) any device the use of which while driving is specifically authorized by TLC rules, or (2) the use of a global positioning navigation system ("GPS") which uses voice functions to convey directions, so long as the driver is not inputting data unless legally standing or parked and the GPS is not capable of being used as a cell phone or other portable or hands-free electronic device.

Security interest. A "security interest" is a security interest as defined by subdivision k of section 2010 of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law.

Service animal. A "service animal" is a guide dog, signal dog or any other animal trained specifically to work or to perform tasks for an individual with a disability, including, but not limited to, guiding individuals with visual impairments, alerting individuals with hearing impairments to intruders or sounds, providing minimal protection or rescue work, pulling a wheelchair or retrieving dropped items.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Jan. 15, 2008

The rule implements three changes to the TLC rules.

First, the rule implements Local law 48/2007, codified as §19-529.4(b) of the Administrative Code of the City of New York. In compliance with that legislation, the rule amends existing TLC rules to increase from one to four the number of decals owners of commuter vans and operators of commuter van services would be required to have affixed to TLC-licensed commuter vans, one on the lower right corner of the windshield, one on each rear side window of the commuter van, and one centered on the rear of the commuter van.

When a commuter van license is first granted and each time it is renewed or transferred, the operator of the commuter van service and the owner of the commuter van is responsible for bringing the commuter van to the TLC's inspection facility where TLC staff will affix the commuter van decals to the commuter van.

The purpose of this aspect of the rule is to enhance the ability of the riding public, as well as law enforcement officers, to identify legitimate, licensed commuter vans, and to better distinguish those commuter vans from illegal, unlicensed vans.

Second, the rule modifies existing rules requiring the placement of a placard inside each commuter van. Specifically, the rule updates the notice to the passengers on the placards posted inside commuter vans, to incorporate the current passenger complaint mechanisms: a telephone call to the City's government services line at 311, and the TLC website, http://nyc.gov/taxi.

The purpose of this amendment is to facilitate the receipt of passenger questions, feedback or complaints.

Third, the rule modifies the penalty for a violation of §9-11(a), the commuter van decal rule, for failure to have the decals affixed to the commuter van at the Commission inspection facility (which would mean no commuter van license has been issued), to increase the penalty from $100 to $500 for a first offense within twelve months; and $1,000 for a second offense and subsequent offenses within a twelve-month period; and, for a commuter van operator, to provide for revocation of the operator's authorization in the event of a third offense within a twelve month period; and suspension of the commuter van license until compliance. Personal appearance is not required except for proceedings to revoke an operator's authorization. These penalties accord with the penalties for a violation of 35 RCNY §6-12(a), the for-hire vehicle decal rule, which is comparable to this commuter van decal rule.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. Base station owner was found to have operated a commuter van service without a license. The administrative law judge rejected owner's argument that the vehicle, a limousine with a seating capacity of ten, did not fit within the definition of either a luxury limousine (which is defined in section 6-01(a) as a for-hire vehicle designed to carry fewer than nine passengers) or a commuter van (which is defined in section 9-01 as a for-hire motor vehicle having a seating capacity of at least nine passengers but not more than twenty passengers). The administrative law judge ruled that seating capacity, not physical shape of the vehicle, is the determinative factor. Taxi and Limousine Comm'n v. Absolute Class Limousine, Inc., OATH Index No. 995/98 (Apr. 22, 1998).

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 9*1 COMMUTER VANS

§9-02 Authorization to Operate a Commuter Van Service.

(a) No person shall operate a commuter van service wholly within the boundaries of the City of New York ["the City"] or partly within the City if the partial operation consists of the pick up and discharge of passengers wholly within the City without first obtaining an authorization from the Commission to operate such commuter van service.

(b) An applicant for an authorization to operate a commuter van service or for renewal thereof shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Commission that he or she is fit, willing and able to provide the transportation for which authorization is sought.

(c) An applicant for an authorization to operate a commuter van service, or for renewal thereof for a term for which a new determination as to public convenience and necessity must be made pursuant to subsection (j) of this section, shall be fingerprinted for the purpose of securing criminal history records from the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. The applicant shall pay any processing fee required by the State. Fingerprints shall be taken of the individual owner if the applicant is a sole proprietorship; the general partners if the applicant is a partnership; the officers, principals, and stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation if the applicant is a corporation. If subsequent to the fingerprinting of the applicant or during the term of the authorization, one or more partners, officers, principals or stockholders who are required to be fingerprinted pursuant to this subdivision is changed or added, such applicant shall, within five days of such change or addition, file with the Commission an application for an approval of the change or addition of partners, officers, principals or stockholders on such forms as are prescribed by the Commission, and such new partners, officers, principals or stockholders shall be fingerprinted in accordance with this subdivision. Alter- natively, an applicant who plans to change or add one or more partners, officers, principals or stockholders who are required to be fingerprinted pursuant to this subdivision may request that such fingerprinting be done prior to the change or addition of such new partner, officer, principal or stockholder.

(d) An applicant for an authorization to operate a commuter van service or for a renewal thereof shall not have engaged in any conduct that would be a basis for suspension or revocation of such authorization pursuant to this chapter.

(e) An applicant for an authorization to operate a commuter van service or for renewal thereof shall be in compliance with the conditions of operation relating to commuter vans set forth in §9-11 of this chapter and the insurance requirement set forth in §9-12 of this chapter.

(f) No application for authorization to operate a commuter van service shall be approved if the applicant has been found guilty of operating a commuter van service without authorization to operate such commuter van service two times within a six-month period prior to the date of application, provided that such violations were committed on or after March 27, 1995.

(g) An application for an authorization to operate a commuter van service or for renewal thereof shall be signed by the applicant and filed by the owner in person with the Commission, on the forms provided by the Commission. An applicant shall agree to designate each and every driver who operates pursuant to an authorization to operate a commuter van service as agent for service of any and all legal process that may be served on such commuter van service by the City of New York or any department thereof, or any other person or entity authorized to make such service.

(h) An applicant for an authorization to operate a commuter van service or for renewal thereof shall certify annually that such commuter van service is in compliance with Title III of the Federal Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. Section 12101 et seq.) and any regulations promulgated thereunder, as such act and regulations may be amended. Such certification shall be in the form of an affidavit.

(i) An applicant for an authorization to operate a commuter van service or for renewal thereof shall certify annually that such commuter van service is in compliance with such provisions of section 5 of the Federal Omnibus Transportation Testing Act of 1991 (49 U.S.C. App. Section 2717) and any regulations promulgated thereunder, as that act and regulations may be amended, as are applicable to such commuter van service. Such certification shall be in the form of an affidavit.

(j) (1) The applicant shall have the burden of demonstrating that the service proposed will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity. The Commission shall not issue an authorization to operate a commuter van service unless the Commissioner of the New York City Department of Transportation determines that the service proposed will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity. Such determination that the service proposed will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity shall be in effect for six years after the date of issuance of such authorization, unless such authorization has not been renewed or has been revoked by the Commission prior to the end of such six-year period in which case such determination shall be in effect only until the expiration or revocation of such authorization. After the expiration or revocation of such determination of public convenience and necessity, no authorization to operate a commuter van service shall be renewed unless a new determination is made by the Commissioner of Transportation that the service proposed will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity.

(2) When such a determination by the Commissioner of Transportation is required by §19-504.2(e) of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, the application for authorization to operate a commuter van service shall set forth the geographic area proposed to be served by the applicant and the maximum number of vehicles to be operated and the capacity of each such vehicle, and the Commission shall forward a copy of such application to the Commissioner of Transportation.

(3) The Commissioner of Transportation, after consultation with the New York State Department of Transportation, shall make a determination whether the service proposed in the application will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity. The Commissioner of Transportation may request that the applicant provide any additional information relevant to such determination. The Commissioner of Transportation shall notify the New York City Transit Authority and all City Council members and community boards representing any portion of the geographic area set forth in the application for the purpose of obtaining comment on the present or future public convenience and necessity for any proposed service. The Commissioner of Transportation shall provide for publication in the City Record of a notice of any such application and shall allow for public comment on such application for a period not to exceed sixty days after the date of publication of such notice. If any such application is protested by a bus line operating in the City or by the New York City Transit Authority, and such bus line and/or transit authority has timely submitted objections to the application to the Commissioner of Transportation, the Commissioner shall, in making such determination, evaluate such objections in accordance with the following criteria:

(i) the adequacy of the existing mass transit and mass transportation facilities to meet the transportation needs of any particular segment of the general public for the proposed service; and

(ii) the impact that the proposed operation may have on any existing mass transit or mass transportation facilities.

(4) Any determination by the Commissioner that the service proposed will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity shall specify the geographic area where service is authorized and the number of commuter vans authorized to be used in providing such service.

(k) The Commission, after consultation with the New York State Department of Transportation, shall approve or disapprove such application for authorization to operate a commuter van service within one hundred eighty days after the date a completed application has been filed. The failure to approve or disapprove such completed application within such one hundred eighty- days period shall be deemed a disapproval of such application.

(l) The Commission shall not issue a temporary authorization to operate a commuter van service. An authorization to operate a commuter van service shall not be assignable or transferable unless otherwise provided by the Commission.

(m) In the event of the loss, mutilation or destruction of any authorization to operate a commuter van service the owner shall file such statement and proof of the facts as the Commission may require, with a fee not to exceed twenty-five dollars for each authorization, and the Commission may issue a duplicate or substitute authorization.

(n) In addition to any other basis for denial of an authorization to operate a commuter van service pursuant to this section, the Commission may deny an application where the applicant has made a material false statement or concealed a material fact in connection with the filing of such application.

Section added City Record Sept. 26, 1994 eff. Oct. 27, 1994.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Apr. 12, 1999:

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, which empowers the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §19-504(a)(1) of the Administration Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to issue commuter van licenses for a period of at least one, but not more than two years; under §19-504.2(g) of such Code, authorizing the TLC to issue commuter van service authorizations for a period of at least one, but not more than two years; and under §19-505(g) of such Code, authorizing the TLC to issue commuter van driver's licenses for a period of at least one, but not more than three years.

The rules of the Commission currently provide that all commuter van authorizations and licenses expire one year after issuance, and are renewable for additional one-year periods. The rules further provide that all licenses expire on the last day of each month, irrespective of the date issued.

These amendments provide that new and renewal licenses and authorizations will be issued and renewed for a two-year period. The rule also provides that a license expiration date would be linked to the date of license issuance, instead of the last day of the month of issuance.

The existing rules place an unreasonable administrative burden upon the Licensing Division of the Commission and upon licensees, by requiring licenses and authorizations to be renewed annually. These amendments would conform the commuter van rules to the rules adopted in February 1999, which provide for the issuance of two year new and renewal taxicab driver's licenses, for-hire and paratransit vehicle licenses. There is no regulatory purpose which would be served by requiring the renewal of commuter van licenses and authorizations for a one-year period. The adoption of two-year licensing will enable the Commission to better serve the public and provide for the better utilization of resources.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

§9-04 Continuation of Operating Authority for State Approved Van Service Pursuant to Agreement with State Department of Transportation.

(a) (1) In accordance with the agreement between the State Department of Transportation and the City of New York (the "Agreement"), a commuter van service which on September 26, 1994 holds a valid certificate of operating authority granted by the State Department of Transportation covering the operations of one or more commuter vans in the City of New York, and which commuter van service is in compliance with such operating authority as of that date, shall be authorized to continue such operations in the City of New York on and after September 26, 1994 provided that on or before the date specified in paragraph two of this subdivision, such commuter van service submits to the Commission an application for an interim authorization to operate a commuter van service pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section. If a commuter van service fails to submit an application for an interim authorization to operate a commuter van service by the date specified in paragraph two of this subdivision or if a commuter van service fails to satisfy the requirements of subdivision (b) of this setion, the commuter van service shall not be authorized to continue operating in the City of New York after such date specified in paragrpah two, or, in the case of a failure to satisfy the requirements of subdivision (b), after the date that such commuter van service received notification of such failure, unless and until such commuter van service has obtained an authorization in accordance with the requirements of §9-02 of this chapter.

(2) The date for submission of an application for an interim authorization to operate a commuter van service shall be November 15, 1994 or, where the Chairperson of the Commission determines that it is in the public interest to extend such date, the date shall be extended by providing notification by regular mail of such extension to all commuter van services subject to the provisions of this subdivision, provided, however, that in no event shall the date be extended beyond December 30, 1994.

(b) An application for an interim authorization to operate a commuter van service shall be filed by the owner of such commuter van service in person with the Commission on the forms to be provided by the Commission. Such application shall be signed by the applicant. Such application shall include such forms as may be required by the Commission to be completed and signed by the owner of any commuter van to be operated pursuant to such interim authorization and by the drivers who operate or will operate any such commuter van. In accordance with the Agreement, the Commission shall not issue an interim authorization to operate a commuter van service unless:

(1) the applicant presents to the Commission a current, valid certificate of operating authority granted by the State Department of Transportation covering the operations of such commuter van service in the City of New York and such Department certifies that on September 26, 1994 such commuter van service held a current, valid certificate of operating authority;

(2) the applicant demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Commission that:

(i) each commuter van which is operated pursuant to such State operating authority or is intended to be operated pursuant to such interim authorization (i) has been inspected by the State Department of Transportation in accordance with the requirements of the State Transportation Law and any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder, (ii) is insured in accordance with the requirements contained in Part 750 of Title 17 of the New York City Code of Rules and Regulations, and (iii) is in compliance with the registration requirements of the Vehicle and Traffic Law;

(ii) each driver who operates or will operate any such commuter van possesses a commercial driver's license which pursuant to the Vehicle and Traffic Law is valid for the operation of a commuter van for the transportation of passengers for-hire and each such driver is in compliance with the provisions of Article 19-A of the Vehicle and Traffic Law; and

(iii) the applicant is in compliance with the provisions of Article 19-A of the Vehicle and Traffic Law;

(3) the applicant has not engaged in any conduct that would be a basis for suspension or revocation of an interim authorization pursuant to subdivision (f) of this section; and

(4) the applicant agrees to designate each and every driver who operates pursuant to an interim authorization as agent for service of any and all legal process that may be issued against such commuter van service by the Commission or any other person or entity authorized to enforce the provisions of Chapter 5 of Title 19 of the Administrative Code relating to commuter vans.

(c) An interim authorization to operate a commuter van service issued by the Commission pursuant to this section shall authorize the commuter van service to operate in the geographic areas and upon the terms and conditions set forth in the State certificate of operating authority held by such commuter van service and in accordance with any limits established by the State Department of Transportation on the maximum number of vehicles authorized to be operated; provided, however, that where such State operating authority does not contain a provision regarding the maximum number of vehicles authorized to be operated and the State Department of Transportation has not established a vehicle limit applicable to such commuter van service, such commuter van service shall be authorized to operate the number of vehicles for which such commuter van service held current, valid State Department of Transportation inspection certificates on September 26, 1994. The geographic areas, the terms and conditions set forth in such State operating authority and any vehicle limit established by the State Department of Transportation or pursuant to this subdivision and the requirements set forth in subparagraphs (a), (b), and (c) of paragraph two of subdivision (b) of this section shall be deemed to be terms and conditions upon which interim authorization shall be issued.

(d) (1) Where the Commission has issued an interim authorization to operate a commuter van service pursuant to this section, the Commission shall issue an identification sticker for each commuter van operated or to be operated pursuant to such interim authorization. In accordance with the Agreement, no commuter van shall be operated pursuant to an interim authorization unless such van has affixed thereto an identification sticker issued by the Commission. If subsequent to the issuance of an interim authorization and identification stickers for such commuter vans a commuter van service intends to put into operation a new commuter van which may lawfully be operated pursuant to such interim authorization, such commuter van service shall be required to demonstrate to the Commission compliance with the requirements set forth in subparagraph (a) of paragraph two of subdivision (b) of this section prior to the Commission's issuance of an identification sticker.

(2) Where the Commission has issued an interim authorization to operate a commuter van service pursuant to this section, the Commission shall issue an identification card to each driver who operates or will operate a commuter van pursuant to such interim authorization. In accordance with the Agreement, no commuter van shall be operated pursuant to an interim authorization unless the driver of such van carries an identification card issued by the Commission. A driver of any such commuter van shall produce such identification card upon demand of any person authorized to enforce the provisions of Chapter 5 of Title 19 of the Administrative Code relating to commuter vans. If subsequent to the issuance of an interim authorization, and identification card for each driver a commuter van service or commuter van owner intends to employ or retain a new driver, such commuter van service or owner shall be required to demonstrate to the Commission compliance with the requirements set forth in subparagraph (b) of paragraph two of subdivision (b) of this section prior to the Commission's issuance of an identification card for such driver.

(e) An interim authorization to operate a commuter van service issued by the Commission pursuant to this section shall expire on September 26, 1995; provided, however, that if an application for the conversion of such interim authorization is submitted to the Commission on or before March 24, 1995 pursuant to §9-05 of this chapter, such interim authorization shall remain in effect after September 26, 1995 until it is either converted to a full authorization to operate a commuter van service or the application for conversion is disapproved.

(f) (1) During the period commencing on September 26, 1994 and ending on September 26, 1995, every commuter van service which is authorized to continue to operate a commuter van service in the City of New York on and after September 26, 1994 pursuant to this section shall comply with the following:

(i) the insurance requirements contained in Part 750 of Title 17 of the New York Code of Rules and Regulations;

(ii) the requirements contained in subdivision 1 of section 140 of the Transportation Law and Parts 720(3) through 720(25) and Parts 720(27) and 720(28) of Title 17 of the New York Code of Rules and Regulations;

(iii) section 141 of the Transportation Law;

(iv) section 147 of the Transportation Law;

(v) any other provisions of the Transportation Law and any rules and regulations of the State Department of Transportation applicable to commuter van services;

(vi) the terms and conditions upon which such interim authorization has been issued as provided in subdivision (c) of this section;

(vii) Article 19-A of the Vehicle and Traffic Law;

(viii) the requirements contained in paragraph one of subdivision (d) of this section that commuter vans operating pursuant to an interim authorization have identification stickers issued by the Commission affixed thereto; and

(ix) the requirements contained in paragraph two of subdivision (d) of this section that drivers of such commuter vans carry and produce on demand an identification card issued by the Commission.

(2) Whenever any of the provisions described in subparagraphs (i) through (v) of paragraph one of this subdivision require that specific information, statements, reports or other material be filed with or submitted to the State Department of Transportation, such information, statements, reports or other material shall be filed with the Com- mission.

(3) Any commuter van service which has violated any of the provisions described in paragraph one of this subdivision shall be punishable in accordance with the penalty schedule set forth in §9-17 of this chapter. Such violation shall be adjudicated and any penalty imposed therefor in accordance with the provisions of §9-16 of this chapter.

(4) In addition to any other penalties that may be imposed pursuant to this section, the Commission may, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard, suspend or revoke any interim authorization to operate a commuter van service upon the occurrence of any one or more of the following:

(i) the holder of an interim authorization or any of its officers, principals, directors, employees, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has been found by the Commission to have violated any of the provisions described in paragraph one of this subdivision; or

(ii) the holder of an interim authorization or any of its officers, principals, directors, employees, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has knowingly made a material false statement or concealed a material fact in connection with filing of an application for interim authorization pursuant this section or;

(iii) the holder of an interim authorization or any of its officers, principals, directors, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has not paid any penalty duly imposed pursuant to this chapter for a violation of any of the provisions described in paragraph one of this subdivision.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (4) of this subdivision, the Chairperson of the Commission may immediately suspend any interim authorization to operate a commuter van service issued pursuant to this section without a prior hearing where the Chairperson determines that the continued possession of such interim authorization poses a serious danger to the public health, safety or welfare. After such suspension an opportunity for a hearing shall be provided on an expedited basis, within a period not to exceed fourteen days.

§9-05 Conversion of Interim Authorization Pursuant to Agreement with State Department of Transportation.

(a) (1) In accordance with an agreement between the State Department of Transportation and the City of New York (the "Agreement"), any interim authorization to operate a commuter van service issued pursuant to §9-04 of this chapter may be converted into a full authorization to operate a commuter van service in accordance with the provisions of this section. A commuter van service which holds such interim authorization shall submit an application for conversion to the Commission pursuant to this section on or before March 24, 1995.

(2) The application for conversion shall be filed by the owner of such commuter van service in person with the Commission on the forms provided by the Commission. Such application shall be signed by the applicant.

(3) The applicant for conversion shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Commission that he or she is fit, willing and able to provide the transportation for which a full authorization is sought.

(4) The applicant for conversion shall be fingerprinted for the purpose of securing criminal history records from the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. Such applicant shall pay any processing fee required by the State. Fingerprints shall be taken of the individual owner if the applicant is a sole proprietorship; the general partners if the applicant is a partnership; the officers, principals, and stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation if the applicant is a corporation. If subsequent to the fingerprinting of the applicant or during the term of an authorization, one or more partners, officers, principals or stockholders who are required to be fingerprinted pursuant to this paragraph is changed or added, such applicant shall, within five days of such change or addition, file with the Commission an application for an approval of the change or addition of partners, officers, principals or stockholders on such forms as are prescribed by the Commission, and such new partners, officers, principals or stockholders shall be fingerprinted in accordance with this paragraph. Alternatively, an applicant who plans to change or add one or more partners, officers, principals or stockholders who are required to be fingerprinted pursuant to this paragraph may request that such fingerprinting be done prior to the change or addition of such new partner, officer, principal or stockholder.

(5) The applicant for conversion shall be in compliance with the conditions of operation relating to commuter vans set forth in §19-504.3 of the Administrative Code and §9-11 of this chapter and the insurance requirements set forth in §9-12 of this chapter by September 26, 1995, and the applicant shall not have engaged in any conduct that would be a basis for suspension or revocation of an authorization to operate a commuter van service pursuant to this chapter.

(6) The applicant for conversion shall agree to designate each and every driver who operates pursuant to an authorization to operate a commuter van service as agent for service of any and all legal process that may be issued against such commuter van service by the Commission or any other person or entity authorized to enforce the provisions of Chapter 5 of Title 19 of the Administrative Code relating to commuter vans.

(7) The applicant for conversion shall certify as of September 26, 1995 that the commuter van service is in compliance with Title III of the Federal Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. Section 12101 et seq.) and any regulations promulgated thereunder, as such act and regulations may be amended. Such certification shall be in the form of an affidavit.

(8) The applicant for conversion shall certify as of September 26, 1995 that the commuter van service is in compliance with such provisions of section 5 of the Federal Omnibus Transportation Testing Act of 1991 (49 U.S.C. Such certification shall be in the form of an affidavit.

(9) Any interim authorization which has been converted into a full authorization pursuant to this section shall authorize the commuter van service to operate (a) the maximum number of vehicles authorized to be operated under the State Department of Transportation certificate of operating authority or pursuant to any vehicle limit established by the State Department of Transportation, or if such State Department of Transportation operating authority does not contain a provision relating to the number of vehicles and the State Department of Transportation has not established a vehicle limit applicable to such commuter van service, such commuter van service shall be authorized to operate the number of vehicles for which such commuter van service held current, valid State Department of Transportation inspection certificates on September 26, 1994, and (b) in the geographic areas set forth in such State Department of Transportation operating authority.

(10) The Commission, after consultation with the State Department of Transportation, shall approve or disapprove such application within one hundred eighty days after the date a completed application has been filed.

(11) In addition to any other basis for denial of a full authorization to operate a commuter van service pursuant to this section, the Commission may deny a full authorization when the applicant has made a material false statement or concealed a material fact in connection with the filing of an application for conversion pursuant to this section.

(12) Any interim authorization which has been converted into a full authorization pursuant to this section shall have the same force and effect and shall be subject to the same provisions of law and rules as an authorization to operate a commuter van service issued pursuant to §19-504.2 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and provisions of this chapter promulgated pursuant thereto. Such authorization may be renewed annually in accordance with this chapter, and the renewal of such authorization for the term that commences in the year 2000 shall be subject to a determination by the City Commissioner of Transportation that the service will be required by the present or future public convenience and necessity pursuant to the provisions of subdivision e of §19-504.2 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and subdivision (j) of §9-02 of this chapter.

§19-504 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and any provisions of this chapter promulgated pursuant thereto and shall be accompanied by the fee provided in this chapter for such license.

(c) An application for conversion shall be accompanied by an application for a commuter van driver's license submitted by each driver of any commuter van sought to be operated pursuant to a full authorization to operate a commuter van service. Any such application shall be submitted in accordance with §19-505 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and any provisions of this chapter promulgated pursuant thereto and shall be accompanied by the fee provided in this chapter for such license.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 9*1 COMMUTER VANS

§9-10 Conditions of Operation for Commuter Van Drivers.

(a) A commuter van driver shall not operate a commuter van unless such van is licensed by the Commission and is operating pursuant to a current, valid authorization to operate a commuter van service.

(b) A commuter van driver shall not operate a commuter van unless the following are present in the vehicle:

(1) the commuter van license;

(2) the driver's commuter van driver's license;

(3) the authorization to operate a commuter van service, or legible photocopy thereof; (4) the vehicle registration and evidence of current liability insurance; and

(5) a passenger manifest.

(c) A commuter van driver shall keep the passenger manifest required by subdivision (b) of this section in the van and shall enter the name of each passenger to be picked up legibly in ink prior to the boarding of each passenger.

(d) A commuter van driver shall not provide transportation service to a passenger unless such service is on the basis of a telephone contract or other prearrangement and such prearrangement is evidenced by the records required by Rule 9-11(l)(2).

(e) A commuter van driver shall not pick up or discharge passengers, or permit or authorize the pick up or discharge of passengers:

(1) outside of the geographic area set forth in the authorization to operate a commuter van service issued pursuant to this chapter; or

(2) at stops of, or along a route which is traveled upon by a bus line which is operated by the New York City Transit Authority or the City or a private bus company which has been approved by the City to operate pursuant to a local law or Charter provision enacted in accordance with subdivision five of section 80 of the Transportation Law. The prohibition contained in this paragraph shall not apply to the pick up or discharge of passengers along bus routes in the borough of Manhattan south of Chambers Street by drivers for commuter van services which on July 1, 1992 had authority from the New York State Department of Transportation to pick up or discharge passengers along bus routes in such area, provided that the scope of operations by such commuter van services along bus routes in such area shall not exceed the scope of such operations prior to July 1, 1992.

(f) A commuter van driver shall not use or attempt to use physical force against a person while performing his duties and responsibilities as a van driver or in connection with the operation of a commuter van. A commuter van driver shall not distract, harm or use physical force against or attempt to distract, harm or use physical force against a service animal accompanying a person with a disability.

(g) A commuter van driver shall: (1) answer truthfully all questions and comply as directed with all communications, directives and summonses from the Commission or any other person or entity authorized to enforce the provisions of Chapter 5 of Title 19 of the Administrative Code relating to commuter vans;

(2) produce any documents required by this section to be kept in the commuter van upon the demand of any such authorized person or entity; and

(3) produce any document required by this chapter to be kept by such driver no later than 10 days following a request from the Commission for such document.

(h) A commuter van driver shall be responsible for notifying the Commission within five calendar days after any criminal conviction (felony or misdemeanor) of such van driver. Such notification shall be in writing and must be accompanied by a certificate of disposition issued by the clerk of the court.

(i) A commuter van driver or any person acting on his or her behalf shall not offer or give any gift, gratuity or thing of value to any employee, representative or member of the Commission or any public servant who is charged with the administration or enforcement of this chapter or any traffic rule or law. Any administrative hearing to adjudicate a violation of this subdivision shall be referred to the New York City Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings.

(j) A commuter van driver shall immediately report to the Commission and to the New York City Department of Investigation any request or demand for a gift, gratuity or thing of value by any employee, representative or member of the Commission or any public servant who is charged with the administration or enforcement of this chapter or any traffic rule or law. Any administrative hearing to adjudicate a violation of this subdivision shall be referred to the New York City Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings.

(k) A commuter van driver shall not charge or attempt to charge a fare above the preapproved rate of fare quoted by the dispatcher. A commuter van driver shall not impose or attempt to impose any additional charge for transporting a person with a disability, a service animal accompanying a person with a disability or a wheelchair, three-wheeled motorized scooter or other mobility aid.

(l) (1) A commuter van driver shall not refuse by words, gestures or any other means, without justifiable grounds set forth in subdivision (m) of this section, to provide transportation, when dispatched, for a person who has prearranged the trip and the destination is within the geographical area set forth in the authorization to operate a commuter van service. This includes a person with a disability and any service animal accompanying such person.

(2) A commuter van driver shall not require a person with a disability to be accompanied by an attendant. However, where a person with a disability is accompanied by an attendant, a commuter van driver shall not impose or attempt to impose any charge in addition to the authorized rate of fare for transporting the attendant.

(3) A commuter van driver shall not refuse to transport a passenger's wheelchair, crutches or other mobility aid.

(m) Justifiable grounds for conduct otherwise prohibited by subdivision (l) of this section shall be the following:

(1) the passenger is carrying, or is in possession of any article, package, case or container, other than a wheelchair, three-wheeled motorized scooter or other mobility aid, which the commuter van driver may reasonably believe will cause damage to the interior of the commuter van, impair its efficient operation, or cause it to become stained or foul smelling;

(2) the passenger is escorted or accompanied by an animal which is not properly or adequately secured in a kennel case or other suitable container. This provision shall not apply to service animals accompanying people with disabilities;

(3) the passenger is disorderly or intoxicated. Provided, however, that a commuter van driver shall not refuse to provide service to a person with a disability solely because such person's disability results in an appearance or involuntary behavior which may offend, annoy or inconvenience the driver; or

(4) if the passenger has refused a request by the commuter van driver to obey the no-smoking requirement of law, the driver may discharge the passenger after asking the passenger to cease smoking in the commuter van. Provided, however, that, if the driver discharges the passenger, it must be at a safe location.

(n) (1) A driver shall not use a portable or hands-free electronic device while operating a commuter van, unless such commuter van shall be lawfully standing or parked. "Use" of a portable or hands-free electronic device means that the driver is deploying any of the functions of the portable or hands-free electronic device, or has a device that permits the hands-free use of a portable or hands-free electronic device in the immediate proximity of the driver's ear.

A driver may offer as an affirmative defense that he or she was using a portable or hands-free electronic device while operating a commuter van for the sole purpose of communicating with an emergency response operator that there exists an imminent threat to life or property, and that it was impossible for the driver to safely stop the vehicle before placing the call. The driver must provide documentary proof that the electronic communication was to an emergency response operator.

(2) Additional penalties for use of a portable or hands-free electronic device while operating a commuter van.

(i) For purposes of this paragraph (n)(2), "portable or hands-free electronic device violation" shall mean a violation of §9-10(n)(1) of this chapter or a violation of any state law or rule prohibiting or restricting the use of a portable or hands-free electronic device while driving, such violation having been adjudicated by a court or other tribunal having jurisdiction over such violations.

(ii) Any commuter van driver who commits a portable or hands-free electronic device violation is required to attend and satisfactorily complete an authorized course of training in the dangers of driving while distracted by portable or hands-free electronic devices. The course shall be a minimum of one hour and shall include a review of the rules governing the use of portable or hands-free devices, and the dangers of driving while distracted. The course must be completed and verification of course completion provided by the designated school within sixty days of TLC's issuance of a directive to the commuter van driver that he or she is required to take such course.

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

§9-14 Renewal, Suspension and Revocation of Authorization to Operate a Commuter Van Service, Commuter Van License and Commuter Van Drivers' License.

(a) An authorization to operate a commuter van service shall be revoked after the holder of such authorization has had an opportunity for a hearing and upon the occurrence of any one or more of the following conditions:

(1) Where each commuter van comprising a number of commuter vans equaling at least thirty percent of the total number of commuter vans operating as part of the same current, valid authorization rounded up to the next whole number, has failed to maintain the required liability insurance at least three times within a twelve month period; or

(2) Where each commuter van comprising a number of commuter vans equaling at least thirty percent of the total number of commuter vans operating as part of the same current, valid authorization, rounded up to the next whole number, has operated without complying with any safety inspection requirement arising from any applicable law, rule or regulation at least three times within a twelve month period; or

(3) Where a commuter van driver has had his or her license revoked pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section while operating as part of such authorization and thereafter is found to be operating a commuter van as part of such authorization without a commuter van driver's license required by this chapter three times within a six month period; or

(4) Where the number of violations of paragraph 5 of subdivision a of §19-504.3 of the Administrative Code occurring within a twelve month period is equal to the following: ninety percent of the number of commuter vans authorized to operate as part of such authorization, rounded up to the next whole number, or five, whichever is greater.

(b) A commuter van license shall be revoked after the holder of such license has had an opportunity for a hearing and after which the holder of such license is found guilty of any of the following:

(1) Failure to maintain the liability insurance required by paragraph 4 of subdivision a of §19-504.3 of the Administrative Code and §9-12 of this chapter three times within a period of one year; or

(2) Operating without complying with any safety inspection requirements arising from any applicable law, rule or regulation three times within a period of one year.

(c) A commuter van driver's license shall be revoked after the holder of such license has had an opportunity for a hearing and such holder is found to have failed to comply with subdivision (e) and/or (f) of §9-10 of this chapter three times within a period of six months.

(d) A commuter van driver's license shall be revoked after the holder of such license has had an opportunity for a hearing and the Commission finds that the holder's commuter van driver's license has been suspended on two occasions within a three year period pursuant to subdivision o of §19-505 of the Adminis- trative Code, based on such driver's disqualification pursuant to paragraph d of subdivision 2 of §509-c of Article 19-A of the Vehicle and Traffic Law by reason of the accumulation of nine or more points on his or her driving record for acts occurring during an eighteen month period.

(e) The Commission may refuse to renew any authorization to operate a commuter van service or any commuter van license or commuter van driver's license required by these rules and, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard, may suspend or revoke any such authorization or license upon the occurrence of any one or more of the following conditions:

(1) the holder of an authorization or a license or any of its officers, principals, directors, employees, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has been found by the Commission to have violated any of the provisions of Chapter 5 of Title 19 of the Administrative Code relating to commuter vans or this chapter; or

(2) the holder of an authorization or a license or any of its officers, principals, directors, employees, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has made a material false statement or concealed a material fact in connection with the filing of any application or certification pursuant to this chapter or has engaged in any fraud or misrepresentation in connection with rendering transportation service; or

(3) the holder of an authorization or a license or any of its officers, principals, directors, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has not paid any penalty duly imposed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; or

(4) the holder of an authorization or a license or any of its officers, principals, directors, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has been convicted of a crime which, in the judgment of the Commission has a direct relationship to such person's fitness or ability to perform any of the activities for which an authorization or a license is required pursuant to this chapter, or has been convicted of any other offense which under the provision of Article 23-A of the New York State Correction Law, would provide a basis for the Commission to refuse to renew, or to suspend or revoke, such authorization or license; or

(5) the holder of an authorization or a license has failed to maintain the conditions of operation applicable to the particular authorization or license as provided in this chapter; or

(6) the holder of an authorization or a license or any of its officers, principals, directors, employees, or stockholders owning more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation has been found to have violated any of the provisions of §8-107 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York concerning unlawful discriminatory practices in public accommodations in the operation of a commuter van service or a commuter van.

(f) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, the Chairperson of the Commission may immediately suspend any authorization to operate a commuter van service or commuter van license or commuter van driver's license issued under these rules without a prior hearing where the Chairperson determines that the continued possession of such authorization or license poses a serious danger to the public health, safety or welfare. After such suspension an opportunity for a hearing shall be provided on an expedited basis, within a period not to exceed fourteen days.

(g) Where the Commission suspends or revokes an authorization to operate a commuter van service pursuant to this chapter:

(1) Any commuter van license which has been issued as part of such authorization shall be deemed suspended or revoked, as the case may be, where the suspension or revocation of the authorization to operate a commuter van service was based, in whole or in part, upon the operation of such commuter van; or

(2) Any commuter van license which has been issued as part of such authorization shall continue to be valid in accordance with its terms where the suspension or revocation of the authorization to operate a commuter van service was not based, in whole or in part, upon the operation of such commuter van; provided, however, that such commuter van shall not be operated in the course of operations of such commuter van service unless and until such commuter van operates as part of a current, valid authorization to operate a commuter van service; provided, further that any such commuter van which operates without being part of a current, valid authorization to operate a commuter van service shall be deemed to be operating without a commuter van license and shall be subject to any and all of the penalties that may be imposed under the Administrative Code of this chapter for the unlicensed operation of commuter vans, including seizure and forfeiture.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person who has had authorization to operate a commuter van service revoked by the Commission pursuant to this section shall not be permitted to apply for an authorization to operate a commuter van service for a period of six months after the day of revocation.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person who has had a commuter van driver's license revoked by the Commission pursuant to this section shall not be permitted to apply for a commuter van driver's license pursuant to this chapter for a period of one year after the date of such revocation.

All persons in any such seized vehicle shall be left in or transported to a location which is readily accessible to other means of public transportation. A vehicle seized pursuant to §19-529(2) of the Administrative Code shall be removed to a designated secured facility.

(b) Within one business day after the seizure of a vehicle pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section, notice of such seizure and a copy of the notice of violation shall be mailed to the owner of such vehicle at the address for such owner set forth in the records maintained by the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles, or, for vehicles not registered in New York State, such equivalent record in such state of registration.

(c) A hearing to adjudicate the violation underlying the seizure shall be held before the administrative tribunal of the Commission within five business days after the date of the seizure. The adjudication shall be conducted pursuant to the procedures set forth in chapter 8 of the Rules of the Commission, except that where the procedures set forth in such Chapter are inconsistent with any provisions of the section, this section shall govern. The administrative tribunal of the Commission shall, within one business day of the conclusion of the hearing, render a determination as to whether the vehicle has been operated by or on behalf of a person who is not the holder of a current, valid authorization or has been operated without a commuter van license required by this chapter.

(d) An owner shall be eligible to obtain release of the vehicle prior to such hearing if such owner has not previously been found liable in an administrative or judicial proceeding for operating a vehicle as a commuter van service without a current, valid authorization or operating a commuter van without a commuter van license as required by this chapter, which violation was committed within a five year period prior to the violation resulting in the seizure. The vehicle shall be released to an eligible owner upon the posting of a bond in a form satisfactory to the Commission in the amount of the maximum civil penalty which may be imposed for the violation underlying the seizure and all reasonable costs for removal and storage of such vehicle.

(e) Where the Administrative Tribunal of the Commission, after adjudication of the violation underlying the seizure, shall find that the vehicle has been operated as a commuter van by or on behalf of a person who is not the holder of a current, valid authorization or operated as a commuter van without a commuter van license:

(1) If the vehicle is not subject to forfeiture pursuant to §19-529(3) of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, the Commission shall release such vehicle to an owner upon payment of the applicable civil penalties and all reasonable removal and storage costs; or

(2) If the vehicle is subject to forfeiture pursuant to §19-529(3) of the Administrative Code, the Commission may release such vehicle to an owner upon payment of the applicable civil penalties and all reasonable removal and storage costs, or may commence a forfeiture action pursuant to §19-529(3) within ten days after the owner's written demand for such vehicle.

(f) Where the Administrative Tribunal of the Commission, after adjudication of the violation underlying the seizure, finds that the charge of operating without an authorization or commuter van license has not been sustained, the vehicle shall be released to the owner.

(g) If an owner or representative of such owner has not sought to reclaim a seized vehicle within thirty days after mailing of notice to such owner of the final adjudication by the Administrative Tribunal of the Commission of the violation underlying the seizure, such vehicle shall be deemed by the Commission to be abandoned. Such vehicle shall be disposed of by the City pursuant to §1224 of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law; provided, however, that notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of §1224 of such law, if an owner seeks to reclaim such vehicle pursuant to §1224 of such law, such owner shall be deemed to have made a written demand for such vehicle and the Commission shall take such action as may be authorized by subdivisions (e) or (f) of this section.

(h) The vehicle removal fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars ($150).

(i) The vehicle storage fee shall be fifteen dollars ($15) per day.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 9*1 COMMUTER VANS

§9-19 Forfeiture of Commuter Vans.

(a) In addition to the penalties, sanctions and remedies provided in Chapter 5 of Title 19 of the Administrative Code and this chapter or in subdivisions 6 and 7 of §145 of the New York State Transportation Law, a vehicle seized pursuant to §19-529(2) of the Administrative Code, and all rights, title and interest therein, shall be subject to forfeiture to the City in accordance with the provisions of §19-529(3) of the Administrative Code upon judicial determination thereof, if the owner of such vehicle has been found liable at least two times in an administrative or court proceeding for operating a commuter van or other such common carrier by or on behalf of a person who is not the holder of a current, valid authorization or operating a commuter van without a commuter van license as required by this chapter, both of which violations were committed within a five-year period.

(b) A forfeiture action which is commenced pursuant to §19-529(3) shall be commenced by filing of a summons with notice or a summons and complaint pursuant to the New York Civil Practice Law and Rules, and such summons with notice or summons and complaint shall be served pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section. A vehicle which is the subject of such an action shall remain in the custody of the City pending the final determination of the forfeiture action.

(c) Service of a summons with notice or a summons and complaint shall be made:

(1) by personal service pursuant to the New York Civil Practice Law and Rules upon all owners of the vehicle listed in the records maintained by the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles, or for vehicles not registered in New York State, in the records maintained by the state of registration;

(2) by first class mail upon all individauls who have notified the Administrative Tribunal of the Commission that they are an owner of the vehicle; and

(3) by first class mail upon all persons holding a security interest in such vehicle which security interest has been filed with the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles pursuant to the provisions of Title 10 of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law, at the address set forth in the records of the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles, and for vehicles not registered in New York State, all persons holding a security interest in such vehicle which security interest has been filed with the state of registration at the address provided by such state of registration.

(d) Any owner who receives notice of the institution of a forfeiture action who claims an interest in the vehicle subject to forfeiture shall assert a claim for the recovery of the vehicle or satisfaction of the owner's interest in such vehicle by intervening in the forfeiture action in accordance with the New York Civil Practice Law and Rules. Any persons with a security interest in such vehicle who receives a notice of the institution of the forfeiture action who claims an interest in such vehicle subject to forfeiture shall assert a claim for satisfaction of such person's security interest in such vehicle by intervening in the forfeiture action in accordance with the New York Civil Practice Law and Rules.

(e) No vehicle shall be forfeited pursuant to §19-529(3), to the extent of the interest of a person who claims an interest in the vehicle, if such person shall plead and prove as an affirmative defense that:

(1) the use of the vehicle for the conduct that was the basis for the seizure occurred without the knowledge of such person, or, if such person had knowledge of such use, without the consent of such person, and that such person did not knowingly obtain such interest in the vehicle in order to avoid the forfeiture of such vehicle; or

(2) the conduct that was the basis for the seizure was committed by any person other than such person claiming an interest in the vehicle, while such vehicle was unlawfully in the possession of a person who acquired possession thereof in violation of the criminal laws of the United States or any state.

(f) For purposes of subdivision (e) of this section, if such person claiming an interest in the vehicle had knowledge of the use of the vehicle for the conduct that was the basis for such seizure, such person shall be deemed to have consented to the unlawful conduct unless such person establishes that he or she did all that could reasonably have been done to prevent the use of the vehicle for such unlawful conduct.

(g) The City, after judicial determination of forfeiture, shall, at its discretion, either:

(1) retain such vehicle for the official use of the City; or

(2) by public notice of at least twenty (20) days, sell such forfeited vehicle at public sale. The net proceeds of any such sale shall be paid into the general fund of the City.

(h) At any time within six months after the forfeiture, any person claiming an interest in a vehicle which has been forfeited pursuant to §19-529.3 who was not sent notice of the commencement of the forfeiture action pursuant to subdivisions (b) or (c) of this section or who did not otherwise receive actual notice of the forfeiture action may assert, in an action commenced before the Justice of the Supreme Court before whom the forfeiture action was held, such claim as could have been asserted in such forfeiture action pursuant to §19-529.3. The court may grant the relief sought upon such terms and conditions as it deems reasonable and just if such person claiming an interest in the vehicle establishes that he or she was not sent notice of the commencement of the forfeiture action and was without actual knowledge of the forfeiture action and establishes either of the affirmative defenses set forth in subdivision (e) of this section.

(i) In any action commenced pursuant to subdivisions (b) or (h) of this section, where the court awards a sum of money to one or more persons in satisfaction of such person's or persons' interest or interests in the forfeited vehicle, the total amount awarded to satisfy such interest or interest shall not exceed the amount of the net proceeds of the sale of the forfeited vehicle, after deduction of the lawful expenses incurred by the City, including the reasonable costs of removal and storage of the vehicle between the time of seizure and the date of sale.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 10 RULES GOVERNING PUBLIC AUCTION OF TAXICAB LICENSES

§10-01 Public Auction of Taxicab Licenses.

(a) The chairman may issue taxicab licenses to qualified persons, to replace any revoked taxicab licenses that were not sold by the owners prior to revocation. Issuance shall be made through application for a license, submitted by the highest bidder at a public auction. (A taxicab license is referred to herein as a "medallion.") The medallion numbers shall be set by the Chairman.

(b) The public auction will be conducted by a licensed auctioneer. The auction sale shall be advertised in the City Record for at least twenty days before the auction. The Chairman may also advertise the auction in his sole discretion in newspapers and other media. The Chairman may, at any time and for any reason, postpone or cancel an auction.

(c) In accordance with Title 35 RCNY §l-04(g),*1 the replacement of an independent taxicab owner license shall be an independent taxicab owner license; similarly, the replacement of a fleet or minifleet license shall be a fleet or minifleet taxicab license. A fleet or minifleet medallion may be issued only to a corporation which owns at least one other fleet or minifleet medallion. Purchase at auction of two such medallions would satisfy that requirement.

(d) If more than one fleet or minifleet medallion is being auctioned, the medallions will be auctioned first as a pair and then separately. The final sale of the medallions will be in the manner (as a pair or separately), which will bring the highest return to the City.

(e) Any person may bid. The highest bidder must, however, satisfy all criteria for taxicab license owners. Satisfaction of the ownership criteria will be determined by the Chairman in the review of the application by the highest bidder for a license.

(f) The highest bidder must file an application for a taxicab license with the Commission within three weeks from the auction date, unless the deadline is extended for good cause by the Chairman.

(g) If the highest bidder's application for a license is denied for any cause, the second-highest bidder will be awarded the sale, but conditional on approval by the Chairman of an application for a taxicab license.

(h) If neither the highest bidder's nor the second-highest bidder's application for a license is approved, the auction shall be nullity.

(i) The highest bidder must provide to the auctioneer, immediately after the close of bids, a deposit covering a percentage of the high bid, as set in advance by the Chairman, in the form of a certified check or money order or such other form as set in advance and published in the City Record by the Chairman.

(j) In addition to the amount bid, the highest bidder will be responsible on the transfer closing date for any sales tax, medallion transfer tax, or other applicable taxes or fees.

(k) The outcome of the auction remains conditional pending the resolution of any challenge to the Commission's legal authority to issue and auction the medallions.

(l) The chairman is authorized to delegate matters pertaining to the auction and to take such further measures as in his discretion may be appropriate to the sale of the medallions. The Chairman is authorized in his discretion to modify the procedures set forth in subsections (d) through (i) herein, upon public notice in the City Record made in advance of the auction.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record March 29, 1996 effective April 30, 1996. Note further provisions:

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under section 2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under section 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; and under section 19-530 of such Code, authorizing TLC to license and regulate medallion leasing agents.

The promulgated regulations implement Local Law 83 of 1995, which authorizes TLC to license and regulate taxicab medallion leasing agents. Taxi medallion owners who choose to designate an agent to operate their taxicabs must use a licensed agent.

The annual fee for an agent's license is $500. An agent must maintain a business premises in a location zoned for the operation of such business with sufficient off-street parking to store a portion of the taxicabs managed. In addition, an agent must deposit a $50,000 bond with the Commission, payable upon violation of any Commission rules or the Administrative Code.

In addition, the Taxicab Owners Rules were amended in order to make these rules consistent with the newly proposed agent regulations. Designation of an agent would not relieve an owner of the responsibilities of a licensee.

The proposal did not appear in a regulatory agenda for the agency. The regulations are required to implement Local Law 83 of 1995.

(b) An application for an agent's license and for the renewal thereof shall be submitted on behalf of a sole proprietorship by the proprietor; on behalf of a partnership by a general partner thereof; on behalf of a corporation by an officer or director thereof; or by any other type of business entity by the chief executive officer thereof, irrespective of organizational title. The application shall contain a sworn and notarized statement by such individual that the statements therein are true under the penalties of perjury.

(c) An applicant for an agent's license shall be fingerprinted for the purpose of securing criminal history records from the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. The applicant shall pay any processing fee required by the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. Fingerprints shall be taken of the proprietor if the applicant is a sole proprietorship; all the general partners if the applicant is a partnership; all the officers, directors, and owners of more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation if the applicant is a corporation; and if the applicant is another type of business entity, the chief executive officer, irrespective of organizational title.

Such bond shall be payable to the City of New York and shall be conditioned on the license applicant or licensee complying with the provisions of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and applicable rules or regulations of the Commission, and payment of all fines imposed by the Commission and all judgments or settlements arising from damages occasioned to any person by reason of any misrepresentation, fraud or deceit, or any unlawful act or omission of such licensee, or his or her employee, officer, director, partner, owner of more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of the licensee or the chief executive officer of such licensee while such individual is acting on behalf of such licensee, or any other violation of §19-530 of the Administrative Code. The bond shall remain in effect for one year following the expiration or revocation of the license.

(e) The Commission may deny an application for an agent's license or renewal of a license or, after notice and hearing, revoke or suspend any license issued, and/or impose a civil penalty of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) on a licensee, if it finds that an applicant, a licensee, any officer, director, partner, or owner of more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of an applicant or licensee, or the chief executive officer of an applicant or licensee has:

(f) The Commission may deny an application for an agent's license or renewal of a license or, after notice and hearing, revoke or suspend any license issued, if an applicant, a licensee, any officer, director, partner, or owner of more than ten percent of the outstanding stock of an applicant or licensee, or the chief executive officer of an applicant or licensee has been found in violation of any Commission rules as a medallion owner and such party's penalty as owner is revocation or divestiture of the owner's license.

(g) The Commission may deny an application for an agent's license or renewal of a license if the proprietor, any general partner, officer, director or owner of ten percent or more of the outstanding stock of the applicant or the chief executive of the applicant, as may be the case, has been convicted of a crime which under article twenty-three-A of the Correction Law would provide a basis for the denial of such license or renewal.

The annual fee for an agent's license is $500. An agent must maintain a business premises in a location zoned for the operation of such business with sufficient off-street parking to store a portion of the taxicabs managed. In addition, an agent must deposit a $50,000 bond with the Commission, payable upon violation of any Commission rules or the Administrative Code.

In addition, the Taxicab Owners Rules were amended in order to make these rules consistent with the newly proposed agent regulations. Designation of an agent would not relieve an owner of the responsibilities of a licensee.

The proposal did not appear in a regulatory agenda for the agency. The regulations are required to implement Local Law 83 of 1995.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record March 29, 1996 effective April 30, 1996. Note further provisions:

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under section 2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for hire in the city; under section 2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under section 19-503 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Charter; and under section 19-530 of such Code, authorizing TLC to license and regulate medallion leasing agents.

The promulgated regulations implement Local Law 83 of 1995, which authorizes TLC to license and regulate taxicab medallion leasing agents. Taxi medallion owners who choose to designate an agent to operate their taxicabs must use a licensed agent.

The annual fee for an agent's license is $500. An agent must maintain a business premises in a location zoned for the operation of such business with sufficient off-street parking to store a portion of the taxicabs managed. In addition, an agent must deposit a $50,000 bond with the Commission, payable upon violation of any Commission rules or the Administrative Code.

In addition, the Taxicab Owners Rules were amended in order to make these rules consistent with the newly proposed agent regulations. Designation of an agent would not relieve an owner of the responsibilities of a licensee.

The proposal did not appear in a regulatory agenda for the agency. The regulations are required to implement Local Law 83 of 1995.

Pursuant to Executive Order 91 of 1977, as amended, and the Rules of Procedure for City Environmental Quality Review found at Title 62, Chapter 5 of the Rules of the City of New York (CEQR), to Article 8 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law, the State Environmental Quality Review Act (SEQRA), and its implementing regulations as set forth in 6 NYCRR Part 617, the Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC) has issued a Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) for the Sale of Additional Taxicab Medallions described herein. The FEIS is available for public inspection at the following repositories:

New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission, 40 Rector Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10006; New York

City Office of Environmental Coordination, 100 Gold St., Second Floor, New York, NY 10038; The New York Public Library, 5th Avenue and 42nd Street, New York, NY 10018; Borough Presidents' Offices; Manhattan Community Board No. 1, 49-51 Chambers Street, Room 715, New York, NY 10007; and Manhattan Community Board No. 10, 215 West 125th Street, Suite 340, New York, NY 10027.

The FEIS is also available on the Taxi and Limousine Commission's Website, www.nyc.gov/html/tlc. A Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) was issued on December 26, 2003. Public hearings were held on January 7 and 12, 2004, and public comments were received until 5:00 p.m. on January 23, 2004. All comments received by this date were incorporated into Section 8.0 of the FEIS, Response to Comments Made on the DEIS. Description of the Proposed Project The City of New York proposes to improve taxi service through the issuance of 900 additional taxi medallions. Taxicabs fill a vital niche in the menu of transportation alternatives available to residents, commuters and visitors of New York City. Securing a cab during rush hour, late evenings and inclement weather may be very difficult. The TLC is proposing to issue the first 300 medallions for sale in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2004, followed by two subsequent medallion sales in Fiscal Years 2005 and 2006. The TLC may limit the number of medallions issued for sale. If all 900 medallions were sold by the end of Fiscal Year 2006, the total number of taxicab medallions in New York City would be 13,087. Required Approvals The proposed sale of additional taxicab medallions requires the following approvals:

· Amendments to New York State law requiring legislative approval; and

Potential Significant Adverse Impacts

The proposed action could have a potential significant adverse socioeconomic impact upon the taxicab industry as a result of a possible decrease in taxicab medallion values. However, as a matter separate from the proposed medallion sale, the Taxi and Limousine Commission has reviewed petitions for taxicab fare increases from industry groups and has determined that an increase in taxicab fares could reduce the potential socioeconomic impacts to the industry resulting from the sale of additional taxicab medallions.

Significant adverse traffic impacts are projected to occur at the study intersections (listed in "Mitigation Measures," below). These impacts include increased delays and decreased levels-of-service at study intersections. The vast majority of these impacts can be mitigated by reallocating one second of green time. However, for those intersections that require more than a reallocation of one second of green time, additional mitigation measures are proposed.

Traffic impacts would occur in each phase of the medallion sale, starting with the first sale of 300 medallions in 2004.

Mitigation Measures

To address the unavoidable significant adverse traffic impacts due to the proposed project, the following mitigation measures are proposed:

· The impacted lane groups and/or approaches at the study intersections that require more than one second of green time to be reallocated, or require other mitigation measures, are listed below:

· 3rd Avenue/East 56th Street-reallocate 2 seconds of green time from northbound phase to eastbound phase during weekday PM peak hour;

· 5th Avenue/42nd Street-reallocate 2 seconds of green time from southbound phase to the east/westbound phase during weekday AM peak hour;

· Madison Avenue/East 42nd Street-reallocate 2 seconds of green time from northbound phase to the east/westbound phase during weekday AM peak hour;

· 6th Avenue/West 30th Street-eliminate on-street parking and re-stripe the eastbound approach lane and reallocate one second of green time from eastbound phase to northbound phase;

· 6th Avenue/West 33rd Street-reallocate 2 seconds of green time from the leading pedestrian phase to the northbound phase during the weekday AM peak hour.

Alternatives

Three alternatives to the proposed action were evaluated in the FEIS. These alternatives included:

· The No Action Alternative: no additional medallions would be sold.

· Alternative 1: limit the sale to 300 medallions in Fiscal Year 2004.

· Alternative 2: limit the sale to 300 medallions in each of Fiscal Years 2004 and 2005.

2. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Sept. 3, 2004: The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, which empowers the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the City, and under §19-532 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the sale of additional taxicab medallions. In March 2004, the TLC promulgated rules which governed the sale of 300 taxicab medallions at public auctions held on April 16 and 23, 2004. These medallions were sold and all of these new medallions have been issued. Pursuant to §19-532 of the Administrative Code, the TLC has the authority to sell up to 600 additional taxicab medallions, including medallions which must be used in connection with either an alternative fuel or a wheelchair accessible vehicle. At the public sale held in April 2004, such restricted medallions were offered for sale; however, no bids were received for a price that exceeded the minimum authorized price. These amendments remove the pricing link at the public sale between restricted and unrestricted medallions, thereby increasing the possibility that the TLC will receive valid bids for unrestricted medallions. The Administrative Code states that if the price received for a restricted medallion is not at least ninety percent (90%) of the price received for an unrestricted medallion, the Commission "is authorized," but not mandated, to sell these medallions without such a restriction. Under the regulations promulgated herein, the Chairperson will establish a minimum upset price for restricted medallions prior to the auction. This will enable potential bidders to make educated decisions concerning prospective bids. Under the prior regulations, the minimum acceptable price for a restricted medallion was determined only after all unrestricted bids were opened and an average was calculated. Prospective bidders were not aware of the minimum acceptable price for a restricted medallion until the day of the bid opening. This may have dissuaded some potential purchasers from submitting bids on restricted medallions. These rules also make some technical changes to the bid and closing process. The number of days for accepting bids was reduced from four to three, to conserve TLC staff and resources. Few bids were received during the first day that bids were accepted in April. In addition, bids submitted by mail will no longer be accepted. Few bids were received by mail, but significant agency resources were expended to receive, sort and process mail bids. The rules will also require that all bids be placed in an approved TLC-issued envelope to conform with practice. The requirement that a completed application be submitted with the bid has been eliminated. The rules presently require that successful bidders submit a second deposit within fourteen (14) days after the bid opening, unless this period was extended by the Chairperson. The TLC Chair extended this period for individuals who were able to schedule a closing within thirty (30) days of the bid opening. The proposed rules would codify this practice by waiving the second deposit requirement for all successful bids who are ready, willing and able to close within thirty (30) days. Finally, the proposed rules extend the period of time for closing from 45 to 60 days after notification to the winning bidder. By making these relatively minor adjustments to the closing procedures, the bidding and closing processes will be made even more efficient than at the previous sale, wherein 300 medallions were closed prior to the end of the fiscal year.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 35 Taxi and Limousine Commission

CHAPTER 13*1 RULES GOVERNING ISSUANCE AND PUBLIC SALE OF TAXICAB LICENSES

§13-03 Sale by Sealed Bid.

(a) A bidder shall submit a sealed bid no earlier than four (4) business days prior and no later than 12:00 noon on the date set by the Chairperson as the deadline for bidding. A bidder shall submit each sealed bid by hand delivery, either in person or by an agent at the place designated by the Chairperson. Bids shall be received between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon. Bids must be received by the Chairperson no later than 12:00 noon on the deadline date. A bidder must submit a bid on a form prescribed by the Chairperson in a 9" × 12" sealed envelope with a cover form prescribed by the Chairperson with only one bid for one lot per envelope, which bid is accompanied with the following: (i) a deposit of $2,000 for each medallion for which a bidder submits a bid, in the form of a certified check, bank check, money order, or a check issued by a taxicab broker or taxicab agent licensed by the Commission pursuant to chapter 5 or chapter 12 of this title, respectively, payable to the "New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission"; and (ii) a letter of commitment for no less than eighty percent (80%) of the bid amount, issued by a bank or credit union licensed to do business in the State of New York or other lender licensed by the State of New York or the Federal Government. Each bidder shall certify, as part of each bid form, that such bidder has not relied on any statements or representations from the City of New York in determining the amount of such bidder's bid. Each bidder shall further certify that such bidder has not colluded, consulted, communicated, or agreed in any way with any other bidder or prospective bidder for the purpose of restricting competition or inducing any other prospective bidder to submit or not submit a bid for purpose of restricting competition. Each bidder shall further certify that such bidder has not disclosed any bid price either directly or indirectly to any other bidder for the purpose of restricting competition or inducing any other prospective bidder to submit or not to submit a bid for the purpose of restricting competition. Each bidder shall further certify, as a part of each bid form, that such person is not acting as a taxicab broker for any other bidder, and is not the owner, shareholder, partner, member, or employee of any person or entity acting as a taxicab broker for any other bidder. No bid amounts shall be accepted which provide for a price ending in fractional cents per medallion. Any bid for which a bidder has failed to use the proper form or the proper envelope, or for which either the bid form or the envelope cover form is not properly completed in the Chairperson's determination, or which does not contain the proper deposit or a commitment letter meeting the requirements of this subdivision, or which is a bid for more than one lot per envelope, or for which the price per medallion is set forth ending in amounts ending in fractional cents, or which is non-responsive or non-conforming in any other respect, shall be deemed non-responsive and rejected. A bidder shall not have an opportunity to correct any bid.

(b) Each bid must be submitted in a conforming sealed envelope with a cover form prescribed by the Chairperson on which the bidder shall indicate the following: (i) the bidder's name, address, phone number and date of sale, and (ii) whether the bid is for one lot of minifleet medallions or for one lot of one independent medallion and (iii) whether the bid is for an unrestricted medallion lot, an alternative fuel medallion lot or an accessible medallion lot.

(c) A minimum upset price for medallions to be sold may be determined by the Chairperson. The Chairperson may establish different upset prices for each of independent and minifleet medallions for each of accessible medallions, alternative fuel medallions, and unrestricted medallions. A minimum upset price shall be set by publication in the City Record no less than ten (10) days prior to the deadline for submission of bids. Any bid received for less than the minimum upset price should such price be set shall be rejected as non-responsive.

(d) On a date set by the Chairperson, the bids shall be opened in public and the winning bids announced at the public sale. The winning bids shall be the highest bids that are complete in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section, and are responsive as set forth in subdivision (c) of this section. The winning bidders shall be notified promptly by certified mail. Tie bids will be decided with a drawing which shall be held at the bid opening. Winning bids shall be published in the City Record and posted at the Commission's office and on the Commission's website.

(e) Within thirty (30) days after the bid opening, each winning bidder shall close on his or her medallion(s), except that if such bidder is unable to close within that period, such bidder shall, no later than thirty (30) days after the bid opening (i) deposit $25,000 in a certified check for each medallion covered by the winning bid, and (ii) provide the Chairperson with proof of purchase of a vehicle eligible for hack-up pursuant to section 3-03 or section 3-03.1 of this title in the form of a certificate of origin or title, or a bill of sale or a sales contract. All purchases of medallions pursuant to winning bids shall close by no later than sixty (60) days after bid opening unless extended by the Chairperson for reasonable cause shown. All closing dates are subject to the approval of the Chairperson. Failure by any winning bidder to comply with any deadline contained in this subdivision shall result in disqualification of the winning bid as provided in subdivision (l) of this section.

(f) The Chairperson shall determine for each type of medallion being sold the number of the highest, non-winning bids for such type of medallion that will be accorded reserve status, provided that such number shall be not less than 10 percent of the total number of medallions of that type being sold. The holders of the highest non-winning bids which are accorded reserve status shall be notified of such reserve status. Reserve status may be converted to a winning bid upon the failure of a winning bidder to comply with subdivision (e) of this section. In the event that a reserve status is converted to a winning bid, the holder of such reserve status shall be so notified, and the date of notification shall be deemed to be the date of the bid opening for purposes of calculating such holder's deadlines pursuant to this chapter. If, for any type of medallion, there are a greater number of bids at the lowest bid price qualifying for reserve status than are established by the Chairperson pursuant to this subdivision, a drawing will be held to determine which of those tied bids will hold reserve status. Such drawing shall be held at the bid opening. Any bids otherwise qualifying for reserve status under this subdivision made by any bidder who was a winning bidder for any lot will be disqualified from reserve status upon such winning bidder's failure to comply with the requirements of subdivision (e) of this section.

(g) The rights of a winning bidder are not assignable prior to the close of sale, except that such rights may be assigned to a corporation, limited liability company or partnership by a winning bidder who is a shareholder of such corporation, member of such limited liability company, or partner of such partnership. No winning bid may be assigned to any corporation, limited liability company or partnership the shareholders, members, or partners of which include any other winning bidder for a lot at a higher price than the winning bid being assigned and who has failed to comply with the requirements of subdivision (e) of this section with respect to such higher-priced lot.

(h) Each winning bidder must demonstrate compliance with all of the requirements applicable for issuance and ownership of a taxicab license, including those contained in sections 1-02 and 1-03 of this title, must submit all documentation required by the Chairperson, must clear outstanding fines and penalties, and must submit proof of purchase of a vehicle eligible for hack-up as required by subdivision (e) of this section, before a closing can be scheduled. Each winning bidder must also, prior to the closing, submit fingerprint records as directed by the Chairperson unless such bidder has electronic fingerprints already on file with the Commission. Each winning bidder of an independent medallion must demonstrate an ability to comply with the owner-must drive service requirements of section 1-09(b) of this title by holding or obtaining a taxicab driver's license issued under chapter 2 of this title or by providing as an owner of an entity to which such bid has been assigned a person who holds such a license.

(i) All deposits of winning bidders shall be credited toward the sale price or, in the event the winning bidder does not meet the qualifications for issuance of a taxicab license, refunded to the bidder. However, a winning bidder who fails to comply with the deadlines provided in subdivision (e) of this section, including a winning bidder who does not attempt to meet the requirements of subdivision (h) of this section, shall forfeit deposits made pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section. The Chairperson will return deposits of non-winning and non-responsive bidders. Deposits submitted in respect of bids which achieve reserve status will be held until such bids are converted to winning bids, or until the sales of all lots of medallions of the type for which the bid was made have closed.

(j) In addition to the amount bid, each winning bidder will be responsible on the transfer closing date for any applicable taxes or fees including two (2) years' worth of license and inspection fees as provided by sections 1-04 and 1-05 of this title, provided however, there will not be any medallion transfer tax collected for this initial issuance of medallions. Each medallion license shall be issued for two (2) years and all the required inspection fees shall be collected at closing.

(k) Each medallion sold pursuant to this chapter must be hacked up, as that term is used in section 3-01(a) of this title, no later than the fifth business day following the day of the closing on the sale of the medallion, unless extended by the Chairperson for reasonable cause shown.

(l) Failure of a winning bidder to meet the deadlines provided in subdivision (e) of this section regarding a winning bid shall result in the disqualification of that bidder as to that winning bid and forfeiture of deposits made pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section.

(m) Any bid achieving reserve status made by a winning bidder for another bid for which such winning bidder who has failed to meet the requirements of subdivision (e) of this section with respect to such other bid shall be disqualified and the deposits made pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section with respect to such bid will be forfeited.

(n) If any winning bidder who is a winning bidder in respect of multiple bids, including any bids assigned to an entity in which such bidder is an owner, partner, shareholder, or member, shall fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (e) of this section with respect to some but not all such bids, such bidder shall be disqualified first on the lowest such winning bid, and then in ascending order of each of the next lowest winning bids. As to such disqualified bids, the deposits made pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section in respect of such bids shall be forfeited, as required in subdivision (l) of this section. Any winning bidder who is a winning bidder in respect of multiple bids, including any bids assigned to an entity in which such bidder is an owner, partner, shareholder, or member, must close first on his or her highest winning bid(s) and then in descending order of each next highest winning bid(s).

(o) No bidder shall collude, consult, communicate or agree in any way with any other bidder or prospective bidder for the purpose of restricting competition or inducing any other prospective bidder to submit or not submit a bid for purpose of restricting competition. No bidder shall disclose any bid price either directly or indirectly to any other bidder for the purpose of restricting competition or inducing any other prospective bidder to submit or not submit a bid for purpose of restricting competition. Violation of this subdivision or submission of a false certification under subdivision (a) of this section shall result in disqualification of all bids submitted by such bidder, in addition to any other penalties provided by law.

(p) No taxicab broker may submit a bid to purchase any lot if such taxicab broker is acting as a taxicab broker for any bidder. For purposes of this subdivision, "taxicab broker" shall include any person or entity, whether or not licensed as a taxicab broker pursuant to chapter 5 of this title, that represents or advises any bidder or potential bidder in connection with an actual or potential bid and either (i) provides advice as to a bid price or potential bid price or (ii) in the course of such representation or advice, obtains actual knowledge of the bid price submitted by any bidder, and any person or entity which is an owner, shareholder, partner, member or employee of such person or entity.

STATEMENTS OF BASIS AND PURPOSE

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Apr. 13, 2006:

The rules amend chapter 13 of the rules of the Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC"), governing the issuance and public sale of taxicab licenses, generally known as medallions.

These amended rules would apply to the third round of taxicab license auctions authorized by chapter 63 of the laws of 2003 and §19-532 of the New York City Administrative Code. The first two rounds of auctions were conducted in the spring and fall of 2004.

The amended rules include a number of technical and terminological amendments to existing rules, as well as the following substantive amendments:

· The amended rules expressly allow a minifleet owner to bid on a single restricted medallion (alternative fuel medallion or accessible medallion) to be added to an existing minifleet, in order to expand the pool of eligible bidders.

· The rules eliminate the bidder's option to submit a bond in lieu of a deposit. This amendment is based on the fact that no bidder used the bond option in past auctions.

· The rules provide that tie bids will be decided by drawing at the public bid opening, regardless whether the bidders choose to attend the opening. This provision is intended to eliminate an unnecessary delay in the auction process.

· The rule clarifies that a bidder's failure to submit the required deposit within 30 days of notification of the winning bid, or to close on the bid within 60 days of the bid opening, would result in a disqualification of the winning bidder and forfeiture of the first deposit of $2000 per medallion. This provision is intended to ensure that winning bidders close on their bids promptly, and put their medallions into service promptly.

· The rule expressly provides that closing on a winning bid shall be scheduled only after the winning bidder demonstrates satisfaction with the requirements of medallion ownership and submits proof that the bidder has purchased a vehicle that is eligible for hack-up. This provision is intended to ensure that winning bidders promptly qualify to own medallions, and promptly put their medallions into service.

· The rule states expressly that a winning bidder must hack-up each purchased medallion to a taxicab no later than five business days after closing on the sale, to ensure that new medallions are put into service promptly.

· The rule requires new fingerprints from any winning bidder who does not have fingerprints less than six months old on file with the TLC, rather than three years old as previously provided. The change is required by a procedural change in the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services' processing of fingerprints.

· The rule clarifies that the ratio of independent medallions and minifleet medallions will be maintained by selling unrestricted medallions to the high bidders, without regard to whether the bids are for independent medallions or minifleet medallions, and adjusting the ratio of independent medallions and minifleet medallions in the unrestricted medallion auction as needed to maintain the required overall ratio.

Chapter basically repealed and added City Record Feb. 9, 2004 eff. Mar. 10, 2004. Note provisions of City Record Feb. 9, 2004:

Section 3. Additional licenses authorized hereunder shall be issued only after completion of such review as may be required by Article Eight of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law.

Statement of Basis and Purpose

The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, which empowers the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the City, and under §19-532 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise the sale of additional taxicab medallions.

Pursuant to Charter §2303(B), taxicab medallions are transferable, and new medallions may be issued only upon the enactment of a local law providing therefor. On May 19, 2003, the State Legislature authorized the City of New York to issue up to 900 additional taxicab medallions by public sale. Like all other medallions, these additional licenses shall be fully transferable and may be pledged as security for loans and the lending institution providing the financing shall have all rights of secured parties with respect to these loans.

In 2003, the New York City Council amended the Administrative Code to add a new section 19-532, which authorizes the TLC to issue up to 900 additional taxicab licenses, provided the requirements of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law have been complied with. The TLC is further authorized to promulgate rules that establish procedures for the issuance and public sale of these licenses. The Administrative Code further provides that at least nine percent (9%) of these new licenses must be used in connection with a vehicle that is either fueled by compressed natural gas ("CNG") or is a hybrid electric vehicle. An additional nine percent (9%) of these new licenses must be used in connection with a vehicle that is accessible to persons with disabilities. The TLC can issue licenses without these restrictions if the purchase price for these restricted licenses achieved at an auction does not equal at least ninety percent (90%) of the purchase price of an unrestricted license.

These rules set forth the procedures for the sale of any additional medallions that may be issued by the Commission in accordance with the provisions of §19-532 of the Administrative Code.

2. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Aug. 15, 2007: The rules amend chapter 13 of the rules of the Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC"), governing the issuance and public sale of taxicab licenses, generally known as medallions. The changes are made generally to reflect experience gained with the auctions of taxicab licenses held in 2006 and to ensure that future auctions provide for full and fair competition among all bidders. These amended rules will apply to an auction of one hundred fifty taxicab licenses authorized by chapter 535 of the laws of 2006 and section 19-532 of the New York City Administrative Code, an auction of unsold medallions remaining from the taxicab license auctions authorized by chapter 63 of the laws of 2003 and section 19-532 of the New York City Administrative Code, and any additional auctions that might be authorized in the future. The amended rules include a number of technical and terminological amendments to existing rules, as well as the following substantive amendments:

· The amended rules eliminate provisions permitting a minifleet purchaser to purchase only one medallion to add to an existing minifleet; experience with prior auctions demonstrated that minifleet purchasers did not use that option.

· The rules eliminate the ability of licensed taxicab brokers and their principals and employees to purchase medallions on their own behalf while advising potential purchasers at the auction. This change is made to reduce the possibility of collusion or other misuse of bid information.

· The rules provide anti-collusive bidding language and further restrict the ability of winning bidders who are also reserve bidders to default on winning bids in favor of their reserve bids. These changes are made to align practices more closely with those in place for the procurement process under the General Municipal Law and to assure that the auctions are open, fair and competitive.

· The rules permit the Chairperson to establish separate reserve classes (of at least 10% of the number of medallions being sold in each class) for each type of medallion being sold. This change is done to permit the TLC to set reserve classes of a size that will help guarantee that all medallions will be sold in any auction.

· The rules provide that tie bids will be decided by drawing at the public bid opening, regardless whether the bidders choose to attend the opening. This provision is intended to eliminate an unnecessary delay in the auction process.

· The rules provide that a bidder's failure to close within 30 days of notification of the winning bid will require submission of an additional deposit of $25,000, and that failure to close on the bid within 60 days of the bid opening would result in a disqualification of the winning bidder and forfeiture of the first deposit of $2,000 per medallion. This provision is intended to ensure that winning bidders close on their bids promptly, and put their medallions into service

· The rules expressly provide that closing on a winning bid shall be scheduled only after the winning bidder demonstrates satisfaction with the requirements of medallion ownership and submits proof that the bidder has purchased a vehicle that is eligible for hack-up. This provision is intended to ensure that winning bidders promptly qualify to own medallions, and promptly put their medallions into service.

· The rules provide that bidders must be individual persons, to reflect experience in prior auctions, although bids will continue to be assignable to partnerships, corporations and limited liability companies in which a winning bidder is a partner, shareholder, or member. The TLC's experience in 2006 was that all bids were placed by individuals, but that many winning bids were closed upon by corporations, limited liability companies, or partnerships. Bidders typically do not organize entities to own medallions until they know that they are winning bidders.

· The rules clarify that new fingerprints must be obtained prior to closing from any winning bidder who does not have fingerprints in electronic format on file with the TLC. The prior rules specified that fingerprints had to be obtained within 30 days of the bid opening, but the experience of the 2006 auction indicated that the timing of the closing, rather than the bid opening, was a more important reference point for obtaining fingerprints.

· The rules clarify that the statutory ratio of independent medallions and minifleet medallions will be maintained as required by the Administrative Code.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter added City Record May 5, 1999 eff. June 4, 1999. Statement of Basis and Purpose: The regulations promulgated herein by the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission ("TLC") are authorized under §2303(a) of the Charter of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to regulate and supervise the business and industry of transportation of persons by licensed vehicles for-hire in the city; under §2303(b) of such Charter, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations reasonably designed to carry out its purposes; under §19-503 of the the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to exercise authority conferred upon it by the Charter; under §19-509 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, authorizing the TLC to promulgate rules with respect to the licensing and operation of taximeter businesses.

The Administrative Code authorizes the TLC to license shops that sell, repair, or install taximeters used by licensed medallion taxicabs. The Commission has not heretofore adopted any rules to accomplish this purpose. These regulations establish a formal procedure for both the licensing and supervision of businesses that manufacture, sell, repair and install taximeters used in medallion taxicabs.

The purpose of these regulations is to implement §19-509 of the Administrative Code. Businesses authorized to sell, repair or install taximeters will be licensed by the Commission. The regulations establish comprehensive criteria for the ownership of such businesses. The ownership criteria proposed herein will ensure that the owners of taximeter businesses are financially capable of operating a taximeter business and have operational and necessary equipment. Taximeter businesses are required to operate their businesses in a manner that will not constitute a nuisance to the public or unfavorably impact upon the quality of life in the surrounding community.

Regulations promulgated herein regulate the specific operation of a taximeter business. The purpose of these regulations is to prevent taximeter businesses from engaging in unlawful conduct, fraud or abuse, and to protect their customers and the public. Taximeter businesses will heretofore be responsible if they participate, either directly or indirectly, in the installation or removal of meter tampering devices, fail to perform proper repairs or tests, or fail to disclose evidence of tampering to the Commission. The regulations also require taximeter businesses to only utilize employees who have been properly trained and certified to perform tests, installations and repairs. The regulations also require business to maintain regular business hours, keep proper records, and disclose all charges.

CHAPTER 15 TAXIMETER BUSINESS RULES*1

§15-02 Unlicensed Business Activities Prohibited.

(a) No individual, partnership, corporation or other business entity shall manufacture, sell, install, repair, adjust, or calibrate taximeters or install or repair seals, wiring harnesses or other equipment relating to the operation of a taximeter or roof light for use upon any licensed vehicle in the City of New York unless he, she or it holds a current, valid taximeter business license issued by the Commission, which license is neither suspended nor revoked. No individual, partnership, corporation or other business entity shall manufacture, sell, install, repair, adjust, calibrate or maintain a taxicab technology system that is not provided by a taxicab technology service provider as defined in section 15-01 of this chapter.

(b) After July 18, 2007, no taximeter may be used in a taxicab licensed by the Commission unless the manufacturer thereof has been licensed by the Commission under these rules. Any manufacturer required to obtain a license under this subdivision must obtain such license separately and in addition to any other licenses such person or entity may hold from the Commission, including other licenses held for a taximeter business. A manufacturer required to be licensed under this chapter may appoint a representative to hold such license. Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, such representative shall be required to meet all applicable conditions and qualifications of licensure provided by this chapter and must be authorized by appointment to act on behalf of the manufacturer pursuant to this chapter and to bind the manufacturer to the fulfillment of the duties and responsibilities of a licensee under this chapter, and the manufacturer, by such appointment, agrees to be so bound and shall be deemed to be bound hereby. Such licenses which a representative is appointed to hold shall be separate and in addition to any other licenses such person or entity may hold from the Commission, including other licenses held for a taximeter business. In the event a manufacturer chooses to appoint a representative to hold a license:

(1) The representative must have, and shall be deemed to have, the ability, on behalf of the manufacturer, to fulfill the requirements and obligations of a manufacturer, under this chapter, including the ability to implement the requirements of section 15-44 of this chapter as to the manufacturer, and to ensure that all persons and entities authorized to sell, install, or service taximeters manufactured by the manufacturer in taxicabs licensed by the Commission comply with all applicable provisions of these rules, except that such representative shall not be required to meet the requirements of section 15-12 of this chapter relating to premises and equipment of the manufacturer's manufacturing operations; notwithstanding the appointment of the representative, the manufacturer and its representative shall be jointly responsible for fulfilling the duties and responsibilities of a manufacturer as required by this chapter, including those set forth in section 15-44 of this chapter and the manufacturer's appointment of a representative shall not relieve it of responsibility for compliance;

(2) The manufacturer must inform the Commission at any time it appoints a representative and provide a copy of the appointment together with the name, address and license numbers, if any, of the representative. In addition, as a condition of renewal of such manufacturer's license, the manufacturer shall provide the Commission annually during the month of January with the name of the representative authorized by the manufacturer to hold a license from the Commission on behalf of the manufacturer, including the address, and, if already licensed by the Commission, license number(s) of such representative; and

(3) Each representative appointed under this subdivision must apply to hold a license under this chapter and must meet all applicable standards, criteria, and conditions of licensure, and must further provide to the Commission with its application for a license or renewal thereof an acceptance of the appointment and acceptance of the responsibilities imposed on such manufacturer by this chapter, except that such representative shall not be required to meet the requirements of section 15-12 of this chapter relating to premises and equipment of the manufacturer's manufacturing operations and only individual representatives, partners of a representative, members of a representative or officers of a representative shall be required to be fingerprinted under section 15-03(e) of this chapter.

CHAPTER 15 TAXIMETER BUSINESS RULES*1

§15-15 MTA Tax.

Each taximeter business is required to adjust any taximeter in a taxicab used to provide trips in New York City to implement the MTA Tax commencing on November 1, 2009.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Section added City Record Sept. 25, 2009 §11, eff. Oct. 25, 2009. [See

Note 1]

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Sept. 25, 2009:

Effective November 1, 2009, the New York State Legislature enacted a tax on taxicab trips within the Metropolitan Commuter Transportation District (the "MTA Tax"), as part of article 29-A of the New York State Tax Law. The MTA Tax will add fifty cents to the cost of each taxicab trip that originates in New York City and ends within New York City or the Counties of Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk and Westchester.

The MTA Tax must be paid by "taxpayers" defined at length in article 29-A of the Tax Law-either the owner of the taxicab vehicle or, under certain circumstances, a lessee of the vehicle. The MTA Tax must be passed along to the passenger, and taxicab rate regulators are required to adjust taxicab fares accordingly.

To implement the MTA Tax, the promulgated rules:

· Adjust the fares for all trips that originate in New York City and terminate either in New York City or in the county of Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk or Westchester.

· Require drivers to collect the tax and pass it along to the statutorily defined "taxpayer," if that is not the driver.

· Permit owners or agents who are "taxpayers" to recoup the MTA Tax from drivers-first, by deduction from reimbursements due to drivers for credit card receipts; second, by deduction from drivers' security deposits; and third, by directly charging drivers.

In addition, the promulgated rules revise the York Avenue group ride fare from $3.50 to $6.00, to accurately reflect current practices among participants in that group ride program.

Each taxicab technology service provider (as that term is defined in section 15-01 of this chapter) shall, with the approval of the Commission, choose one or more Commission-approved taximeters to interface and communicate data with its taxicab technology system, and shall communicate such choice or choices in writing to the Commission. When a taximeter business that manufactures taximeters approved by the Commission has been notified by the Commission that its taximeter has been chosen by a taxicab technology service provider to interface and communicate data with the taxicab technology system of such taxicab technology service provider, such taximeter business shall choose either of the following options: (a) Such taximeter business shall provide to such taxicab technology service provider such information relating to the design and inner operation of the taximeter that is necessary for such taxicab technology service provider to perform the work of effecting an interface and communication of data between its taxicab technology system and the taximeter. A taximeter business may require as a condition of providing such information to a taxicab technology service provider that such taxicab technology service provider execute a non-disclosure agreement that is substantially similar in form to Attachment NDA to the agreement between the Commission and the taxicab technology service providers or as agreed upon between the parties; or

(b) Such taximeter business shall, (i) for the purpose of receiving from such taxicab technology service provider such information relating to the design and inner operation of such provider's taxicab technology system, within five business days of notification by the Commission pursuant to this section that the taximeter of such taximeter business has been chosen by such provider to interface and communicate data with such taxicab technology system, execute a non-disclosure agreement substantially similar in form to Attachment NDA to the agreement between the Commission and the taxicab technology service providers or as agreed to between the parties, (ii) perform the work of effecting an interface and communication of data between such taximeter and such taxicab technology system, (iii) ensure that upon installation of such taxicab technology system and thereafter such interface and communication of data are effective, and (iv) submit to the Commission on an annual basis a signed certification that the taximeter business has effected and continues to effect an interface and communication of data between such taxicab technology system and such taximeter. Each failure on the part of a taximeter business that manufactures taximeters to cooperate with a taxicab technology service provider as provided in subdivision (a) or subdivision (b) of this section shall constitute a separate violation of this rule.

No taximeter manufactured by a taximeter business shall be used with any taxicab technology system unless such taximeter business is in compliance with this section insofar as it has cooperated to effect an interface of its taximeter with the taxicab technology systems of all taxicab technology service providers that chose such taximeter.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter amended City Record May 31, 2001 eff. June 30, 2001. Note further provisions of City Record May 31, 2001:

The Police Commissioner is responsible for the licensing and regulation of handguns, rifles, shotguns and other weapons in New York City, including activities such as possessing, carrying, selling, manufacturing, transporting or repairing such weapons. In addition, the Police Commissioner is authorized to designate individuals as "Special Patrolmen" pursuant to §14-106 of the New York City Administrative Code. The administrative arm of the Police Department which fulfills these functions at his direction is the New York City Police Department's License Division.

Since early 1997, the operation of the License Division has undergone extensive review and analysis. This continuous effort to improve the quality and timeliness of the application and renewal process, the investigation of incidents, the determination of fitness, and the safe transport of weapons through New York City has resulted in significant policy changes and organizational improvements under the present rules and practices. However, it became clear that in the interest of consistency, fairness, and efficiency, a close examination and restructuring of Chapters 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 13, 15 (Subchapter B), and 16 of Title 38 of the Rules of the City of New York was equally necessary.

Chapters 1 through 5, regarding licensing and possession of handguns and rifles/shotguns, as well as the licensing of dealers in weapons (including air pistols and air rifles), have been amended to be internally consistent in application, renewal, and suspension/revocation procedures. The amendments incorporate recent changes to the law, such as federal and state law prohibitions against possession of firearms by perpetrators of domestic violence, as well as local laws regarding the possession and use of safety locking devices and the establishment of domestic partnership registration in New York City. The amendments clarify and streamline the application and review process, clarify the conditions of the issuance of a license including the obligation to observe applicable laws and rules, and set forth consistent procedures for the appeal of revocation or suspension of a license or permit. Specifically with respect to handgun licensing, the amendments eliminate as a separate category the "Target" handgun license, clarify the requirements for particular categories of handgun licenses, and require inspection of all handguns with each renewal of the license.

Chapter 13, "Special Patrolmen," has been similarly amended to streamline and clarify application, renewal, and suspension/revocation procedures, including criteria to be considered when evaluating whether employers demonstrate sufficient need for the appointment of special patrolmen.

Subchapter B of Chapter 15, governing hearings conducted by the License Division, has been amended to conform the hearing process to the License Division rules as amended herein, as well as to clarify and streamline the hearing and disposition process.

Chapter 16 is amended to strengthen the already existing rules regarding the transport of weapons in New York City. The amendments clarify the definitions of applicable terms, strengthen notification requirements and security requirements when weapons are transported in and through New York City, and provide an appropriate procedure when a weapons shipment destined for a location outside of New York City is unexpectedly delayed in New York City. The chapter is also amended to exempt weapons shipments of five or fewer between licensed dealers within New York City from the operation of these rules.

In response to public comment on the proposed rule amendments and additional review by members of the Police Department, modifications have been made to rules contained in Chapters 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 13, and 15, which include: addition of a provision requiring license or permit applicants to notify the License Division in the event that their circumstances change during the pendency of the application; restoration of the thirty-day period within which to request a hearing following suspension or revocation of a license or permit, rather than the ten-day period originally provided; addition of a provision requiring that a licensee or permittee whose license was suspended or revoked due to their becoming the subject of an order of protection must wait until the order of protection is expired or voided in order to request a hearing; and modification of a requirement in Chapter 5 providing that licensees may, rather than shall, be required to produce all handguns possessed for inspection upon renewal of a handgun license.

Consistent with the intent of the New York State Penal Law and the New York City Administrative Code, and pursuant to the powers of the Commissioner under §§434(b) and 1043 of the New York City Charter, Title 10 of the New York City Administrative Code, and Articles 265 and 400 of the New York State Penal Law, the Police Department is now acting to amend its rules to create a comprehensive and reasonable regulatory scheme for the licensing and regulation of deadly weapons in New York City, and for the appropriate designation of Special Patrolmen.

CHAPTER 1 DEALERS IN RIFLES AND SHOTGUNS*

§1-04 Licenses and Licensees.

(a) For purposes of this section, all employees of a licensed dealer in rifles and shotguns shall personally be in possession of a valid rifle/shotgun permit to purchase and possess rifles and shotguns issued by the Rifle/Shotgun Section. Applications for dealer in rifles and shotguns and for possession of rifles and/or shotguns shall be processed together if submitted together.

(b) A dealer's license shall be valid for one year and may be renewed under the same conditions as for original issuance. All licensees shall be held responsible for renewing their licenses upon expiration. Any application to renew a license that has not previously expired, been revoked, suspended or cancelled shall thereby extend the term of the license until disposition is made of the application. Failure to renew a license after expiration shall result in the cancellation of the license.

(c) Federal law requires that dealers in rifles and shotguns shall be licensed by the United States Government Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF). The New York City Police Department shall notify the ATF of all dealer's licenses that are issued by the Rifle/Shotgun Section. The Police Department reserves the right to withhold a dealer's license from any applicant who does not have a federal license.

(d) All licensees shall be required to sign an acknowledgment that they shall be responsible for compliance with all laws, rules, regulations, standards, and procedures promulgated by federal, state, or local jurisdictions, and by federal, state, or local law enforcement agencies, that are applicable to each type of license or permit issued to them. The Rifle/Shotgun Section shall provide the licensee with the acknowledgment statement to be executed. This acknowledgment statement shall be notarized. Failure to execute the acknowledgment statement and to have it notarized shall result in the license application being denied.

(e) The licensee shall immediately notify the Rifle/Shotgun Section by telephone, followed by written notice within ten (10) calendar days, of any incident or violation of law or rules of federal, state, or local jurisdictions regarding her/himself, partners, officers, directors or stockholders of the licensed corporation or entity, or affecting the premises or business operations. For purposes of this subdivision, an incident includes:

(1) arrest, indictment or conviction in any jurisdiction;

(2) summons (except traffic infraction);

(3) suspension or ineligibility order issued pursuant to §530.14 of the New York State Criminal Procedure Law or §842-a of the New York State Family Court Act;

(4) the fact that the individual is or becomes the subject or recipient of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection;

(5) admission to any psychiatric institution, sanitarium and/or the receipt of psychiatric treatment;

(6) receipt of treatment for alcoholism or drug abuse;

(7) the presence or occurrence of a disability or condition that may affect the handling of a rifle/shotgun, including but not limited to epilepsy, diabetes, fainting spells, blackouts, temporary loss of memory, or nervous disorder;

(8) altered or mutilated license; or

(9) discharge of a rifle/shotgun on the licensee's premises.

(f) A dealer's license may be suspended and/or revoked by the Rifle/Shotgun Section for good cause by the issuance of a Notice of Determination Letter to the licensee, which shall state in brief the grounds for the suspension or revocation and notify the licensee of the opportunity for a hearing. The conviction of a licensee anywhere of a felony or serious offense as defined in §265.00(17) of the Penal Law of New York State, or of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence as defined in §921(a) of title 18, United States Code, shall operate as a revocation of the license.

(g) If her/his license is suspended or revoked, the licensee shall be required to deposit any rifles or shotguns as well as any handgun license and any handguns in her/his possession with her/his local police precinct and forward a copy of the voucher together with her/his permit to the Rifle/Shotgun Section, 120-55 Queens Boulevard, Kew Gardens, N.Y. 11424, Room B-11. Her/his failure to comply within ten (10) calendar days from the date of suspension or revocation may result in the arrest of the licensee.

(h) A license issued shall be valid only for the premises mentioned and described in the license. No license is transferable to another person or location. The license shall be prominently displayed on such premises, and available at all times for inspection by members of the New York City Police Department. Failure of any licensee to so exhibit or display her/his license shall be presumptive evidence that s/he is not duly licensed.

(i) Upon issuance of a written Notice of Determination Letter from the Rifle/Shotgun Section notifying the licensee of suspension or of revocation of the license, a suspended/former licensee shall have thirty (30) calendar days from the date of the notice to submit a written request for a hearing to the Commanding Officer, License Division, One Police Plaza, Room 110A, New York, New York 10038. A licensee whose arrest or summons resulted in suspension or revocation of her/his license may only submit a written request or a hearing within thirty (30) calendar days after the termination of the criminal action, as defined in New York State Criminal Procedure Law §1.20(16)(c). If the suspension or revocation resulted from the licensee becoming the subject of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection, the licensee may only submit a written request for a hearing within thirty (30) calendar days after the expiration or voiding of the order of protection or temporary order of protection. If the suspension or revocation was related to both a criminal action and an order of protection or temporary order of protection, then the later of the two waiting periods shall apply.

(j) Licensees shall be held responsible for having knowledge of all new laws and/or amendments or regulations that may be enacted through legislation or promulgated by the New York City Police Department affecting dealers in rifles and shotguns.

(k) Licensees shall cooperate with all reasonable requests by the Police Department for information and assistance in matters relating to the license.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 38 Police Department

CHAPTER 1 DEALERS IN RIFLES AND SHOTGUNS*

§1-05 Rifles/Shotguns and Ammunition.

(a) No rifle or shotgun shall be sold, or given away, or disposed of, unless the transferee is authorized by law to possess such rifle or shotgun. Any police officer or peace officer shall produce a shield and proper identification before purchasing a rifle or shotgun. A peace officer whose status does not confer authorization to possess firearms pursuant to §2.10 of the New York State Criminal Procedure Law shall possess a rifle/shotgun permit in order to be a lawful transferee. Therefore, before delivering a rifle or shotgun to a peace officer without a rifle/shotgun permit, the licensee shall verify that person's status as a peace officer by telephoning the License Division Incident Section at (212) 374-5538 or 5539.

(b) Every dealer in rifles and shotguns shall keep a record book provided by the Rifle/Shotgun Section (P.D. 641-50). This book shall contain a record of all dispositions and registrations of rifles and shotguns purchased and disposed of by the dealer. Such records shall be maintained on the premises stated in the license and permanently preserved thereat. In the event of cancellation and/or revocation of the license, or discontinuance of business by a licensee, such records, as well as rifles and shotguns stored on the premises, shall be surrendered to the New York City Police Department.

(c) In the event of loss or theft of any rifle or shotgun, ammunition, dealer's license, or record, the licensee is required to report the loss or theft to her/his local precinct, and notify the Rifle/Shotgun Section by telephone on the next business day after discovery of the loss or theft. The licensee shall follow up with a written notification to the Rifle/Shotgun Section within 10 calendar days of discovery of the loss or theft.

(d) In the event that any individual lacking authority to possess such weapon attempts to leave any rifle or shotgun with a licensee for cleaning, repairing, or other processing, the licensee may accept the rifle or shotgun and obtain the name, address, telephone number, etc. of the person leaving the weapon. The licensee shall immediately report the incident to the precinct wherein the premises is located. If the licensee does not accept the rifle or shotgun for cleaning, repairing, or other processing, s/he shall report the incident to the precinct wherein the premises is located as soon as the individual possessing the weapon leaves the premises. In the event that such an individual offers to sell or otherwise dispose of such a weapon to a licensee, the licensee shall attempt to obtain the name, address, and telephone number of said individual and shall notify the precinct wherein the premises is located as soon as said individual leaves the premises.

(e) Any dealer who sells, offers to sell, stores, or otherwise disposes of ammunition in excess of two hundred (200) cartridges shall be required to obtain a storage permit from the Fire Commissioner. Dealer's licenses issued by the Rifle/Shotgun Section shall not be valid for the sale of ammunition unless the dealership is also in possession of a storage permit from the Fire Department. Upon receipt of an application which indicates an intention to sell or store ammunition, the Rifle/Shotgun Section shall notify the Fire Department and ask them to conduct an inspection of the premises. The sale or storage of ammunition without a valid Fire Department permit shall be deemed sufficient cause to revoke a dealer's license.

(f) No ammunition shall be stored, exhibited, or displayed in the windows, showcases, or doors of the licensee's premises.

(g) All other ammunition shall be stored in an area of the premises that can be reasonably secured, and is not in view of the public. Only the licensee and authorized employees shall have access to this storage area.

(h) (1) The quantities of cartridges and other ammunition stored on the premises shall not exceed the amounts fixed by the Fire Commissioner for storage of ammunition. These quantities so fixed shall be stated in the storage permit.

(2) All ammunition kept on the licensee's premises shall not be stored in an area where other materials of a highly flammable nature are manufactured, stored, or kept for sale. This restriction shall not apply to any person duly authorized to keep and sell gunpowder.

(i) (1) A record of all ammunition received and dispensed shall be registered in a bound book with pages consecutively numbered. This record book shall be separately maintained from the record book noting all rifle and shotgun transactions. It shall be the responsibility of the licensee or a designated employee to make entries in this record book. This book, together with all invoices received, shall be kept in the ammunition storage area.

(2) This record shall be arranged in columnar form as outlined below. The first page of this book shall have an inscription bearing the name and address of the premises, license number, name of owner of premises, name of employee designated to make entries, and date of book being opened. Beginning with page 2, each even numbered page shall contain a record of ammunition received, and starting with page 3, each odd numbered page shall contain a record of ammunition dispensed or sold.

(j) In the event of cancellation or revocation of the license or discontinuance of business by a licensee, such records shall be surrendered to the New York City Police Department.

(k) No ammunition suitable for use in a rifle of any calibre, or for a shotgun of any gauge, shall be sold, given away, or otherwise disposed of to any person who has not been issued a rifle/shotgun permit and a certificate of registration, and who does not exhibit the same to the dealer at the time of purchase. Rifle or shotgun ammunition shall not be sold to any such person except for the shotgun or for the specific calibre of rifle for which the certificate of registration has been issued.

(l) The Rifle/Shotgun Section advises all dealers that certain ammunition calibres are considered to be

(m) Prospective buyers shall not be allowed to load weapons upon the premises of the licensee. If the sale of one or more rifles and/or shotguns as well as ammunition is consummated, the ammunition box shall be sealed prior to the sale and the buyer shall be instructed that the rifle or shotgun is not to be loaded on the premises.

(n) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-312, it shall be a criminal violation for any person who is the lawful owner or lawful custodian of a rifle or shotgun to store or otherwise place or leave such weapon in such a manner or under circumstances that it is out of her/his immediate possession or control, without having rendered such weapon inoperable by employing a safety locking device as defined in subdivision (o) of this section. Such offense shall constitute a misdemeanor if the offender has previously been found guilty of such violation or if the violation is committed under circumstances which create a substantial risk of physical injury to another person. The New York City Police Department recognizes that all licensees have incurred an obligation by being issued a dealer's license to maintain and dispose of rifles and shotguns in a responsible fashion. In order to assist licensees, the Rifle/Shotgun Section has issued the following safety requirements in response to past incidents involving dealers in rifles and shotguns:

(1) No weapons shall be stored, exhibited or displayed in windows, showcases, or doors of the premises. Rifle/shotgun storage or inventory areas shall be physically separated from counter and display areas and access to these areas shall be carefully controlled.

(2) All rifle/shotgun display cases shall be kept locked and secured at all times and not readily accessible to the public. All keys to such display cases shall not leave the control of authorized personnel.

(3) All rifles and shotguns shall not be readily capable of firing. They shall be temporarily deactivated by removing magazines or bolts; or by securing with bars or chains through the trigger guard; or by using individual trigger locks or other safety locking devices composed primarily of steel or other metal of significant gauge to inhibit breaking.

(4) All rifles and shotguns within a licensee's inventory shall be tagged and cross referenced to the appropriate entry in the acquisition records.

(o) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-311(a), it shall be unlawful for any person or business enterprise to dispose of any rifle or shotgun which does not contain a safety locking device, defined as a design adaptation or attachable accessory that will prevent the use of the weapon by an unauthorized user. The following types of safety locking devices will be deemed to comply with this provision:

(1) a trigger lock, which prevents the pulling of the trigger without the use of a key; or

(2) a combination handle, which prevents the use of the weapon without the alignment of the combination tumblers; or

(3) a detachable or non-detachable locking device, composed primarily of steel or other metal of significant gauge to inhibit breaking, utilizing a metallic key or combination lock, rendering the weapon inoperable until the locking device is removed by an authorized person.

(p) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-311(b), it shall be unlawful for any licensed manufacturer, licensed importer, or licensed dealer to dispose of any rifle or shotgun in New York City unless it is accompanied by the following warning, which shall appear in conspicuous and legible type in capital letters, and which shall be printed on a label affixed to the rifle or shotgun and on a separate sheet of paper included within the packaging enclosing the rifle or shotgun: "THE USE OF A LOCKING DEVICE OR SAFETY LOCK IS ONLY ONE ASPECT OF RESPONSIBLE WEAPON STORAGE. NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Aug. 9, 1999:

Local Law No. 21 of 1998, or "Christopher's Law," added Section 10-311 to the New York City Administrative Code, requiring anyone selling or otherwise transferring a pistol or revolver to provide an accompanying safety locking device. The law also requires licensed manufacturers, importers and dealers to provide a written warning with any handgun sold, encouraging the use of safety locking devices. The Police Commissioner is required to provide written notice of the law to anyone seeking authorization to purchase a handgun, and to advise applicants for handgun licenses and renewals on safe storage of weapons and the use of a safety locking device. Finally, the law authorizes the Commissioner to promulgate rules regarding the types of safety locking devices that will comply with the law.

Consistent with the intent of the law, and pursuant to the powers of the Commissioner under sections 434(b) and 1043 of the New York City Charter, the Police Department is now acting to amend its rules regarding the licensing of handguns and rifles/shotguns, as well as the licensing of dealers in such weapons, to implement the law's provisions as required and to encourage the use of safety locking devices.

The Rifle/Shotgun Section shall prescribe and enforce the manner in which an organization may be registered to possess rifles and shotguns.

(b) A letter prepared on the letterhead of the organization shall accompany the official application. In addition to a request to be designated an organization to possess rifles and shotguns, this letter shall set forth:

(1) the names of the custodian and alternate custodian;

(2) the manner in which the rifles and shotguns shall be secured when not in use.

The applicant shall also submit two (2) color photographs each of the designated custodian and alternate custodian, size $1^1/_2 \times 1^1/_2$ inches, taken within the past thirty (30) days, front view from the chest up, with the application.

(c) During the pendency of the application, the applicant shall notify the Rifle/Shotgun Section of any necessary correction to or modification of the information provided in the original application, or any change in her/his status or circumstances, which may be relevant to the application.

(d) If the application is disapproved the organization shall receive a written "Notice of Application Disapproval" from the Rifle/Shotgun Section indicating the reason(s) for the disapproval. If the organization wishes to appeal the decision it shall submit a sworn written statement, which shall be known as an "Appeal of Application Disapproval," to the Division Head, License Division, One Police Plaza, Room 110A, New York, New York 10038 within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on the "Notice of Application Disapproval" requesting an appeal of the denial, and setting forth the reasons supporting the appeal. The Appeal of Application Disapproval shall become part of the application. It shall state the grounds for the appeal and shall contain the following statement to be signed by the applicant and notarized: "Under penalty of perjury, deponent being duly sworn, says that s/he is familiar with all of the statements contained herein and that each of these statements is true, and no pertinent facts have been omitted." Appeals that are unsworn by the applicant or submitted by individuals or business entities other than the organization or its New York State licensed attorney shall not be accepted. All timely appeals shall receive a complete review of the applicant's entire file by the Division Head, License Division, who shall notify the organization of her/his determination. The Division Head, License Division shall not consider any documentation that was not submitted during the initial background investigation. There shall be no personal interviews to discuss appeals. If the appeal of the disapproval is denied, the organization shall receive a "Notice of Disapproval After Appeal" letter from the Division Head, License Division. This notice concludes the Police Department's administrative review procedure.

(e) An organization registration certificate shall expire on the last day of the third December after the date of issue and may be renewed every three (3) years thereafter. A renewal application shall be forwarded to the organization at least thirty (30) calendar days prior to the expiration date. If the renewal application is not received in a timely manner, the custodian or alternate custodian shall so notify the Rifle/Shotgun Section by telephone. Certificates may be renewed under the same conditions as original issuance. An application for issuance or renewal of a certificate may be disapproved if a false statement is made therein. All organizations shall be held responsible for renewing a certificate upon expiration. Failure to renew a registration prior to its expiration date shall result in its cancellation.

(f) An organization registration certificate issued shall be valid only for the organization, custodian and alternate custodian mentioned and described in the certificate. A certificate shall not be transferable to another organization. The certificate and all rifles and shotguns possessed by an organization shall be available for inspection by members of the New York City Police Department. Failure by any organization to so exhibit a registration certificate shall be presumptive evidence that it is not duly registered.

(g) All organizations shall abide by the laws, rules, standards, and procedures promulgated by federal, state and local jurisdictions and law enforcement agencies applicable to the organization. A violation thereof is cause for suspension or revocation of a registration certificate issued by the Rifle/Shotgun Section. Upon suspension or revocation of a registration certificate, the custodian or alternate custodian shall deposit all rifles/shotguns in the organization's possession with her/his local police precinct and forward a copy of the voucher together with the registration certificate to the Rifle/Shotgun Section, 120-55 Queens Boulevard, Kew Gardens, N.Y. 11424, Room B-11. (b) It shall be certified upon an application for registration that the custodian and alternate custodian are rifle/shotgun permit holders; the identification numbers thereof; that they are active members or employees of the organization; that they undertake to supervise the acts of the employees and members of the organization while they use any rifles or shotguns possessed by the organization; and that they have not been previously denied or had revoked appointment as a custodian or alternate custodian for the applicant or any other organization. If the organization does not have two active members or employees, the custodian shall be an active member or employee and the alternate custodian shall be a suitable designated individual who possesses a rifle/shotgun permit.

(c) The Rifle/Shotgun Section reserves the right to require the custodian and alternate custodian to be fingerprinted and/or photographed in contemplation of issuing an organization registration certificate.

(d) The custodian and alternate custodian shall ensure that all members or employees using rifles and shotguns registered by the organization are licensed by the Rifle/Shotgun Section to possess rifles and shotguns. The provisions of §2-05(d) shall not be applicable to the following organizations:

(1) An organization actively engaged in the instruction of minors in the use of rifles and/or shotguns or the supervision of a competition or target practice for minors. A custodian and alternate custodian, designated by an organization of this nature, shall closely supervise all minors using rifles and/or shotguns registered by the organization, and ensure that such minors are instructed in the safe use of rifles and/or shotguns.

(2) A paramilitary organization actively engaged in the presentation of military drill or parade. A custodian and alternate custodian designated by an organization of this nature shall closely supervise all individuals using rifles and/or shotguns during all military drills or parades. The custodian and alternate custodian shall also ensure that such rifles and/or shotguns are not loaded during such events.

(e) The conviction of a custodian or alternate custodian anywhere of a felony or serious offense as defined in §265.00(17) of the New York State Penal Law, or of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence as defined in §921(a) of title 18, United States Code, may require suspension or revocation of an organization's registration certificate. An organization's registration certificate may be suspended or revoked if the custodian or alternate custodian is the subject or recipient of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection, or the subject of an ineligibility order issued pursuant to §530.14 of the New York State Criminal Procedure Law or §842-a of the New York State Family Court Act.

(f) A custodian or alternate custodian shall immediately notify the Rifle/Shotgun Section by telephone, followed by written notice within ten (10) calendar days, of any incident or violation of law or rules of federal, state, or local jurisdictions regarding the custodian or alternate custodian, or affecting the premises or business operations. For purposes of this subdivision, an incident includes:

(1) arrest, indictment or conviction in any jurisdiction;

(2) summons (except traffic infraction);

(3) suspension or ineligibility order issued pursuant to §530.14 of the New York State Criminal Procedure Law or §842-a of the New York State Family Court Act;

(4) the fact that the custodian or alternate custodian is or becomes the subject or recipient of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection;

(5) admission to any psychiatric institution, sanitarium and/or the receipt of psychiatric treatment;

(6) receipt of treatment for alcoholism or drug abuse;

(7) the presence or occurrence of a disability or condition that may affect the handling of a rifle/shotgun, including but not limited to epilepsy, diabetes, fainting spells, blackouts, temporary loss of memory, or nervous disorder;

(8) lost, stolen, altered or mutilated certificate of registration or organization registration certificate; or

(9) unlawful discharge of a rifle/shotgun.

(g) An organization shall inform the Rifle/Shotgun Section in writing of any proposed change of custodianship or any other amendment of its registration. An organization shall not alter a registration certificate without the permission of the Rifle/Shotgun Section.

(h) The custodian and alternate custodian shall each be required to sign an acknowledgment that s/he shall be responsible for compliance with all laws, rules, regulations, standards, and procedures promulgated by federal, state, or local jurisdictions, and by federal, state, or local law enforcement agencies, that are applicable to each type of license or permit issued to her/him and to the organization. The Rifle/Shotgun Section shall provide the custodian and alternate custodian with the acknowledgment statement. These acknowledgment statements shall be notarized. Failure to sign the acknowledgment statements and have them notarized shall result in denial of the application for the organization registration certificate. Upon appointment, each successive custodian and alternate custodian shall be required to sign an acknowledgment statement and have it notarized. Failure to do so shall result in the suspension or revocation of the organization's registration certificate. Custodians and alternate custodians shall be held responsible for having knowledge of all new laws and rules that may be enacted by local, state, or federal legislatures or promulgated by the New York City Police Department affecting their organization.

(i) The custodian and alternate custodian shall be responsible for securing all rifles and shotguns and all ammunition possessed by the organization at the close of business/activities every day. Failure to do so shall constitute good cause for suspension or revocation of the organization's registration certificate.

(j) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-311(a), it shall be unlawful for any person or business enterprise to dispose of any rifle or shotgun which does not contain a safety locking device, defined as a design adaptation or attachable accessory that will prevent the use of the weapon by an unauthorized user. The following types of safety locking devices will be deemed to comply with this provision:

(1) a trigger lock, which prevents the pulling of the trigger without the use of a key; or

(2) a combination handle, which prevents the use of the weapon without the alignment of the combination tumblers; or

(3) a detachable or non-detachable locking device, composed primarily of steel or other metal of significant gauge to inhibit breaking, utilizing a metallic key or combination lock, rendering the weapon inoperable until the locking device is removed by an authorized person.

(k) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-311(b), it shall be unlawful for any licensed manufacturer, licensed importer, or licensed dealer to dispose of any rifle or shotgun in New York City unless it is accompanied by the following warning, which shall appear in conspicuous and legible type in capital letters, and which shall be printed on a label affixed to the rifle or shotgun and on a separate sheet of paper included within the packaging enclosing the rifle or shotgun: "THE USE OF A LOCKING DEVICE OR SAFETY LOCK IS ONLY ONE ASPECT OF RESPONSIBLE WEAPON STORAGE. ALL WEAPONS SHOULD BE STORED UNLOADED AND LOCKED IN A LOCATION THAT IS BOTH SEPARATE FROM THEIR AMMUNITION AND INACCESSIBLE TO CHILDREN AND ANY OTHER UNAUTHORIZED PERSONS."

(l) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-311(c), any person who applies for and obtains authorization to purchase, or otherwise lawfully obtains, a rifle or shotgun shall be required to purchase or obtain a safety locking device at the time s/he purchases or obtains the rifle or shotgun.

(m) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-311(d), the City of New York and its agencies, officers or employees shall not be liable to any party by reason of any incident involving, or the use or misuse of a safety locking device that may have been purchased in compliance with these rules.

CHAPTER 2 ORGANIZATIONS POSSESSING RIFLES AND SHOTGUNS*1

§2-06 Storage of Rifles and Shotguns and Ammunition.

(a) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-312, it shall be a criminal violation for any person who is the lawful owner or lawful custodian of a rifle or shotgun to store or otherwise place or leave such weapon in such a manner or under circumstances that it is out of her/his immediate possession or control, without having rendered such weapon inoperable by employing a safety locking device as defined in §2-05(j) of this chapter. Such offense shall constitute a misdemeanor if the offender has previously been found guilty of such violation or if the violation is committed under circumstances which create a substantial risk of physical injury to another person. The Rifle/Shotgun Section recognizes that all organizations have incurred an obligation by being registered to maintain and use rifles and shotguns in a responsible fashion. In order to assist organizations, the Rifle/Shotgun Section has issued the following safety guidelines for storing rifles and shotguns on the premises:

(1) All rifle and shotgun cases shall be kept locked and secured at all times and shall be inaccessible to unauthorized individuals. All keys to such cases shall not leave the control of the custodian or alternate custodian.

(2) Rifles and shotguns shall be incapable of firing when not in use. Rifles and shotguns may be temporarily deactivated by removing magazines or bolts; by securing with bars or chains through the trigger guard; or by using individual trigger locks or other safety locking devices composed primarily of steel or other metal of significant gauge to inhibit breaking.

(3) A custodian and alternate custodian shall keep one updated inventory of all rifles and shotguns possessed by the organization in the event of loss or theft. Such inventory shall include a full description of each rifle and shotgun including manufacturer, model, serial number, if applicable, and calibre or gauge. The certificate of registration issued for each rifle and shotgun shall accompany these records.

(4) In the event of loss or theft of any rifle or shotgun, certificate of registration, ammunition, or organization registration certificate, the custodian or alternate custodian is required to report the loss or theft to her/his local precinct and notify the Rifle/Shotgun Section by telephone on the next business day after discovery of the loss or theft. Follow up with a written notification to the Rifle/Shotgun Section within 10 calendar days of discovery of the loss or theft is also required.

(b) Any organization that stores in excess of two hundred (200) cartridges shall be required to obtain a storage permit from the Fire Commissioner. The storage of ammunition without a valid permit issued by the Fire Commissioner shall be deemed sufficient cause to revoke an organization's registration certificate.

(c) The quantities of cartridges and other ammunition stored on the premises shall not exceed the amounts fixed by the Fire Commissioner for storage of ammunition. The quantities so fixed shall be stated in the storage permit.

(d) All ammunition kept on the premises shall not be stored in an area where other materials of a highly flammable nature are manufactured or stored.

(e) Ammunition shall be stored in an area of the premises that can be reasonably secured. Only the custodian, alternate custodian, and authorized members or employees shall have access to this storage area.

(f) A custodian and alternate custodian shall take reasonable precautions to make the premises secure. These precautions shall include but not be limited to all applicable measures as listed below:

(1) Adequately protecting and securing all rear windows, doors and skylights.

(2) Securing windows at or near ground level with expanded metal welded to belted angle-iron frames.

(3) Installing alarms or other appropriate security/service systems upon the premises.

(4) Posting signs prominently on the premises warning of the presence of electronic or other types of security systems and containing penalties for criminal violations.

(5) Installing high-security cylinder locks in all doors.

(6) Illuminating fully the exterior and interior of the premises at night, and during the hours when business is not conducted within.

CHAPTER 3 RIFLE/SHOTGUN PERMITS*1

§3-14 Supplemental Rules.

(a) The permittee's rifle or shotgun shall not be loaded in a public place within New York City at any time except when using it at a licensed rifle and shotgun range.

(b) When the permittee travels to and from a licensed range or hunting area, or transports her/his rifle/shotgun for any reason, it shall be carried unloaded in a locked, non-transparent case, and the ammunition shall be carried separately. If the permittee is transporting her/his rifle/shotgun in a vehicle, it shall be kept locked in the trunk or equivalent space, not in plain view. The permittee shall never leave her/his rifle/shotgun in a vehicle unless s/he is physically present in or in close proximity to the vehicle.

(c) The permittee shall never alter, remove, obliterate or deface any of the following markings that may be on her/his rifle/shotgun:

(1) name of the manufacturer;

(2) model;

(3) serial number. This information identifies the rifle or shotgun in the permittee's possession.

(d) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-311(c), any person who applies for and obtains authorization to purchase, or otherwise lawfully obtains, a rifle or shotgun shall be required to purchase or obtain a safety locking device at the time s/he purchases or obtains the rifle or shotgun. Pursuant to New York City

Administrative Code §10-311(d), the City of New York and its agencies, officers or employees shall not be liable to any party by reason of any incident involving, or the use or misuse of a safety locking device that may have been purchased in compliance with these rules. The permittee shall take proper safety measures at all times to keep her/his rifle/shotgun from unauthorized persons-especially children. The permittee's rifle or shotgun should be kept unloaded and locked in a secure location in her/his home. Ammunition shall be stored separately from her/his rifle or shotgun.

Note: Many rifles/shotguns that are stolen in residential burglaries are taken from bedroom closets.

(e) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §10-312, it shall be a criminal violation for any person who is the lawful owner or lawful custodian of a rifle or shotgun to store or otherwise place or leave such weapon in such a manner or under circumstances that it is out of her/his immediate possession or control, without having rendered such weapon inoperable by employing a safety locking device as defined in §3-12(b) of this chapter. Such offense shall constitute a misdemeanor if the offender has previously been found guilty of such violation or if the violation is committed under circumstances which create a substantial risk of physical injury to another person.

(f) While there is no limit in the number of rifles or shotguns the permittee may possess, s/he should be advised that permittees who own several rifles/shotguns shall be expected to safeguard and maintain each rifle or shotgun.

(g) Minors under the age of eighteen may carry or use the permittee's rifle or shotgun only in the permittee's actual presence. The permittee shall be held responsible for supervising closely any minor using her/his rifle/shotgun. The minor, in turn, shall be expected to abide by the same rules and restrictions as a permittee.

(h) It is recommended that new permittees take advantage of instruction and safety courses in the use of rifles/shotguns that are offered by the rifle ranges and clubs within the New York area. The permittee should consult the local consumer telephone directory to find out more about a course offered in her/his area.

(i) New laws or amendments of existing rules may be enacted by a legislature or promulgated by the Police Department affecting the ownership or use of rifles/shotguns. The permittee shall be held responsible for knowing any modification of rules pertaining to her/his permit.

(j) The permit to possess a rifle or shotgun expires three years after the last day of the month in which the permit was issued. The permittee is held responsible for applying to renew her/his permit when it expires. Failure to apply to renew the permit at such time shall result in cancellation of the permit and confiscation of any rifles/shotguns the permittee may possess.

(k) Permittees shall cooperate with all reasonable requests by the Police Department for information and assistance in matters relating to the permit.

(9) unauthorized discharge of a firearm, rifle, shotgun, machine-gun or assault weapon on the licensee's premises.

A license may also be revoked or suspended by a court pursuant to §530.14 of the New York State Criminal Procedure Law or §842-a of the New York State Family Court Act.

(k) If her/his license is suspended or revoked, the licensee shall be required to deposit any firearms, rifles, shotguns, machine-guns and assault weapons as well as any handgun license or rifle/shotgun permit in her/his possession with her/his local police precinct and forward a copy of the voucher together with her/his license to the License Division. Her/his failure to comply within ten (10) calendar days from the date of suspension or revocation may result in the arrest of the licensee.

If the suspension or revocation resulted from the licensee becoming the subject of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection, the licensee may only submit a written request for a hearing within thirty (30) calendar days after the expiration or voiding of the order of protection or temporary order of protection. If the suspension or revocation was related to both a criminal action and an order of protection or temporary order of protection, then the later of the two waiting periods shall apply.

CHAPTER 5 HANDGUN LICENSES*1

SUBCHAPTER A ISSUANCE OF HANDGUN LICENSES

§5-01 Types of Handgun Licenses.

As used in this chapter, the term "handgun" shall mean a pistol or revolver. This section contains a description of the various types of handgun licenses issued by the Police Department. Section 5-09 of this subchapter contains a description of the procedure for obtaining an exemption from New York State Penal Law Article 265, allowing pre-license possession of a handgun for the purpose of possessing and using a handgun for instructional purposes with a certified instructor in small arms at an authorized small arms range/shooting club.

(a) Premises License-Residence or Business. This is a restricted handgun license, issued for a specific business or residence location. The handgun shall be safeguarded at the specific address indicated on the license. This license permits the transporting of an unloaded handgun directly to and from an authorized small arms range/shooting club, secured unloaded in a locked container. Ammunition shall be carried separately.

(b) Carry Business License. This is an unrestricted class of license which permits the carrying of a handgun concealed on the person. In the event that an applicant is not found by the License Division to be qualified for a Carry Business License, the License Division, based on its investigation of the applicant, may offer a Limited Carry Business License or a Business Premises License to an applicant.

(c) Limited Carry Business License. This is a restricted handgun license which permits the licensee to carry the handgun listed on the license concealed on the person to and from specific locations during the specific days and times set forth on the license. Proper cause, as defined in §5-03, shall need to be shown only for that specific time frame that the applicant needs to carry a handgun concealed on her/his person. At all other times the handgun shall be safeguarded at the specific address indicated on the license, and secured unloaded in a locked container.

(d) Carry Guard License/Gun Custodian License. These are restricted types of carry licenses, valid when the holder is actually engaged in a work assignment as a security guard or gun custodian.

(e) Special Licenses. Special licenses are issued according to the provisions of §400.00 of the New York State Penal Law, to persons in possession of a valid New York State County License. The revocation, cancellation, suspension or surrender of such person's County License automatically renders her/his New York City license void. The holder of a Special License shall carry her/his County License at all times when possessing a handgun pursuant to such Special License.

(1) Special Carry Business License. This is a special license, permitting the carrying of a concealed handgun on the person while the licensee is in New York City.

(2) Special Carry Guard License/Gun Custodian License. These are restricted types of special licenses that permit the carrying of a concealed handgun on the person only when the licensee is actually engaged in the performance of her/his duties as a security guard or gun custodian.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. The Police Commissioner's revision of the handgun licensing regulation so as to eliminate the category of permits for transporting guns to target ranges, is neither arbitrary nor capricious, and is a rational and proper exercise of his authority. The regulation of the number of firearms is a rational means of promoting the safety of city residents and visitors. Murad v. City of New York, 12 A.D.3d 194, 783 N.Y.S.2d 584 (1st Dept. 2004).

§5-02 Premises Licenses.

The requirements for the issuance of a Premises License are listed below. The license application shall be investigated, including a review of the circumstances relevant to the information provided in the application. During the pendency of the application, the applicant shall notify the License Division of any necessary correction to or modification of the information provided in the original application, or any change in her/his status or circumstances, which may be relevant to the application.

The applicant shall:

(a) Be of good moral character;

(b) Have no prior conviction for a felony or other serious offense, as defined in §265.00(17) of the New York State Penal Law, or of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence, as defined in §921(a) of title 18 of the United States Code;

(c) Disclose whether s/he is or has been the subject or recipient of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection;

(d) Have no prior revocation of a license nor be the subject of a suspension or ineligibility order issued pursuant to §530.14 of the New York State Criminal Procedure Law or §842-a of the New York State Family Court Act;

(e) Disclose any history of mental illness;

(f) Be free from any disability or condition that may affect the ability to safely possess or use a handgun;

(h) Be an applicant concerning whom no good cause exists for the denial of such license;

(i) Be at least 21 years of age.

CASE NOTES

¶ 1. Pistol permit standards, even those covering a limited premises/target permit, are more stringent than those covering shotgun/rifle permits. Thus, it was not arbitrary and capricious for the Police Department to deny a pistol permit to a man who had been arrested following an incident in which he allegedly pulled out his gun. Following the arrest, the police found 11 weapons on the premises, some of them loaded. This result was reached even though the criminal charges were later dismissed, and the applicant had a record of meritorious service with the Fire Department. Nash v. Police Department, 271 A.D.2d 384, 708 N.Y.S.2d 61 (1st Dept. 2000).

¶ 2. Petitioner's arrest on theft and fencing charges in New Jersey, and failure to notify the License Division of the arrest for more than one year, were sufficient grounds for revocation of a business license to carry a pistol. Cerchiello v Kelly, 2004 WL 1351421 (App.Div. 1st Dept.).

SUBCHAPTER A ISSUANCE OF HANDGUN LICENSES

§5-03 Carry and Special Handgun Licenses.

In addition to the requirements in §5-02, an applicant seeking a carry or special handgun license shall be required to show "proper cause" pursuant to §400.00(2)(f) of the New York State Penal Law. "Proper cause" is determined by a review of all relevant information bearing on the claimed need of the applicant for the license. The following are examples of factors which will shall be considered in such a review.

(a) Exposure of the applicant by reason of employment or business necessity to extraordinary personal danger requiring authorization to carry a handgun.

Example: Employment in a position in which the applicant routinely engages in transactions involving substantial amounts of cash, jewelry or other valuables or negotiable items. In these instances, the applicant shall furnish documentary proof that her/his employment actually requires that s/he be authorized to carry a handgun, and that s/he routinely engages in such transactions.

(b) Exposure of the applicant to extraordinary personal danger, documented by proof of recurrent threats to life or safety requiring authorization to carry a handgun.

Example: Instances in which Police Department records demonstrate that the life and well-being of an individual is endangered, and that s/he should, therefore, be authorized to carry a handgun. The factors listed above are not all inclusive, and the License Division will consider any proof, including New York City Police Department records, which document the need for a handgun license. It should be noted, however, that the mere fact that an applicant has been the victim of a crime or resides in or is employed in a "high crime area," does not establish "proper cause" for the issuance of a carry or special handgun license.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

CHAPTER 5 HANDGUN LICENSES*1

SUBCHAPTER B LICENSEE RESPONSIBILITIES

§5-24 Gun Custodians and Carry Guards.

(a) Gun Custodian. (1) Once a company employs and intends to arm additional employees, a gun custodian and alternate custodian shall be designated by the company.

(2) Each designee shall submit to the License Division an additional handgun license application for gun custodian, typed and notarized, along with two (2) color photos, $1\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ inches, taken within the past thirty (30) days, showing the applicant from the chest up, and the necessary fees.

(3) The responsibilities of the gun custodian and alternate custodian are as follows:

(i) To insure that an applicant works a minimum of twenty (20) hours per week for the company.

(ii) To insure that an applicant commences work within fifteen (15) days of issuance of license.

(iii) On a semiannual basis, the gun custodian or alternate custodian shall be required to submit the following reports to the License Division:

(A) Employment Report-indicating hours worked by each licensee per month.

(B) Employee Termination Report.

(C) Annual Handgun Inventory Report.

(iv) The gun custodian or alternate custodian or an authorized designee of the company shall be required to permit properly identified representatives of the New York City Police Department to examine company records pertaining to handgun licensees.

(v) During those periods that a security guard will not be reporting to work due to illness or vacation, the gun custodian or alternate custodian shall be responsible for the security of the handgun.

(vi) In the event of termination of employment, the custodian or alternate custodian shall see to the immediate surrender of the licensee's handgun license to the New York City Police Department License Division and return of the handgun to the company.

(vii) In the event of a licensee's death, the gun custodian or alternate custodian is responsible for the security of the handgun and for the immediate notification, in writing, to the New York City Police Department License Division.

(viii) Where a licensee becomes involved in an incident or suffers a condition which shall be reported to the License Division and/or the precinct of occurrence pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section, the gun custodian or alternate custodian shall ensure that such report is made immediately.

(4) When appearing at the License Division to pick up a license, an applicant shall present a handgun assignment letter from the gun custodian or alternate custodian. If no handgun is available from the company handgun inventory, the gun custodian or alternate custodian shall request, in writing, a purchase order by following the rules set forth in §5-25, "Handgun Purchase Authorizations," to obtain a new handgun.

(5) The purchase order shall be valid for only thirty (30) calendar days from the date of issuance.

(6) After the gun custodian or alternate custodian has purchased the handgun, s/he shall return to the License Division within 72 hours to have the handgun inspected. This handgun shall be unloaded in a locked container and accompanied by the purchase order authorization and a photocopy of the bill of sale. This handgun may not be carried or transported except as indicated in this paragraph before it has been inspected.

(7) If the gun custodian or alternate custodian makes her/his purchase from other than an authorized dealer, the seller shall be either a New York City or New York State licensee, Police Officer or a Peace Officer.

(8) A handgun may be replaced by requesting permission, in writing, from the Division Head, License Division.

(b) Carry Guard Licensee. (1) This license is restricted to the days and hours that the licensee is actually engaged in employment, or when a licensee is travelling from her/his residence to employment, or from employment to her/his residence. These restrictions shall be strictly interpreted by the New York City Police Department and violation of these rules shall result in the immediate suspension of the pistol license. This means that the handgun may be carried only when the licensee is actually engaged in employment by the security company the name of which appears on the face of the license. This does not permit "freelancing" on the licensee's day off. The handgun may only be carried from the licensee's residence as listed on the application, to the licensee's place of employment or assignment for that particular day.

The licensee may carry her/his handgun from employment back to her/his residence. This means that there shall be no unreasonable delay in returning to the licensee's residence where the handgun shall be secured.

Example: If the licensee does not intend to stay at her/his residence the evening prior to working at her/his place of assignment, s/he will be obligated to return home to pick up her/his handgun just prior to going to work. Carrying her/his handgun with her/him the entire evening preceding her/his next work day is a distinct violation of license restrictions. Example: If the licensee finishes a 4 p.m. to midnight shift and takes action involving the handgun at 3:30 a.m. in a local tavern, s/he is in violation of license restrictions and the New York State Penal Law.

(2) A licensee has the responsibility of making an immediate report to the Division Head, License Division, the precinct where the incident occurred, and the gun custodian or alternate custodian in the following instances:

(i) Loss or theft of handgun.

(ii) Discharge of handgun (other than practice at an authorized small arms range/shooting club).

(iii) Loss or theft of handgun license.

(iv) Improper use/safeguarding of handgun(s).

(v) Public display of an unholstered handgun.

(3) An immediate report shall be made in the following instances to the Division Head, License Division and the gun custodian or alternate custodian:

(i) Change of residence.

(ii) Mutilation, alteration or destruction of handgun license.

(iii) Arrest, indictment, summons other than a traffic summons, or conviction in any jurisdiction; suspension or ineligibility order issued pursuant to §530.14 of the New York State Criminal Procedure Law or §842-a of the New York State Family Court Act.

(iv) Receipt of psychiatric treatment or treatment for alcoholism or drug abuse, or the presence or occurrence of any disability or condition that may affect the ability to safely possess or use a handgun.

(v) Licensee is or becomes the subject or recipient of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection.

(4) The license shall be in the possession of the licensee at all times while the licensee is carrying the handgun.

(5) Misconduct or misuse of the purpose for which this license is issued may result in the suspension or revocation of the license.

(6) A handgun licensee is authorized to use only the handgun that is endorsed on her/his license.

(c) Failure to comply with all of the above conditions set forth herein may result in the suspension, revocation, or cancellation of any/or all handgun licenses issued to employees of the subject company.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. In one case, petitioner obtained a pistol permit in New York, then moved to New Jersey for several years, then returned to New York. When he moved to New Jersey, he failed to comply with the regulations applicable to gun license holders who were moving out of state. When he returned to New York, his application for a permit was denied by reason of his non-compliance with the regulations. The court held that the Police Department had sufficient basis for denial of the permit. Matter of Barreca v. Kerik, N.Y.L.J., Mar. 22, 2002, page 19, col. 4 (Sup.Ct. New York Co.).

CHAPTER 5 HANDGUN LICENSES*1

SUBCHAPTER B LICENSEE RESPONSIBILITIES

§5-28 Renewal of the Handgun License.

The licensee is required to renew her/his handgun license every three (3) years. The license expires on the licensee's birthday.

(a) The renewal process generally begins sixty (60) calendar days prior to the licensee's month of birth. The licensee shall receive her/his renewal application, instructions, and other required forms and her/his invalidated license in the mail. As part of the renewal process, the License Division may require that the licensee produce all licensed handguns for inspection, either using a random selection procedure or when a review of the renewal package discloses the need for such an inspection, as directed by the Commanding Officer, License Division. The licensee shall receive appropriate instructions and a form, Affidavit of Handgun Possession, to be completed and notarized as part of the renewal package. If so directed, the licensee shall transport all licensed handguns to the License Division, One Police Plaza, Room 152, New York, New York or otherwise make the handguns available for inspection, in the manner directed by the instructions. The licensee shall examine the license, complete all required forms including providing color photos, forwarding fees (payable by certified check or money order only), etc., and return the renewal package to the License Division by mail, as soon as possible. Upon receipt of the renewal material, the License Division shall process the renewal and return the validated license to the licensee by mail.

(b) The license is not valid unless stamped and sealed by the License Division. The licensee shall sign her/his license in the designated area on the back of the license.

(c) The renewal application and related documents shall be mailed to the address on the license. If the licensee has moved and has not notified the License Division, the renewal documents shall be returned to the License Division and her/his license shall be cancelled for failure to notify the License Division of an address change (see Address Change-§5-29).

(d) If the licensee has not received her/his renewal documents thirty (30) calendar days prior to her/his birth date, s/he shall contact the Renewal Unit at telephone number (212) 374-5531, or 5532, for instructions.

(e) If the licensee has extenuating circumstances which prevent her/him from renewing prior to her/his birth date, s/he shall submit a notarized letter to the Renewal Unit explaining the circumstances. The License Division shall contact the licensee and advise her/him on how to proceed. However, if the licensee is not notified by the License Division by her/his birth date, s/he shall voucher her/his handgun(s) at her/his local precinct until the matter is resolved.

(f) Licensees shall carefully read and comply with the instructions on their renewal documents.

(g) Incomplete or incorrectly prepared renewal documents shall not be processed, and shall be returned to the licensee for completion/correction, with a letter indicating the problem, information omitted, etc. Consequently, if as a result of the licensee's error, the licensee fails to submit the required material, fees, etc., by her/his birthday, s/he shall be required to voucher her/his handgun(s) at her/his local precinct until the renewal process is completed.

(h) If the licensee's birthday has passed and s/he has not yet renewed, s/he shall immediately voucher her/his handgun(s) at her/his local precinct. The License Division shall not process any late renewals unless a copy of the voucher is attached to the complete renewal application which is to be submitted by mail.

(i) Failure to renew the license on time is cause for cancellation of the license.

(j) Possession of any unlicensed handgun is a violation of Article 265 of the New York State Penal Law, and may subject the licensee to arrest.

(k) Renewal fees shall be in the form of a money order or a certified check made payable to the N.Y.C. Police Department. Cash and personal checks shall not be accepted.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. The Department has broad discretion in ruling on permit applications, and may properly deny the application for good cause. However, in this particular instance, the denial of the petitioner's application for a premises residence handgun license on the ground that petitioner failed to timely renew his prior license, or voucher his handgun was arbitrary and capricious. The petitioner had not been sent a renewal notice to his correct address, which was on file (see 38 RCNY § 5-28(c)); his military record and tax returns and letters of reference were also on file. Thus, the petitioner had a reasonable excuse for failure to renew. DiStefano v. Kelly 2008 NY Slip Op. 688, 47 AD3d 928, 850 NYS2d 203, 2008 NY App. Div. Lexis 598 (App. Div. 2nd Dept.).

Her/his license may be subject to cancellation. (See §5-27-Cancellation of the Handgun License.) Questions may be directed to the Incident Section (212) 374-5538 or 5539.

(2) Handgun licenses are not transferable to new businesses. The licensee shall re-apply for a new handgun license for her/his new business.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Sept. 25, 1998:

Mayoral Executive Orders spanning the past two administrations have established several rights and procedures relative to domestic partnerships, including a procedure for City residents to register their domestic partnerships in the office of the City Clerk. Such orders have further provided, among other things, that (i) registered domestic partners are eligible for visitation rights in City hospitals and correction facilities; (ii) City employees with registered domestic partnerships are eligible for child care leave and bereavement leave on the same basis as those benefits are afforded to employees with regard to their spouses; and (iii) registered domestic partnership is evidence of the right to succession to tenancy rights in facilities operated by the New York City housing authority and the department of housing preservation and development. By the end of April 1998, there were approximately 8,700 couples registered as domestic partners in New York City. More than 55% of those registered domestic partners were heterosexual couples, and less than 45% were same sex couples. Almost forty percent of registered domestic partnerships have accessed City health benefits available to partners of City employees and retirees.

Consistent with the intent of such orders, and pursuant to the powers of the Commissioner under sections 434(b) and 1043 of the New York City Charter, the Police Department is now acting to provide that a rule applicable to spouses should now be extended to domestic partners.

Note: The above "Incidents" shall be reported if they were not previously disclosed by licensee to the License Division, or if previously disclosed, circumstances have changed.

(d) In addition to the aforementioned "Incidents," whenever the holder of a handgun license becomes involved in a situation which comes to the attention of any police department, or other law enforcement agency, the licensee shall immediately notify the License Division's Incident Section of the details.

(e) All "Incidents" shall be reviewed and evaluated by License Division investigators. The written request shall be submitted to the Commanding Officer, License Division, One Police Plaza, Room 110A, New York, New York 10038. A licensee whose arrest or summons resulted in suspension or revocation of her/his license may only submit a written request for a hearing within thirty (30) calendar days after the termination of the criminal action, as defined in New York State Criminal Procedure Law §1.20(16)(c). If the suspension or revocation resulted from the licensee becoming the subject of an order of protection or a temporary order of protection, the licensee may only submit a written request for a hearing within thirty (30) calendar days after the expiration or voiding of the order of protection or temporary order of protection. If the suspension or revocation was related to both a criminal action and an order of protection or temporary order of protection, then the later of the two waiting periods shall apply. However, requests for hearings shall not be entertained, nor shall a hearing be scheduled until the licensee:

(1) Complies with the provisions of subdivision (f) above; and

(4) Record. A record of all proceedings shall be made by either stenographic transcription or electronic recording device. Typewritten copies thereof may be ordered by the parties at their own cost.

(5) No ex parte communications relating to other than ministerial matters regarding a proceeding shall be received by a Hearing Officer.

(b) Evidence/proof. All parties have the right to call witnesses, to conduct examinations, including cross-examination, to present evidence, and to make objections, motions and arguments.

(1) Burden of proof. No public nuisance may be established except upon proof by a preponderance of the credible evidence. The Trial Attorney has the burden of proof in establishing that a public nuisance exists at the cited premises, but the proponent of any factual proposition will be required to sustain the burden of proof with respect thereto.

(2) Order of proof. The order of proof shall be as follows:

(i) testimony by the witness or witnesses in support of the existence of a public nuisance.

(ii) cross-examination of such witnesses;

(iii) testimony by the respondent(s) or their witnesses in defense and explanation; and

(iv) cross-examination of the respondent(s) and witnesses. The Hearing Officer may, in his discretion, change the order of proof where the circumstances so warrant.

(3) Objections to rulings of Hearing Officers. Objections may be taken to the rulings of the Hearing Officer by stating the reasons for such objections, but will not be deemed to have been made unless duly noted in the record.

(4) (i) Informality of rules of evidence. The rules of evidence governing proceedings in the courts of this State shall not be rigidly enforced in hearings before the Department. Unless objection is made and duly noted in the record, all evidence appearing in the record shall be deemed to have been validly introduced.

(ii) Cumulative evidence. The introduction of cumulative evidence shall be avoided and the Hearing Officer may curtail the testimony of any witness which is judged to be merely cumulative.

(iii) Reopening of hearing for presentation of new or additional evidence. Upon due application prior to the final determination, the hearing may be reopened for the presentation of new or additional evidence. The Department may, on its own motion, reopen a hearing for the presentation of additional evidence.

(5) Stipulations. Parties may, by agreement, stipulate as to any facts involved in the proceedings, provided that such stipulation is duly noted in the record.

(6) Oral arguments only before Hearing Officer. Oral argument may be made only before the Hearing Officer. Such oral argument may be curtailed or limited in the Hearing Officer's discretion and is to be included in the record.

(c) Motions and adjournment. (1) Motion to dismiss. Motions to dismiss may be made at the option of the respondent or respondent's attorney, but are not required and will not be deemed to be necessary to protect any right of the respondent.

(2) Applications to adjourn. No application for adjournment of a hearing shall be granted except for good cause shown. If such adjournment is sought on the grounds that respondent's attorney is actually engaged in a court of record, an affidavit of actual engagement by such attorney must be presented.

(3) Imposition of penalty following application to adjourn. Upon granting any adjournment, the Hearing Officer may direct that the matter be set down peremptory against the respondent, in which event the respondent shall be notified that there shall be no further entitlement to any adjournment.

The Working Press Card entitles the bearer to cross a police or fire line at emergency scenes and at locations where police or fire barriers have been set up for crowd control purposes. To be eligible to receive the Working Press Card an individual must be:

(a) A full-time employee of a news gathering organization covering spot or breaking news events on a regular basis such as robbery scenes, fires, homicides, train wrecks, bombings, plane crashes, where there are established police or fire lines at the scene. (b) Newspersons (such as freelancers), not otherwise eligible for a Working Press Card, who demonstrate a need to cover the above-described spot or breaking news events on a regular and routine basis will be eligible for a Working Press Card. Such persons will be required to submit with their application at least three (3) letters from previous media employers or one (1) letter from one (1) media employer indicating there were three (3) articles or photographs published within the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the application.

(c) Supervisory news personnel in both print and broadcast media who demonstrate a need to regularly and routinely cross police or fire lines may be issued the Working Press Card.

CHAPTER 12 RETURN OF PROPERTY FROM PROPERTY CLERK DIVISION

SUBCHAPTER A*1 PROCEDURES FOR CLAIMING PROPERTY

§12-01 Introduction.

The Property Clerk Division has established procedures regarding the return of property when claimed by the public. The classification of the property, arrest evidence, decedent's property, found property, etc., determines the documentation the claimant must provide in order to gain possession. In all cases, in addition to the necessary documentation, proper identification of the claimant is required. This can be in the form of licenses, credit cards, passports, bankbooks and utility bills (see appendix A of this chapter). In cases where the owner of property sends another person to pick up that property, the owner must provide such person a notarized letter authorizing such person to act on the owner's behalf, to be presented to the Property Clerk Division.

Listed below in this subchapter are categories and general procedures for claimants to follow, in order to obtain property in our custody. Subchapter A of this chapter contains general provisions. Subchapter B of this chapter sets forth special procedures, which are followed by the Property Clerk and the District Attorneys with respect to claims for the return of property taken or obtained in connection with an arrest. Subchapter C of this chapter sets forth special procedures that shall be followed by the Property Clerk with respect to items of jewelry recovered in the vicinity of the World Trade Center site subsequent to the terrorist attack of September 11, 2001. The claim submission procedures contained within this subchapter will be applicable until May 31, 2005.

CHAPTER 12 RETURN OF PROPERTY FROM PROPERTY CLERK DIVISION

SUBCHAPTER B*2 PROCEDURES RELATING TO PROPERTY TAKEN OR OBTAINED IN CONNECTION WITH AN ARREST

§12-31 Definitions.

Arrest Evidence. The term "arrest evidence" shall mean property taken from the person or possession of an individual prior to, simultaneous with, or subsequent to an arrest because of its relation to the matter for which the person has been arrested. No property shall be deemed arrest evidence prior to the person's arrest. No property taken from a person and held by the Police Property Clerk merely for safekeeping shall be deemed arrest evidence.

Claimant. The term "claimant" shall mean the person from whose person or possession property, other than contraband, was taken or obtained, who is seeking from the police property clerk the return of such property in the police property clerk's possession or property that has been transferred by the police property clerk to the district attorney of any of the five counties of the city.

Contraband. The term "contraband" shall mean property the mere possession of which is prohibited under federal, state or local law. Property shall not be deemed to be contraband merely because it has been held as evidence or for custodial safe-keeping, or because it may be suspected or believed to be unlawfully obtained, stolen or the proceeds or instrumentality of a crime.

Days. The term "days" shall mean calendar days unless otherwise indicated.

District attorney's release. The term "district attorney's release" shall mean a statement from the appropriate district attorney's office that the subject property is no longer needed as evidence. A district attorney's release is not to be construed as a statement by the district attorney as to the possessory rights to the property of any person, including the claimant.

District attorney supervisor. The term "district attorney supervisor" shall mean an assistant district attorney with authority to review the denial of an application for a district attorney's release.

Proper identification. The term "proper identification" shall mean identification deemed acceptable and sufficient by the department of motor vehicles for the purpose of obtaining a driver's license. A list of such identification is contained in appendix A of this chapter.

Property. The term "property" shall mean and include all property, whether it is real property, personal property, money, negotiable instruments, securities, or any other thing of value or any interest in a thing of value.

Termination of criminal proceedings. The term "termination of criminal proceedings" shall mean the earliest of (i) thirty-one days following the imposition of sentence, (ii) the date of acquittal of a person arrested for an offense, (iii) where leave to file new charges or to resubmit the case to a new grand jury is required and has not been granted, thirty-one days following the dismissal of the last accusatory instrument filed in the case, or, if applicable, upon expiration of the time granted by the court or permitted by statute for filing new charges or resubmitting the case to a new grand jury, (iv) where leave to file new charges or to resubmit the case to a new grand jury is not required, thirty-one days following the dismissal of the last accusatory instrument filed in the case, or, if applicable, upon expiration of the time granted by the court or permitted by statute for filing new charges or resubmitting the case to a new grand jury, (v) six months from the issuance of an "Adjournment in Contemplation of Dismissal" order pursuant to C.P.L. §170.55, or twelve months from the issuance of such an order pursuant to C.P.L. §170.56, where the case is not restored to the court's calendar within the applicable six-month or twelve-month period, and (vi) the date when, prior to the filing of an accusatory instrument against a person arrested for an offense, the district attorney elects not to prosecute such person.

CHAPTER 12 RETURN OF PROPERTY FROM PROPERTY CLERK DIVISION

§12-32 Vouchering Procedures.

The police department and the district attorney, where applicable, of each of the five counties of the city have implemented the following procedures governing the taking or obtaining of non-contraband property from a person's possession at the time of arrest:

(a) The police shall make an inventory of such property and shall issue a voucher, which shall be given to the person as a receipt for items taken. The voucher shall contain the name of the person, a complete itemized list of all non-contraband property taken, and a brief description thereof.

(b) The person shall be given an opportunity to examine the voucher, and if such person finds the itemized list to be correct, such person may sign the voucher to acknowledge that it contains a complete list of property taken. Failure to sign the voucher shall not preclude a lawful claim being made for the property.

(c) The person must be informed that if he or she believes any additional non-contraband property was taken from his or her person or from his or her possession, or if he or she believes that property was erroneously vouchered to him or her, he or she may so indicate on the voucher. The arresting officer may sign the voucher indicating his or her concurrence with the list of items or any disagreement.

(d) A person is entitled to receive a voucher at the time of his or her arrest for property taken or obtained from his or her person or possession, and the other procedures set forth in these rules shall apply, regardless of whether the property has been denominated by the police department as "arrest evidence" or otherwise, and regardless of whether the arrest is prior to, simultaneous with, or subsequent to the taking or obtaining of the property.

(e) In bold letters on the back of the voucher, or on a separate sheet attached to the voucher, notice shall be given in plain English and Spanish setting forth the following procedures:

(i) The person from whose possession the property was taken should retain and safeguard the voucher;

(ii) In order to obtain the return of the property, the claimant or a representative authorized by a notarized writing to claim the property will be required to submit, in person or by mail, the voucher and proper identification to the office of the police property clerk located at a central location in each borough. The property may be disposed of by the police property clerk according to law unless the claimant demands the property no later than 120 days after the termination of criminal proceedings.

(iii) A claimant demanding the return of property other than arrest evidence does not require a district attorney's release and may make such a demand whether or not criminal proceedings have been instituted and, if instituted, whether or not such proceedings have been terminated. As used herein, "property other than arrest evidence" refers to non-contraband property taken from an arrestee merely for safekeeping or taken from the person or possession of an individual prior to, simultaneous with or subsequent to an arrest which is unrelated to the matter for which the individual was arrested. Following receipt of a demand for such property, the property clerk may return the property or otherwise proceed pursuant to the provisions of §§12-36 and 12-37 of this subchapter.

(iv) A claimant demanding the return of arrest evidence from the property clerk should obtain prior to the demand either a district attorney's release or a supervising district attorney's statement refusing to grant a release, although presentation of either or both of these documents to the property clerk is not required for making a timely demand. If demand for the property is made without a district attorney's release, or a supervising district attorney's statement, the claimant shall have 270 days from such demand to obtain a district attorney's release or a supervising district attorney's statement refusing to grant a release. If a release or statement refusing to grant a release is not provided to the property clerk within such period, the property may be disposed of according to law.

(v) If a claimant timely provides the property clerk with a district attorney's statement refusing to grant a release, the claimant must thereafter obtain a district attorney's release to obtain the return of the property.

(f) In addition to the notice provided by the police property clerk, the district attorney shall, unless prohibited by the local arraigning court, provide the notice described in subdivision e of §12-32 of this subchapter to each person from whose person or possession property was taken or obtained when those persons initially appear at arraignment. The notice also shall set forth the procedures by which a claimant may obtain a district attorney's release and the procedures by which a claimant may seek review in the event that a release is denied. It is not required that the district attorney provide a copy of the voucher at arraignment.

SUBCHAPTER B*2 PROCEDURES RELATING TO PROPERTY TAKEN OR OBTAINED IN CONNECTION WITH AN ARREST

§12-34 District Attorney's Release.

The district attorney of each of the five counties of the city have implemented the following procedures governing the giving of releases for property that is arrest evidence:

(a) A request for a district attorney's release may be made, in person or by mail, by the claimant or by a representative authorized by a notarized writing by the claimant.

(b) The request must be accompanied by a copy of the voucher or, if the voucher is lost or absent, an explanation for its loss or absence, proper identification and suitable case identification. In his or her discretion, the district attorney may waive any or all of these requirements.

(c) If the request for a release is accompanied by the documents specified in subdivision b hereof, the district attorney shall, if the property is no longer needed as evidence, grant a release no more than fifteen days after receipt of the request. If the property is or may be needed as evidence, the district attorney shall follow the procedures hereinafter set forth.

(d) Before the termination of criminal proceedings, the district attorney shall provide a release to a claimant upon request unless the district attorney determines that the property is or may be needed as evidence. After the termination of criminal proceedings, the district attorney shall provide a release to a claimant upon request unless the district attorney determines that the property needs to be retained as evidence due to (i) a pending appeal; (ii) a collateral attack or notice that a collateral attack will be commenced; (iii) another specifically identified criminal proceeding or (iv) an ongoing identifiable criminal investigation. In all cases, a district attorney's determination not to provide a release to a claimant because the property is or may be needed as evidence shall be made in good faith. The district attorney's release shall be personally delivered to the claimant or mailed to the claimant at the address provided by the claimant on the form making the request for release.

(e) Whenever a release is denied to a claimant either before or following the termination of criminal proceedings, the district attorney must provide in writing the reason for the refusal no more than fifteen days after receipt of the request. The claimant also must then be informed that he or she may obtain review by a supervising assistant district attorney, who shall not be the individual who made the initial determination, which review must be provided to the claimant within ten days of the request for review. A supervising assistant district attorney's refusal to provide a claimant a release must be in writing stating the particularized reason(s) for the refusal, which reasons must be in conformity with subdivisions c and d, above. The notices provided by the district attorney shall be personally delivered to the claimant or mailed to the claimant at the address provided by the claimant on the form making the request for release.

(f) The claimant may reapply to the district attorney for a release at any time after the date of issuance of the statement upholding the denial.

(g) The district attorney may utilize standard forms, uniform throughout the five boroughs, consistent with these rules, for

(i) Claimant's request for a district attorney's release, which shall also serve as an acknowledgement of receipt;

(ii) Claimant's request for a review of a denial of a district attorney's release, a copy which shall also serve as an acknowledgement of receipt;

(iii) District attorney supervisor's statement of reasons for upholding a denial of a release; and

(iv) District attorney's release.

§12-35 Disposition of Property by the Police Property Clerk Where There Has Been an Arrest.

Where there has been an arrest prior to, simultaneous with, or subsequent to the taking or obtaining of the property, the property clerk shall take the following steps with regard to all vouchered property, subject to a different disposition required by other applicable federal, state or local law:

(a) Subject to the provisions of §§12-36 and 12-37, the police property clerk shall return all non-contraband property other than arrest evidence to a claimant who produces proper identification and the voucher issued to him or her for the property. The property clerk shall not require such claimant to submit a district attorney's release covering such property, and such claimant may make a demand whether or not criminal proceedings have been instituted and, if instituted, whether or not such proceedings have been terminated.

(b) Subject to the provisions of §§12-36 and 12-37, the police property clerk shall return all non-contraband arrest evidence, which is or shall hereinafter come into his or her possession or custody, upon timely demand, to a claimant who produces proper identification and who submits a written district attorney's release covering such property and the voucher issued at the time of arrest. Failure to produce the voucher shall not preclude a lawful claim being made for property, although the property clerk may require the claimant to explain the loss or absence of the voucher.

(c) A demand for the return of property shall be timely if made within 120 days after the termination of criminal proceedings, whether or not the demand is accompanied by a district attorney's release or a statement upholding a denial of the release. A demand may be made in person or by mail by the claimant or by a representative authorized in writing to claim the property on behalf of the claimant.

(d) If a timely demand is made without a district attorney's release, the property clerk may treat such a demand as an inquiry and require a claimant to provide, within 270 days of the inquiry, the property clerk with a district attorney's release or a supervising district attorney's statement upholding the denial of the release. If the claimant fails within such 270 days to provide the property clerk with a district attorney's release or a supervising district attorney's statement upholding the denial of the release, the property clerk may dispose of the property according to law.

(e) If the claimant provides the property clerk with a district attorney's release within the time period set forth in subdivision c, the property clerk shall return the property as required by subdivision b above. If the claimant provides the property clerk with a copy of the supervising district attorney's statement upholding the denial of the release, the property clerk must retain the property and shall either (i) return the property to the claimant when the claimant thereafter provides the property clerk with a district attorney's release, or (ii) when the property clerk learns that the property is not needed as evidence, give written notice to the claimant or the claimant's representative, at his or her last known address, which may be the address of a correctional facility, that the property will be returned forthwith to that person. Property that remains unclaimed for a period of 120 days after the date of the notice specified in (ii), or the remainder of the time provided to a claimant to obtain a release under subdivision d, whichever is greater, may be disposed of by the property clerk according to law.

(f) In no event shall a claimant be required to obtain any additional documentation or evidence relating to the property or be required to submit any proof of ownership of the property other than the voucher, except if the vouchered property is a motor vehicle, then title (or a reasonable explanation for its absence) may be required.

(g) The police property clerk must provide each claimant with a written "acknowledgement of demand or inquiry," indicating the date the demand or inquiry was made and a description of the property demanded.

(h) In any situation where the property clerk has returned property to the person from whom it was taken or obtained in accordance with this subchapter, the property clerk shall not be liable to any subsequent claimant for the same property.

§12-36 Property Clerk Forfeiture Proceedings.

Where the property clerk has reasonable cause to believe that property was unlawfully obtained or was the proceeds or instrumentality of a crime or otherwise may be subject to forfeiture under any applicable provision of law, the property clerk may refuse to return the property and may cause a civil forfeiture proceeding or other similar civil proceeding to be initiated in accordance with the following:

(a) Such proceeding may, subject to the time limitation below, be instituted either before or after a claimant makes a demand to the property clerk for the return of the property. If such proceeding is instituted before the termination of criminal proceedings against the claimant, this subchapter shall not be construed to effect any right of a party to the forfeiture proceeding to have the forfeiture proceeding stayed for such period as the court may determine. If a timely demand is made for the return of the property before the forfeiture proceeding is instituted, such proceeding shall be brought no later than (i) in the case of arrest evidence, 25 days after the claimant provides the property clerk with a district attorney's release, and (ii) in all other cases, as a district attorney's release is not required, within 25 days after the date of demand. If such proceeding is not commenced within this time period, the property clerk shall give written notice to the claimant or the claimant's representative, at his or her last known address, which may be the address of a correctional facility, that the property will be returned forthwith to that person. Property that remains unclaimed for a period of 120 days after the date of such notice may be disposed of by the property clerk according to law.

(b) Notice of commencement of a forfeiture proceeding by the property clerk shall include a statement of the grounds upon which the property clerk seeks to justify the continued retention of the property. Any such proceeding shall provide the claimant and any other interested persons with an adequate opportunity to be heard within a reasonable period of time. In any such proceeding the property clerk shall bear the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that the property clerk is legally justified to continue to retain the property.

CASE NOTES

¶ 1. Petitioners brought an action under 42 U.S.C. §1983, alleging that the seizure of their vehicles, following their arrests for driving while intoxicated, violated their civil rights. They had all pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of driving while impaired. They alleged that as a matter of due process under the Constitution and the Administrative Code, they were entitled to "probable cause" hearings on the merits of their cases, but the court rejected that claim. In effect, this means that a person whose vehicle is seized must wait and see whether the Property Clerk starts a forfeiture proceeding within the 25 day period set forth in 38 RCNY § 12-36 . If the Property Clerk fails to do so, they get their vehicles back. If the Property Clerk brings a forfeiture action within the deadline period, the vehicle owner has a right to be heard at that time. Krimstock v. (a) Where the person from whom the property was taken makes a timely demand to the police property clerk for the return of the property, the property clerk shall return the property to the claimant unless an additional claim is made in writing or in person within 25 days of the claimant's demand, in which case the property clerk shall within five days of the date of the additional claim provide each interested person (including the original claimant) with the name and address of all such interested persons, and shall retain the property pending a disposition of the matter between the persons who claim it. CHAPTER 12 RETURN OF PROPERTY FROM PROPERTY CLERK DIVISION

SUBCHAPTER C*4 PROCEDURES RELATING TO PROPERTY RECOVERED IN THE VICINITY OF THE WORLD TRADE CENTER SITE SUBSEQUENT TO THE TERRORIST ATTACK OF SEPTEMBER 11, 2001

§12-51 Introduction.

Following the attack of September 11, 2001, the City of New York undertook extraordinary efforts to locate and preserve items of personal property recovered in the vicinity of the World Trade Center site. Property was found and vouchered at three major locations: Ground Zero itself, the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, and a special facility at Fresh Kills landfill where police officers sorted through tons of material recovered from the disaster site. The Property Clerk has cleansed, sorted, collated, and categorized all property that came into the custody of the Police Department following the terrorist attack. The Property Clerk has conducted and continues to conduct comprehensive investigations, utilizing available technology, with the goal of determining ownership of each piece of property, regardless of the property's value.

Where the Police Department has been able to establish the ownership of specific items that were recovered, those items have been returned to their owners. Thus far, property from approximately 72% of the 26,779 vouchers containing items recovered, has been returned. Ownership of the remaining vouchered property has yet to be determined. The Police Department recognizes that, whatever the monetary value of an individual piece of property may be, it may have great value to the survivors and family members of those whose lives were lost. As demonstrated by numerous requests from family members, this is particularly so as to jewelry that has been recovered. Therefore, the Police Department has committed special resources to examine and classify lost jewelry and has created a special questionnaire to assist individuals who may wish to make a claim for such items. Out of respect and concern for those who were killed and their family members, and the survivors of the attack, the City is establishing special procedures for individuals to provide the Property Clerk with information needed to determine the ownership of unclaimed jewelry remaining in the custody of the Property Clerk.

The Police Department will also continue to process requests for the return of property other than jewelry made pursuant to the regular procedures of the Property Clerk.

Because of the volume of items and the number of possible claims, it may be some time before ownership of claimed items can be determined. In many cases, claims may be made for items that have never been recovered. In many other cases, claims may be made for items with respect to which it is not possible to make a determination of ownership. For example, it may ultimately prove virtually impossible to ascertain ownership of certain property because of its generic nature or its condition when recovered. The ultimate disposition of items which are not claimed, or of items ownership of which cannot be determined, will be decided at a future time after people have had the opportunity to file claims as provided in this subchapter.

Section 10-106 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York requires that found property be turned into a police station, where it will in turn be transmitted to the Property Clerk. Section 14-140 of the Code authorizes the Property Clerk to take custody of certain types of property, including property, which is lost, and to dispose of lost property by rules enacted pursuant to General Municipal Law §250.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

CHAPTER 13 SPECIAL PATROLMEN*1

§13-01 Appointment.

(a) Pursuant to New York City Administrative Code §14-106, the Police Commissioner may appoint Special Patrolmen upon application by individuals whose employers demonstrate need for such appointment.

(b) Applications for appointment as Special Patrolman from employees, properly endorsed by the following agencies or institutions, shall be given consideration:

(1) City and state governmental agencies.

(2) Housing complexes.

(3) Hospitals, cemeteries and social welfare agencies.

(4) Educational and cultural institutions, schools, libraries, museums, etc.

(5) Financial institutions and business entities.

(6) As deemed appropriate by the Police Commissioner.

(c) Special Patrolmen are appointed in connection with special duties of employment, and such designation confers limited Peace Officer powers upon the employee pursuant to New York State Criminal Procedure Law §2.10(27). The exercise of these powers is limited to the employee's geographical area of employment and only while such employee is actually on duty. Such duties of employment may include:

(1) Issuing of summonses; or

(2) Making arrests and issuing desk appearance tickets; or

(3) Controlling crowds and maintaining order in governmental or public buildings.

(d) Special Patrolman designations shall be renewed every two years upon a showing, to the satisfaction of the Police Commissioner, of continuing fitness of the employee, continuing necessity by the employer, i.e., that the duties and responsibilities of the positions require the special powers conferred by the New York City Administrative Code and New York State Criminal Procedure Law.

(e) To be eligible for appointment as a Special Patrolman, an applicant shall be of good character, as more specifically defined in these rules, cooperate in a background investigation by the License Division of the Police Department and possess the following qualifications:

(1) A citizen of the United States and resident of the City of New York unless exempted by law.

(2) Presently employed or about to be employed for the purpose of performing duties as specified in §13-01(b) above, within the City of New York for an employer approved by the Police Department. Appointments are made for the benefit of the employing agency, institution or business entity, at whose request the appointment is made, and the duration of the appointment shall be coterminous with such employment.

(3) No record of convictions for any felony or serious offense as enumerated in §265.00(17) of the New York State Penal Law. If an applicant presents a Certificate of Relief from Disabilities for a conviction as aforesaid, consideration shall be given to the circumstances of the underlying arrest, the age of the applicant when arrested, the time elapsed since the occurrence of the act which led to the arrest and conviction, and the subsequent conduct of the applicant.

(4) Be at least 21 years of age at the time of appointment.

(5) If discharged from the military service, it shall not have been dishonorably.

(6) Not possess a condition or disability which, even with reasonable accommodations, would prevent the performance of the essential functions of Special Patrolman.

(f) In addition to the above, applicants for Special Patrolman designation may be disapproved by failure to meet character requirements as disclosed by a background investigation. This determination shall be based upon a review of the circumstances of previous arrests, employment records, mental history, reports of misconduct reflecting on character as referred to above, and any other pertinent records or information.

(g) An applicant may be disapproved if a false statement is made on the application.

(h) All applicants shall be fingerprinted upon the filing of the application on forms provided by the License Division. A processing fee, required by the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services, shall be paid at the time the applicant is fingerprinted, by a money order payable to the N.Y.S. Division of Criminal Justice Services. An application fee shall also be paid at that time, by certified check or money order made payable to the N.Y.C. Police Department. The following items of information shall be provided by applicants: Court disposition of any arrest in which Police Department records do not indicate a final determination; two color photos $1\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ inches, front view, taken within the past thirty (30) days; certified copy of birth certificate; certified copy of DD214 and military discharge; proof of residence; if foreign born, naturalization certificate; handgun license or rifle/shotgun permit if applicable; driver's license or New York State Department of Motor Vehicles identification card. All application forms shall be typed and notarized, and co-signed by the employer's Chief of Security. The Special Patrolman Section shall be notified at least three (3) business days prior to any scheduled appointments if the applicant is unable to appear.

(i) During the pendency of the application, the applicant shall notify the License Division of any necessary correction to or modification of the information provided in the original application, or any change in her/his status or circumstances, which may be relevant to the application.

(j) An employer seeking approval to employ one or more Special Patrolmen shall be evaluated utilizing the following criteria:

(1) Demonstrated need for Special Patrolman services.

(2) Financial ability to support adequate compensation, uniform, training, and supervision expenses.

(3) Establishment of training program and sufficient management supervision.

(4) Character and reputation of employer including any criminal activity associated with employer's operations.

(5) Prior experiences with Special Patrolmen engaged by employer.

(6) Compliance with the rules and requirements of this chapter.

(k) Once an application for Special Patrolman appointment has been disapproved, or appointment once granted has been revoked, the disqualified individual shall be ineligible to file a new application for at least two (2) years, unless reinstated earlier after a suspension or revocation hearing.

(l) Each Special Patrolman shall be required to sign an acknowledgment that s/he shall be responsible for compliance with all laws, rules, regulations, standards, and procedures promulgated by federal, state, or local jurisdictions, and by federal, state, or local law enforcement agencies, that are applicable to her/his appointment. The License Division shall provide the Special Patrolman with the acknowledgment statement. This acknowledgment statement shall be notarized. Failure to execute the acknowledgment statement and to have it notarized shall result in disapproval of the application.

(m) Special Patrolmen shall cooperate with all reasonable requests by the Police Department for information and assistance in matters relating to their designation.

(n) If her/his application for special patrolman appointment is disapproved the applicant shall receive a written "Notice of Application Disapproval" from the License Division indicating the reason(s) for the disapproval. If the applicant wishes to appeal the decision s/he shall submit a sworn written statement, which shall be known as an "Appeal of Application Disapproval," to the Division Head, License Division, within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on the "Notice of Application Disapproval" requesting an appeal of the denial, and setting forth the reasons supporting the appeal. The Appeal of Application Disapproval shall become part of the application. It shall state the grounds for the appeal and shall contain the following statement to be signed by the applicant and notarized: "Under penalty of perjury, deponent being duly sworn, says that s/he is familiar with all of the statements contained herein and that each of these statements is true, and no pertinent facts have been omitted." Appeals that are unsworn by the applicant or submitted by individuals or business entities other than the applicant or her/his New York State licensed attorney shall not be accepted. All timely appeals shall receive a complete review of the applicant's entire file by the Division Head, License Division, who shall notify the applicant of her/his determination. The Division Head, License Division shall not consider any documentation that was not submitted during the initial background investigation. There shall be no personal interviews to discuss appeals. If the appeal of her/his disapproval is denied, the applicant shall receive a "Notice of Disapproval After Appeal" letter from the Division Head, License Division. This notice concludes the Police Department's administrative review procedure.

CHAPTER 15 ADJUDICATIONS

SUBCHAPTER A DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS AGAINST CIVILIAN AND UNIFORM MEMBERS BEFORE THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF TRIALS*1

§15-03 Pre-Hearing Proceeding.

(a) Charges and Specifications. Charges and specifications shall be served upon the respondent and shall include a brief statement of the disciplinary matters to be adjudicated, including the activity, behavior or incident which is the subject of the disciplinary action and, where appropriate, the date, time and place of occurrence. Additionally, the Charges and Specifications shall identify the contract provision, law, policy, regulation or rule that was allegedly violated. Charges and Specifications may be amended upon notice to all parties.

(b) Service of Charges and Specifications. (1) The Department shall be responsible for serving the respondent with Charges and Specifications. The Charges and Specifications shall be accompanied by notice of the respondent's right to reply and the time limits within which to do so pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, and the requirement that the individual representing the respondent shall file a Notice of Appearance with the Deputy Commissioner of Trials, prior to engaging in any act of representation.

(2) Service of the Charges and Specifications shall be made pursuant to statute, rule, contract, or other provision of law applicable to the proceeding being initiated. Absent any such applicable law, service of the Charges and Specifications shall be made in a manner reasonably calculated to achieve actual notice to the respondent. Service by certified mail, return receipt requested, contemporaneously with service by regular first-class mail, to the respondent's last address known to the Department, shall be presumed to be reasonably calculated to achieve actual notice.

Appropriate proof of service shall be required.

(c) Response to Charges and Specifications. If Charges and Specifications are served personally, the respondent shall have the opportunity to reply to them within eight days of service. If Charges and Specifications are served by mail, the respondent shall have the opportunity to reply to them within thirteen days of their mailing date. Upon good cause shown, the Deputy Commissioner of Trials may fix different time periods within which to reply.

(d) Notice of Scheduling Conference or Hearing. (1) The Department shall serve the respondent with notice of the date, time and place of the Scheduling Conference or Hearing. The Scheduling Conference shall be conducted for purposes of setting a timetable within which to proceed with the Hearing. A Hearing shall be afforded to the respondent within a reasonable time. A Notice of Hearing shall contain a statement of the authority and jurisdiction under which the Hearing is being conducted, notice of the respondent's right to be represented by an attorney or other representative, the require- ment that the respondent's representative file a Notice of Appearance with the Deputy Commissioner of Trials prior to engaging in any act of representation and notice that failure of the respondent or the respondent's representative to appear may result in an adverse decision and waiver of the right to a Hearing or other disposition as against the respondent.

(2) The Notice of Hearing or Scheduling Conference shall be served personally or by mail. Appropriate proof of service shall be required. If the respondent is served personally, there shall be at least eight days notice provided. If respondent is served by mail at least thirteen days notice shall be provided, from the time of mailing. The Deputy Commissioner of Trials may modify these time periods.

(e) Adjournments. (1) Hearing dates are firm commitments and will not be adjourned absent extraordinary circumstances. Scheduling Conferences and Hearings will begin promptly at 10 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m., if necessary. All Hearings shall be continued on consecutive days until concluded absent special circumstances. Where appropriate, Hearings may be conducted on weekends and holidays.

(2) Applications for adjournments shall be made to the Deputy Commissioner of Trials upon sufficient notice to other parties. Adjournments will be granted or denied by the Deputy Commissioner of Trials upon good cause shown. The Deputy Commissioner of Trials shall have authority to set an adjourned date. If an adjournment is granted, and it is not noted on the record, the requesting party shall confirm the adjournment, in writing, with other interested parties.

(3) A party requesting an adjournment because of a conflicting engagement shall file an Affirmation of Actual Engagement with the Deputy Commissioner of Trials, prior to a ruling sought on that basis. A copy of such Affirmation shall be served on the adverse party. The Affirmation shall state the name and nature of the conflicting matter, the court or tribunal hearing the matter, the judge before whom it is scheduled, the date when the conflicting engagement became known to counsel, and the date, time, place and approximate duration of the other engagement.

(4) The Deputy Commissioner of Trials may determine that a case will proceed on an expedited basis and direct shortened pre-trial and post-trial proceedings including expedited notice periods and calendaring.

(f) Discovery. (1) Informal discovery and the exchange of information is encouraged. Department disciplinary proceedings are not bound by formal discovery techniques or rules of civil procedure. Requests for production of relevant documents, identification of trial witnesses and inspection of real evidence to be introduced at the Hearing may be directed between the parties without leave of the Deputy Commissioner of Trials. Privileged and confidential matters shall not be subject to disclosure.

(2) Any discovery dispute shall be presented to the Deputy Commissioner of Trials sufficiently in advance of the Hearing to allow for a timely determination. Discovery motions are subject to the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner of Trials. The timeliness of discovery requests and responses, and of discovery related motions, the complexity of the case, the need for the requested discovery, and the relative resources of the parties will be among the factors within the Deputy Commissioner of Trial's exercise of discretion.

(g) Pre-Hearing motions. Pre-Hearing motions and other preliminary matters shall be consolidated and addressed to the Deputy Commissioner of Trials as promptly as possible and sufficiently in advance of the Hearing to permit the rendering of a timely decision.

(4) Except for ministerial matters, and except on consent, or in an emergency, communications with the Deputy Commissioner of Trials concerning a case shall only occur with all parties present. If the Deputy Commissioner of Trials receives an "ex parte" communication concerning the merits of a case to which he or she is assigned, then he or she shall promptly disclose the communication by placing it on the record, in detail, including all written and oral communications and identifying all individuals with whom he or she has communicated. A party desiring to rebut the "ex parte" communication shall be allowed to do so upon request.

(f) Official notice. The Deputy Commissioner of Trials may take official notice of any fact which may be judicially noticed by the courts of New York State. Notice may be taken before or after submission of a case for decision on request of a party or "sua sponte".

(g) Public access to hearings. Hearings shall be open to the public unless the Deputy Commissioner of Trials finds a legally recognizable ground for closure of all or a portion of the Hearing. The Deputy Commissioner of Trials may also exclude witnesses from the Hearing room during proceedings other than their own testimony.

(h) Disposition by settlement. Unless precluded by law, informal disposition may be made of any matter which is the subject of an adjudication by methods of alternative dispute resolution, stipulation, agreed settlement, or consent order.

(i) Transcripts. Hearings shall be stenographically recorded. A copy of the transcript or record, or any part thereof, shall be made available to any party to the Hearing for a reasonable cost upon request.

This chapter shall apply to all persons who transport or deliver one or more weapons into or within any location in the City of New York, except that it shall not apply to:

(a) the transitory shipment of weapons through New York City to a final destination outside of New York City. However, if the operator of the vehicle containing a transitory shipment of weapons experiences an unanticipated delay as that term is defined in §16-01 of this chapter, such operator shall immediately report to the nearest Police Department facility the following information:

(1) her/his current location;

(2) the location of the transporting vehicle;

(3) the cause of the unanticipated delay;

(4) the expected duration of the shipment's presence in the City; and

(5) how the shipment shall be secured during its stay in the City.

In the case of such delay, the officer receiving such notice may direct the vehicle operator to take reasonably necessary measures to secure the weapons shipment, or the officer may seize and secure the weapons until such time that the shipper makes alternative arrangements which are acceptable to the officer.

(b) the shipment or delivery of five (5) or fewer weapons from one licensed weapons dealer located in New York City directly to another licensed weapons dealer located in New York City. However, the manner of storage of such weapons during their transportation shall be in compliance with §16-05 of this chapter.

§16-03 Authorization to Transport or Deliver Firearms.

(a) No person shall transport or deliver, or cause to be transported or delivered, weapons into or within the City of New York where s/he knows or has reasonable means of ascertaining what s/he is transporting, without first obtaining written authorization to do so from the Police Commissioner.

(b) A request by any person for authorization to transport or deliver weapons shall be made in writing to the Commanding Officer, License Division, New York City Police Department, One Police Plaza, Room 110A, New York, New York 10038, or by Facsimile transmission (212) 374-2828, so as to be received by the License Division at least ten (10) calendar days prior to the transportation within the City of New York. Such request shall include the following information:

(1) The name and address of the source of the shipment of weapons. If the source is a corporation, the name of the president or authorized representative of such corporation shall be included.

(2) The number of weapons, including the manufacturer's name, caliber, and model identification, for each type of weapon being transported.

(3) The name of the shipping company, if different from the source of the shipment, including the address and telephone number of the company's headquarters.

(4) The day, date, and the estimated time and place of arrival of the shipment into New York City.

(5) The name, address, and weapons dealer's or gunsmith's license number of the person authorized to receive the shipment in New York City.

(6) The type of vehicle to be used by the source of the shipment, or the shipping company, including any distinctive company logos or markings on the vehicle.

(7) A photocopy of the driver's license of the person scheduled to make the delivery, and a photocopy of the driver's license of an alternate driver who may be required by the source of the shipment, or the shipping company, to substitute for the principally scheduled delivery person.

(8) The application for permission to transport weapons shall contain the following statement, subscribed and sworn to by the applicant before a notary public, commissioner of deeds, or other comparable official: "I, _____, the applicant for permission to transport weapons within or through the City of New York, state that such weapons shall be transported in an unloaded condition, and in a manner that conforms with §16-05 of Chapter 38 of the Rules of the City of New York, and if upon inspection of the contents of the transporting vehicle it is discovered that such weapons are not secured in a manner conforming with said section, then any permission issued by virtue of this application shall be void and deemed to have never been granted, and it is understood that I and any of my agents, employees, or assignees, may be prosecuted for transporting weapons without permission pursuant to the New York State Penal Law and the New York City Administrative Code, and that the property being transported as well as the means of transport may be seized and forfeited pursuant to law."

(c) If a person seeking permission to transport a weapon pursuant to this section is utilizing a shipping company or other delivery service and is unable to provide information relevant to paragraphs (4), (6) or (7) of subdivision (b) of this section, a separate request for permission to transport shall be submitted by the shipping company or delivery service, which shall include the required information.

(d) Upon receiving a request for authorization to transport or deliver weapons, the Police Commissioner shall cause to be conducted a review of Police Department records to ascertain whether the intended recipient of the weapons shipment or delivery is an authorized person, and whether there exists any information which would otherwise provide a basis for denying authorization to receive such weapons shipment. The Police Commissioner or her/his designee shall then notify the requesting person that such authorization has or has not been granted.

(e) In addition to any other applicable penalties, the Police Commissioner may deny an application submitted pursuant to this chapter if the applicant has previously failed to comply with the provisions of this chapter.

(a) All weapons shall be transported unloaded.

(b) All weapons shall be placed in one or more containers located within the vehicle used for transportation of the weapons. (h)(1) The Police Commissioner may require, as a condition of the authorization to transport or deliver weapons, that shipments of weapons which will be off-loaded from one means of transportation and subsequently on-loaded to the same means or another means of transportation within the city of New York, be escorted by a uniformed member of the New York City Police Department, from the time of on-loading until such point that the shipment has left the jurisdictional boundaries of the City of New York.

(2) If the Police Commissioner elects to impose the escort requirement as a condition of the authorization to transport or deliver weapons, the applicant shall notify the Commanding Officer, License Division, of the day, date, estimated time and place of on-loading of the shipment to the second means of transportation. The escort requirement shall be deemed waived if the escort is not present at the place within the City of New York where the weapons will be on-loaded within thirty minutes of the shipment's estimated time of on-loading and departure.

This rule is promulgated pursuant to the authority of the Police Commissioner under §§389, 435(a), 1043 of the New York City Charter. The Police Department is authorized to regulate, direct and restrict the movement of pedestrians and vehicular traffic to facilitate and to prevent the obstruction of the free passage on the public streets and to disperse unlawful assemblages. Unauthorized parades and processions are detrimental to the health, welfare and safety of the inhabitants of the city, as they substantially increase traffic hazards and the risk of injury to life and limb. Such uses also disturb the public peace and comfort and the peaceful enjoyment by the people of their right to use the public streets for street purposes. Likewise, parades disturb the peace, quiet and comfort of neighboring inhabitants. The proper regulation of parades and processions is essential to protect the health, welfare and safety of the inhabitants of the city, to secure the health, safety, comfort, convenience, and peaceful enjoyment by the people of their right to use the public streets.

These procedures are intended to provide a framework for the Police Department to assure the safety and convenience of the public while allowing the citizens to exercise their rights to assemble and march on public streets.

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Jan. 26, 2007:

The Police Department is charged with preserving the public peace and preserving order at assemblies that obstruct the free passage of public streets and sidewalks. In that connection, the Department is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations governing permits for processions, parades and races that occur on City streets and sidewalks. These amendments are intended to clarify the circumstances under which groups using City streets for purposes of assembly are required to obtain a permit. By clarifying the type of activity that constitutes a parade and is thus required to obtain a permit, these rules are designed to protect the health and safety of participants in group events on the public streets and members of the public who find themselves in the vicinity of these events.

Accordingly, in response to public comments received, the definition of parade is amended to include groups of 50 or more pedestrians, vehicles, bicycles or other devices moved by human power that proceed together on public streets.

Each of these types of activities has the likelihood to significantly disrupt vehicular and pedestrian traffic and adversely affect public health and safety, unless subject to regulatory control via the permitting process. The amendments to the rules will permit the Police Department to adequately preserve the public peace and prevent obstructions of public streets and sidewalks. In addition, these amendments have the added benefit of making it clear to all members of the public the circumstances under which parade permits must be sought.

These rules are also amended to clarify who may apply for a parade permit. So as to make it possible for someone who promotes, but does not organize, a parade to apply for a permit, these rules clarify that any person or entity that publicizes a parade through advertisements or other means of mass communication may apply for a parade permit.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter 19 added City Record June 27, 2001 eff. July 27, 2001. Note further provisions:

This rule is promulgated pursuant to the authority of the Police Commissioner under §§389, 435(a), 1043 of the New York City Charter. The Police Department is authorized to regulate, direct and restrict the movement of pedestrians and vehicular traffic to facilitate and to prevent the obstruction of the free passage on the public streets and to disperse unlawful assemblages. Unauthorized parades and processions are detrimental to the health, welfare and safety of the inhabitants of the city, as they substantially increase traffic hazards and the risk of injury to life and limb. Such uses also disturb the public peace and comfort and the peaceful enjoyment by the people of their right to use the public streets for street purposes. Likewise, parades disturb the peace, quiet and comfort of neighboring inhabitants. The proper regulation of parades and processions is essential to protect the health, welfare and safety of the inhabitants of the city, to secure the health, safety, comfort, convenience, and peaceful enjoyment by the people of their right to use the public streets.

These procedures are intended to provide a framework for the Police Department to assure the safety and convenience of the public while allowing the citizens to exercise their rights to assemble and march on public streets.

(vi) The application proposes activities which would violate subdivisions 1, 4, 5, 6 or 7 of §240.20 of the Penal Law, and would otherwise present an unreasonable danger to the health or safety of the applicant, parade participants or other members of the public, or cause damage to public or private property.

(a) It is the intent of these Rules not to alter the rights afforded to police officers by the Police Department Patrol Guide with respect to interviews so as to diminish such rights, including but not limited to the right to notice of an interview, the right to counsel, and the right not to be compelled to incriminate oneself.

(b) A member of the Police Department who is the subject of a complaint shall be given two business days notice prior to the date of an interview, to obtain and consult with counsel. (e) Interviews shall be scheduled at a reasonable hour, and reasonable requests for interview scheduling or rescheduling shall be accommodated. If possible, an interview with a police officer shall be scheduled when such officer is on duty and during daytime hours. CHAPTER 1 RULES OF THE CIVILIAN COMPLAINT REVIEW BOARD

SUBCHAPTER E ADMINISTRATIVE PROSECUTION*1

§1-41 Introduction.

It is the intent of this subchapter to implement the provisions of the Memorandum of Understanding executed by the Board and the Police Department during the period that such MOU is applicable. Upon substantiation by the Board of one or more allegations of excessive use of force, abuse of authority, discourtesy or use of offensive language, the Board shall undertake the responsibility for administrative prosecution of the case. The Board shall independently conduct its administrative prosecution. At the conclusion of the administrative prosecution, the Board shall forward to the Commissioner a final recommendation reflecting the results of its prosecution of the case. The Commissioner shall retain in all respects the authority and discretion to make final disciplinary determinations.

[Footnote 1]: * Subchapter E added City Record June 15, 2001 eff. June 25, 2001, note further provisions:

Statement of Substantial Need For Early Rule Implementation The Civilian Complaint Review Board (Board) hereby finds, pursuant to §1043, subdivision e, paragraph 1(c) of the City Charter, that there is substantial need for the implementation, upon its publication in the City Record, of the Board's rule implementing the provisions of a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the Board and the Police Department, pursuant to which the board will conduct administrative prosecutions of substantiated civilian complaints against Police Department uniformed officers in proceedings conducted by the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings. The Memorandum of Understanding will take effect on June 25, 2001. The Board's schedule precluded adoption of these rule amendments prior to its meeting on June 13, 2001, and made necessary this finding to assure that the rule would be in effect no later than the effective date of the MOU. Prompt implementation of the rules, based on this finding and the Mayor's approval, will assure that the Board will be able to comply with the terms of the MOU on its effective date. The amendments to rules of the Police Department, which are necessary to conform the Police Department's rules to the terms of the MOU, were published in final form on May 24, 2001 and will be effective by operation of law thirty days thereafter, prior to the MOU's effective date. Statement of Basis and Purpose These proposed rules implement the terms of a Memorandum of Understanding between the Police Department and the Board, pursuant to which the Board will take over the administrative prosecution of cases where civilian complaints against uniformed police officers have been substantiated by the Board. Where charges and specifications have been preferred against such uniformed officers, the Board's staff will represent the Department at the required hearing, which will be conducted at the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings. These rules set forth the procedures that will govern both the conduct of the adjudicative hearing and the role of the Board in those administrative prosecutions that do not result in formal hearings.

§1-42 Prosecutorial Discretion.

The Board may in its prosecutorial discretion consider all available levels of Police Department disciplinary penalties in evaluating a substantiated case ranging from informal discipline such as Instructions or Command Discipline through formal discipline of Charges and Specifications. The Board may conduct plea negotiations and reach agreements with subject officers and their attorneys, subject to the Commissioner's approval, or schedule cases for hearing before the New York City Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (OATH). The Board may also elect to recommend that the case be dismissed or otherwise not be prosecuted.

SUBCHAPTER E ADMINISTRATIVE PROSECUTION*1

§1-43 Coordination with Police Department.

In the course of the administrative prosecution, the Board and Police Department shall communicate as necessary to ensure timely and effective prosecution as follows:

(a) The Police Department shall notify the Chair and the Executive Director if an expedited prosecution is necessary, and the Board shall make every reasonable effort to conclude the prosecution and provide a recommendation to the Commissioner within the requested time frame, including contacting OATH as necessary to request expedited procedures as provided in §1-26(c) of Title 48 of the Rules of the City of New York.

(b) The Board may request from the Police Department a summary of the subject officer's employment history, which shall be provided within ten business days of its receipt of the request. The Board may similarly request a summary of employment history for a witness officer upon demonstrating to the Police Department a particularized need for such summary based upon the facts and circumstances of a specific administrative prosecution.

(c) The Police Department shall advise the Board whether the subject officer is on probation, dismissal probation, or the subject of any other type of Police Department monitoring program or procedure relevant to the prosecution of the substantiated com- plaint.

(d) Where the Police Department determines that administrative prosecution of a substantiated civilian complaint would be inadvisable or inappropriate for reasons outside the control of the Board, the Police Department may make a written request to the Chair and the Executive Director that the Board refrain from commencing or continuing its prosecution until such time as the prosecution would no longer interfere with a pending matter or otherwise be inappropriate. The request shall include any explanatory information that the Police Department can reasonably provide. Upon receiving such request, the Board shall not commence or continue a prosecution as requested until it receives a written notification from the Police Department no longer than twenty business days from the Police Department's determination that the prosecution need no longer be delayed.

(e) If the Board becomes aware of possible misconduct which falls outside its jurisdiction of excessive use of force, abuse of authority, discourtesy or use of offensive language, the Board shall immediately refer the allegation of other misconduct to the Police Department for investigation and shall not itself undertake the prosecution of such allegation. The Board shall provide assistance to the Department as requested for purposes of investigation or prosecution of the alleged misconduct. If necessary, the Board and the Police Department shall coordinate their separate prosecutions of such related cases.

§1-49 Mediation.

(a) A complainant may choose to resolve a complaint by means of mediation, provided the subject officer agrees to mediation as provided herein, and unless the Board or a panel thereof determines that the complainant is not appropriate for mediation.

(b) Unless the Board or panel thereof determines that a complaint is not appropriate for mediation, a complainant requesting mediation and the subject officer shall be sent a notice formally offering them the opportunity to voluntarily engage in the mediation process.

(c) Both the complainant and the subject officer must agree to mediation within ten days of such notification being sent in order for mediation to proceed. In the event one or both parties do not agree to mediation, the complaint shall be referred to Board investigatory personnel for investigation. The mediator shall be designated by the Executive Director.

(d) Written notice of the time, date and location of the first mediation session shall provided to each party. Such notice shall be accompanied by a description of procedures and guidelines for mediation. Subsequent session(s) shall be scheduled by the mediator if the mediation is not completed at the first session.

(e) Those present at the mediation session shall include the complainant, the subject officer and the mediator. Where appropriate, arrangements may be made for a translator or interpreter to be present. In the case of a complainant

(h) If mediation is successful, the parties shall sign an agreement stating that each believes the issues have been satisfactorily resolved. The mediator shall advise the Board that the mediation has been successfully concluded, and the Board shall forward this information to the Police Commissioner.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record July 6, 2009:

Overview

The Civilian Complaint Review Board currently closes certain cases without conducting a full investigation, for example, when a complainant withdraws a complaint, cannot be located or does not co-operate with an investigation.

Under the Board's existing rules, such cases could only be closed following a vote by a panel of the Board.

During the period 2003 to 2007, 18,873 cases were submitted by staff to panels of the Board with the recommendation that they be closed without conducting a full investigation. The Board accepted such recommendation in 18,869 such cases. The Board, therefore, determined to amend the rules so as to authorize the Executive Director or an authorized senior staff member to close certain cases without their first being referred to a panel. Such authorization is subject to such limitations as may from time to time be determined by the Board.

The Board determined that the revised rule will permit cases to be closed without conducting a full investigation, in appropriate circumstances, more speedily and at less cost to the Board, without adversely affecting the interests of the public or of police officers.

The Board also conducted a review of its other rules, and determined that certain of them, such as the rule dealing with the referral of certain cases to other agencies and that dealing with the re-opening of cases, should be revised so as to provide greater clarity, consistency and efficiency.

Detailed Changes

Amended rule §1-13 clarifies the language dealing with the referral of complaints to other agencies and provides that where a complaint contains allegations falling partly within the sole jurisdiction of another agency and partly within the jurisdiction both of such other agency and of the Board, the Board or the Executive Director may refer the entire complaint to the other agency if the person making the determination determines that it is appropriate for the entire complaint to be investigated by one single agency.

Amended rule §1-22 is deleted, to the extent that it deals with complaints concerning persons or matters not within the jurisdiction of the Board or not stating a prima facie case. Such matters are now dealt with by §§1-33(12) and (13) and §1-34.

Amended rule §1-31 clarifies the language dealing with the assignment of cases to panels of the Board and codifies the existing practice regarding the assignment of Board members to panels, whereby each such panel contains at least one member designated by the city council, at least one designated by the police commissioner and at least one designated by the mayor.

The Amended rules delete §1-32(b), relating to cases recommended to be closed under §1-22, because the relevant provision of §1-22 is itself deleted. Such provision in §1-22 is replaced by §§1-33(12) and (13).

Amended rule §1-32(c) (formerly §1-32(d)) provides that cases referred to the full Board shall be so referred for consideration by the Board, and not, as at present, as provided in §1-41 (which concerns the administrative prosecution of cases by the Board). This change is to correct a manifest error.

Amended rule §1-33(d) simplifies certain terms used in case dispositions, so as to make them easier to understand, and defines other terms for the first time.

Amended rule §1-34 authorizes the Board or the Executive Director to close without conducting a full investigation cases in which a complainant voluntarily withdraws a complaint, a complainant or alleged victim cannot be located, the participation of a complainant or alleged victim was insufficient to enable the Board to conduct a full investigation, a subject officer cannot be identified or ceases to be employed by the police department as a police officer, a complaint is referred to another agency, does not fall within the jurisdiction of the Board or does not state a prima facie case, a case is mediated or a complainant or alleged victim agrees to mediate a case but subsequently does not participate in a mediation, or as from time to time determined by the Board. Prior to the closure of any case under §1-34, board members must be afforded an opportunity to review such case.

Amended rule §1-47 permits, subject to such limitations as the Board may by resolution from time to time determine, Board members to attend and vote by videoconference at a meeting of the Board or a panel.

Amended rule §1-50 changes the provisions concerning the re-opening of cases. Under the amended rule, the Executive Director may at the written request of a complainant or alleged victim re-open any case closed without a full investigation and must refer to a panel or the full Board for its decision any such request which he or she decides not to grant. The amended rule removes the requirement that any request to re-open a case be made within 18 months of its closure but provides that any person considering such a request shall have full discretion in making his or her determination and may properly consider, among other things, any delays on the part of the person requesting that the case be re-opened, and the practicability of conducting a full investigation within any applicable limitation period.

Amended rule §1-51 provides that where authority is granted under the rules to the Executive Director, such authority shall (except in relation to certain complaints containing allegations falling within the jurisdiction both of the Board and of another agency) be exercisable either by the Executive Director or by such members of the senior staff of the Board as the Executive Director may from time to time determine; and that the authority granted under the rules to the Executive Director shall be subject to such limitations as the Board may by resolution from time to time determine. This provision will ensure an appropriate degree of administrative flexibility, under the control of the Board, in the Board's operations.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. An inmate's right to present witnesses is limited because of the danger which may result from violence or intimidation directed at other inmates or staff. Thus, an inmate responding to charges at a disciplinary hearing has no unqualified right to present witnesses, and may not confront or cross-examine adverse witnesses. Otero v. Title 39 Department of Correction

CHAPTER 1 INMATE RULE BOOK*1

§1-05 Penalties.

(a) Introduction. If you are found guilty of violating a Department rule of conduct, your penalty will depend on the seriousness of your offense. Grade I offenses are the most serious and Grade III offenses are the least serious. The penalty will also depend on the facts and circumstances of your case. If you have a good explanation or justification for your actions-what is known as "mitigating circumstances"-you may receive a less severe penalty.

Any of the penalties set forth below, or a combination of them, may be imposed on you for violating Department rules of conduct.

(b) Reprimand. You may lose one or more privileges, temporarily or permanently, except that:

(i) You will not be deprived of the right to receive visitors, although contact visits may be replaced with non-contact visits.

(ii) You will not be deprived of the right to send or receive mail.

(iii) You will not be deprived of the right to contact legal counsel.

(iv) You will not be deprived of the right to have recreation as a sanction for an infraction.

(c) Loss of Good Time. If you are sentenced and serving your time in a Department facility, you may lose good time.

(i) You may lose all your good time for a Grade I offense.

(ii) The maximum that you can lose for a Grade II offense is two-thirds of all of your good time.

(iii) The maximum that you can lose for a Grade III offense is one-third of all of your good time.

(d) Punitive Segregation.

(i) The maximum period of punitive segregation for a Grade I offense is ninety (90) days for each disciplinary charge.

(ii) The maximum period for a Grade II offense is twenty (20) days for each disciplinary charge.

(iii) The maximum period for a Grade III offense is ten (10) days for each disciplinary charge.

(e) Restitution. If you are found guilty of damaging or destroying City property, you may be ordered to pay restitution, which can be as much as the replacement cost of the item or property, plus the labor costs of fixing or replacing the item you damaged or destroyed. If you are found guilty of an assault that causes a need for medical services, you can be ordered to make a restitution payment towards the cost to the City of providing such medical services.

(f) Repeated offenses. The third time you are found guilty of a rule of conduct violation for the same offense during the same period of incarceration, you may be sentenced to a penalty that applies to the next higher grade of offenses. For example, the third time you are found guilty of violating a specific Grade III offense during the same period of incarceration, you may be given a Grade II penalty. Similarly, the third time you are found guilty of violating a specific Grade II offense during the same period of incarceration, you may be given a Grade I penalty.

(g) Surcharge. A disciplinary surcharge, in the maximum amount allowed by law, may be imposed on you for violating a rule of conduct.

§1-06 Appeals.

You have the right to appeal an adverse decision rendered by the Adjudication Captain within two (2) business days of service of the decision. If you have been sentenced to a total of thirty (30) days or more of punitive segregation or loss of all your good time on any one (1) Notice of Disciplinary Disposition (6500D), your appeal shall be forwarded to the General Counsel in the Department's Legal Division. Within five (5) business days of the receipt of your appeal, you will receive a written decision from the General Counsel regarding such appeal, unless further documentation/information is required by the General Counsel to decide your appeal. In those cases, the five (5) business day limit shall be extended and the reasons for the extensions will be noted on the General Counsel's decision to you. If you receive an unfavorable decision from General Counsel within ten (10) business days of the receipt of your appeal, you may file a petition for a writ under Article 78 of the CPLR. If you are sentenced to less than thirty (30) days punitive segregation or loss of less than all of your good time, you may appeal that decision to the Warden of the facility where the infraction occurred.

HISTORICAL NOTE

STATEMENTS OF BASIS AND PURPOSE 1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Sept. 12, 2007: The Commissioner of the New York City Department of Correction is authorized by Sections 389, 623 and 1043 of the City Charter and §9-114 of the Administrative Code to adopt rules relating to the management of Department of Correction facilities and the conduct of inmates in such facilities. General Description of Changes The proposed rules would amend Sections 1-01, 1-02 and 1-03 of Title 39 of the Rules of the City of New York. The purpose of the proposed rules is to further deter inmate misconduct and increase inmate compliance with institutional rules and regulations, thereby maintaining the good order of and increasing safety at the City's correctional institutions. The proposed rules incorporate many of the previously promulgated rules of conduct and also include new prohibitions, including: testing positive for alcohol or illegal drugs/substances; refusing to provide a sample for random drug/alcohol and possessing electronic telecommunication and/or recording devices. In addition, the penalties for violations of certain rules of conduct have been increased. These additional rules and enhanced penalties have been determined to be necessary to further deter the entrance and use of contraband into Department of Correction facilities by inmates or their agents and to further deter misconduct, thereby positively affecting the good order of, and safety at, the City's correctional institutions. Specific Changes Initially Published for Comment The list of areas of prohibited behavior in former §1-01 was omitted as duplicative of the list of rules of conduct fully described in §1-03. Proposed §1-01 introduces the Inmate Rule Book and informs the public that all inmates will be provided separately with additional information on certain subjects of these rules. Former §1-02(a), "Due process-detainees in high security categories", has been updated and renumbered as §1-04, entitled "Hearing Procedures". Significant amendments include the notification that the Department is not required to provide inmates with the source of confidential information (1-03(a)(1)(ii)); a clarification of the requirements to permit inmates to call witnesses at their due process hearings (1-03(a)(2)(iii)) and of the right to cross-examine witnesses (1-03(a)(2)(iv)); and the renaming of the "counsel substitute" as "hearing facilitator". Former §1-02(b), "Homosexual housing", has been deleted from these rules because the Department no longer designates any housing areas as homosexual housing. Former §1-02(c), "Centrally monitored case", has been deleted from these rules because the designation of an inmate as a "centrally monitored case" is an internal administrative categorization that does not itself affect housing, method of restraint, or any other incident of confinement that implicates an inmate's due process rights. Former §1-02(d), "Confiscation of property", has been clarified and replaced with proposed §1-02(a), "Property". Former §1-02(e), "Recreation", has been clarified and replaced with proposed §1-02(b), "Recreation". Former §1-02(f), "Religious services", has been clarified and replaced with proposed §1-02(c), "Religious rights". Former §1-02(g), "Telephone calls", has been clarified and replaced with proposed §1-02(d), "Telephone calls". Former §1-02(h), "Visiting", has been clarified and replaced with proposed §1-02(e), "Visits". Former §1-03, "Inmate Discipline", has been renamed "Rules of Conduct". Former §1-03(a) has been consolidated with former §1-02(a) as a proposed §1-04, "Hearing Procedures", which is described above. Former §1-03(b), "Penalties that can be administered", and 1-03(c), "Normative range of penalties", have been consolidated and renumbered as proposed §1-05, "Penalties". The majority of the changes in these sections are for clarification only. Additionally, the maximum period of punitive segregation for all Grade I offenses will be 90 days for each disciplinary charge (proposed §1-05(d)(1)). Former §1-03(d), "Categories of offenses and consequent penalties", has been reorganized and renumbered as proposed §1-03, "Rules of Conduct". Proposed §1-03(a) introduces the rules and states that the acts of conspiracy, attempt, and accessory will be punishable to the same degree as the actual offense involved. Proposed §1-03(b) would provide definitions for the terms "accessory", "any person", "attempt", "contraband", "conspiracy", "good time", "security risk group", and "unauthorized group". Proposed §1-03(c), "Prohibited conduct", lists the specific actions that are prohibited for inmates in Department custody, with the grade of each offense. This section has been edited for clarity and reorganized to incorporate the rule numbering in effect in the Department. Additionally, the following conduct is now prohibited: The possession, sale, exchange, or distribution of tobacco and tobacco-related products (proposed Rules 103.05 and 103.07) and alcohol (proposed Rule 103.08) The possession of any type of electronic telecommunication and/or recording device or part thereof (proposed Rule 103.12.5) The refusal to provide a DNA sample as required by law for designated offenders (proposed Rule 129.10) The refusal to provide a sample for random drug/alcohol testing (proposed Rule 130.10) Testing positive for alcohol or drugs (proposed Rules 130.11 and 130.12) Acts of hate (proposed Rules 131.00 and 131.10) Changes Made After Receiving Comments The Department received and reviewed comments from the public after publishing the proposed rules in the City Record on March 12, 2007. The following changes to the proposal have been made as a result of some of these comments: §1-02 Rights and Privileges §1-02 (b) Recreation: This subdivision was amended to indicate that an inmate's right to participate in recreation for a security-related reason will be governed by the standards promulgated by the State Commission of Correction (9 NYCRR §7028.6). §1-02(c) Religious rights: This section is clarified by providing that inmates are to receive more information about their religious rights in jail in accordance with standards promulgated by the State Board of Correction (§1-08). §1-02(d) Telephone calls: This subdivision has been amended to conform to existing local rules. In addition, the right to appeal a Department decision regarding telephone calls is now expressly set forth in this subdivision. §1-02 (e) Visits: The right to appeal a Department decision regarding visits is now expressly set forth in this subdivision. §1-03 Rules of Conduct §104.10 and §104.11 ((5) Count Procedures, Grade II): The term "intentionally" is added to the proscriptions against causing a miscount (§104.10) and delaying the count (§104.11). §109.12 ((10) Disrespect for Staff, Grade II): The term "annoy" has been deleted from the list of actions constituting disrespectful behavior towards staff members. §120.10 ((21) Refusal To Obey a Direct Order, Grade II): The phrase "and without argument" has been deleted from mandate that inmates "promptly and completely" obey all orders of Department staff. §120.11((21) Refusal To Obey a Direct Order, Grade III): The phrase "and without argument" has been deleted from the mandate that inmates "promptly and completely" obey all orders of Department staff. §1-04 Hearing Procedures This section was revised to clarify the process and distinguish between disciplinary infraction, close custody and close custody/protective custody proceedings. §1-05 Penalties (b)(iv): Reprimand With respect to the penalty of "Reprimand", reference is made to the standards of the State Commission of Correction (9 NYCRR §7028.6(a)) with respect to the deprivation of recreation. §1-06 Appeals A new section has been added to describe procedures governing the already existing right to appeal an adverse decision rendered by the Adjudication Captain. This applies to sentences of (1) at least thirty days of punitive segregation or loss of all of one's good time, or (2) less than thirty days of punitive segregation or loss of less than all of one's good time.

Consistent with facility health requirements, prisoners may be required to shower periodically. The shower area shall be cleaned at least once each week.

immediately adjacent and accessible to the sleeping area, except for cells designed or rated for two or more occupants, opened on or prior to January 1, 2000.

(5) A multiple occupancy area shall house no more than:

§1-05 Lock-in.

(a) Policy. The time spent by prisoners confined to their cells should be kept to a minimum and required only when necessary for the safety and security of the facility. The provisions of this section are inapplicable to prisoners confined in punitive segregation or prisoners confined for medical reasons in the contagious disease units.

(b) Involuntary lock-in. No prisoner shall be required to remain confined to his or her cell except for the following purposes:

(1) At night for count or sleep, not to exceed eight hours in any 24-hour period;

(2) During the day for count or required facility business that can only be carried out while prisoners are locked in, not to exceed two hours in any 24-hour period. This time may be extended if necessary to complete an off count.

(c) Optional lock-in. (1) Prisoners shall have the option of being locked in their cells during lock-out periods. Prisoners choosing to lock in at the beginning of a lock-out period of two hours or more shall be locked out upon request after one-half of the period. (2) The Department may deny optional lock-in to a prisoner in mental observation status if a psychiatrist or psychologist determines in writing that optional lock-in poses a serious threat to the safety of that prisoner. A decision to deny optional lock-in must be reviewed every ten days, including a written statement of findings, by a psychiatrist or psychologist. Decisions made by a psychiatrist or psychologist pursuant to this subdivision must be based on personal consultation with the prisoner.

§1-07 Religion.

(a) Policy. Prisoners have an unrestricted right to hold any religious belief, and to be a member of any religious group or organization, as well as to refrain from the exercise of any religious beliefs. A prisoner may change his or her religious affiliation.

(b) Exercise of religious beliefs. (1) Prisoners are entitled to exercise their religious beliefs in any manner that does not constitute a clear and present danger to the safety or security of a facility.

(2) No employee or agent of the Department or of any voluntary program shall be permitted to proselytize or seek to convert any prisoner, nor shall any prisoner be compelled to exercise or be dissuaded from exercising any religious belief.

(3) Equal status and protection shall be afforded all prisoners in the exercise of their religious beliefs except when such exercise is unduly disruptive of facility routine.

(c) Congregate religious activities. (1) Consistent with the requirements of subdivision (a) of this section, all prisoners shall be permitted to congregate for the purpose of religious worship and other religious activities, except for prisoners confined for medical reasons in the contagious disease units.

(2) Each facility shall provide all prisoners access to an appropriate area for congregate religious worship and other religious activities. Consistent with the requirements of paragraph (b)(1) of this section, this area shall be made available to prisoners in accordance with the practice of their religion.

(d) Religious advisors. (1) As used in this section, the term "religious advisor" means a person who has received endorsement from the relevant religious authority.

(2) Religious advisors shall be permitted to conduct congregate religious activities permitted pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section. When no religious advisor is available, a member of a prisoner religious group may be permitted to conduct congregate religious activities.

(3) Consistent with the requirements of paragraph (b)(1) of this section, prisoners shall be permitted confidential consultation with their religious advisors during lock-out periods.

(e) Celebration of religious holidays or festivals. Consistent with the requirements of paragraph (b)(1) of this section, prisoners shall be permitted to celebrate religious holidays or festivals on an individual or congregate basis.

(f) Religious dietary laws. Prisoners are entitled to the reasonable observance of dietary laws or fasts established by their religion. Each facility shall provide prisoners with food items sufficient to meet such religious dietary laws.

(g) Religious articles. Consistent with the requirements of paragraph (b)(1) of this section, prisoners shall be entitled to wear and to possess religious medals or other religious articles, including clothing and hats.

(h) Exercise of religious beliefs by prisoners in segregation. (1) Prisoners confined in administrative or punitive segregation shall not be prohibited from exercising their religious beliefs, including the opportunities provided by subdivisions (d) through (g) of this section.

(2) Congregate religious activities by prisoners in close custody or punitive segregation shall be provided for by permitting such prisoners to attend congregate religious activities with appropriate security either with each other or with other prisoners.

(i) Recognition of a religious group or organization. (1) A list shall be maintained of all religious groups and organizations recognized by the Department. This list shall be in Spanish and English, and shall be distributed to all incoming prisoners or posted in each housing area.

(2) Each facility shall maintain a list of the religious advisor, if any, for each religious group and organization, and the time and place for the congregate service of each religion. This list shall be in Spanish and English, and shall be distributed to all incoming prisoners or posted in each housing area.

(3) Prisoner requests to exercise the beliefs of a religious group or organization not previously recognized shall be made to the Department.

(4) In determining requests made pursuant to paragraph (3) of this subdivision, the following factors among others shall be considered as indicating a religious foundation for the belief:

(i) whether there is substantial literature supporting the belief as related to religious principle;

(ii) whether there is formal, organized worship by a recognizable and cohesive group sharing the belief;

(iii) whether there is an informal association of persons who share common ethical, moral, or intellectual views supporting the belief; or

(iv) whether the belief is deeply and sincerely held by the prisoner.

(5) In determining requests made pursuant to paragraph (3) of this subdivision, the following factors shall not be considered as indicating a lack of religious foundation for the belief:

(i) the belief is held by a small number of individuals;

(ii) the belief is of recent origin;

(iii) the belief is not based on the concept of a Supreme Being or its equivalent; or

(iv) the belief is unpopular or controversial.

(6) In determining requests made pursuant to paragraph (3) of this subdivision, prisoners shall be permitted to present evidence indicating a religious foundation for the belief.

(7) The procedure outlined in paragraphs (1) and (3) of this subdivision shall apply when a prisoner request made pursuant to paragraph (i)(3) of this subdivision is denied.

(j) Limitations on the exercise of religious beliefs. (1) Any determination to limit the exercise of the religious beliefs of any prisoner shall be made in writing, and shall state the specific facts and reasons underlying such determination. A copy of this determination, including the appeal procedure, shall be sent to the Board and to any person affected by the determination within 24 hours of the determination.

(2) This determination must be based on specific acts committed by the prisoner during the exercise of his or her religion that demonstrate a serious and immediate threat to the safety and security of the facility. Prior to any determination, the prisoner must be provided with written notification of the specific charges and the names and statements of the charging parties, and be afforded an opportunity to respond.

(3) Any person affected by a determination made pursuant to this subdivision may appeal such determination to the Board.

(i) The person affected by the determination shall give notice in writing to the Board and the Department of his or her intent to appeal the determination.

Title 40 Board of Correction

CHAPTER 1 CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES*1

§1-08 Access to Courts and Legal Services.

(a) Policy. Prisoners are entitled to access to courts, attorneys, legal assistants and legal materials.

(b) Judicial and administrative proceedings. (1) Prisoners shall not be restricted in their communications with courts or administrative agencies pertaining to either criminal or civil proceedings except pursuant to a court order.

(2) Timely transportation shall be provided to prisoners scheduled to appear before courts or administrative agencies. Vehicles used to transport prisoners must meet all applicable safety and inspection requirements and provide adequate ventilation, lighting and comfort.

(c) Access to counsel. (1) Prisoners shall not be restricted in their communication with attorneys. The fact that a prisoner is represented by one attorney shall not be grounds for preventing him or her from communicating with other attorneys. Any properly identified attorney may visit any prisoner with the prisoner's consent.

(i) An attorney may be required to present identification to a designated official at the central office of the Department in order to obtain a facility pass. This pass shall permit the attorney to visit any prisoner in the custody of the Department.

(ii) The Department only may require such identification as is normally possessed by an attorney.

(2) The Department may limit visits to any attorney of record, or an attorney with a court notice for prisoners undergoing examination for competency pursuant to court order.

(3) Visits between prisoners and attorneys shall be kept confidential and protected, in accordance with provisions of §1-09. Legal visits shall be permitted at least eight hours per day between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. During business days, four of those hours shall be 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The Department shall maintain and post the schedule of legal visiting hours at each facility.

(4) Mail between prisoners and attorneys shall not be delayed, read, or interfered with in any manner, except as provided in §1-11.

(5) Telephone communications between prisoners and attorneys shall be kept confidential and protected, in accordance with the provisions of §1-10.

(d) Access to co-defendants. Upon reasonable request, regular visits shall be permitted between a detainee and all of his or her co-defendants who consent to such visits. If any of the co-defendants are incarcerated, the Department may require that an attorney of record be present and teleconferencing shall be used, if available.

(e) Attorney assistants. (1) Law students, legal paraprofessionals, and other attorney assistants working under the supervision of an attorney representing a prisoner shall be permitted to communicate with prisoners by mail, telephone and personal visits, to the same extent and under the same conditions that the attorney may do so for the purpose of representing the prisoner. Law students, legal paraprofessionals and other attorney assistants working under the supervision of an attorney contacted by a prisoner shall be permitted to communicate with that prisoner by mail, telephone, or personal visits to the same extent and under the same conditions that the attorney may do so.

(2) An attorney assistant may be required to present a letter of identification from the attorney to a designated official at the central office of the Department in order to obtain a facility pass. A pass shall not be denied based upon any of the reasons listed in §1-09(h)(1).

(3) The pass shall permit the assistant to perform the functions listed in subdivision (e) of this section. It may be revoked if specific acts committed by the legal assistant demonstrate his or her threat to the safety and security of a facility. This determination must be made pursuant to the procedural requirements of paragraphs (2), (4) and (5) of subdivision (h) of §1-09.

(f) Law libraries. Each facility shall maintain a properly equipped and staffed law library.

(1) The law library shall be located in a separate area sufficiently free of noise and activity and with sufficient space and lighting to permit sustained research.

(2) Each law library shall be open for a minimum of five days per week including at least one weekend day. On each day a law library is open:

(i) in facilities with more than 600 prisoners, each law library shall be operated for a minimum of ten hours, of which at least eight shall be during lock-out hours;

(ii) in facilities with 600 or fewer prisoners, each law library shall be operated for a minimum of eight and a half hours, of which at least six and a half shall be during lock-out hours;

(iii) in all facilities, the law library shall be operated for at least three hours between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m.; and

(iv) the law library will be kept open for prisoners' use on all holidays which fall on regular law library days except New Year's Day, July 4th, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. The law library may be closed on holidays other than those specified provided that law library services are provided on either of the two days of the same week the law library is usually closed. On holidays on which the law library is kept open, it shall operate for a minimum of eight hours. No changes to law library schedules shall be made without written notice to the Board of Correction, and shall be received at least five business days before the planned change(s) is to be implemented.

(3) The law library schedule shall be arranged to provide access to prisoners during times of the day when other activities such as recreation, commissary, meals, school, sick call, etc., are not scheduled. Where such considerations cannot be made, prisoners shall be afforded another opportunity to attend the law library at a later time during the day.

(4) Each prisoner shall be granted access to the law library for a period of at least two hours per day on each day the law library is open. Upon request, extra time may be provided as needed, space and time permitting. In providing extra time, prisoners who have an immediate need for additional time, such as prisoners on trial and those with an impending court deadline shall be granted preference.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (f)(4), prisoners housed for medical reasons in the contagious disease units may be denied access to the law library. An alternative method of access to legal materials shall be instituted to permit effective legal research.

(6) The law library hours for prisoners in punitive segregation may be reduced or eliminated, provided that an alternative method of access to legal materials is instituted to permit effective legal research.

(7) Legal research classes for general population prisoners shall be conducted at each facility on at least a quarterly basis. Legal research training materials shall be made available upon request to prisoners in special housing.

(8) The Department shall report annually to the Board detailing the resources available at the law library at each facility, including a list of titles and dates of all law books and periodicals and the number, qualifications and hours of English and Spanish-speaking legal assistants.

(g) Legal documents and supplies. (1) Each law library shall contain necessary research and reference materials which shall be kept properly updated and supplemented, and shall be replaced without undue delay when materials are missing or damaged.

(2) Prisoners shall have reasonable access to typewriters, dedicated word processors, and photocopiers for the purpose of preparing legal documents. A sufficient number of operable typewriters, dedicated word processors, and photocopy machines will be provided for prisoner use.

(3) Legal clerical supplies, including pens, legal paper and pads shall be made available for purchase by prisoners. Such legal clerical supplies shall be provided to indigent prisoners at Department expense.

(4) Unmarked legal forms which are commonly used by prisoners shall be made available. Each prisoner shall be permitted to use or make copies of such forms for his or her own use.

(h) Law library staffing. (1) During all hours of operation, each law library shall be staffed with trained civilian legal coordinator(s) to assist prisoners with the preparation of legal materials. Legal coordinator coverage shall be provided during extended absences of the regularly assigned legal coordinator(s).

(2) Each law library shall be staffed with an adequate number of permanently assigned correction officers knowledgeable of law library procedures.

(3) Spanish-speaking prisoners shall be provided assistance in use of the law library by employees fluent in the Spanish language on an as needed basis.

(i) Number of legal documents and research materials. (1) Prisoners shall be permitted to purchase and receive law books and other legal research materials from any source.

(2) Reasonable regulations governing the keeping of materials in cells and the searching of cells may be adopted, but under no circumstances may prisoners' legal documents, books, and papers be read or confiscated by correctional personnel without a lawful warrant. Where the space in a cell is limited, an alternative method of safely storing legal materials elsewhere in the facility is required, provided that a prisoner shall have regular access to these materials.

(j) Limitation of access to law library. (1) A prisoner may be removed from the law library if he or she disrupts the orderly functioning of the law library or does not use the law library for its intended purposes. A prisoner may be excluded from the law library for more than the remainder of one law library period only for a disciplinary infraction occurring within a law library.

(2) Any determination to limit a prisoner's right of access to the law library shall be made in writing and shall state the specific facts and reasons underlying such determination. A copy of this determination, including the appeal procedure, shall be sent to the Board and to any person affected by the determination within 24 hours of the determination.

(3) An alternative method of access to legal materials shall be instituted to permit effective legal research for any prisoner excluded from the law library. A legal coordinator shall visit any excluded prisoner to determine his or her law library needs upon request.

(4) Any person affected by a determination made pursuant to this subdivision (j) may appeal such determination to the Board.

(i) The person affected by a determination shall give notice in writing to the Board and to the Department of his or her intent to appeal the determination.

(ii) The Department and any person affected by the determination may submit to the Board for its consideration any relevant material in addition to the written determination.

(iii) The Board or its designee shall issue a written decision upon the appeal within five business days after receiving notice of the requested review.

(a) Policy. Prisoners are entitled to receive personal visits of sufficient length and number.

(b) Visiting and waiting areas. (1) A visiting area of sufficient size to meet the requirements of this section shall be established and maintained in each facility.

(2) The visiting area shall be designed so as to allow physical contact between prisoners and their visitors as required by subdivision (f) of this section.

(3) The Department shall make every effort to minimize the waiting time prior to a visit. Visitors shall not be required to wait outside a facility unless adequate shelter is provided and the requirements of paragraph (b)(4) of this section are met.

(4) All waiting and visiting areas shall provide for at least minimal comforts for visitors, including but not limited to:

(i) sufficient seats for all visitors;

(ii) access to bathroom facilities and drinking water throughout the waiting and visiting periods;

(iii) access to vending machines for beverages and foodstuffs at some point during the waiting or visiting period; and

(iv) access to a Spanish-speaking employee or volunteer at some point during the waiting or visiting period. All visiting rules, regulations and hours shall be clearly posted in English and Spanish in the waiting and visiting areas at each facility.

(5) The Department shall make every effort to utilize outdoor areas for visits during the warm weather months.

(c) Visiting schedule. (1) Visiting hours may be varied to fit the schedules of individual facilities but must meet the following minimum requirements for detainees:

(i) Monday through Friday. Visiting shall be permitted on at least three days for at least three consecutive hours between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Visiting shall be permitted on at least two evenings for at least three consecutive hours between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m.

(ii) Saturday and Sunday. Visiting shall be permitted on both days for at least five consecutive hours between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.

(2) Visiting hours may be varied to fit the schedules of individual facilities but must meet the following minimum requirements for sentenced prisoners:

(i) Monday through Friday. Visiting shall be permitted on at least one evening for at least three consecutive hours between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m.

(ii) Saturday and Sunday. Visiting shall be permitted on both days for at least five consecutive hours between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.

(3) The visiting schedule of each facility shall be available by contacting either the central office of the Department or the facility.

(4) Visits shall last at least one hour. This time period shall not begin until the prisoner and visitor meet in the visiting room.

(5) Sentenced prisoners are entitled to at least two visits per week with at least one on an evening or the weekend, as the sentenced prisoner wishes. Detainees are entitled to at least three visits per week with at least one on an evening or the weekend, as the detainee wishes. Visits by properly identified persons providing services or assistance, including lawyers, doctors, religious advisors, public officials, therapists, counselors and media representatives, shall not count against this number.

(6) There shall be no limit to the number of visits by a particular visitor or category of visitors.

(7) In addition to the minimum number of visits required by paragraphs (1), (2) and (5) of this subdivision, additional visitation shall be provided in cases involving special necessity, including but not limited to, emergency situations and situations involving lengthy travel time.

(8) Prisoners shall be permitted to visit with at least three visitors at the same time, with the maximum number to be determined by the facility.

(9) Visitors shall be permitted to visit with at least two prisoners at the same time, with the maximum number to be determined by the facility.

(10) If necessitated by lack of space, a facility may limit the total number of persons in any group of visitors and prisoners to four. Such a limitation shall be waived in cases involving special necessity, including but not limited to, emergency situations and situations involving lengthy travel time.

(d) Initial visit. (1) Each detainee shall be entitled to receive a non-contact visit within 24 hours of his or her admission to the facility.

(2) If a visiting period scheduled pursuant to paragraph (c)(1) of this section is not available within 24 hours after a detainee's admission, arrangements shall be made to ensure that the initial visit required by this subdivision is made available.

(e) Visitor identification and registration. (1) Consistent with the requirements of this subdivision, any properly identified person shall, with the prisoner's consent, be permitted to visit the prisoner.

(i) Prior to a visit, a prisoner shall be informed of the identity of the prospective visitor.

(ii) A refusal by a prisoner to meet with a particular visitor shall not affect the prisoner's right to meet with any other visitor during that period, nor the prisoner's right to meet with the refused visitor during subsequent periods.

(2) Each visitor shall be required to enter in the facility visitors log:

(i) his or her name;

(ii) his or her address;

(iii) the date;

(iv) the time of entry;

(v) the name of the prisoner or prisoners to be visited; and

(vi) the time of exit.

(3) Any prospective visitor who is under 16 years of age shall be required to enter, or have entered for him or her, in the facility visitors log:

(i) the information required by paragraph (2) of this subdivision;

(ii) his or her age; and

(iii) the name, address, and telephone number of his or her parent or legal guardian.

(4) The visitors log shall be confidential, and information contained therein shall not be read by or revealed to non-Department staff except as provided by the City Charter or pursuant to a specific request by an official law enforcement agency. The Department shall maintain a record of all such requests with detailed and complete descriptions.

(5) Prior to visiting a prisoner, a prospective visitor under 16 years of age may be required to be accompanied by a person 18 years of age or older, and to produce oral or written permission from a parent or legal guardian approving such visit.

(6) The Department may adopt alternative procedures for visiting by persons under 16 years of age. Such procedures must be consistent with the policy of paragraph (e) (5) of this subdivision, and shall be submitted to the Board for approval.

(f) Contact visits. Physical contact shall be permitted between every prisoner and all of his or her visitors throughout the visiting period, including holding hands, holding young children, and kissing. The provisions of this subdivision are inapplicable to prisoners housed for medical reasons in the contagious disease units.

(g) Visiting security and supervision. (1) All prisoners, prior and subsequent to each visit, may be searched solely to ensure that they possess no contraband.

(2) All prospective visitors may be searched prior to a visit solely to ensure that they possess no contraband.

(3) Any body search of a prospective visitor made pursuant to paragraph (2) of this subdivision shall be conducted only through the use of electronic detection devices. Nothing contained herein shall affect any authority possessed by correctional personnel pursuant to statute.

(4) Objects possessed by a prospective visitor, including but not limited to, handbags or packages, may be searched or checked. Personal effects, including wedding rings and religious medals and clothing, may be worn by visitors during a visit. The Department may require a prospective visitor to secure in a lockable locker his or her personal property, including but not limited to bags, outerwear and electronic devices. A visit may not be delayed or denied because an operable, lockable locker is not available.

(5) Supervision shall be provided during visits solely to ensure that the safety or security of the facility is maintained.

(6) Visits shall not be listened to or monitored unless a lawful warrant is obtained, although visual supervision should be maintained.

(h) Limitation on visiting rights. (1) Visiting rights shall not be denied, revoked, limited or interfered with based upon a prisoner's or prospective visitor's:

(i) sex;

(ii) sexual orientation;

(iii) race;

(iv) age, except as otherwise provided in this section;

(v) nationality;

(vi) political beliefs;

(vii) religion;

(viii) criminal record;

(ix) pending criminal or civil case;

(x) lack of family relationship;

(xi) gender; or

(xii) disability.

(2) The visiting rights of a prisoner with a particular visitor may be denied, revoked or limited only when it is determined that the exercise of those rights constitutes a serious threat to the safety or security of a facility, provided that visiting rights with a particular visitor may be denied only if revoking the right to contact visits would not suffice to reduce the serious threat.

This determination must be based on specific acts committed by the visitor during a prior visit to a facility that demonstrate his or her threat to the safety and security of a facility, or on specific information received and verified that the visitor plans to engage in acts during the next visit that will be a threat to the safety or security of the facility. Prior to any determination, the visitor must be provided with written notification of the specific charges and the names and statements of the charging parties, and be afforded an opportunity to respond. The name of an informant may be withheld if necessary to protect his or her safety.

(3) A prisoner's right to contact visits as provided in subdivision (f) of this section may be denied, revoked, or limited only when it is determined that such visits constitute a serious threat to the safety or security of a facility. Should a determination be made to deny, revoke or limit a prisoner's right to contact visits in the usual manner, alternative arrangements for affording the prisoner the requisite number of visits shall be made, including, but not limited to, non-contact visits.

This determination must be based on specific acts committed by the prisoner while in custody under the present charge or sentence that demonstrate his or her threat to the safety and security of a facility, or on specific information received and verified that the prisoner plans to engage in acts during the next visit that will be a threat to the safety or security of the facility. Prior to any determination, the prisoner must be provided with written notification of the specific charges and the names and statements of the charging parties, and be afforded an opportunity to respond. The name of an informant may be withheld if necessary to protect his or her safety.

Telephone calls to the Board of Correction, Inspector General and other monitoring bodies, as well as to treating physicians and clinicians, attorneys and clergy shall not be listened to or monitored.

(i) This determination must be based on specific acts committed by the prisoner during the exercise of telephone rights that demonstrate such a threat or abuse. Prior to any determination, the prisoner must be provided with written notification of specific charges and the names and statements of the charging parties, and be afforded an opportunity to respond. The name of an informant may be withheld if necessary to protect his or her safety.

(ii) Any determination to limit a prisoner's telephone rights shall be made in writing and state specific facts and reasons underlying such determination. A copy of this determination, including the appeal procedure, shall be sent to the Board and to any person affected by the determination within 24 hours of the determination.

§1-11 Correspondence.

(a) Policy. Prisoners are entitled to correspond with any person, except when there is a reasonable belief that limitation is necessary to protect public safety or maintain facility order and security. The Department shall establish appropriate procedures to implement this policy. Correspondence shall not be deemed to constitute a threat to safety and security of a facility solely because it criticizes a facility, its staff, or the correctional system, or espouses unpopular ideas, including ideas that facility staff deem not conducive to rehabilitation or correctional treatment. The Department shall provide notice of this policy to all prisoners.

(b) Number and language. (1) There shall be no restriction upon incoming or outgoing prisoner correspondence based upon either the amount of correspondence sent or received, or the language in which correspondence is written.

(2) If a prisoner is unable to read or write, he or she may receive assistance with correspondence from other persons, including but not limited to, facility employees and prisoners.

(c) Outgoing correspondence. (1) Each facility shall make available to indigent prisoners at Department expense stationery and postage for all letters to attorneys, courts and public officials, as well as two other letters each week.

(2) Each facility shall make available for purchase by prisoners both stationery and postage.

(3) Outgoing prisoner correspondence shall bear the sender's name and either the facility post office box or street address or the sender's home address in the upper left hand corner of the envelope.

(4) Outgoing prisoner correspondence shall be sealed by the prisoner and deposited in locked mail receptacles.

(5) All outgoing prisoner correspondence shall be forwarded to the United States Postal Service at least once each business day.

(6) Outgoing prisoner non-privileged correspondence shall not be opened or read except pursuant to a lawful search warrant or the warden's written order articulating a reasonable basis to believe that the correspondence threatens the safety or security of the facility, another person, or the public.

(i) The warden's written order shall state the specific facts and reasons supporting the determination.

(ii) The affected prisoner shall be given written notification of the determination and the specific facts and reasons supporting it. The warden may delay notifying the prisoner only for so long as such notification would endanger the safety and security of the facility, after which the warden immediately shall notify the prisoner.

(iii) A written record of correspondence read pursuant to this paragraph shall be maintained and shall include: the name of the prisoner, the name of the intended recipient, the name of the reader, the date that the correspondence was read, and the date that the prisoner received notification.

(iv) Any action taken pursuant to this paragraph shall be completed within five business days of receipt of the correspondence by the Department.

(7) Outgoing prisoner privileged correspondence shall not be opened or read except pursuant to a lawful search warrant.

(d) Incoming correspondence. (1) Incoming correspondence shall be delivered to the intended prisoner within 48 hours of receipt by the Department unless the prisoner is no longer in custody of the Department.

(2) A list of items that may be received in correspondence shall be established by the Department. Upon admission to a facility, prisoners shall be provided a copy of this list or it shall be posted in each housing area.

(e) Inspection of incoming correspondence. (1) Incoming prisoner non-privileged correspondence

(i) The warden's written order shall state the specific facts and reasons supporting the determination.

(ii) The affected prisoner and sender shall be given written notification of the warden's determination and the specific facts and reasons supporting it. The warden may delay notifying the prisoner and the sender only for so long as such notification would endanger the safety or security of the facility, after which the warden immediately shall notify the prisoner and sender.

(iii) A written record of correspondence read pursuant to this subdivision shall be maintained and shall include: the name of the sender, the name of the intended prisoner recipient, the name of the reader, the date that the correspondence was received and was read, and the date that the prisoner and sender received notification.

(iv) Any action taken pursuant to this subdivision shall be completed within five business days of receipt of the correspondence by the Department.

(b) shall not be read except pursuant to a lawful search warrant or the warden's written order articulating a reasonable basis to believe that the correspondence threatens the safety or security of the facility, another person, or the public. Procedures for the warden's written order pursuant to this subdivision are set forth in paragraph (1) of this subdivision.

(2) Incoming correspondence may be manipulated or inspected without opening, and subjected to any non-intrusive devices. A letter may be held for an extra 24 hours pending resolution of a search warrant application.

(3) Incoming privileged correspondence shall not be opened except in the presence of the recipient prisoner or pursuant to a lawful search warrant. Incoming privileged correspondence shall not be read except pursuant to a lawful search warrant.

(f) Prohibited items in incoming correspondence. (1) When an item found in incoming correspondence involves a criminal offense, it may be forwarded to the appropriate authority for possible criminal prosecution. In such situations, the notice required by paragraph (3) of this subdivision may be delayed if necessary to prevent interference with an ongoing criminal investigation.

(2) A prohibited item found in incoming prisoner correspondence that does not involve a criminal offense shall be returned to the sender, donated or destroyed, as the prisoner wishes.

(3) Within 24 hours of the removal of an item, the Board and the intended prisoner shall be sent written notification of this action. This written notice shall include:

(i) the name and address of the sender;

(ii) the item removed;

(iii) the reasons for removal;

(iv) the choice provided by paragraph (2) of this subdivision; and

(v) the appeal procedure.

(4) After removal of an item, the incoming correspondence shall be forwarded to the intended prisoner.

(g) Appeal. Any person affected by the determination to remove an item from prisoner correspondence may appeal such determination to the Board.

(1) The person affected by the determination shall give notice in writing to the Board and to the Department of his or her intent to appeal the determination.

(2) The Department and any person affected by the determination may submit to the Board for its consideration any relevant material in addition to the written determination.

(3) The Board or its designee shall issue a written decision upon the appeal within 14 business days after receiving notice of the requested review.

"Media" means any printed or electronic means of conveying information to any portion of the public and shall include, but is not limited to newspapers, magazines, books or other publications, and licensed radio and television stations.

(b) Media interviews. (1) Properly identified media representatives shall be entitled to interview any prisoner who consents to such an interview. "Properly identified media representative" means any person who presents proof of his or her affiliation with the media.

(2) The prisoner's consent must be in writing on a form that includes the following information in Spanish and English:

(i) the name and organization of the media representative;

(4) The Department may require the consent of an attorney of record or a parent or legal guardian prior to scheduling a media interview with a prisoner under 18 years of age.

(5) The name of the Department's media contact shall be published. Media representatives shall direct requests for interviews to this person.

(6) Interviews shall be scheduled promptly by the Department but not later than 24 hours from a request made between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. The 24-hour period may be extended if necessitated by the prisoner's absence from the facility.

(c) Limitation of media interviews. (1) The Department may deny, revoke or limit a media interview with a media representative or a prisoner only if it is determined that such interview constitutes a threat to the safety or security of the facility.

(2) This determination must be based on specific acts committed by the media representative or by the prisoner during a prior visit that demonstrate his or her threat to the safety and security of the facility. Title 40 Board of Correction

§1-15 Variances.

(a) Policy. The Department may apply for a variance from a specific subdivision or section of these minimum standards when compliance cannot be achieved or continued. A "limited variance" is an exemption granted by the Board from full compliance with a particular subdivision or section for a specified period of time. A "continuing variance" is an exemption granted by the Board from full compliance with a particular subdivision or section for an indefinite period of time. An "emergency variance" as defined in paragraph (b)(3) of this section is an exemption granted by the Board from full compliance with a particular subdivision or section for no more than 30 days.

(b) Limited, continuing and emergency variances. (1) The Department may apply to the Board for a variance when:

(i) despite its best efforts, and the best efforts of other New York City officials and agencies, full compliance with the subdivision or section cannot be achieved, or

(ii) compliance is to be achieved for a limited period in a manner other than specified in the subdivision or section.

(2) The Department may apply to the Board for a continuing variance when despite its best efforts and the best efforts of other New York City officials and agencies compliance cannot be achieved in the foreseeable future because:

(i) full compliance with a specific subdivision or section would create extreme practical difficulties as a result of circumstances unique to a particular facility, and lack of full compliance would not create a danger or undue hardship to staff or prisoners; or

(ii) compliance is to be achieved in an alternative manner sufficient to meet the intent of the subdivision or section.

(3) The Department may apply to the Board for an emergency variance when an emergency situation prevents continued compliance with the subdivision or section. An emergency variance for a period of less than 24 hours may be declared by the Department when an emergency situation prevents continued compliance with a particular subdivision or section. The Board or its designee shall be immediately notified of the emergency situation and the variance declaration.

(c) Variance application. (1) An application for a variance must be made in writing to the Board by the Commissioner of the Department as soon as a determination is made that continued compliance will not be possible and shall state:

(i) the type of variance requested;

(ii) the particular subdivision or section at issue;

(iii) the requested commencement date of the variance;

(iv) the efforts undertaken by the Department to achieve compliance by the effective date;

(v) the specific facts or reasons making full compliance impossible, and when those facts and reasons became apparent;

(vi) the specific plans, projections and timetables for achieving full compliance;

(vii) the specific plans for serving the purpose of the subdivision or section for the period that strict compliance is not possible; and

(viii) if the application is for a limited variance, the time period for which the variance is requested, provided that this shall be no more than six months.

(2) In addition to the provisions of paragraph (1) of this subdivision, an application for a continuing variance shall state:

(i) the specific facts and reasons underlying the impracticability or impossibility of compliance within the foreseeable future, and when those facts and reasons become apparent, and

(ii) the degree of compliance achieved, and the Department's efforts to mitigate any possible danger or hardships attributable to the lack of full compliance; or

(iii) a description of the specific plans for achieving compliance in an alternative manner sufficient to meet the intent of the subdivision or section.

(3) In addition to the requirements of paragraph (1) of this subdivision, an application for an emergency variance for a period of 24 hours or more, (or for renewal of an emergency variance) shall state:

(i) the particular subdivision or section at issue;

(ii) the specific facts or reasons making continued compliance impossible, and when those facts and reasons became apparent;

(iii) the specific plans, projections and timetables for achieving full compliance; and

(iv) the time period for which the variance is requested, provided that this shall be no more than thirty days.

(d) Variance procedure for limited and continuing variance. (1) Prior to a decision on an application for a limited or continuing variance, the Board shall consider the position of all interested parties, including correctional employees, prisoners and their representatives, other public officials and legal, religious and community organizations.

(2) Whenever practicable, the Board shall hold a public meeting or hearing on the variance application, and hear testimony from all interested parties.

(3) The Board's decision on a variance application shall be in writing.

(4) Interested parties shall be notified of the Board's decision as soon as practicable, and no later than 5 business days after the decision is made.

(e) Granting of variance. (1) The Board shall grant a variance only if it is presented with convincing evidence that the variance is necessary and justified.

(2) Upon granting a variance, the Board shall state:

(i) the type of variance

(ii) the date on which the variance will commence

(iii) the time period of the variance, if any, and

(iv) any requirements imposed as conditions on the variance.

(f) Renewal and review of variance. (1) An application for a renewal of a limited or emergency variance shall be treated in the same manner as an original application as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), (d) and (e) of this section. The Board shall not grant renewal of a variance unless it finds that, in addition to the requirements for approving an original application, a good faith effort has been made to comply with the subdivision or section within the previously prescribed time limitation, and that the requirements set by the Board as conditions on the original variance have been met.

(2) A petition for review of a continuing variance may be made upon the Board's own motion or by the Department, correctional employees, prisoners or their representatives. Upon receipt of a petition, the Board shall review and re-evaluate the continuing necessity and justification for the continuing variance. Such review shall be conducted in the same manner as the original application as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), (d) and (e) of this section. The Board will review all the facts and consider the positions of all interested parties. The Board will discontinue the variance, if after such review and consideration, it determines that:

(i) full compliance with the standard now can be achieved; or

(ii) requirements imposed as conditions upon which the continuing variance was granted have not been fulfilled or maintained; or

(iii) there is no longer compliance with the intent of the subdivision or section in an alternative manner as required by subparagraph (b)(2)(ii) of this section.

(3) The Board shall specify in writing and publicize the facts and reasons for its decision on an application for renewal or review of a variance. The Board's decision must comply with the requirements of subdivision (e) of this section, and, in the case of limited and continuing variances, paragraphs (d)(3) and (4) of this section. Where appropriate, the Board shall set an effective date for discontinuance of a continuing variance after consultation with all interested parties.

(4) The Board shall not grant more than two consecutive renewals of emergency variances.

DERIVATION

Former §1-16 in original publication July 1, 1991.

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record May 16, 2008:

The Board adopted the original Minimum Standards for New York City Correctional Facilities in 1978. The original sixteen standards represented the Board's view of the basic elements necessary to promote safe, secure and humane jail environments. The Minimum Standards provisions sought to ensure non-discriminatory treatment of prisoners, and regulated classification, personal hygiene, overcrowding, lock-in, access to recreation, practice of religion, access to courts, visiting, telephone calls, correspondence, packages, publications, and access to media. The original Minimum Standards remained substantially unchanged until 1985, when the Board promulgated three important amendments to the Standards provisions regulating overcrowding, law libraries, and the variance process.

The attached amendments are the result of a review of all sixteen sections of the Minimum Standards, the first such comprehensive reexamination since they became effective in 1978. In developing the amendments, the Board considered developments in case law and correctional practices in jurisdictions throughout the United States. Throughout the Minimum Standards set forth herein, the Board has deleted original implementation language that long has been obsolete (e.g., "By September 1, 1978 . . ."). The Board has also adopted as amendments to the Minimum Standards longstanding variances that have facilitated the medical isolation of prisoners in contagious disease housing units.

Section 1-01 ("Non Discriminatory Treatment") The Board voted at its meeting of November 8, 2007 to amend subdivision (a) ("Policy") by adding the terms "gender" and "disability" to the list of factors that cannot be the bases for discriminatory treatment of prisoners. The purpose of this amendment to subdivision (a) is to be clear that the non-discriminatory treatment policy that has historically applied with respect to race, religion, nationality, sex, sexual orientation, age or political belief should also be applicable to treatment based on gender or disability. With regard to gender, the amendment signifies that transgender prisoners should not be searched more frequently than or differently from other prisoners. It was not the Board's intention, in amending this section, to require the Department of Correction to change its present inmate classification policy, which is based on genital anatomy, nor to require the Department to change its practices of applying such classification for purposes including but not limited to housing, search procedures and permissible clothing and other items. The Board rejected a proposal to add language to include "gender identity appropriate clothing" to the new provisions of the standards that authorize DOC to require all prisoners to wear facility clothing. See paragraph (g)(2) of §1-03 ("Personal Hygiene") below. Rather, the Board's sole intention is to ensure that interactions between staff and transgender prisoners should be the same as those with non-transgender prisoners. During the Board's November 8th meeting, the Executive Director, for the limited purpose of illustrating the meaning of the term "gender", read into the record the definition of that term set forth in the New York City Human Rights Law ("HRL"). The General Counsel of the New York City Human Rights Commission has advised the Board that the HRL is not applicable with regard to the treatment of prisoners housed in DOC facilities, specifically with regard to the DOC policies and classifications discussed herein. The Board did not discuss or consider the issue of whether the provisions of the HRL should be applied through its Minimum Standards. Consistent with its views about non-discriminatory treatment, the Board also voted to include "gender" as one of the categories that cannot be used as a basis to deny, revoke, limit or interfere with visits, specifically referring to both visitors and prisoners. A corresponding revision has been made to paragraph (h)(1) of Section 1-09 ("Visiting"). The Board rejected a proposal to repeal paragraph (c)(1), which remains intact. The Board also voted to add a new paragraph (d)(3), which will require that "(p)rocedures must be employed to ensure that non-English speaking prisoners understand all written and oral communications from facility staff members . . ." Section 1-02 ("Classification") The Board voted to amend paragraph (b)(1) to authorize the housing of sentenced and detention prisoners together in punitive segregation, medical housing areas, mental health centers and mental observation cell housing areas, close custody housing areas, and nursery, thereby converting longstanding variances into amendments to the Minimum Standards, and allowing DOC to continue to operate these housing areas more efficiently. Thus, for example, DOC would not be required to operate separate nurseries for detainees and sentenced prisoners. The Board voted to amend paragraphs (b)(2) and (3) to reflect a change in New York State Correction Law, which defines adolescent prisoners as ages 16 through 18 years old. Adolescent prisoners must continue to be housed separately from adults, ages 19 years and over. Repeal of Section 1-03 ("Overtime for Correction Officers") The repeal of §1-03 reflects the longstanding opinion of the Law Department that the Board's efforts to regulate involuntary overtime for correctional officers exceeded the Board's jurisdiction as an intrusion upon the labor relations prerogatives of the City and employee unions. Subsequent sections have been renumbered to reflect this repeal. Section 1-03 ("Personal Hygiene") The Board voted to amend paragraph (b)(1) to require that hot water for showers be provided at temperatures recommended by the American Public Health Association. To enable DOC to hold prisoners confined in punitive segregation responsible for misconduct, the Board voted to add a paragraph (b)(2), authorizing DOC to provide less frequent than daily access to showers to prisoners in punitive segregation who engage in misconduct on the way to, from, or at the shower area, and would convert longstanding variances into permanent amendments. The Board approved three exceptions for: (1) court appearances, (2) hot weather "when access to cool showers protects prisoners' health", and (3) menstruating female prisoners. The Board also voted to add a paragraph (c)(2) to apply identical restrictions to access to daily shaves. The Board voted to amend subdivisions (g) and (h), thereby authorizing DOC to require all prisoners, including detainees, to wear seasonally-appropriate facility clothing, except for trial court appearances. Facility clothing for detainees must be readily distinguishable from facility clothing for sentenced prisoners. DOC may not require detainees to wear facility clothing until DOC first establishes and operates adequate laundry and clothing storage facilities. Section 1-04 ("Overcrowding") The Board voted to reject three related proposed amendments that would have enabled DOC to increase the number of detainees it confines in dormitories. The Board left intact paragraph (c)(2), deciding to retain the dormitory density requirement of 60 square feet per prisoner in sleeping areas. The Board voted to reject a proposal to amend subparagraph (c)(5)(i), deciding to retain the dormitory capacity limit of 50 detainees. The Board also voted to reject a proposal to increase in dormitories the mandated ratio of sinks to prisoners, deciding to retain the current ratio of one sink for every 10 prisoners (§1-04(c)(3)). Section 1-05 ("Lock-In") The Board voted to amend subdivision (a) to exclude from the optional lock-out provisions prisoners who are confined for medical reasons in contagious disease units (CDUs), and prisoners confined in punitive segregation. Pursuant to a longstanding variance, medical prisoners in the CDUs have been excluded from optional lock-out because they must be isolated from other prisoners. The amendment acknowledges that prisoners in punitive segregation are confined to their cells most of the time (except for some programs and services, including recreation, visits, and medical and mental health care). The Board rejected a proposal to further amend subdivision (a) to exclude from the optional lock-out provisions prisoners who are confined in close custody. Section 1-06 ("Recreation") The Board voted to amend subdivision (d) by requiring DOC to provide prisoners participating in outdoor recreation during cold or wet weather with "appropriate outer garments in satisfactory condition, including coat, hat, and gloves." The Board voted to add a new subdivision (h), entitled "Limitation on Access to Recreation", authorizing DOC to deny recreation for up to five days for prisoners who are found guilty of infractions for misconduct on the way to, from, or at recreation. This amendment makes permanent a longstanding variance. It should be noted that although the original Minimum Standards provide that prisoner misconduct at the law library, while using telephones, and during visits, may result in limitations on access, no such limitation had been incorporated into the Minimum Standards for recreation-related misbehavior. This subdivision (h) has also been amended to correct an inadvertent omission in the version published for comment, by inserting the phrase "upon conviction of an infraction" with respect to the denial of access to recreation. Section 1-07 ("Religion") The Board voted to amend paragraph (c)(1), making permanent a longstanding variance authorizing DOC to exclude from congregate religious services prisoners who are confined for medical reasons in CDUs. The Board rejected proposals to amend paragraphs (d)(1) and (j)(3), which would have identified DOC's (1) Executive Director of Ministerial Services as the official to approve religious advisors who conduct services and provide religious counseling in DOC facilities, and (2) Deputy Commissioner for Programs as the official to decide on prisoner requests to exercise the beliefs of a religious group or organization not previously recognized by DOC, respectively. Section 1-08 ("Access to Courts and Legal Services") The Board approved a proposal to amend paragraph (f)(2), authorizing DOC to operate law libraries for two hours when general population prisoners are locked in their housing areas, and to count those hours as part of the total number of hours that the law libraries must be open. DOC must operate libraries in large jails for 10 hours (of which 8 hours must be during "lock-out hours"), and for eight hours in small jails (of which six hours must be during "lock-out hours)." The Board believes that authorizing DOC to operate law libraries during two hours when prisoners are locked-in is likely to increase access to law libraries for prisoners from special housing areas, because these prisoners can be escorted to the law library more safely when there are no other prisoners in the corridors. The Board voted to revise paragraph (f)(8) to require DOC to report annually, rather than periodically, on each facility's law library resources. The Board also voted to revise paragraph (g)(2) to require DOC to provide dedicated word processors for prisoner use in the law libraries. Section 1-09 ("Visiting") The Board voted to amend paragraph (d)(1), authorizing DOC to provide a non-contact visit to detainees within 24 hours after admission, rather than a contact visit. This amendment affects only initial visits that occur within 24 hours of admission. All other visits continue to be contact visits. In voting this amendment, the Board noted that during the first 24 hours of custody, DOC must determine a prisoner's security risk and classification, and health providers must evaluate a prisoner's health status, including whether a prisoner may have a contagious disease. Noting that the amendment will affect a small number of prisoners, the Board concluded that providing a non-contact visit during the first 24 hours would help to ensure the safety of the prisoner, the visitor and the facility. A typographical error in paragraph 4 of subdivision (g) ("Visiting security and supervision") is corrected by deleting the brackets that had appeared in the first sentence when initially published for comment. The Board voted to add language to ensure that visits would not be delayed or denied because the Department lacked sufficient functioning lockers. The Board voted to amend paragraph (h)(1), prohibiting DOC from denying, revoking, limiting, or interfering with a visit based upon the visitor's or prisoner's gender or disability. Section 1-10 ("Telephone Calls") The Board voted to amend subdivision (h), authorizing the Department, upon implementation of appropriate procedures and legally sufficient notice to prisoners, to listen to and monitor prisoner telephone calls, except for telephone calls to the Board of Correction, Inspector General, other monitoring and investigative bodies, treating physicians and clinicians, attorneys and clergy. Section 1-11 ("Correspondence") The Board voted to amend Section 1-11 in three important respects. First, it amended subdivision (a) to allow prisoners to correspond with anyone "except when there is a reasonable belief that limitation is necessary to protect public safety or maintain facility order and security." The Board voted to require the Department to establish appropriate implementation procedures, and to provide notice of this revised policy to prisoners. The Board believes that heightened security concerns justify the proposed amendment. Second, the Board amended paragraphs (c)(6) and (e)(1), authorizing DOC to read prisoner non-privileged correspondence pursuant to a court order or warden's written order articulating a reasonable belief that the correspondence threatens the safety or security of the facility, another person, or the public. Moreover, in paragraph (c)(7), the reference to "outgoing prisoner privilege correspondence" was inadvertently omitted from the published proposal, and appears in this final version. During its deliberations, the Board noted that several New York jails (Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester, and Rockland) read non-privileged mail. The Philadelphia, Dallas, and Houston jails also read non-privileged mail. The Board concluded that relying on obtaining court orders could cause undue delays, and interfere with DOC's ability to act quickly and decisively when dealing with imminent security threats. Third, the Board amended paragraph (d)(1), increasing from 24 to 48 hours the time by which incoming correspondence must be delivered to prisoners. The Board noted that an additional 24 hours would enable DOC to conduct more thorough physical inspections of incoming correspondence. Finally, paragraph (e)(3) is amended to reflect the Board's view that the reading of privileged mail may occur only pursuant to court order, in which case there is no reason for the prisoner to be present. Section 1-12 ("Packages") The Board voted to amend subdivision (a), allowing prisoners to receive packages from, or send packages to, anyone "except when there is reasonable belief that limitation is necessary to protect public safety or maintain facility order and security." The Board believes that heightened security concerns justify this amendment. The Board also amended paragraph (e)(2), consistent with the amendments to §1-11(e) noted above, authorizing DOC to read prisoner non-privileged correspondence enclosed in incoming packages pursuant to a court order or warden's written order articulating a reasonable belief that the correspondence threatens the safety or security of the facility, another person, or the public. Section 1-13 ("Publications") The Board voted to amend subdivision (a), allowing prisoners to receive publications from any source "except when there is reasonable belief that limitation is necessary to protect public safety or maintain facility order and security." The Board believes that heightened security concerns justify this amendment. The Board also voted to amend paragraph (c)(3), authorizing DOC to censor or delay delivery of a publication if it contains "material that may compromise the safety and security of the facility." The Board believes that heightened security concerns justify the proposed amendment. Section 1-15 ("Variances") The Board rejected proposals to amend §1-15, which would have simplified the process by which DOC could seek variances for non-compliance with provisions of the Standards. The Board also rejected a proposal that would have authorized the Board to grant a variance allowing DOC to implement, on a trial basis for a specified period of time, a procedure or program that does not comply with a Standard but which is identified as a correctional "best practice" - one that the Board determines may be particularly appropriate for implementation in City jails. Therefore §1-15 is to remain unchanged as to proposed substantive provisions. A correction has been made to the language in paragraph (d)(1) to restore the original text that was inadvertently misprinted in 1991 when the compilation of New York City Rules was published.

CHAPTER 2 MENTAL HEALTH MINIMUM STANDARDS

§2-02 Identification and Detection.

(a) Policy. Procedures shall be developed and implemented which promote the timely identification of inmates requiring mental health evaluation.

(b) Receiving screening.

(1) Screening for mental and emotional disorders is to be performed on all inmates before they are placed in general population. This initial screening shall take place within twenty-four hours after an inmate's arrival at the correctional facility.

(2) Screening shall be performed by mental health services personnel or by appropriately trained medical personnel. Screening may be incorporated within the medical intake procedure.

(3) The Department of Health, with the approval of the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services shall develop written procedures setting the topics to be reviewed in receiving screening. The review shall include, but need not be limited to: psychiatric history, including neuropsychiatric hospitalizations, contacts with mental health professionals, suicidal and violent behavior, history or presence of delusions or hallucinations, and an assessment based on behavioral observations of mood, orientation, impaired consciousness, indications of gross mental retardation and significant presenting complaints.

(4) The professionals conducting intake screening shall record their findings in a standard, written mental health intake form which the Department of Health shall develop with the approval of the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services for use in all facilities.

(5) Receiving screening shall include a description of available mental health services and the procedures for access to those services:

(i) inmates shall receive a written communication in English and Spanish describing available mental health services, the confidentiality of those services and the procedures for gaining access to them;

(ii) the Department of Correction shall make provisions to assist in assuring that the procedures for gaining access to mental health services are verbally explained to illiterate inmates, and that inmates whose native language is other than English or Spanish are given prompt access to translation services for the explanation of these procedures.

(c) Training of staff.

(1) All correction officers and medical services personnel are to receive training and continuing education in programs approved by the Departments of Correction, Health and Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services regarding the recognition of mental and emotional disorders. This training shall incorporate, but need not be limited to, the following areas:

(i) the recognition of signs and symptoms of mental and emotional disorders most frequently found in the inmate population;

(ii) the recognition of signs of chemical dependence and the symptoms of narcotic and alcohol withdrawal;

(iii) the recognition of adverse reactions to psychotropic medication;

(iv) the recognition of signs of developmental disability, particularly mental retardation;

(v) types of potential mental health emergencies, and how to approach inmates to intervene in these crises;

(vi) identification and referral of medical problems of mental health inmates;

(vii) suicide prevention; and

(viii) the appropriate channels for the immediate referral of an inmate to mental health services for further evaluation, and the procedures governing such referrals.

(2) No later than nine months from the effective date of these standards, there shall be at least one officer in every housing area on every tour trained in the application of basic first aid, including life support cardio-pulmonary resuscitation.

(3) Mental health services staff shall receive explicit orientation as well as continuing education and training appropriate to their activities:

(i) there shall be a written plan developed by the Department of Health and approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services for the orientation, continuing education and training of all mental health services staff;

(ii) in-service training shall include regular individual supervision of not less than one hour per week and not less than one hour per week of continuing education to be prorated for part-time staff.

(d) Observation aides.

(1) There is to be an organized program of observation aides trained to monitor those inmates identified as potential suicide risks as well as to recognize in those inmates not previously identified the warning signals of suicidal behavior. Inmates, including those housed in mental observation areas, may be employed as observation aides and shall be paid for their services.

(2) Written procedures shall be developed by the Department of Correction and Health, to be approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services, defining the selection criteria for observation aides, the training they shall receive, the procedures they shall follow and the criteria for the evaluation of their performance as well as for terminating their employment where necessary:

(i) in developing a program of observation aides the Department of Correction shall consult with the Department of Health in order to provide for coordination of effort between the two agencies;

(ii) observation aides shall be trained to promptly inform correction or mental health services staff when they believe an inmate poses a suicide risk, presents an immediate danger of suicide or is engaging in bizarre behavior. This information shall be recorded in a systematic manner.

(3) Observation aides shall operate in all correctional facilities in the following housing areas: mental observation, punitive segregation, administrative segregation and new admission. They shall be employed in other areas as required.

§2-03 Diagnosis and Referral.

(a) Policy. The Departments of Correction and Health, with the approval of the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services, shall develop procedures to provide for the prompt evaluation and appropriate referral of inmates whose behavior suggests that they are suffering from a mental or emotional disorder, as well as the immediate evaluation and treatment of those in need of emergency psychiatric care.

(b) Access.

(1) There is to be non-emergency access to mental health services. Inmates may refer themselves for preliminary evaluation, and they shall be seen by a member of mental health services staff as soon as possible but in no instance later than three working days after receipt of referral by mental health services staff. The Department of Correction shall ensure that notice of the request is received by mental health services staff within twenty-four hours.

(2) Inmates shall have twenty-four hour access to mental health services personnel for emergency psychiatric care and the management of acute psychiatric episodes:

(i) all inmates who report having been sexually assaulted shall be referred for emergency assessment;

(ii) inmates awaiting emergency evaluation are to be housed in a specially designated area with close staff supervision and sufficient security to protect inmates and staff;

(iii) the Departments of Correction and Health shall develop a written form for emergency evaluation referrals.

(3) Correction staff and medical services personnel are required to refer to mental health services those inmates in the general population who exhibit signs of mental or emotional disorders. A standard written procedure to include a description of the behavior upon which the referral is based shall be developed by the Departments of Health and Correction.

(4) The Department of Correction shall provide sufficient escort officers to ensure delivery of service in a manner that promotes the maximum efficiency of mental health services staff. The Department of Correction shall develop and implement procedures to provide that inmates requested for evaluation or follow-up be escorted to mental health services staff, or accounted for, the same day. In all cases where the inmate is still in custody, he or she shall be brought to mental health services staff within twenty-four hours.

CHAPTER 2 MENTAL HEALTH MINIMUM STANDARDS

§2-04 Treatment.

(a) Policy. Adequate mental health care is to be provided to inmates in an environment which facilitates care and treatment, provides for maximum observation, reduces the risk of suicide, and is minimally stressful. Inmates under the care of mental health services, if in all other respects qualified and eligible shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as every other inmate.

(b) Criteria of adequacy.

(1) The Department of Health shall develop written criteria to be approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services defining in accordance with current professional standards the mental health staff, supplies and equipment necessary to provide adequate mental health care.

(2) The Departments of Health and Correction shall develop written criteria to be approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services defining in accordance with current professional standards the space necessary to provide adequate and appropriate housing and treatment of inmates under the care of mental health services.

(3) No later than ninety days from the effective date of these standards, the written criteria shall be submitted to the Board of Correction for promulgation as an amendment to these standards.

(c) Programs.

(1) Special housing shall be provided to those inmates in need of close supervision due to mental or emotional disorders, and to those inmates in the process of being evaluated for such disorders:

(i) twenty-four hour observation aides shall be assigned to special housing areas;

(ii) correction officers who have received not less than thirty-five hours of special training within the first year of their assignment shall be assigned to steady posts within these areas. These officers shall receive annual training enhancement. The Departments of Health and Correction shall develop a written curriculum to be approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services specifying the components and hours of the training programs;

(iii) inmates placed in special housing areas shall be seen and interviewed by mental health services staff at least once per week;

(iv) an individual member of mental health services staff shall be directly responsible for mental health services in each special housing area;

(v) the Department of Correction shall make provision for the allocation of dormitory space as special housing for the observation of potentially suicidal inmates.

(2) The Departments of Correction and Health shall develop specific written criteria and procedures for the admission to and the discharge from special housing areas for mental observation:

(i) it shall be the prerogative of mental health services to admit and discharge inmates from special housing areas for mental observation;

(ii) the placement of an inmate in special housing shall be reviewed by mental health services at least once per week.

(3) An individualized written treatment plan based upon the evaluation of the treatment team shall be developed for each inmate placed in special housing for mental observation and for all inmates to whom medication for mental or emotional disorders is prescribed:

(i) the treatment team must include a psychiatrist who shall personally examine each inmate evaluated by the treatment team;

(ii) those members of the treatment team who are providing care to an inmate shall prepare a treatment plan, which shall be signed by the psychiatrist;

(iii) the Chief of Service or his or her designee shall approve all treatment plans;

(iv) the Department of Health shall develop written criteria to be approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services defining the nature and the specificity of the treatment plan;

(v) there shall be documented evidence of initial treatment planning within three days of the inmate being placed in special housing, and a treatment plan shall be prepared no later than one week after placement;

(vi) treatment plans shall be reviewed and assessed for effectiveness by professional mental health services staff at least every two weeks. Both the review and the inmate's progress shall be recorded in the medical chart;

(vii) a range of treatment modalities other than the provision of medication shall be made available.

(4) There shall be facilities appropriate for the observation, evaluation and treatment of acute psychiatric episodes.

(5) Where required, an inmate shall be transferred to a municipal hospital prison ward in accordance with New York State Correction Law §§402 and 508.

(6) Inmates identified as developmentally disabled shall be evaluated within seventy-two hours and mental health services staff shall make a recommendation to the Department of Correction as to whether such developmental disability makes it necessary for the inmate to be placed in special housing or otherwise separated from the general inmate population:

(i) inmates who suffer from developmental disabilities shall be housed in areas sufficient to ensure their safety;

(ii) if it is determined by mental health services that an inmate's developmental disability makes it clinically contraindicated that the inmate be housed in a correctional facility, then the Department of Correction shall immediately notify the court and a written notice shall be filed in the inmate's court papers.

(7) The Departments of Health and Correction shall use mechanisms approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services to identify inmates who are suffering from drug addiction or the disease of alcoholism. Inmates so identified shall be referred to available programs approved by the Departments of Correction and Health. Detoxification shall take place in a setting appropriate to the level of care required.

(d) Informed consent. Except as otherwise provided herein, mental health treatment may be administered only upon the informed consent of the inmate after a disclosure of the risks and benefits of the proposed treatment in accordance with good clinical practice. The Departments of Health and Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services shall develop procedures for the implementation of this section, which shall include the use of a written form to document the informed consent of the inmate.

(e) Right to refuse treatment. The city may not require treatment of an inmate without the inmate's consent unless, in an emergency, that person, by reason of mental disability or mental illness, poses a clear and present danger of serious physical injury to self or others. Then and only then may an inmate be examined, treated or medicated against the inmate's will, subject to the following conditions:

(1) the attending physician shall use only those measures which in his or her best professional judgment are deemed appropriate in response to the emergency;

(2) these measures may be used only with a written medical order;

(3) these measures may be used only with adequate explanation in the inmate's chart by the physician responsible detailing the length of the period of observation, the inmate's condition, the threat the inmate poses and the specific reasons for the specific intervention proposed;

(4) no order to treat an inmate against the inmate's will shall be valid for longer than twenty-four hours, without review and renewal and appropriate notation in the inmate's medical records;

(5) the Departments of Correction and Health shall develop procedures to be approved by the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services for the implementation of this subdivision including the use of a written form to document an inmate's refusal to consent to a particular examination, procedure or medication.

CHAPTER 2 MENTAL HEALTH MINIMUM STANDARDS

§2-05 Medication.

(a) Policy. Medication shall not be used solely as a method of restraint or means of control, but only as one facet of a treatment plan (as defined in §2-04(c)(3)).

(b) Procedures.

(1) The Department of Health, with the approval of the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services shall develop and implement procedures governing the prescription, dispensing, administration and review of medication:

(i) medication for mental and emotional disorders is to be prescribed only by a psychiatrist, except in an emergency when a physician other than a psychiatrist may prescribe medication for mental and emotional disorders. Such a prescription must be reviewed by a psychiatrist within twenty-four hours;

(ii) except in an emergency, medication for mental and emotional disorders may not be prescribed to an inmate unless that inmate has had a physical examination including a detailed clinical history within the previous six months; in all cases the prescribing physician must first review the medical chart and all other medicine the inmate is receiving;

(iii) medication is to be administered only by appropriately trained medical or health services personnel.

(2) Psychotropic medication shall be dispensed only when clinically indicated, consistent with the treatment plan:

(i) all prescriptions for psychotropic medication must include a stop order; no prescription for psychotropic medication shall be valid for longer than two weeks;

(ii) every inmate receiving psychotropic medication shall be seen and evaluated by the prescribing psychiatrist, or, in cases of emergency when a physician other than a psychiatrist prescribes medication under §2-05(b)(1)(i) by the reviewing psychiatrist, at least once a week until stabilized and thereafter at least every two weeks by medical personnel;

(iii) female inmates who are prescribed psychotropic medication shall be informed of the potential risk of taking such drugs while pregnant and shall be given the opportunity to be tested for pregnancy.

(c) Pharmacy.

(1) When stock medications are maintained within a correctional facility, the agency providing medical services shall develop and maintain a formulary of medications stored in that facility.

(2) The Departments of Health and Correction shall develop and implement a written policy to provide for the maximum security storage and weekly inventory of all controlled substances, syringes, needles and surgical instruments:

(i) "controlled substances" are defined as those so listed by the Drug Enforcement Administration of the United States Department of Justice;

(ii) written notice of this policy shall be given to all staff with potential access to any controlled substances or items under maximum security storage.

(d) Research. Biomedical or behavioral research involving any inmate in the custody of the New York City Department of Correction is prohibited, except insofar as it meets the requirements for approval of research which is subject to the Department of Health and Human Services' regulations, and in addition, has the approval of the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services.

CHAPTER 2 MENTAL HEALTH MINIMUM STANDARDS

§2-06 Restraints and Seclusion.

(a) Policy. The Departments of Correction and Health shall develop and implement procedures subject to the review of the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services governing the physical restraint and seclusion of inmates being observed or treated for mental or emotional disorders. Consistent with the New York State Mental Hygiene Law restraints or seclusion shall not be used as punishment, for the convenience of staff, or as a substitute for treatment programs.

(b) Definitions.

Physical restraint. "Physical restraint" is the deliberate use of a device to interfere with the free movement of an inmate's arms and/or legs, or which totally immobilizes the inmate, and which the inmate is unable to remove without assistance:

(i) the Departments of Health and Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Alcoholism Services shall develop procedures defining permissible forms of physical restraints;

(ii) in no instance shall metal handcuffs be used to restrain an inmate; however, this proscription shall not preclude the application of appropriate security precautions during the transportation of inmates;

(iii) in an emergency, when an inmate presents a clear and present danger to himself or others, the inmate may be restrained, including with metal handcuffs, pending the arrival of a psychiatrist. Correction personnel shall immediately notify the mental health staff for response. The psychiatrist shall respond immediately, but in no event more than one hour after notification. When there is no institutional psychiatrist on duty, correction personnel shall immediately transport the inmate to a facility where a psychiatrist is present.

Seclusion. "Seclusion" is the placing of inmates in their cells, or a seclusion room from which they cannot leave at will, during a normal lock-out period when other inmates in the housing area are given the option to lock out of their cells:

(i) seclusion shall be used only if the cells or seclusion rooms available allow adequate observation of the inmate by staff;

(ii) nothing in this Section shall restrict the ability of the Department of Correction to limit the lock-out rights of inmates for disciplinary purposes (punitive segregation).

(c) Procedures.

(1) The use of physical restraint or seclusion of inmates being observed or treated for mental or emotional disorders shall be permitted only where there is on-duty psychiatric coverage.

(2) Physical restraint or seclusion may be used only upon the direct written order of a psychiatrist which includes the reasons for taking such action.

(3) Physical restraint or seclusion shall be used only when the psychiatrist has examined the inmate and determined in light of all available mental health data that:

(i) the inmate presents an immediate danger of injury to self or others;

(ii) this potential for violence is the result of a mental health disorder for which the inmate is receiving treatment;

(iii) these measures are absolutely necessary to avert the danger and will be therapeutically beneficial; and

(iv) all other available alternatives are ineffective in preventing injury.

(4) An inmate put in restraints or seclusion shall be kept under constant observation and the need for continued restrictive measures shall be assessed by nursing or mental health staff:

(i) use of restraints shall be assessed every fifteen minutes and seclusion shall be reviewed every thirty minutes;

(ii) written findings of such reviews shall be noted on the inmate's medical chart;

(iii) vital signs (temperature, pulse, blood pressure and respiration)

shall be recorded every hour.

(5) An inmate subjected to restraints or seclusion shall be released every two hours and given the opportunity to go to the toilet.

(6) A psychiatrist shall evaluate an inmate in restraints or seclusion at least once every two hours to determine whether continued restrictive measures are warranted.

(7) No order to place an inmate in restraints or seclusion shall be valid longer than two hours, and such an order shall be renewable only once, by a psychiatrist after evaluation of the inmate's condition.

(8) After four hours, if an inmate remains too agitated to be released, the inmate shall be moved to a municipal hospital prison ward.

(b) Variance prior to implementation date. A Department may apply to the Board for a variance prior to the implementation date of a particular subdivision or Section when:

(g) Emergency variance after implementation date. A Department may apply to the Board for a variance after the implementation date of a particular subdivision or Section when an emergency prevents continued compliance with the subdivision or Section.

(h) Emergency variance application. (1) A variance for a period of less than twenty-four hours may be declared by the Department or a designee when an emergency prevents continued compliance with a particular subdivision or Section. The Board or a designate shall be immediately notified of the emergency and the variance.

(iii) the research satisfies all standards of design, control and safety; and

(iv) the proposed research has been approved in writing from the Health Authority.

As an example, the protocol must be reviewed by an established human research review committee with representation of inmate advocates.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 40 Board of Correction

CHAPTER 3 HEALTH CARE MINIMUM STANDARDS

§3-12 Shackling of Inmates.

(a) Policy. The Department of Correction, the Health Authority, and the Health and Hospitals Corporation shall develop and implement procedures governing the shackling of inmates who are receiving medical treatment and are housed in beds outside secure medical wards at the municipal hospitals. Inmates housed outside secure medical wards shall not be routinely shackled. The decision to shackle shall be made on a case by case basis and shall not serve as a substitute for appropriate security precautions or as punishment or for the convenience of staff. Shackling of inmates being transported between clinical settings shall be the least restrictive possible. All non-emergency decisions to shackle inmates must not be medically contraindicated.

(b) Definition. Shackling includes the use of all devices which encircle the ankle or wrist of an inmate and restrict movement.

(c) Procedures. The procedures developed for inmates housed in hospitals in beds outside of secure medical wards must include the following:

(1) Shackling shall be used only upon the direction of the Chief Correctional Officer or his/her designee after a review of the individual case. Pending the receipt of security-related information necessary to perform the review, an inmate may be shackled unless he/she falls into categories listed in (3)(i) through (iv) below. This security-related information must be obtained promptly.

(2) Shackling shall only be used when a Chief Correctional Officer or his/her designee demonstrates with clear and articulable facts that twenty-four hour officer coverage may be insufficient to protect the safety of others or to prevent escape.

(3) An inmate who is to be restrained shall be seen by a physician. DOC will not shackle an inmate where a physician has determined that the inmate is:

(i) pregnant and admitted for delivery of a baby; or

(ii) dependent on a ventilator or respirator; or

(iii) in imminent danger or expectation of death (unless the inmate while in the condition described by (i)-(iii) above attempts to escape or engages in violent behavior at the hospital which presents a danger of injury); or

(iv) where shackling is medically contraindicated. Provided, however, that should an inmate, while in a condition described by (iv) above, attempt to escape or engage in violent behavior at the hospital which presents a danger of injury, he/she may be restrained pending an immediate review of his/her medical condition by a physician to determine whether the use of shackles threatens the inmate's life. DOC shall promptly make alternative security arrangements before the restraints are removed, unless a life-threatening condition exists. In the case of a life-threatening condition, the shackles shall be removed immediately.

(4) At least daily, physicians shall update and review the medical condition of shackled inmates. They shall convey their findings to the Department of Correction including whether the use of mechanical restraints, while the inmate ambulates is medically contraindicated.

(5) A shackled inmate shall be given the opportunity to use the bathroom as often as the need arises unless the physician has ordered the use of bed pans instead.

(6) The decision to shackle an inmate shall be reviewed on a daily basis by a Chief Correctional Officer or his/her designee and must be revised immediately if a physician determines that the shackles have become medically contraindicated. In the latter case, unless a life-threatening medical emergency exists, DOC shall have the opportunity to make alternative security arrangements, if necessary, before the shackles are removed. These arrangements must be made promptly.

(7) All decisions to apply mechanical restraints will be made by the Department of Correction's office of operations.

(8) Written records shall be maintained at the hospitals which indicated the reason for shackling, the time and date of the approval for shackling, the name and title of the person giving approval, and the inmate's name, book and case number and medical status.

(9) Hospital-based physicians caring for inmates outside secure medical wards at the municipal hospitals shall receive training in this standard.

Title 40 Board of Correction

CHAPTER 3 HEALTH CARE MINIMUM STANDARDS

§3-13 Variances.

(a) Policy. Any Department may apply for a variance from a specific Section or Subdivision of these minimum standards when compliance cannot be achieved or continued.

Continuing Variance. A "continuing variance" is an exemption granted by the Board from full compliance with a particular Section or Subdivision for an indefinite period of time.

Emergency Variance. An "emergency variance" as defined in §3-13(c)(3) is an exemption granted by the Board from full compliance with a particular Section or Subdivision for no more than 30 days.

Limited Variance. A "limited variance" is an exemption granted by the Board from full compliance with a particular Section or Subdivision for a specified period of time.

(b) Variances Prior to Effective Date. A Department may apply to the Board for a variance prior to the effective date of a particular Section or Subdivision when:

(1) despite its best efforts and the best efforts of other New York City officials and agencies, full compliance with the Section or Subdivision cannot be achieved by the effective date; or

(2) compliance is to be achieved in a manner other than specified in the Section or Subdivision.

(c) Limited, Continuing and Emergency Variances. (1) A Department may apply to the Board for a limited variance when:

(i) despite its best efforts, and the best efforts of other New York City officials and agencies, full compliance with the Section or Subdivision cannot be achieved; or

(ii) compliance is to be achieved for a limited period in a manner other than specified in the Section or Subdivision.

(2) A Department may apply to the Board for a continuing variance when despite its best efforts and the best efforts of other New York City officials compliance cannot be achieved in the foreseeable future because:

(i) full compliance with a Section or Subdivision creates extreme practical difficulties as a result of circumstances unique to the design of a particular facility, and lack of full compliance would not create a danger or undue hardship to staff or inmates; or

(ii) compliance is to be achieved in an alternative manner sufficient to meet the intent of the Section or Subdivision.

(3) A Department may apply to the Board for an emergency variance when an emergency situation prevents continued compliance with the Section or Subdivision. An emergency variance for a period of less than 24 hours may be declared by a Department when an emergency situation prevents continued compliance with a particular Section or Subdivision. The Board or a designee shall be immediately notified of the emergency situation and the variance application.

(d) Variance Application. (1) An application for a variance must be made in writing to the Board by the Commissioner of a Department as soon as a determination is made that continued compliance will not be possible and shall state:

(i) the type of variance requested;

(ii) the particular Section or Subdivision at issue;

(iii) the requested commencement date of the variance;

(iv) the efforts undertaken by a Department to achieve compliance;

(v) the specific facts or reasons making full compliance impossible, and when those facts and reasons became apparent;

(vi) the specific plans, projections and timetables for achieving full compliance;

(vii) the specific plans for serving the purpose of the Section or Subdivision for the period that strict compliance is not possible; and

(viii) if the application is for a limited variance, the time period for which the variance is requested, provided that this shall be no more than six months.

(2) In addition to the provisions of subsection (1), an application for a continuing variance shall state:

(i) the specific facts and reasons underlying the impracticability or impossibility of compliance within the foreseeable future, and when those facts and reasons became apparent; and

(ii) the degree of compliance achieved and the Department's efforts to mitigate any possible danger or hardships attributable to lack of full compliance; or

(iii) a description of the specific plans for achieving compliance in an alternative manner sufficient to meet the intent of the Section or Subdivision.

(3) In addition to the requirements of subsection (1), an application for an emergency variance for a period of 24 hours or more, (or for renewal of an emergency variance) shall state:

(i) the specific facts or reasons making continued compliance impossible, and when those facts and reasons became apparent;

(ii) the specific plans, projections and timetables for achieving full compliance; and

(iii) the time period for which the variance is requested, provided that this shall be no more than thirty days.

(e) Variance procedure for limited and continuing variances.

(1) Prior to a decision on a variance application for a limited or continuing variance, whenever practicable, the Board will consider the positions of all interested parties, including correctional employees, health service professionals, inmates and their representatives, other public officials and legal religious and community organizations.

(2) Whenever practicable, the Board shall hold a public meeting or hearing on the variance application and hear testimony from all interested parties.

(3) The Board's decision on a variance application shall be in writing.

(4) Interested parties shall be notified of the Board's decision as soon as practicable and no later than 5 business days after the decision is made.

(f) Granting of variance. (1) The Board shall grant a variance only if it is convinced that the variance is necessary and justified.

(2) Upon granting a variance, the Board shall state:

(i) the type of variance;

(ii) the date on which the variance will commence;

(iii) the time period of the variance, if any; and

(iv) any requirements imposed as conditions on the variance.

(g) Renewal of variance. (1) An application for a renewal of a limited or emergency variance shall be treated in the same manner as an original application as provided in §3-13(c)-(f). The Board shall not grant renewal of a variance unless it finds that, in addition to the requirements for approving an original application, a good faith effort has been made to comply with the Section or Subdivision within the previously prescribed time limitation, and that the requirements set by the Board as conditions on the original variance have been met.

(2) A petition for review of a continuing variance may be made upon the Board's own motion or by officials of a Department, or its employees, inmates or their representatives. Upon receipt of a petition, the Board shall review and reevaluate the continuing necessity and justification for the continuing variance. Such review shall be conducted in the same manner as the original application as provided in the §3-13(c)-(f). The Board will discontinue the variance, if after such review and consideration, it determines that:

(i) full compliance with the standard can now be achieved; or

(ii) requirements imposed as conditions upon which the continuing variance was granted have not been fulfilled or maintained; or

(iii) there is no longer compliance with the intent of the Section or Subdivision in alternative manner as required by §3-13(b)(ii).

(3) The Board shall specify in writing and publicize the facts and reason for its decision on an application for renewal or review of a variance. The Board's decision must comply with the requirements of §3-13(f), and, in the case of limited and continuing variances, §3-13(e)(3) and (4). Where appropriate, the Board shall set an effective date for discontinuance of a continuing variance after consultation with all interested parties.

CHAPTER 3*1 GUIDELINES FOR CONTINUITY AND PROVISION OF MEDICAL CARE

§3-01 Purpose.

(a) It is the treatment philosophy of the Department of Juvenile Justice ("the Department" or "DJJ") to seek the active participation of the resident, his/her parent(s) or legal guardian(s), and previous health care providers, in the care and treatment of residents in the custody of the Department.

(b) DJJ recognizes that, as the resident's primary medical provider while in the Department's custody, it is in the best interest of the resident to have accurate and current information concerning the resident's medical and psychiatric cre and medication in order to provide continuity of care.

(c) As part of providing a continuum of appropriate health care services, DJJ endorses the principle of continuing previously provided medical and psychiatric are, including medications, in accordance with the procedures set forth below. Medical and psychiatric care and medication which the resident was receiving prior to admission to DJJ shall continue unless modified in accordance with the procedures set forth below.

CHAPTER 3*1 GUIDELINES FOR CONTINUITY AND PROVISION OF MEDICAL CARE

§3-02 Parental Involvement.

(a) Upon a youth's admission to a Department facility, DJJ shall promptly seek to have the parent/legal guardian execute appropriate consent forms authorizing routine medical treatment.

(b) Whenever, in the course of non-emergency or routine medical care, DJJ proposes a "substantial alteration" to a course of treatment that a resident was receiving prior to his/her admission to the Department, DJJ shall make reasonable efforts to seek the consent of the parent/legal guardian prior to initiating the "substantial alteration". The parent/legal guardian shall have the opportunity to consult with a DJJ physician, physician's assistant, or nurse practitioner regarding the proposed "substantial alteration".

(c) For purposes of this chapter, "substantial alteration" shall mean:

(1) The proposal to initiate medical or psychiatric care or medication where not previously prescribed for the resident, other than routine medical care or emergency medical treatment;

(2) A change in a continuous and uninterrupted course of therapy or medication that had been in effect either at an inpatient facility or by a private physician prior to the resident's admission to the Department. However, changes in the dosage or timing in administering medication which remain consistent with the pharmacological intent of the medication and which are intended to enhance the resident's functional abilities while in DJJ's custody shall not constitute a substantial alteration of a medication regimen. Any such changes in the dosage or timing in administering medication must be based on a specific and clearly identified clinical requirement that is accordingly documented in the patient's record.

(3) The substitution of a generic equivalent where the prescription states "dispense as written".

(d) If, after reasonable efforts to contact a parent/legal guardian, that person is non-responsive, absent or otherwise uninvolved, DJJ shall treat the resident consistent with his/her medical and psychiatric history and current symptomatology.

(e) In the event that DJJ proposes a "substantial alteration" but the parent/legal guardian refuses to consent, then, absent further court intervention, the only treatment that may occur is routine medical care, emergency treatment, and the administration of previously prescribed medications that have been confirmed in accordance with the procedures set forth in §3-03 below.

(c) Where the medication is not in the DJJ pharmacological inventory, DJJ will make every reasonable effort to obtain the medication and initiate it as soon thereafter as practicable.

CHAPTER 1 PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING PRE-SENTENCE REPORTS

§1-02 Production of Records.

(a) Basic procedure. Upon receipt of a proper request, as indicated above, the Department of Probation shall cause three copies of the pre-sentence investigation report to be forwarded to the appropriate appellate court. Said records may then be obtained from the Office of the Clerk of that court. Under no circumstances will the Department of Probation release pre-sentence investigation reports directly to any defendant or attorney. CPL 390.50 provides that probation records are confidential, and are available only for purposes of initial sentencing and upon appeal, and that in those instances "the court shall release" the records.

(b) Time of requests for production. Requests for probation records should be made as far in advance of the date for perfection of the appeal as is possible. Cases which are two or more years old are archived and take a minimum of three to four weeks to locate and forward to the appellate court. Some take longer.

(c) Failure to produce records. It is the responsibility of the requesting party to ascertain whether the probation records have reached the appellate court. No notice will be sent by the Department of Probation. However, if the appellate court indicates that the records have not been received in a reasonable time, further inquiries should be directed either in writing or by telephone to the New York City Department of Probation, Office of the General Counsel, (212) 374-3718, 115 Leonard Street, New York, N.Y. 10013.

CHAPTER 1 UNIFORM RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR ALL CITY AGENCIES PERTAINING TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION LAW

§1-05 Procedure for Making Requests; Responses to Requests.

(a) Any request to inspect or copy records shall be made in writing and addressed to the records access officer of the appropriate agency. The request shall reasonably describe the record or records sought and shall, whenever possible, supply information regarding dates, file designations or other information which will enable the records access officer to identify the records sought.

(b) Upon receipt of a request, the records access officer shall forward the request to the division of the agency having custody of the records requested. The records access officer shall retain a file copy of each request received by him and shall maintain or cause to be maintained a record showing the date on which the request was received, the division to which it was forwarded and the date of forwarding.

(c) Within five business days of receipt of a request, the records access officer shall respond to the request:

(1) If the agency determines that the request should be granted, the records access officer shall so notify the requesting party in a writing which states the time and place at which the requested records may be inspected and the procedures and fees for copying of records.

(2) If the agency determines that the requested records are exempt from disclosure under the terms of the Freedom of Information Law and that the request should be denied, the records access officer shall so notify the requesting party in a writing which states the grounds for the denial.

(3) If a request does not adequately describe the records sought, the records access officer shall notify the requesting party in writing that his request has been denied, stating the reasons why the request does not meet the requirements of this section and extending to the requesting party an opportunity to confer with the records access officer in order to attempt to reformulate the request in a manner that will enable the agency to identify the records sought.

(4) If a requested record does not exist, has been destroyed or otherwise disposed of, or is in the possession, custody or control of another agency, the records access officer shall so notify the requesting party in writing. In the case of records which the records access officer believes to be in the possession, custody or control of another agency, he shall state in the writing the agency to which the request should be addressed.

(5) If the agency determines that a request should be granted in part and denied in part, the records access officer shall so notify the requesting party in a writing which sets forth the information required by subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this subdivision (c), as applicable.

(6) Each writing denying a request in whole or in part shall inform the requesting party of his right to appeal the determination of the agency within thirty days and shall state the name of the person or body designated in the agency to hear such appeals. Such person or body shall be identified by name, title, business address and telephone number.

(d) If, because of unusual circumstances, an agency is unable to determine within five business days whether to grant, deny or otherwise respond to a request for inspection and copying, the records access officer shall, within such five day period, acknowledge receipt of the request in writing to the requesting party, stating the approximate date, not to exceed ten business days from the date of the acknowledgement, by which a determination with respect to the request will be made. If the agency does not make a determination with respect to the request within ten business days from the date of such acknowledgement, the request may be deemed denied and an appeal may be taken to the person or body designated in the agency to hear appeals. As used in this subdivision (d), "unusual circumstances" means:

(1) The need to search for and collect the requested records from facilities or offices that are separate from the office processing the request; or

(2) The need to search for, collect, examine and evaluate a voluminous amount of separate and distinct records which are demanded in a single request; or

(3) The need for consultation, which shall be conducted with all practicable speed, with another agency having a substantial interest in the determination of the request or between two or more divisions or departments of an agency having a substantial subject matter interest therein; or

(4) Any other circumstances in which the agency is unable, by the exercise of due diligence, and acting in good faith, to comply with the time limits set forth in this sub- division.

(e) To prevent unwarranted invasions of personal privacy, an agency, in making records available for inspection and copying, may delete identifying details or may withhold records otherwise available, if deletion of identifying details is impracticable or will not, in fact, prevent an unwarranted invasion of the privacy of the person to whom the record refers.

An unwarranted invasion of privacy includes, but is not limited to:

(1) Disclosure of employment, medical or credit histories or personal references of applicants for employment; or

(2) Disclosure of items involving the medical or personal records of a client or patient in a medical facility; or

(3) Sale or release of lists of names and addresses if such lists would be used for commercial or fund-raising purposes; or

(4) Disclosure of information of a personal nature when disclosure would result in economic or personal hardship to the subject party and such information is not relevant to the work of the agency requesting or maintaining it; or

(5) Disclosure of information of a personal nature reported in confidence to an agency requesting or maintaining it and which is not relevant to the ordinary work of such agency.

(f) The records access officer shall retain a file copy of each writing granting, denying or acknowledging a request pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section and shall promptly forward to the Law Department a copy of each denial.

CASE NOTES

¶ 1. Promulgation of protocols regarding removal of lead paint from City owned bridge was subject to requirements of City environmental quality review regulations. Thus, the court granted injunctive relief requiring the City to comply with the required environmental procedures before the work could be undertaken. The court noted that the work constituted more than routine maintenance (which is not subject to environmental review) because of the environmental hazards posed by lead. Note that where petitioner seeks to nullify a regulation, have heavy burden to show that reg. is unreasonable and unsupported by evidence. Here, petitioner failed to meet that burden. Such certificate shall include, but not be limited to, the following information: name and address of the approved applicant, name of the qualified film the credit applies to, the amount of the tax credit to be received by the approved applicant and a disclaimer stating that actual receipt of the tax credit is subject to availability of City funds for the program.

(e) Completeness of the application. "Completeness of the application" means that all questions on the application itself were fully addressed by either the authorized or approved applicant and that any additional substantiating documents that were requested by the Office were provided in a manner sufficient to allow the Office to properly evaluate the application.

(f) Completion of production of a qualified film. "Completion of production of a qualified film" for purposes of paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) of §7-03 and paragraphs (4) and (5) of subdivision (b) of §7-06 and subdivision (k) of §7-02 of these rules, means that post-production of a qualified film has been finished and a cut negative, video master or other final locked form of the qualified film is ready for the striking of prints or electronic copies, and/or ready for broadcast or delivery to a distributor. All activities and expenses related to marketing and distribution, including the making of release prints, video dupes or other forms of copies, promotional images, and poster art are considered to occur after the production of a qualified film is completed.

(g) Commissioner. "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of the City of New York Mayor's Office of Film, Theatre and Broadcasting.

(h) Effective date. "Effective date" means the date the certificate of conditional eligibility becomes effective. Such date is determined by the date the initial application is received by the Office. In the event that the applicant's principal and ongoing photography on a qualified film does not actually begin within ninety (90) days of the submission of the initial application, the applicant's effective date will be recalculated to correspond to the date ninety (90) days prior to the date that the approved applicant submits, and the Office receives, a notification of actual commencement of principal and ongoing photography. If the actual commencement of principal and ongoing photography does not begin within one hundred eighty (180) days of submission of the initial application, the application shall no longer be deemed valid.

(i) Feature-length film. "Feature-length film" means a production intended for commercial distribution to a motion picture theater or directly to the home video market that has a running time of at least seventy-five (75) minutes in length.

(j) Film production facility. "Film production facility" means a building and/or complex of buildings and their improvements and associated back-lot facilities in which films are or are intended to be regularly produced and which contain at least one sound stage.

(k) Final application. "Final application" means a document created by the Office and submitted by an approved applicant after it has completed production of a qualified film which contains information concerning actual expenditures regarding a qualified film that could make it eligible for the New York City Made In New York film production tax credit under §§11-503(m) or 11-604(20) of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and the provisions of this chapter. Such application shall include, but not be limited to: actual data with regard to the qualified film's total budget, the total production costs at film production facilities in and outside of New York, and the total number of shooting days in and outside of New York and any other information the Office determines is necessary to properly evaluate the application.

(l) Initial application. "Initial application" means a document created by the Office and submitted by an authorized applicant which contains information concerning projected expenditures regarding a qualified film that could make it eligible for the New York City Made In New York film production tax credit under §§11-503(m) or 11-604(20) of the Administrative Code of the City of New York and the provisions of this chapter. Such application shall include, but is not limited to, the following information: the estimated total budget for the qualified film, estimates of expenditures at a qualifying production facility, estimates of shooting days and expenditures in New York City and outside of New York City and any other information the Office determines is necessary to properly evaluate the application.

(m) Notification of actual commencement of principal and ongoing photography. "Notification of actual commencement of principal and ongoing photography" means the date the Office receives written notice from the approved applicant that the actual production of a qualified film, including the principal and ongoing photography, has commenced on a date specified in such notice, which date is on or before the date that the approved applicant has submitted such notice.

(n) Office. "Office" means the City of New York Mayor's Office of Film, Theatre and Broadcasting.

(o) Pre-production. "Pre-production" means the process of preparation for actual physical production which begins after a qualified film has received a firm agreement of financial commitment ("greenlit") with, for example, the establishment of a dedicated production office, the hiring of key crew members such as a Unit Production Manager, Line Producer and Location Manager, and includes, but is not limited to, activities such as location scouting, hiring of crew, and execution of contracts with vendors of equipment and stage space.

(p) Reserved.

(q) Priority number. "Priority number" means the number used by the Office to determine allocation of the New York City Made In New York film production tax credit. Priority number shall be based on the applicant's effective date; provided, however, that in the event that there is more than one initial application with the same effective date, priority shall be given to the authorized applicant with the earliest anticipated date of commencement of principal and ongoing photography. Provided further that if the principal and ongoing photography does not begin on the anticipated date, and the commencement date is within the one hundred eighty (180)-day limitation provided in subdivision (h) of this section, such priority number shall be recalculated based upon the date that the Office receives notification of actual commencement of principal and ongoing photography from the approved applicant.

(r) Post-production. "Post-production" means the final stage in a qualified film's production after principal and ongoing photography is completed, including, but not limited to, editing, Foley recording, Automatic Dialogue Replacement, sound editing, special effects, scoring and music editing, beginning and end credits, negative cutting, soundtrack production, the addition of sound/visual effects, dubbing, and subtitling. Advertising and marketing activities and expenses are not included in post-production.

(s) Premature application. "Premature application" means an initial application in which the Office reasonably determines that the applicant cannot commence principal and ongoing photography within ninety (90) days of the date the initial application was submitted. Such determination may, but is not required to, be based on, among other things, vagueness of the applicant's answers on the initial application and during the initial interview and lack of documentation supporting an applicant's initial application.

(t) Principal and ongoing photography. "Principal and ongoing photography" means the filming of major and significant portions of a qualified film that involves the lead actors.

(u) Production costs. "Production costs" means any costs for tangible property used and services performed directly and predominantly (including pre-production and post-production) in the production of a qualified film. Production costs shall not include (i) costs for a story, script or scenario to be used for a qualified film and (ii) wages or salaries or other compensation for writers, directors, including music directors, producers, actors and performers (other than background actors or other performers with no scripted lines). Production costs generally include technical and crew production costs, such as expenditures for film production facilities, or any part thereof, props, makeup, wardrobe, film processing, camera, sound recording, set construction, lighting, shooting, editing and meals.

(v) Qualified film. "Qualified film" means a feature-length film, television film, television pilot and/or each episode of a television series, regardless of the medium by means of which the film, pilot or episode is created or conveyed. Qualified film shall not include (i) a documentary film, news or current affairs program, interview or talk program, magazine program, variety or skit program, "how-to" (i.e., instructional) film or program, film or program consisting primarily of stock footage, sporting event or sporting program, game show, award ceremony, film or program intended primarily for industrial, corporate or institutional end-users, fundraising film or program, daytime drama (i.e., daytime "soap opera"), commercials, music videos or "reality" program or (ii) a production for which records are required under §2257 of Title 18, United States Code, to be maintained with respect to any performer in such production (reporting of books, films, etc. with respect to sexually explicit conduct).

(w) Qualified film production company. "Qualified film production company" means a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual which or who is principally engaged in the production of a qualified film and controls the qualified film during production and is responsible for payment of the direct production expenses (including pre and post-production) and is a signatory to the qualified film's contracts with its payroll company and facility operators.

(x) Qualified film production facility. "Qualified film production facility" means a film production facility in New York City, which contains at least one sound stage having a minimum of seven thousand square feet of contiguous production space.

(y) Qualified production costs. "Qualified production costs" means production costs only to the extent such costs are incurred directly in New York City and are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services within New York City directly and predominantly in the production (including pre-production and post-production) of a qualified film.

(z) Sound stage. "Sound stage" means a large interior room or space which provides a controlled environment in which filming takes place on sets built or assembled specifically for the production.

(aa) Television film. "Television film", which may also be known as "movie-of-the-week," "mow," "made for television movie," or "mini-series," means a production intended for broadcast on television, whether free or via a subscription-based service, that has a running time of at least ninety (90) minutes in length (inclusive of commercial advertisement and interstitial programming).

(bb) Television pilot. "Television pilot" means the initial episode produced for a proposed episodic television series. This category will include shorter formats which are known as "television presentation," a production of at least fifteen (15) minutes in length, produced for the purposes of selling a proposed television series, but not intended for broadcast.

(cc) Television series. "Television series", which may also be known as "episodic television series," means a regularly occurring production intended in its initial run for broadcast no more than once weekly, on television, whether free or via subscription-based service, that has a running time of at least thirty (30) minutes in length (inclusive of commercial advertisement and interstitial programming).

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Sept. 22, 2006:

These rules are promulgated in accordance with recent State and local law amendments to the "Made In New York Film Production Tax Credit" program. State legislation enacted in 2004 had provided for State tax credits under the new "Empire State Film Production Tax Credit" program, and authorized New York City to establish such a program by local law with respect to local tax credits, which was accomplished by the passage of Local Law No. 2 of 2005. Both such laws were recently amended by the State Legislature (Chapter 62 of the Laws of 2006) and the City Council (Local Law No. 24 of 2006), resulting in an extension of the program through 2011, pursuant to which funds have been increased to support the State and City tax credits through that year.

Local Law No. 24 of 2006 requires that the Mayor's Office of Film, Theatre & Broadcasting ("MOFTB") amend the rules previously promulgated (effective June 12, 2005) with respect to procedures for the allocation of tax credits allowed under the Administrative Code. In the time since the original rules were promulgated, MOFTB has gained considerable experience administering the program and has determined that changes should be made to certain of these procedures.

Specifically, the rule changes set forth herein decrease the time period applicable to submissions for film production tax credits, shortening the period of time from 180 to 90 days, within which principal and ongoing photography must be commenced. Failure to meet such deadlines will result in the postponement of the application's effective date to a date 90 days prior to such date of actual commencement.

Moreover, under these changes the failure to commence the principal and ongoing photography within 180 days of the date of submission of the application will render the application invalid. An application will now be deemed premature if it is submitted more than 90 prior to the commencement of the principal and ongoing photography. Final applications for the film production tax credits must be submitted within 90 (formerly 60) days after completion of the production. Applicants will be permitted to file a written request to extend such 90-day period to 150 days after completion of production.

The rules incorporate a new criterion for evaluating applications: whether an applicant agrees to include the MOFTB "Made In New York" logo in the screen credits of the qualified film, indicating receipt of the tax credit.

A new §7-09, "Applicability", provides that these new rules do not apply to initial or final applications submitted prior to the effective date of the amendments, with the exception of the amendments made to §7-05 which refer to the funds allocated to the film production tax credit program as provided by law.

Finally, the rules contain technical amendments that reference the enactment of the 2006 State legislation and the subsequent local law that was signed by the Mayor in July, 2006.

CHAPTER 8 PREMIERE PERMITS AND FEES*1

§8-01 Premiere Permits Relating to Certain Entertainment Events.

The Mayor's Office of Film, Theatre & Broadcasting ("MOFTB") shall issue Premiere Permits in connection with certain entertainment events held in New York City. These include special events associated with movie premieres, theatre openings, and other similar events held with respect to films, television commercials and radio productions. Premiere Permits for such events may, at the discretion of the Commissioner of MOFTB and, as indicated below, be issued to individuals or commercial entities.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record June 10, 2005:

This rule implements a decision to transfer certain of the functions that are currently administered by the Community Assistance Unit's ("CAU") Street Activity Permit Office ("SAPO"). It would add a new Chapter to Title 8 to Title 43 to authorize the Mayor's Office of Film, Theater and Broadcasting ("MOFTB"), in conjunction with CAU, to issue permits for special events that are held in New York City in the entertainment field. These include special events held in connection with movie premieres, theatre openings, and other events held with respect to films, television commercials and radio.

Because MOFTB has been, for almost forty years, the office providing one-stop clearance and permit operations for film and television productions in the City, it is logical that MOFTB have a significant administrative role in this permitting function. Moreover, a primary mission of MOFTB is to attract business for the City in the entertainment industry, and thus as that industry's primary liaison to the City, this permitting function supports such mission.

The MOFTB received comments from other City agencies regarding the rule published for comment, which are now reflected in the text set forth above. The significant changes are as follows:

- The permit is to be denominated a Premiere Permit.

- In summary, the application process will be as follows: permit applications will be submitted to MOFTB, which will forward them to CAU. CAU will consult with the City agencies that might be affected by the activity, consider information submitted by such agencies and conduct any requisite discussions to resolve any outstanding issues. CAU will then provide its recommendation regarding the permit. MOFTB may thereafter issue the permit to the applicant and collect the requisite fee. However, such approval may not be inconsistent with CAU's recommendation.

2. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record July 20, 2009: This amendment constitutes revisions to Chapter 8 of Title 43, the rule promulgated in 2005 to implement the decision to transfer certain of the functions that had been administered by the Community Assistance Unit's ("CAU") Street Activity Permit Office ("SAPO") to the Mayor's Office of Film, Theatre and Broadcasting ("MOFTB"). These amendments to Chapter 8 include definitions, the addition of categories, and amendments to the fee schedule for certain Premiere Permits that are issued for special events held in connection with movie premieres, theatre openings, and other entertainment-related events held with respect to the film, television commercial, and radio industries. The amendments also acknowledge the role of the recently created Office of Citywide Events Coordination and Management ("CECM") in permitting activities of the City. The rule was initially published for comment in the City Record on November 14, 2008. Although no comments from the public were received prior to or at the hearing (held on December 15, 2008), MOFTB received comments from other City agencies regarding the proposal, and has thus revised its proposal to provide additional detail concerning the regulatory framework for issuance of such premiere permits with an approach that is more consistent with rules recently promulgated by CECM. Section 8-02 is a new section that defines events according to their size in two primary ways: first, according to the number of people who are likely to attend such event, a number that is predictable because the majority of such events are by invitation; and second, according to the level of impact on the community, traffic, and need for coordination among City agencies. As indicated in the publication on November 14, 2008, the amended rule contains increased fees, which are set forth in a new § 8-03: for large events, from up to $5,000.00 to $14,000; for medium events, from up to $3,100.00 to $5,000.00; and for small events, from up to $1,750.00 to $2,750.00. Two new permit categories are added: first, "extra small events", the fees for which will be $450.00; and second, "extra large events", the fees for which will be $24,000.00. The section addressing processing of premiere permits, now § 8-04, is revised to provide that CECM is involved in the approval process, in the former role that CAU played. In accordance with this Premiere Permit program administered since 2005, MOFTB is authorized to impose fees and conditions necessary to protect the interests of the City, the entertainment industry and the general public. After four years of experience in administering this permit program, MOFTB has developed expertise in assessing the extent to which such events require additional police presence involving increased overtime expenditures by the City. In order to effectively deploy such police and other City resources, MOFTB has exercised its discretion to approve permits for these "red carpet" events in accordance with a fee scale for such commercial entertainment events based on the cost the City incurs to process the permit application and ensure the safety of the event. Moreover, MOFTB has received feedback from other agencies regarding the need to create additional categories of permits to address the variety of the size and scope of these entertainment-related activities that are regulated by permits under Chapter 8, as well as the need to ensure that existing fees accurately reflect the high cost of overseeing the activities that are covered by such permits. The fee scale was created by analyzing the administrative and manpower costs incurred by the MOFTB, the NYPD and other agencies that work directly with MOFTB to review, evaluate and approve or deny an application and to oversee the permitted activities. Establishment of the amended fee scale also ensures that event organizers will evaluate the components of the event prior to application submission to make certain that there will be sufficient City resources to cover the activities contemplated by the permit.

(a) Sponsor or applicant. "Sponsor" or "applicant" shall mean the individual or commercial entity named in an application for a Premiere Permit, which application shall be submitted on forms prescribed by the Commissioner of MOFTB.

(b) Extra large event. "Extra large event" shall mean an event (1) for which there is an anticipated attendance of 5,000 or more people; and (2) that has an extensive impact on the surrounding community and/or on vehicular/pedestrian traffic, in that they include obstructions or structures such as any temporary platforms, bleachers, reviewing stands, outdoor bandstands or similar structures, or tents or canopies that require a Department of Buildings permit. This may involve, but is not limited to, significant coordination by other City agencies, including permitting agencies; a large and/or complicated permitting role by the Department of Buildings; full closure of streets and/or sidewalks; and extensive coordination between MOFTB, the Office of Citywide Events Coordination and Management ("CECM"), the Police Department, the Fire Department, and other City agencies as appropriate.

(c) Large event. (e) Small event. "Small event" shall mean an event (1) for which there is an anticipated attendance of fewer than 1,000 people; and (2) that occupies a period of time that does not exceed four hours and has moderate impact on pedestrian and/or vehicular traffic. CHAPTER 9 PERMITS ISSUED BY MAYOR'S OFFICE OF FILM, THEATRE AND BROADCASTING*1

§9-01 Permits for Scouting, Rigging and Production Activities.

(a) Scope of Rules. The Mayor's Office of Film Theatre and Broadcasting ("MOFTB") shall issue permits in connection with filming, including but not limited to the taking of motion pictures; the taking of photographs; the use and operation of television cameras, transmitting television equipment, or radio remotes in or about city property; load-ins or load-outs supporting indoor performances; or such activities in or about any street, park, marginal street, pier, wharf, dock, bridge or tunnel within the jurisdiction of any City department or agency, or involving the use of any City owned or maintained facilities or equipment. As defined herein, MOFTB will issue permits for scouting, rigging and shooting activities. Obtaining such a permit does not obviate the need to comply with other applicable laws, rules or case law also governing such activity.

(b) Required and Optional Permits. Unless a permit is designated in these rules as an "Optional Permit", the use of the term "permit" herein shall be deemed to be a "Required Permit".

(1) Required Permits.

a. The following activities require that a permit be obtained pursuant to this chapter: (i) Filming, photography, production, television or radio remotes occurring on City property, as described in subdivision (a) of this section, that uses vehicles or equipment.

(ii) Filming, photography, production, television or radio remotes occurring on City property, as described in subdivision (a) of this section, (A) if such activity involves the assertion by any means, including physical or verbal, of exclusive use of one or more lanes of a street or walkway of a bridge or (B) if such activity involves the assertion by any means, including physical or verbal, of exclusive use of more than one-half of a sidewalk or other pedestrian passageway or, in a situation in which the sidewalk or pedestrian passageway is narrower than sixteen feet, if such activity involves the assertion by any means, including physical or verbal, of exclusive use of the sidewalk or pedestrian passageway such that less than eight feet is otherwise available for pedestrian use.

For purposes of this subparagraph, standing on a street, walkway of a bridge, sidewalk, or other pedestrian passageway while using a handheld device and not otherwise asserting exclusive use by any means, including physical or verbal, is not activity that requires a permit.

b. The following activities do not require that a permit be obtained pursuant to this chapter:

(i) Filming, photography, production, television or radio remotes occurring on City property, as described in subdivision (a) of this section, involving the use of handheld devices as defined in paragraph three of subdivision (a) of §9-02, (A) if such activity does not involve the assertion by any means, including physical or verbal, of exclusive use of one or more lanes of a street or walkway of a bridge or (B) if such activity does not involve the assertion by any means, including physical or verbal, of exclusive use of more than one-half of a sidewalk or other pedestrian passageway or, in a situation in which the sidewalk or pedestrian passageway is narrower than sixteen feet, does not involve the assertion by any means, including physical or verbal, of exclusive use of the sidewalk or pedestrian passageway such that less than eight feet is otherwise available for pedestrian use.

For purposes of this subparagraph, standing on a street, walkway of a bridge, sidewalk, or other pedestrian passageway while using a handheld device and not otherwise asserting exclusive use by any means, including physical or verbal, is not activity that requires a permit.

(ii) Filming or photography of a parade, rally, protest, or demonstration except when using vehicles or equipment.

(2) Optional Permits: Persons who are engaged in filming or still photography and are not otherwise required to obtain a permit pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of this section may be issued an Optional Permit.

a. Persons requesting such an Optional Permit shall provide accurate information concerning their postal address and, if available, e-mail address, telephone number and fax number; and accurate information as to the location(s) of such activities, the date(s) and time(s) during which such activities are proposed to take place.

b. MOFTB shall process Optional Permit requests in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs four, five, six, seven, eight, nine and ten of subdivision (b) of §9-02 of these rules.

(c) Press passes. The use of a press pass issued by the New York City Police Department ("NYPD") in accordance with Chapter 11 of Title 38 of the Rules of the City of New York ("Press Credentials"), where an individual is acting in furtherance of the activity authorized by such press pass, and is engaged in filming as defined in these rules, does not require that a permit be obtained pursuant to this chapter.

(d) Authorization from other agencies: Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section, scouting, rigging or shooting activities within City parks or the interiors of City buildings, bridges or tunnels require, if applicable, separate authorization from the City agency with jurisdiction over the location. The use of certain items or activities, including but not limited to animals, firearms (actual or simulated), special effects, pyrotechnics, police uniforms, police vehicles, driving shots with tow or camera rigs, and conditions that require holding of traffic may require authorization and/or assistance from the relevant government agency.

c. If known at the time of the application, the dates and times of scouting, rigging or shooting and location of such activity, and any special circumstances including, but not limited to, information regarding whether the activity involves special parking requests, traffic control issues or special effects.

d. Film school students shall provide a letter from the student's school confirming insurance coverage, and the student's current enrollment, subject to the provisions of §9-03.

(3) Scouting, Rigging and/or Shooting Permit Applications. When applicants submit a scouting, rigging and/or shooting permit application, on a form prescribed by MOFTB, they shall:

a. identify the date(s), time(s) and location(s) of such activity;

b. identify any special circumstances including, but not limited to, information regarding whether the activity involves special parking requests, traffic control issues or special effects;

c. for applicants requesting a scouting permit, provide a letter from the applicant's producing/financing entity verifying the project by name and identifying the natural person(s) on-site who will be performing scouting activities on behalf of the applicant;

d. for applicants requesting a scouting permit, provide documents of incorporation, financing documents for the project or grant or foundation award letter.

(4) Processing of Permits. All permit applications will be processed on a "first come, first served" basis. Upon request by an applicant for a Required Permit, MOFTB will place a pre-permit reserve on the location(s) identified in the New Project Account application or the rigging and/or shooting application. An applicant can request such pre-permit reserve no more than three weeks in advance of the activity, but upon a need demonstrated in writing by the applicant, MOFTB may grant a greater period of time. If two or more permit applicants request the same date and the same location, the New Project Account application request that was received first shall be first eligible for approval.

(5) MOFTB shall respond to the applicant with one of the responses enumerated in subparagraphs a through c of paragraph (6) of this section in accordance with the following schedule:

a. for applications filed 45 days or more prior to the date for which such permit is sought, MOFTB shall respond no later than 30 days after the receipt of such applications;

b. for applications filed less than 45 days but more than 15 days prior to the date for which such permit is sought, MOFTB shall respond no later than ten days after the receipt of such applications; or

c. for applications filed 15 days or less prior to the date for which such permit is sought, MOFTB shall respond as soon as is reasonably practicable.

d. No application may be filed more than sixty days prior to the date of the requested event, unless special circumstances are presented to the commissioner or her designee for approval.

(6) Determination upon review of application. Following receipt of an application, the MOFTB will make one or more of the following determinations:

a. issuance of the particular permit.

b. written notification that more information is needed before MOFTB can make a determination as to a particular permit application.

c. written notification that the particular permit application has been denied and a statement of the reason or reasons pursuant to paragraph (7) of this subdivision for such denial.

(7) Denial of new project account applications or scouting, rigging, and/or shooting permit application. MOFTB may deny a permit if any one or more of the following issues exists:

a. conditions exist that may pose a danger or a threat to participants, onlookers or the general public;

b. the location sought is not suitable because the proposed use cannot reasonably be accommodated in the proposed location;

c. the date and time requested for a particular location is not available because (i) a permit has previously been issued for such date and time, or (ii) the permit request is the subject of a new project account application, as provided in paragraph (4) of this subdivision, or (iii) another City agency has issued a permit for such date or time;

d. MOFTB has concluded, based on specific information, that the applicant is unlikely to comply with the material terms of the requested permit;

e. use of the location or the proposed activity at the location would otherwise violate any law, ordinance, statute or regulation;

f. use of the location would interfere unreasonably with the operation of City functions.

(8) If the permit has been denied pursuant to subparagraphs a, b, c, e (with respect to location) or f of paragraph (7) of this subdivision, MOFTB shall employ reasonable efforts to offer the applicant suitable alternative locations and/or times and/or dates for the proposed rigging or shooting. If the permit has been denied pursuant to subparagraph d, the MOFTB may consider whether special conditions may be placed or whether additional steps can be taken to address its concern about potential non-compliance.

(9) The denial of a permit shall be in writing and shall contain information about the right to appeal such denial unless the applicant, in its application, authorizes MOFTB to issue an oral determination in connection with the filing of the application. Subsequent to the filing of such application, an applicant may request a written determination upon notifying MOFTB in writing that such applicant now seeks a written determination. Upon receiving such request for a written determination, MOFTB shall respond in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (5) of this subdivision, such time to respond commencing on the date of receipt by MOFTB of the notification.

(10) After a permit application is denied, the applicant may appeal a written determination by written request filed with the appeals officer who may reverse, affirm, or modify the original determination and provide a written explanation of his or her finding.

a. If a permit application is denied more than 30 days prior to the proposed scouting, rigging or shooting, the applicant shall have 10 days from the date that such denial is e-mailed or faxed to the applicant to appeal such denial. MOFTB shall render a decision on such appeal within 10 days of receipt of such appeal.

b. If a permit application is denied more than 10 days and less than 30 days prior to the proposed scouting, rigging or shooting, the applicant shall have 5 days from the date such denial is e-mailed or faxed to the applicant to appeal such denial. MOFTB shall render a decision on such appeal within 5 days of receipt of such appeal.

c. If a permit application is denied 10 days or less prior to the proposed scouting, rigging or shooting, the applicant shall have one day from the date such denial is e-mailed or faxed to the applicant to appeal such denial. MOFTB shall render a decision on such appeal as soon as is reasonably practicable.

(c) Responsibilities of Holders of Required and Optional Permits. (1) Rules: All permittees are subject to the rules of MOFTB, the specific terms and conditions of the permit, and all applicable city, state, and federal laws or rules. Nothing herein is intended to authorize activities that are illegal under any applicable city, state or federal law or rule, except that permittees may engage in such conduct as is expressly authorized by the permit issued to them.

(2) Display of permit: All permittees shall have the permit in their possession on location at the time and site of the scouting, rigging or shooting, as well as any other permits required by MOFTB or any other governmental agency, and shall make such permit available for inspection at the request of an employee of the Police Department or other government agency.

(3) Permit restrictions: All permittees shall confine their activities to the locations and times specified on their permit. MOFTB may establish specific guidelines to address conditions that exist at certain designated locations and the use of vehicles and equipment at locations based on, among other considerations, the time of day, weather conditions, season, location, and day of the week.

(4) Non-transferability: Required Permits and Optional Permits are not transferable.

(5) Clean-up: All permittees are responsible for cleaning and restoring the site after the rigging or shooting. The cost of any City employee time incurred because of a permittee's failure to clean and/or restore the site following the rigging or shooting will be borne by the permittee.

(6) Accidents or injuries: Should there be any injuries, accidents, other health incidents or damage to private or City property at a permitted event, the permittee shall notify MOFTB immediately.

(7) Vehicle Parking: Only vehicles with permits issued by MOFTB will be allowed to park in areas designated for the rigging or shooting activity at the time(s) and location(s) described in the applicable permit.

(8) Dolly track or other equipment: No dolly track or other equipment may be laid across a street or block a fire lane without prior approval of MOFTB and NYPD.

(9) Pyrotechnics: The use of pyrotechnics, fire effects and explosions, including simulated smoke and smoke effects, shall be conducted only upon authorization by the New York City Fire Department and subsequent approval shall be obtained from MOFTB and the NYPD prior to shooting.

(10) Animals: The use of wild animals, as defined in Article 161, §161.02 of the New York City Health Code, shall be used only upon authorization by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, and subsequent approval shall be obtained from MOFTB prior to shooting.

(11) Potentially dangerous activities: Conduct or activities associated with rigging or shooting permits which are determined by MOFTB to cause a potential danger to persons or property will be referred by MOFTB for approval by the NYPD or other governmental agency having jurisdiction over such activity. Such activities shall include, but not be limited to, the use of stunts, helicopters, firearms or simulated firearms.

(12) Traffic control: Where a public street is closed in connection with rigging or production activities, a 13.5-foot lane shall be kept open. Such requirement may be waived by MOFTB upon an appropriate showing of need or at the discretion of the NYPD.

(13) Trees and plantings: Trimming, damaging, removing or cutting trees or vegetation on City property is prohibited without the prior approval of the New York City Department of Parks and Recreation.

(14) Street structures: No street signs, lights, postal boxes, parking meters or any other permanent street structure may be removed or altered without the prior approval of the New York City Department of Transportation or other agency charged with maintaining such structures.

(15) Production location access: If determined by MOFTB to be appropriate, permittees shall submit a mitigation plan for minimizing the potential inconvenience to residents and/or businesses caused by rigging or shooting activities.

(16) Food services: There shall be no sit-down catered meals permitted on public streets or sidewalks.

(17) Code of Conduct: MOFTB shall issue a location Code of Conduct that addresses the importance of considerate behavior on the set of all rigging and shooting activities. A copy of the Code of Conduct shall be given to holders of Required and Optional Permits under these rules. The permittee is responsible for providing a copy of the Code of Conduct to the cast and crew of each permitted rigging or shooting activity. Permittees shall be required to encourage participants in the permitted event to act in accordance with such code.

(d) Modifications to or Suspension of Required or Optional Permit. (1) If a permittee seeks to modify its permit, it shall submit an addendum to its original request, which will be governed by the same timetable as provided in paragraph (5) of subdivision (b) of this section.

(2) If MOFTB determines that modifications should be made to the terms or conditions of any permit, or that a permit should be revoked, after notice and opportunity to be heard, MOFTB may do so, based upon reasons set forth in paragraph (7) of subdivision (b) of this section.

(3) If MOFTB revokes any permit prior to the date of the scouting, rigging or shooting, the permittee may appeal the revocation, subject to the time limitations set forth in paragraph (10) of subdivision (b) of this section.

(4) During the course of scouting, rigging or shooting, MOFTB or the NYPD may suspend any permit where public health or safety risks are found or where exigent circumstances warrant such action. Where a suspension lasting longer than six hours occurs, permittees shall be given notice and an opportunity to be heard within ten days after the suspension.

RULES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Title 43 Mayor

CHAPTER 9 PERMITS ISSUED BY MAYOR'S OFFICE OF FILM, THEATRE AND BROADCASTING*1

§9-03 Indemnification and Insurance.

(a) By accepting a permit, a permittee agrees to protect all persons and property from damage, loss or injury arising from any of the operations performed by or on behalf of the permittee, and to indemnify and hold harmless the City, to the fullest extent permitted by law, from all claims, losses and expenses, including attorneys' fees, that may result therefrom. This indemnification requirement does not apply to any person or entity acting with an Optional Permit in accordance with §9-01(b)(2).

(b) Every holder of a Required Permit shall maintain, during the entire course of its operations, liability insurance with a limit of at least one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence. Such insurance shall include a policy endorsement naming the City of New York as an additional insured with coverage at least as broad as provided by Insurance Services Office (ISO) form CG 20 12 (07/98 ed.). The applicant shall provide proof of such insurance prior to the issuance of the permit in the form of an original certificate of insurance signed in ink to which a copy of the required endorsement is attached. For currently enrolled film students, proof of insurance through their school and the student's current attendance shall satisfy this requirement. This insurance requirement does not apply to any person or entity holding an Optional Permit issued in accordance with §9-01(b)(4).

(c) If MOFTB determines, in light of the activity for which a permit is sought, that such activity may increase the potential for injury to individuals and/or damage to property, and that the minimum limit of insurance should be higher than one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence, MOFTB shall determine what higher minimum limit is to be required and inform the applicant of such higher limit. Factors to be considered by MOFTB may include, but shall not be limited to, the number of people involved, the location of the activity and the nature of the activity. The applicant shall thereafter provide proof of such insurance in accordance with subdivision (b) of this section. If MOFTB determines in writing that a higher minimum limit is to be required, the applicant may appeal such determination by written request filed with the MOFTB appeals officer who may reverse, affirm, or modify the determination and provide a written explanation of his or her finding.

(d) MOFTB shall have the authority to waive the insurance required by subdivision (b) of this section where the applicant is able to demonstrate that such insurance cannot be obtained without imposing an unreasonable hardship on the applicant. Any request for a waiver of the insurance required by subdivision (b) of this section shall be included by the applicant in the application submitted to MOFTB under §9-02 of this chapter. The burden of demonstrating unreasonable hardship shall be on the applicant, and may be demonstrated by a showing, for example, that the cost of obtaining insurance for the permitted activity exceeds twenty-five percent (25%) of the applicant's budget for such activity that is the subject of the application. MOFTB shall take into consideration the applicant's projections of budget as well as the budget projections for comparable productions of similar size and duration in determining whether the cost of obtaining insurance exceeds twenty-five percent (25%) of the budget. MOFTB may also take into consideration its determination that the permitted activity may increase the potential for injury to individuals and/or damage to property. In the event that MOFTB denies a waiver of the insurance requirement, the applicant may thereafter respond to the denial and appeal such denial pursuant to the provisions of §9-02 of this chapter.

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record July 14, 2008:

The Mayor's Office of Film Theatre & Broadcasting ("MOFTB") has for many years issued permits in connection with various film production activities. With the recent significant increase in filming activities by both amateurs and professionals, it has become necessary to codify the process that has been followed over time. Such codification is also consistent with the City Charter requirement that agencies whose procedures or requirements affect the general public shall promulgate rules governing such activities. The purpose of these rules is thus to provide clear guidance to the persons and entities engaged in filming activities as to when they need permits, and when they do not.

MOFTB published proposed rules in the City Record on May 25, 2007, held a public hearing regarding the rules on June 28, 2007, and received extensive comments through August 3, 2007. MOFTB then republished the rules for comment on October 30, 2007, received additional extensive comments, and held another public hearing on December 13, 2007.

The adopted rules that are set forth herein include changes made as a result of this second public comment period and public hearing in recognition of the comments that have been received. Of significance is the change with respect to §9-01(b) ("Required and Optional Permits"). MOFTB has considered comments received-including from amateur and professional people involved in a variety of film-related endeavors-and has clarified the definitions set forth in subdivision (b) regarding the use of public space requiring (or not requiring) a permit. In particular, where the rules describe the need for a permit for filming with a handheld device on either a street or sidewalk, the test for whether it is required is whether he/she would "assert exclusive use by any means, including physical or verbal" in various contexts. First is the situation where someone asserts such exclusive use on one or more lanes of a street or walkway of a bridge, and thus needs to obtain a permit. Second, with respect to a sidewalk or other pedestrian passageway, that person will need a permit if he/she asserts such exclusive use of more than one half of that sidewalk/pedestrian passageway. If that sidewalk/pedestrian passageway is narrower than sixteen feet, the person asserting such exclusive use in a way that leaves less than eight feet for other people's pedestrian use must get a permit.

In connection with the "exclusive use" test, the adopted rules also clarify that the activity of "standing on a street, walkway of a bridge, sidewalk, or other pedestrian passageway while using a handheld device and not asserting exclusive use" is not activity that requires a permit.

Minor changes have been made to other provisions of the rules:

· In §9-02(a) ("Definitions") the definition of equipment has been revised with respect to vehicles that are transporting people who are engaged in filming from within such vehicles, to clarify that such vehicles do not need a permit if they are being operated in compliance with relevant traffic laws and rules.

· In §9-02 (b) ("New Account Project Application and Permit Application . . .") paragraphs (7)(d) and (8) have been revised to provide that one of the reasons a permit can be denied is if the MOFTB concludes, based on specific information, that an applicant is unlikely to comply with the material terms of a requested permit, but that the MOFTB can consider whether special conditions may be placed on the permit, or whether other steps might be taken to address its concerns.

· In §9-02(c) ("Responsibilities of Holders of Required and Optional Permits") paragraph (1) (Rules) has been revised to reiterate that permittees, as well as those engaged in filming that does not require a permit, are subject to all applicable laws and rules; that permittees are subject to the terms of their permits; and that these rules do not authorize activities that are illegal under any law or rule, except for the conduct of permittees that is expressly authorized in the permits issued to them. Paragraph (2) ("Display of permit") is amended to make explicit the requirement that permittees not only have their MOFTB permit in their possession on location, but also must make it available for inspection by an employee of the NYPD or other government agency.

· In §9-02(d) (Modifications to or Suspension of Required or Optional Permit) paragraph (4) has been rewritten to indicate that if there are public health or safety risks found that warrant the temporary suspension of a permit by the MOFTB or NYPD, the provisions already requiring notice and an opportunity to be heard will apply if such suspension lasts longer than six hours.

CHAPTER 10 GREEN BUILDING STANDARDS*

§10-01 Definitions.

(a) Definitions of the terms "capital project", "city agency", "green building standards", "LEED energy and atmosphere credit 1", "LEED green building rating system", and "not less stringent" set forth in subdivision (a) of §224.1 of the Charter shall apply to such terms as they appear in this chapter.1

(b) As used in this chapter, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

The term "construction cost" means capital dollars allocated to construction as defined in the Certificate to Proceed for Construction or Certificate to Proceed for Design and Construction or with respect to entities that are not City agencies, cost allocated to construction of a project intended to achieve a public purpose of the City as such project is described in supporting documentation submitted to the Office of Management and Budget for the issuance of a Certificate to Proceed for Construction or Certificate to Proceed for Design and Construction.

Estimated project cost. The term "estimated project cost" means all costs of a project that is intended to achieve a public purpose of the City, as such project is described in supporting documentation submitted to the Office of Management and Budget for the issuance of a Certificate to Proceed for Construction or a Certificate to Proceed for Design and Construction, including but not limited to the cost of site acquisition, preparation, design and construction.

Floor area. The term "floor area" means all occupied and unoccupied space including, but not limited to, cellars, basements, interior shafts, penthouses and wall thickness. It shall be measured from the outside surface of exterior walls or from the centerline of walls shared by adjacent buildings.

HVAC comfort controls. The term "HVAC comfort controls" means control systems and components, including, but not limited to, building management systems and related devices such as thermostats, actuators, and sensors used to regulate the equipment that provide, either collectively or individually, the processes of heating, ventilating, or air-conditioning to a building or portion of a building.

Substantial reconstruction. The term "substantial reconstruction" means a capital project in which the scope of work includes rehabilitation work in at least two of the three major systems-electrical, HVAC (heating, ventilating and air conditioning) and plumbing-of a building and reconstruction work affects at least fifty percent (50%) of the entire building's floor area. For purposes of this definition, only work that does not constitute minor alterations or ordinary repairs as described in chapter 1 of title 27 of the Administrative Code shall be considered in determining the amount of affected floor area.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter 10 added City Record Apr. 2, 2007 §1, eff. Apr. 2, 2007. Note: Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Apr. 2, 2007:

Local Law No. 86 for the year 2005 amended the New York City Charter by adding a new §224.1 (green building standards). The local law, which became effective on January 1, 2007, provides that the "mayor shall promulgate rules to carry out the provisions of this section."

Executive Order No. 97 of 2006 authorizes the Director of the Office of Environmental Coordination to exercise the powers and duties granted to the Mayor in connection with the implementation of Local Law 86. Such powers and duties include: (1) promulgating rules pursuant to Charter Chapter 45, known as the City Administrative Procedure Act; (2) administering exemptions from the requirements of the law; (3) working with other City agencies to monitor compliance with the law; (4) publishing findings, where necessary, on whether proposed green buildings standards are not less stringent than the applicable Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design ("LEED") standard; and (5) taking all other actions necessary to implement and administer the law.

The green building standards rules define the selected green building rating system, add clarifying definitions, outline the occupancy groups, project types, and City and City-funded capital projects to which green buildings requirements apply, summarize the required green building standards, set targets for energy cost savings and water use reduction, provide the method for calculating energy cost savings, list thresholds for City agencies to apply for USGBC certification, establish reporting procedures, and set forth the process for applying for a mayoral exemption.

The rules define the terms construction costs, estimated project costs, floor area, HVAC comfort controls, phased project, plumbing fixture, plumbing system, rehabilitation work, reporting form and substantial reconstruction.

The selected green building rating system is defined as New Construction version 2.2, Existing Buildings version 2.0, or Commercial Interiors version 2.0 of the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) building rating system published by the United States Green Building Council, whichever is most appropriate for the project under United States Green Building Council guidelines. The LEED green building rating system shall apply to capital projects subject to subdivision b of §224.1 of the Charter unless an alternative, not less stringent, green building standard has been specifically approved by the Director of the Office of Environmental Coordination as set forth in such section.

Projects in occupancy groups B-1, B-2, C, E, F-1a, F-1b, F-3, F-4, G, H-1 and H-2 having one or more of the following characteristics are subject to green building requirements under §224.1 of the Charter: (i) capital projects for or in new buildings, additions to buildings and the substantial reconstruction of existing buildings, including fit-outs of condominium units or leased space, at an estimated construction cost of two million dollars or more; (ii) installation or replacement of plumbing systems that include the replacement of plumbing fixtures at an estimated construction cost for such plumbing system of $500,000 or more; (iii) installation or replacement of boilers at an estimated construction cost of two million dollars or more; (iv) installation or replacement of lighting systems at an estimated construction cost of one million dollars or more; and (v) installation or replacement of HVAC comfort controls at an estimated construction cost of two million dollars or more.

Capital projects of entities that are not City agencies are not subject to the requirements of §224.1 of the Charter and the rules unless at any time: (1) 50% or more of the estimated project costs are paid out of the City treasury; or (2) the project receives ten million dollars or more of the estimated project cost from the City treasury. When determining whether the City contribution exceeds one of these thresholds, the cost of the entire project, as described in relevant documentation submitted to the Office of Management and Budget, including acquisition and subsequent construction or rehabilitation costs, shall be considered. Entities shall act in good faith in describing their capital projects to the Office of Management and Budget.

The rules clarify that stand-alone parking garages are not covered by the law, as there is no LEED certification that would apply to them at the present time.

For the purposes of determining the required energy cost reduction of capital projects subject to paragraph (2) of subdivision b and subdivision c of §224.1 of the Charter, the methodology prescribed under LEED atmosphere and energy credit 1 of LEED NC v.2.1 or the New York State Energy Conservation Code, whichever is more stringent, shall be utilized.

The requirement for application for USGBC certification pursuant to subdivision k of §224.1 of the Charter does not apply where the agency is utilizing an approved green building rating system other than the LEED green building rating system, nor does it apply to the projects of entities that are not City agencies. City and non-City agencies responsible for a capital project subject to §224.1 of the Charter must complete the applicable reporting forms for each capital project. The Director of the Office of Environmental Coordination will prepare an Annual Report in accordance with §3 of Local Law 86 for the year 2005.

Pursuant to subdivision f of §224.1 of the Charter, the Mayor may exempt capital projects from one or more of the green building requirements if, in his or her sole discretion, such exemption is necessary in the public interest. Executive Order No. 97 of 2006 delegated this power to administer exemptions to the Director of the Office of Environmental Coordination, which is reflected in the rules. The total value of the exemptions granted may not exceed 20% of the capital dollars in each fiscal year accounting for capital projects subject to each of subdivisions b, c and d of §224.1 of the Charter. Request for exemption, including an explanation of the reason for such request and supporting documentation, shall be submitted to the Director of the Office of Environmental Coordination as soon as is practicable after the City agency becomes aware of the necessity for such exemption.

Statement of Substantial Need for Earlier Implementation I hereby find, pursuant to §1043(e)(1)(c) of the New York City Charter, that there is a substantial need for the implementation of the rules governing green building standards immediately upon the publication of the final rules in the City Record.

Local Law No. 86 for the year 2005 amended the New York City Charter, in relation to green building standards for certain capital projects. This local law, which became effective on January 1, 2007, requires that the Mayor promulgate rules to carry out the provisions of the law. Executive Order No. 97 of 2006 further provides that the Director of the Office of Environmental Coordination shall promulgate rules pursuant to Chapter 45 of the City Charter, known as the City Administrative Procedure Act.

Immediate implementation of the rules governing green building standards is necessary because Local Law 86 of 2005 has already taken effect and such rules provide needed clarification and guidance to City and non-City agencies affected by the law, regarding the law's applicability to capital projects in which they are engaged or will soon be engaged. The rules define the selected green building rating system, provide clarifying definitions of terms used in the law, provide the method for calculating energy cost savings, establish reporting procedures, and set forth the process for applying for a mayoral exemption. Affected agencies need this information to effectively carry out the law's provisions. Immediate implementation will ensure that affected agencies receive such information in a timely manner and are able to effectively comply with the law.

§10-02 Selected Green Building Rating System.

Pursuant to paragraph (11) of subdivision (a) of §224.1 of the Charter, on and after June 26, 2009 the "selected green building rating system" is the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) 2009 New Construction and Major Renovations Rating System, LEED 2009 for Commercial Interiors Rating System, LEED 2009 for Schools New Construction and Major Renovations Rating System, LEED 2009 for Core and Shell Development Rating System, and LEED 2009 for Existing Buildings: Operations and Maintenance Rating System published by the United States Green Building Council, whichever is most appropriate for the project under United States Green Building Council guidelines except that for projects that either received funding from the city treasury or received design approval prior to June 26, 2009 or that applied to the United States Green Building Council for certification prior to June 26, 2009, the selected green building rating system may be New Construction version 2.2, Existing Buildings version 2.0, or Commercial Interiors version 2.0 of the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) building rating system published by the United States Green Building Council, whichever is most appropriate for the project under United States Green Building Council guidelines. Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (a) of §10-05 of this chapter for calculation of required reductions in energy cost, the selected green building rating system shall apply to capital projects subject to subdivision (b) of §224.1 of the Charter unless an alternative, not less stringent, green building standard has been specifically approved by the Director of the Office of Environmental Coordination as set forth in such subdivision.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record May 22, 2009:

Local Law No. 86 for the year 2005 amended the New York City Charter by adding a new §224.1 (green building standards). The local law, which became effective on January 1, 2007, provides that the "mayor shall promulgate rules to carry out the provisions of this section."

Executive Order No. 97 of 2006 authorizes the Director of the Mayor's Office of Environmental Coordination to exercise the powers and duties granted to the Mayor in connection with the implementation of Local Law 86. Such powers and duties include: (1) promulgating rules pursuant to Charter Chapter 45, known as the City Administrative Procedure Act; (2) administering exemptions from the requirements of the law; (3) working with other City agencies to monitor compliance with the law; (4) publishing findings, where necessary, on whether proposed green buildings standards are not less stringent than the applicable Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design ("LEED;rm") standard; and (5) taking all other actions necessary to implement and administer the law.

The green building standards rules previously promulgated define the selected green building rating system as New Construction version 2.2, Existing Buildings version 2.0, or Commercial Interiors version 2.0 of the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED;rm) building rating system published by the United States Green Building Council (USGBC), whichever is most appropriate for the project under USGBC guidelines. This amendment to the Rules redefines the selected green building rating system as the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED;rm) 2009 green building standards for New Construction, Commercial Interiors, Schools, Core and Shell, and Existing Buildings published by the USGBC. This selected green building rating system shall apply to capital projects subject to subdivision b of §224.1 of the Charter unless an alternative, not less stringent, green building standard has been specifically approved by the Director of the Mayor's Office of Environmental Coordination as previously set forth in such section.

The purpose of updating the selected green building rating system is to allow agencies to continue to apply to the USGBC for certification of their projects in accordance with the provision in the law that requires capital projects to aply to the USGBC for certification that such projects have achieved a Silver or higher rating under the LEED;rm green building rating system or, with respect to projects involving buildings classified in occupancy groups G or H-2, a certified or higher rating under such system. Applying to the USGBC for certification of a rating under each of the LEED;rm 2009 rating systems also allows projects to utilize version 3 of USGBC LEED;rm Online, a tool that will expedite administration of the certification process for each project, thereby reducing costs to the City.

Another purpose for updating to LEED;rm 2009 rating systems is to ensure that the City will continue to utilize green building standards that are recognized by New York State and federal authorities considering the allocation of funds for the upgrade of city projects to meet green building standards.

The LEED;rm 2009 systems also offer a number of improvements that further streamline the certification process, further reducing cost to the City. As the USGBC has stated, the systems consolidate and align the credits and prerequisites from previous LEED;rm systems, so that credits and prerequisites covered by the LEED;rm 2009 green building standards are consistent across project types. Necessary precedent-setting and clarifying information from Credit Interpretation Rulings are also incorporated. In addition, the LEED;rm 2009 credits have different weightings depending on their ability to impact different environmental and human health concerns. With revised credit weightings, the credits award more points for strategies that will have greater positive impacts on environmental issues of greater concern, such as energy efficiency and CO_2 reduction. Specific environmental issues are also prioritized by region in the LEED;rm 2009 rating systems, thereby allowing capital projects to receive more points for addressing environmental issues that are most important to the region in which the City is located.

With respect to phased projects of City agencies, each phase shall be covered only if the estimated construction cost of such phase is two million dollars or more.

(ii) Capital projects in existing buildings subject to substantial reconstruction, including fit-outs of condominium units and leased space. A capital project in a building in which 50% of the entire building's floor area is subject to reconstruction work is covered by subdivision b of §224.1 of the Charter if the construction cost of the capital project is two million dollars or more and the scope of work of the project includes rehabilitation work in at least two of the three major systems-electrical, HVAC (heating, ventilating and air conditioning) and plumbing-of the building. With respect to the fit-out of condominium units and leased space, only space and components under the exclusive control of the tenant or unit owner are subject to the design and construction requirements of such subdivision. With respect to phased projects of City agencies, each phase shall be covered only if the estimated construction cost of such phase is two million dollars or more.

A capital project that is not subject to subdivision b or paragraph (1) of subdivision c of §224.1 of the Charter and that includes the installation or replacement of HVAC comfort controls at an estimated construction cost for such installation or replacement of two million dollars or more is covered by paragraph (2) of subdivision c of §224.1 of the Charter.

(b) Entities that are not City agencies. (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) of this section, a capital project of an entity that is not a City agency is not subject to the requirements of §224.1 of the Charter and this chapter unless:

(i) 50% or more of the estimated project cost is paid out of the City treasury; or

(ii) the project receives ten million dollars or more of the estimated project cost from the City treasury.

(2) Entities that are not City agencies and that receive capital dollars from the City treasury shall be on notice that a project, as such project is described in supporting documentation submitted to the Office of Management and Budget for the issuance of a Certificate to Proceed for Construction or Certificate to Proceed for Design and Construction, shall be subject to all applicable provisions of Local Law 86 of 2005 at any time that the City capital contribution to such project equals or exceeds one of the amounts set forth in paragraph 1 of this subdivision. All City funding agreements shall contain notice of this requirement.

[Footnote 1]: * Chapter 12 added City Record Oct. 27, 2008 §1, eff. Nov. 26, 2008. Note Statement of Basis and Purpose:

This rule is being promulgated in accordance with paragraph (c) of subdivision 18 of section 3-702 of the administrative code, which allows the CCPO to create a process to allow persons required to be listed in the doing business database to seek a waiver from that requirement.

Local Laws 34 and 67 of 2007 amended the administrative code to establish a doing business database in order to enforce limits on contributions to municipal campaigns for elective office from certain people affiliated with entities that do business with the city of New York. The doing business database includes the names of persons that have business dealings with the City as defined by the law.

The law allows the creation of a waiver process to allow persons covered by the law that provide essential goods, services or construction such as those necessary for security or other essential government operations to request a waiver from inclusion in the doing business database. The proposed rule lays out the process for applying for such a waiver and the criteria to be used to determine whether such waiver should be granted.

NOTE

1. Statement of Basis and Purpose in City Record Dec. 2, 2009:

Local Law No. 27 of 2009 amended the New York City Charter to create an Office of Environmental Remediation, led by a director. The office oversees all aspects of the city's brownfield policy and administers the E-designation program, as defined in the zoning resolution.

Local Law No. 27 also amended the Administrative Code of the City of New York to establish the local brownfield cleanup program. In particular, §24-903(h) of the Administrative Code requires the director to promulgate rules for the issuance of a green property certification to properties that have successfully completed the local brownfield cleanup program or other remedial programs equivalent to the local brownfield cleanup program.

The Office now promulgates the following rules to implement §24-903(h) of the Administrative Code. The rules provide that the Office will issue a green property certification to properties in the City of New York that have obtained a certificate of completion under the local brownfield cleanup program or equivalent remedial programs, including the New York State brownfield cleanup program. The rules set forth the eligibility requirements for the green property certification and an application process for properties in other state or city remediation programs that attain equivalent levels of remediation. The rules also provide that the Office of Environmental Remediation may rescind the certification if it determines that a party has failed to maintain the property in compliance with requirements established under the respective remediation programs.

CASE AND ADMINISTRATIVE NOTES

¶ 1. Under Labor Law section 220(8-d), the City and the union representing prevailing wage employees must negotiate in good faith to reach a collective bargaining agreement. If the parties cannot reach agreement, the union is authorized to file a verified complaint on behalf of the employees with the New York City Comptroller. The Comptroller, after a hearing on those issues, must make a determination of the wages and supplemental benefits due the employees. Under the Comptroller's rules, Labor Law section 220 hearings are conducted by the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings. Comptroller v. Office of Labor Relations, OATH Index No. 616/98 (May 18, 1998), aff'd sub nom. Local 237 v. Comptroller of the City of New York, 259 A.D.2d 314, 686 N.Y.S.2d 420 (1st Dep't 1999).

¶ 2. Comptroller brought a proceeding against plumbing contractor pursuant to section 220 of the Labor Law (prevailing wage law) seeking to debar the contractor for intentionally filing false payroll records. The Comptroller was unable to perform an audit so the contractor was not charged with underpaying any workers. The administrative law judge recommended dismissal of the proceeding, finding petitioner did not prove the contractor filed false records. The Comptroller found the false filing charge was proven, but dismissed the proceeding, finding proof of underpayments to be a jurisdictional requirement for imposing a sanction pursuant to the prevailing wage law. Office of the Comptroller v. Stivan Plumbing & Heating, Inc., OATH Index No. 1980/01 (June 28, 2002), aff'd on other grounds, Comptroller's Determination (Oct. 8, 2002).

CHAPTER 2 COMPTROLLER'S LABOR LAW HEARING PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

§2-02 Hearing Procedure.

(a) Commencement of hearing. A hearing shall be commenced by service of a notice of hearing by the Comptroller's Labor Law Division.

(b) Notice of hearing. (1) All persons or corporations affected thereby shall receive a notice of hearing at least five (5) days before the date of the hearing. If service is by mail, five (5) days shall be added to the prescribed period of notice, pursuant to CPLR 2103.

(2) The notice of hearing shall state:

(i) the date, time and place of the hearing;

(ii) the nature or purpose of the hearing and the alleged violations;

(iii) the legal authority under which the hearing is to be held; and

(iv) a reference to the particular sections of the law and rules involved.

(c) Representation by counsel. All parties to a hearing shall have the right to be represented by counsel. After a notice of appearance has been filed by counsel with the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings ("OATH"), all subsequent notices, documents or other communications shall be sent to such counsel and shall be deemed service upon the party.

(d) Hearing officer. (1) An administrative law judge assigned to OATH shall conduct hearings pursuant to Labor Law §§220 and 235.

(2) No administrative law judge shall participate in any hearing in which (s)he has an interest.

(3) Any party may challenge an administrative law judge's impartiality by filing an affidavit of his or her personal bias or other grounds for disqualification. The Chief Administrative Law Judge or his or her designee shall issue a written decision to the challenge which shall be reviewable only at the conclusion of the hearing through an Article 78 proceeding.

(4) Whenever an administrative law judge is disqualified or otherwise unable to continue the hearing, the proceeding may be transferred to another administrative law judge designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge to continue with the case.

(e) Disclosure. Except as provided in the Labor Law, there shall be no pre-hearing discovery or depositions.

(f) Conduct of hearing. (1) The administrative law judge shall conduct the hearing in such order and manner and with such methods of proof and interrogation, consistent with due process, as (s)he deems best suited to ascertain the substantial rights of the parties. The administrative law judge shall set the time and place for continued hearings.

(2) The administrative law judge shall not be bound by formal rules of evidence or technical or formal rules of procedure. Official notice of facts may be taken only in situations in which judicial notice might be taken.

(3) The administrative law judge is authorized to:

(i) administer oaths and affirmations;

(ii) sign and issue subpoenas for the appearance and relevant testimony of witnesses and the production of relevant documents, as regulated by the CPLR; attorneys for any party shall also have the right to issue subpoenas pursuant to the CPLR;

(iii) examine the parties and their witnesses and require such appearances as deemed necessary;

(iv) hear and decide issues not specifically included in the notice of hearing provided such intention is noted on the record together with the reason therefor and the parties are given the opportunity to request an adjournment for the purpose of adequately preparing to address such issues;

(v) sever or consolidate cases in the interest of justice so long as there is no prejudice to the substantial rights of any party;

(vi) direct such further investigation, inquiry, audit, examination or report as may be necessary to enable the hearing officer to adequately resolve the proceeding and issue findings and recommendations.

(4) All parties shall be accorded the opportunity to present such testimony or introduce such documentary or other evidence as may be pertinent. All parties shall have the right to call, examine and cross-examine parties and witnesses and to present oral and written arguments on the law and facts. The administrative law judge shall fix the time for presenting oral and written argument and shall establish reasonable limits thereon.

(5) The hearing shall be transcribed and a copy of the transcript shall be made available to any party upon request at a reasonable cost.

(g) Adjournments. (1) Any party may request an adjournment upon establishing good cause for the adjournment. The administrative law judge shall rule on all requests for adjournments and may on his or her own initiative adjourn the hearing for good cause.

(2) If a request for an adjournment is not made at least 24 hours before the scheduled hearing, the party making the request shall, as a condition to being granted the adjournment, agree to pay any charges assessed by the stenographic service for late cancellation of the scheduled hearing.

(3) Any adjourned hearing shall be rescheduled by the administrative law judge at the convenience of the other parties. Notice of the rescheduled hearing shall be given to all parties by telephone or mail at least 24 hours before the rescheduled date and time.

(4) Upon an adjournment for failure of one or more parties to appear, the failure of any such party to appear at the rescheduled hearing may result in their being declared in default, in which case the hearing may continue in their absence and the decision rendered based upon the record created without their participation.

¶ 1. At a prevailing wage enforcement hearing where respondents defaulted, petitioner proved proper service of notice of petition and hearing date by certified and regular mail to address on file with the Secretary of State, as required by statute and this section. Office of the Comptroller v. Manshul Construction, Inc., OATH Index No. 1631/99 (May 21, 1999), modified on penalty, Comptroller's Determination (June 14, 1999).

¶ 2. Default hearing held where petitioner proved proper service of notice of petition and hearing date, as required by paragraph (b) of this section, by certified and regular mail to last address of record and to address on file with Secretary of State. Office of the Comptroller v. A & R Paterno Construction, Inc., OATH Index No. 2248/00 (Oct. 19, 2000).

¶ 3. Defaulting contractor was found to have failed to pay prevailing wages and supplemental benefits to four roofers and to have submitted falsified certified payroll reports. Willful violation and falsification of records merited a 25% civil penalty. Office of the Comptroller v. Kornas Construction Corp., OATH Index No. 628/01 (Jan. 4, 2001).

¶ 4. A bankruptcy order of settlement did not bar adjudication of claims pursuant to the Labor Law or the issuance of penalties or willfulness findings under the Labor Law, even though two of the claims were discharged by a bankruptcy order of settlement. A worker's complaint and detailed diary notes of his work assignments were sufficient to establish that the worker was employed on a City contract. Violations were willful under section 220(3) of the Labor Law because records were intentionally fabricated to conceal contractor's failure to pay the prevailing wage to its cleaners. Office of the Comptroller v. Navarro Special Cleaning Services, OATH Index No. 2247/00 (Jan. 30, 2001).

¶ 5. Section 2-02(e) of the Comptroller's rules (44 RCNY §2-02(e)) prohibits discovery "except as provided in the Labor Law". Request for documents and subpoena was denied where the ALJ found that the items sought were not relevant to the proceeding and that the request was untimely made. Comptroller v. CHAPTER 2 ESCROW AGREEMENTS

§2-01 Escrow Agreements Entered into with the New York City Law Department.

(a) The Corporation Counsel, or a named representative, when acting as escrow agent for agreements entered into with the New York City Law Department, will deposit any money received pursuant to such escrow agreement into an Attorney Trust Account maintained by the Law Department.

(b) When the Corporation Counsel, or a named representative, receives -documentation that the conditions set forth in the escrow agreement have been met, the monies in the escrow account will be paid to the party fulfilling the conditions along with any interest that has accrued but less the escrow agent's fee.

(c) The escrow agent's fee shall be 2 percent per annum on the escrow principal deposit prorated monthly; provided, however, that the minimum monthly fee shall be $5.00 and the maximum monthly fee shall be $25.00, and provided further that there is no fee on escrow deposits of $750.00 or less except when multiple disbursements are requested. Multiple disbursements on a single escrow deposit will be subject to a $25.00 fee per disbursements.

(d) If the conditions set forth in the agreement are not satisfied by the date specified in such agreement, the monies in the account, less the escrow agent's fee, shall be paid with interest to the party specified in such agreement.

(e) Where the monies have been escrowed to have properties repaired or for similar purposes, if the conditions specified in the agreement are not met by the date set forth in such agreement, the escrow fund shall become the property of the City of New York and the escrow agent shall be authorized to transfer the fund, less the escrow agent's fee, to the General Fund of the City of New York after giving the depositor thirty days notice. However, if the depositor has already expended sums in partial compliance with the conditions set forth in the agreement, he or she may issue a

Such request must be in writing accompanied by an accounting and appropriate documentation. The escrow agent may pay the requested amount to the depositor if reimbursement appears appropriate under the circumstances. If the depositor and escrow agent are unable to agree on disposition of the requested amount within sixty days of the date such request is received, the escrow agent shall resign as escrow agent and deposit the escrow fund into the appropriate court.

(f) In the event of a dispute between the parties with respect to the escrow fund or the underlying transaction, the Corporation Counsel, or a named representative, has the right, at his or her sole discretion, to resign as escrow agent and represent the City of New York in the dispute. SUBCHAPTER A GENERAL3

§1-01 Scope of Rules.

These rules are intended to carry out the provisions of Title 8, Chapter 1 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York, Human Rights Law ("HRL"), and the policies and procedures of the Commission on Human Rights in connection therewith, as authorized by HRL §8-105(11) and §8-117.

[Footnote 1]:  Chapter amended City Record June 17, 1998 eff. July 17, 1998. Chapter repealed and added City Record Oct. 10, 1995 eff. Nov. 9, 1995. Note further provisions of City Record June 17, 1998:

Effective July 1, 1997, the Hearings Bureau of the Commission on Human Rights ("Commission") was discontinued, and its adjudication function was transferred to the office of Administrative Trials and Hearings ("OATH"). The proposed amendments to the Rules of Practice of the Commission, and of OATH, are intended to facilitate that transfer without change to the substantive law applicable to those adjudications, and with the least possible change to the procedure applicable to those adjudications. The Commission's adjudications, both as previously conducted by the Hearings Bureau, and as now conducted by OATH, result in the issuance of Recommended Decisions from Administrative Law Judges to the Commission, which the Commission may adopt in full, modify or reject in full. Therefore, the Commission retains the same final role in adjudication as it had before the transfer.

The proposed amendments would delete from the Commission's Rules of Practice, Title 47, Chapter 1, Rules of the City of New York, most rules governing pre-hearing, hearing and post-hearing procedures. Amendments currently being proposed by OATH will address the adjudication of Commission hearings before that Agency. To the extent that OATH's existing Rules of Practice, Title 48, Chapter 1, Rules of the City of New York, are substantially consistent with the Commission's existing Rules, OATH's existing Rules would be made applicable to cases referred by the Commission to OATH. To the extent that OATH's existing Rules of Practice are not substantially consistent with the Commission's existing Rules, OATH's Rules would be amended to include a new Subchapter C in Chapter 2 of Title 48 consisting of Rules necessary to conform the practice and procedure at OATH to the former practice and procedure before the Commission's Hearings Bureau. In those instances in which the Commission has judged the difference between its former practice and procedure and OATH's practice and procedure to be technical or insubstantial, these proposed amendments would make OATH's existing Rules applicable.

Some changes in procedure would be adopted by these proposed amendments. For example, by proposed Section 1-43 of Title 48, OATH would adopt for all of its cases a Rule governing subpoenas that is identical to the Commission's present Rule governing subpoenas, 47 RCNY, 1-81, except that ex parte applications for issuance of subpoenas would not be permitted. In addition, the time for taking an interlocutory appeal from a Decision or Order of the Administrative Law Judge would be reduced from seven days, as provided in the Commission's Existing Rules, to five days in OATH's proposed Rules. Finally, motions concerning investigative record-keeping and investigative subpoenas which were made to the Hearings Bureau under the Commission's existing Rules will be made to the Chair of the Commission under the Commission's proposed Rules, proposed 47 RCNY 1-72 and 1-73.

In order to carry out its various statutory responsibilities in a fair and impartial fashion, the Commission has separated its functions into discreet bureaus and offices, each of which reports to the Chair of the agency. In addition to the Chair and the Commissioners, the following components of the Commission are directly involved in the enforcement of the HRL:

(a) Law Enforcement Bureau. The Law Enforcement Bureau is charged with the Commission's investigatory and prosecutorial functions. Where an action is authorized or required to be taken by the Law Enforcement Bureau, such action shall be taken by the Deputy Commissioner for Law Enforcement, such Law Enforcement Bureau staff as the Deputy Commissioner shall designate, or such person as may be appointed by the Chair of the Commission.

¶ 1. Petitioner, a wheelchair-bound tenant who lived in a fourth floor apartment in respondent landlord's apartment building, filed a complaint with the Commission alleging that respondent failed to reasonably accommodate his disability by refusing his request to allow petitioner to relocate to a first floor apartment. Petitioner sought joinder of a real estate company and a hospital, which leased the first floor of the building from respondent and who in turn sublet units to hospital employees, on the ground that they were necessary parties to the requested relief. All of the first floor apartments were occupied under existing lease agreements. Finding that displacement of existing tenants would not be an available remedy if petitioner was ultimately successful, the administrative law judge denied the motion. Hagopian v. NJR Associates, OATH Index No. 2368/99, mem. dec. (Dec. 9, 1999).

¶ 2. Effective July 1, 1997, the Hearings Bureau of the Commission on Human Rights ("Commission") was discontinued, and its adjudication function was transferred to the office of Administrative Trials and Hearings ("OATH"). The proposed amendments to the Rules of Practice of the Commission, and of OATH, are intended to facilitate that transfer without change to the substantive law applicable to those adjudications, and with the least possible change to the procedure applicable to those adjudications. The Commission's adjudications, both as previously conducted by the Hearings Bureau, and as now conducted by OATH, result in the issuance of Recommended Decisions from Administrative Law Judges to the Commission, which the Commission may adopt in full, modify or reject in full. Therefore, the Commission retains the same final role in adjudication as it had before the transfer.

The proposed amendments would delete from the Commission's Rules of Practice, Title 47, Chapter 1, Rules of the City of New York, most rules governing pre-hearing, hearing and post-hearing procedures. Amendments currently being proposed by OATH will address the adjudication of Commission hearings before that Agency. To the extent that OATH's existing Rules of Practice, Title 48, Chapter 1, Rules of the City of New York, are substantially consistent with the Commission's existing Rules, OATH's existing Rules would be made applicable to cases referred by the Commission to OATH. Some changes in procedure would be adopted by these proposed amendments. For example, by proposed Section 1-43 of Title 48, OATH would adopt for all of its cases a Rule governing subpoenas that is identical to the Commission's present Rule governing subpoenas, 47 RCNY, 1-81, except that ex parte applications for issuance of subpoenas would not be permitted. In addition, the time for taking an interlocutory appeal from a Decision or Order of the Administrative Law Judge would be reduced from seven days, as provided in the Commission's Existing Rules, to five days in OATH's proposed Rules. Finally, motions concerning investigative record-keeping and investigative subpoenas which were made to the Hearings Bureau under the Commission's existing Rules will be made to the Chair of the Commission under the Commission's proposed Rules, proposed 47 RCNY 1-72 and 1-73.

added City Record Oct. 10, 1995 eff. Nov. 9, 1995. Note further provisions of City Record June 17, 1998:

Effective July 1, 1997, the Hearings Bureau of the Commission on Human Rights ("Commission") was discontinued, and its adjudication function was transferred to the office of Administrative Trials and Hearings ("OATH"). The proposed amendments to the Rules of Practice of the Commission, and of OATH, are intended to facilitate that transfer without change to the substantive law applicable to those adjudications, and with the least possible change to the procedure applicable to those adjudications. The Commission's adjudications, both as previously conducted by the Hearings Bureau, and as now conducted by OATH, result in the issuance of Recommended Decisions from Administrative Law Judges to the Commission, which the Commission may adopt in full, modify or reject in full. Therefore, the Commission retains the same final role in adjudication as it had before the transfer.

The proposed amendments would delete from the Commission's Rules of Practice, Title 47, Chapter 1, Rules of the City of New York, most rules governing pre-hearing, hearing and post-hearing procedures. Amendments currently being proposed by OATH will address the adjudication of Commission hearings before that Agency. To the extent that OATH's existing Rules of Practice, Title 48, Chapter 1, Rules of the City of New York, are substantially consistent with the Commission's existing Rules, OATH's existing Rules would be made applicable to cases referred by the Commission to OATH. To the extent that OATH's existing Rules of Practice are not substantially consistent with the Commission's existing Rules, OATH's Rules would be amended to include a new Subchapter C in Chapter 2 of Title 48 consisting of Rules necessary to conform the practice and procedure at OATH to the former practice and procedure before the Commission's Hearings Bureau. In those instances in which the Commission has judged the difference between its former practice and procedure and OATH's practice and procedure to be technical or insubstantial, these proposed amendments would make OATH's existing Rules applicable.

Some changes in procedure would be adopted by these proposed amendments. For example, by proposed Section 1-43 of Title 48, OATH would adopt for all of its cases a Rule governing subpoenas that is identical to the Commission's present Rule governing subpoenas, 47 RCNY, 1-81, except that ex parte applications for issuance of subpoenas would not be permitted. In addition, the time for taking an interlocutory appeal from a Decision or Order of the Administrative Law Judge would be reduced from seven days, as provided in the Commission's Existing Rules, to five days in OATH's proposed Rules. Finally, motions concerning investigative record-keeping and investigative subpoenas which were made to the Hearings Bureau under the Commission's existing Rules will be made to the Chair of the Commission under the Commission's proposed Rules, proposed 47 RCNY 1-72 and 1-73.

CHAPTER 1*1 PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

SUBCHAPTER B COMPLAINTS, ANSWERS AND NOTIFICATION OF OBLIGATIONS*4

§1-13 Amendments to Complaints.

A complaint may be amended as of right at any time before the referral of the complaint to the Office of Administrative Trials and Hearings (hereinafter OATH) pursuant to §1-71 of this chapter. Subsequent to the referral of a complaint to OATH a complaint may be amended by application to the presiding Administrative Law Judge.

Section added City Record Jan. 5, 1994 eff. Feb. 4, 1994.

¶ 1. A motion to amend a Human Rights complaint was granted to add one respondent and to delete two respondents on the basis of matters learned through discovery. Pursuant to this section, subsequent to the referral of a complaint to OATH, a complaint may be amended by application to the presiding Administrative Law Judge. Silva v.

Gitto, OATH Index No. 263/01, mem. dec. (Jan. 18, 2001).

¶ 2. Motion to add individual as a party (respondent) granted where individual had represented himself as an agent of corporate building owner, but Commission alleged individual is the actual building owner and the statute of limitations had not run. Orlic v. T.K. Management, Inc., OATH Index No. 149/02, mem. dec. (Dec. 27, 2001).

¶ 3. Administrative law judge denied an application to amend complaint where the amending party had been aware of the facts upon which the motion was predicated for some time, the amendment was not meritorious, and no reasonable excuse for the delay was offered. Comm'n on Human Rights v. United Parcel Service, OATH Index Nos. 1096/02 & 1097/02, mem. dec. (Sept. 14, 2004).

¶ 4. Absent prejudice to the parties, this section and section 1-25 of the OATH rules permit amendment of pleadings. ALJ permitted respondent to amend its answer to assert that it is not an employer as defined by section 8-102(5) of the City Human Rights Law because it employs fewer than four people. The ALJ granted petitioner's counter-motion to amend the complaint to conform to the proof that even if respondent employed less than four people, respondent is an employment agency subject to the City Human Rights Law's bar on age discrimination under City Code sections 8-102(2) and 8-107(1)(b) of the Code. Comm'n on Human Rights ex rel Campbell v. Personnel Employment Services, OATH Index No. 1579/07 (Aug. 20, 2007), adopted, Dec. & Order (Dec. 14, 2007).
