GISB EDM 1.6 Implementation Update

National Fuel noted they believe they are back on schedule to complete the GISB 1.6 implementation (including implementation of 1024-bit keys, where appropriate) by the end of May.

Tammy Durgan (Avangrid) explained that during initial testing with a trading partner, NYSEG/RG&E was asked to deviate from a setting for a field that was not specifically a GISB 1.6 field. Upon examination of the GISB 1.6 Standard, it was found that the field was non-mandatory field. Further investigation provided an explanation that when one partner wanted to deviate but the other did not, that the minimum configuration would prevail (no deviation).

There were no questions for NYSEG/RG&E. The BWG Chair explained that while the NY EDI Standards could make a non-mandatory field “mandatory” for New York, if nothing was said then the guidance in the GISB standards would prevail. He added that the GISB 1.6 Standards are available from NAESB for a nominal fee. It was further suggested that to the extent any utility needed to deviate from the GISB Standards, it should so note in its Utility Maintained EDI Guide.

5/31/2019 EDI Report Preparation
