

STATE OF NEW YORK
COUNTY OF OTSEGO, SS

Public Notice

NYSEG has filed tariff revisions October 27, 2023, with the New York State Public Service Commission (PSC) for new electricity and natural gas delivery rates to become effective May 1, 2025. These tariff revisions cover the third annual delivery rate increase under the terms of a three-year rate plan approved by the PSC in October 2023 and they include a $200.6 million increase in electricity revenue and a $12.9 million increase in natural gas revenue. These tariff revisions also recover revenue shortfalls for the electric service classes for the period May 1, 2023, to November 1, 2025.

Residential electricity customer with an average use of 600 kilowatt-hours/month can expect an average monthly bill increase of $11.34. A residential natural gas heating customer using 100 therms/month can expect an average monthly bill increase of $4.10.

Customers may see some charges prorated on your May or June bill to take account energy delivered before and after the new electricity and natural gas delivery rates went into effect.

RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

General Residential Customers: The electricity delivery charge will increase 9 cents per kilowatt-hour. The per-therm natural gas delivery charge for the 4-to-50-therms block will increase 6.102 cents per therm and 2.463 cents for the block rate over 50 therms. The customer charges for electricity and natural gas will not change.

Day/Night and Time-of-Use Customers: The electricity delivery charge will increase 1.760 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 8 and 1.329 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 12. The Service Class 8 and Service Class 12 customer charges will not change.

Additional information about changes in residential electricity and natural gas delivery charges is available at nyseg.com (click on the Account tab and select "Electric Pricing" or "Natural Gas Pricing" in the "Understand Your Bill" column).

NONRESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

Information about changes in nonresidential electricity customer charges, electricity demand and energy charges (where applicable), natural gas demand charges and natural gas therm charges is available at nyseg.com.

Other charges are also in effect for standby, street lighting and economic development rates. Please check page 2 of your bill for bill messages and nyseg.com for detailed information.

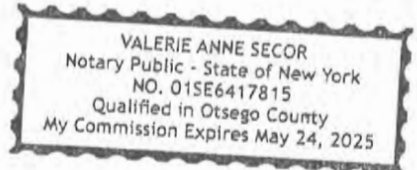

Regarding energy supply: If you purchase energy supply from NYSEG, your energy will continue to be based on market prices, we pass through that cost to you without profit; if you purchase your energy supply from a supplier other than NYSEG (also known as an energy services company or ESCO), your energy supply price depends on your agreement with your ESCO.

Brews and Books: A Toast to National Beer Day

No, this isn't an April Fool's joke — though the thought did cross my mind. Today's library column is all about the oldest man-made beverage in history: beer!

April 7 marks National Beer Day, celebrating the date in 1933 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Cullen-Harrison Act into law. This act legalized the sale of beer with an alcohol content of up to 3.2%, signaling the beginning of the end for Prohibition.

In honor of this hoppy holiday, let's take a look at some fascinating books that explore the history, culture, and science of beer — along with a literary cocktail or two.

"The Complete Beer Course" by Joshua Bernstein. We live in an exciting time for beer drinkers. When I first turned 21, the most exotic options you could find in Oneonta were Guinness and Yuengling. Now, even the local gas stations are filled with craft beers.

In "The Complete Beer Course," Joshua Bernstein breaks down beer into 12 "courses," helping readers understand different styles, the flavors that define them, and even ideal food pairings. Along the way, he recommends beers that showcase each style's unique characteristics. Many of his picks can be found right here in town if you're up for a little exploration.

"How to Drink Like a Writer." Not beer, I know — but still a worthy literary tie-in! "How to Drink Like a Writer" explores the preferred cocktails of 100 famous authors, along with the stories behind their drinks. From Haruki Murakami's whiskey, neat, to Raymond Carver's Bloody Mary (which includes an entire kitchen's worth of ingredients), the book is as much about history as it is about mixology.

The quotes and stories alone are worth the read. Take Langston Hughes' Harlem Cocktail, which comes with a brief but illuminating look at the Harlem Renaissance or Kingsley Amis's Polish Bison, whose recipe includes the following advice: "Sip until that ineffable compound of depression, sadness (those two are not the same), anxiety, self-hatred, sense of failure, and fear of the future fades."

Relatable. "World Beer" by Tim Hampson. If you're a beer traveler (or just an armchair enthusiast like me), World Beer serves as an encyclopedia of craft breweries from around the globe. The book covers over twenty countries. There's also a brief history of craft beer and a guide to proper tasting — it is brief, but if you just want the SparksNotes version of craft beer history you won't be disappointed.

"The United States of Beer" by Dane Huckelbridge. Beer isn't just a beverage — it's a part of American history and culture. "The United States of Beer" takes a humorous look at how beer shaped regional cultures, from the Pilgrims landing at Plymouth Rock to the craft beer boom in California. This is more of an American history book than a deep dive into brewing, but it's a fun and engaging read.

"Brew: The Foolproof Guide to Making World-Class Beer at Home." If you've ever thought about brewing your own beer, this is your book. Be warned: this book is more science textbook than narrative. Brew walks readers through the complex chemistry, biology, and math behind the brewing process.

I recently took up home brewing (I started with mead — it seemed easier), and I wish I had read this book first. It turns out that fermentation truly is a careful balance of ingredients, timing, and technique. If you do decide to try your hand at brewing, here's a final piece of advice: make sure you aerate your bottles properly and open them away from your face. Why? Because if something goes wrong, you may have created more than just alcohol — you may have inadvertently brewed an explosive.

Cheers, and happy reading!

Library Hours: 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday and Friday; 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

AREA NEWS

Library seeks book donations

SHARON SPRINGS — The Sharon Springs Free Library announced it is accepting donations for its Annual Great Book Giveaway, which will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, April 5 in the library's community room.

The library is seeking adult fiction and non-fiction books as well as children's books. People are asked to bring their donations to the front desk, and are asked not to leave them on the front porch.

Donations will be accepted through April 3 at 129 Main St.

Dinner to feature homemade soups

FRANKLIN — St. Paul's Episcopal Church at 307 Main St. in Franklin will host its Community Dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday, April 3.

According to a news release, the dinner will feature homemade soups and a dessert buffet.

The monthly dine-in or takeout dinners support the on-going interior renovation project. Free-will offerings will be accepted.

Contra dance set for Friday night

COOPERSTOWN — The Otsego Dance Society will sponsor a contra dance at 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 4, at the Presbyterian Church in Cooperstown.

Music will be provided by Rosetree and Katy Heine will call.

According to a news release, Rosetree consists of Amy Shapiro on fiddle and nyckelharpa (a Swedish folk instrument) and Allen Lutins on guitar, both of whom are well-known musicians playing with various groups in New York's Central and Southern Tier areas. Playing together since 2003, their duo performances feature European folk music (especially Celtic, Eastern European and Scandinavian) as well as Old Time, Bluegrass and other 'Americana' classics.

Heine, an Ithaca-based caller, has been leading con-tradances in the Finger Lakes region and beyond for more than 30 years, the release stated. She's known for her clear teaching style and for her large repertoire of fun and flowing dances.

All ages are welcome. No dance partner or experience is needed. Callers walk everyone through each dance. Beginners are welcome to arrive at 7:15 p.m. for a brief introduction to some basic steps.

Dancing will continue until 10 p.m. with a short break for refreshments. Bringing one's own water bottle is recommended and masks and hand sanitizer will be available.

There is a suggested donation of $10 for adults and $5 for students and teenagers. Children 12 and younger will be admitted for free. The maximum donation per family is $25.

The Presbyterian Church Chapel is on Pioneer Street near Elm Street.

Call 607-965-8232 or 607-547-8164, visit www.otsegodancesociety.weebly.com, or find the group on Facebook for more information.

DELHI — A new clubhouse at the State University College of Technology at Delhi's golf course is completely funded by donations.

Joel Smith, Delhi Tech spokesman, said the $470,000 facility was funded by contributions of time, materials and cash.

William Gaetano of Gaetano Construction Co. in Utica spearheaded a drive to coordinate contributions of labor and materials to make the clubhouse a reality. He graduated from Delhi Tech in 1969.

"Mr. Gaetano wanted to strengthen the alliance between the academic community and the construction industry," Smith said. "He has done things like getting a special foam insulation donated by a company outside the state. The students are getting hands-on experience with a brand new technology."

COOPERSTOWN — An additional grant of $37,514 in Otsego County's share of discretionary funds under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act will help create five new positions in Otsego County immediately.

Richard Havlik, Otsego County Manpower Administrator was notified Friday by the Albany Manpower Administration, of the additional grant.

The money must be used to create additional public service employment job slots in the county. The new Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance act of 1974 is the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) Title VI fund.

So far this year under Title VI 29 jobs have been created and all have been filled. The five new jobs, will be approximately 10-month jobs, Havlik said.

COMMUNITY

Library Life: Volunteers needed for children's library

Can you believe it's April already? Spring flowers are blooming and I think we're all ready for some warmer weather.

Our youth programs have been busy, as usual. Our morning story time groups celebrated March birthdays, planted peas, and made flowers. Our Homeschool group made flowers, clouds and bugs to decorate our bulletin board for spring; painted rocks; and wrote poetry. And our Teen Writers Group was busy writing, sharing, and creating.

We're making progress on the Huntington Children's Library as well. We've signed the lease for 14 Dietz St. and will be able to start preparing the space beginning June 1. We're working with our design team on the floor plan and hope to have our furniture ordered in the first weeks of April. Local artists and artisans will help us create a magical place that will appeal to the youth of our community and spark imagination and wonder in all who visit.

Would you like to volunteer to help us staff the new Huntington Children's Library? We're looking to supplement our staff with community members. Duties include shelving, pulling holds, shelf reading, as well as assisting with program preparation. We're also looking for community partners to provide program opportunities in the arts, teaching a foreign language, cultural education and other interests. Visit our website, hmloneonta.org, to submit a volunteer application (you will find the link at the bottom of the website).

Donna Foote

If you are unable to volunteer your time or artistic skills but still want to help us create this magical space for our youth, please consider contributing to our fundraiser. You can donate through the Friends of Huntington on the HML website (hmloneonta.org) or add your contribution to the donations jar at our circulation desk.

Library Hours: 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday and Friday 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Chenango Bird Club to meet

SHERBURNE — The Chenango Bird Club announced it will hold its first meeting of 2025 on at 6:30 p.m. April 9, at the Interpretative Center at Rogers Environmental Education Center at 2721 State Route 80 in Sherburne.

Followed by a short business meeting, the main feature will be a presentation by John Pumilio, associate provost for sustainability at Colgate University. "On the Brink, A Firsthand Account of Efforts to Save the Florida Panther." Pumilio will share his personal experiences working on the Florida Panther Recovery Project in South Florida. At a time when the Florida panther was teetering on the brink of extinction, a small team of biologists, conservationists and trackers employed extraordinary — and sometimes risky — measures to save this iconic species.

In addition to the regular monthly meetings held from April through December each year, the club holds many other outings to provide numerous bird watching opportunities and participates in projects including the Audubon Christmas Bird Count.

Everyone is welcome. For more information, contact club president John Knapp at jknapp56@yahoo.com.

Virtual immigration clinic to be held

The Hiscock Legal Aid Society Immigration Program announced it will hold a virtual immigration legal clinic from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 9.

According to a flyer, the legal aid society will offer free immigration legal services to people who live in Fulton, Montgomery, Schoharie and Otsego counties. Issues discussed include adjustment of status, naturalization/citizenship, country-specific humanitarian relief, juvenile status, family-based immigration, travel documents, asylum, deportation/removal proceedings, work authorization and DACA.

During clinic hours, contact attorney Yvonne McKinnon, at 315-218-0180 or ymckinnon@hlalaw.org. To schedule an appointment in advance, contact: McKinnon at the above information or Kathryn Sigona at 315-218-0182 or ksigona@hlalaw.org.

Group's meetings focused on grief

COOPERSTOWN — The Adult Grief Support Group will meet from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Thursday, April 10 at Clark Sports Center at 124 County Road 52, just outside the village limits of Cooperstown.

According to a media release, sponsored by Helios Care, adult grief support groups are free, monthly drop-in groups open to all members of the community 18 and older.

Groups are facilitated by staff trained in grief and loss.

Attendees are provided with a safe and confidential place to focus on understanding the grieving process, make sense of any strong emotions they may be experiencing and learn from other community members.

Meetings are free and open to all adults. Call 607-432-5525 to register.

Visit HeliosCare.org for more information and resources.

Program to feature Californian poets

TREADWELL — Word Thursdays will be held on Zoom and Facebook Live at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 10. Featured will be Melissa Eleftherion and Georgina Marie Guardado.

According to a news release, Melissa Eleftherion is a writer, a librarian, and a visual artist. Born and raised in Brooklyn, she is the author of full-length poetry collections, "field guide to autobiography" (The Operating System, 2018), and "gutter rainbows" (Querencia Press, 2024), as well as 12 chapbooks.

Guardado is the Poet Laureate of Lake County, California for 2020-2024, and a Poets Laureate Fellow with The Academy of American Poets. She is the Literacy Program Coordinator for the Lake County Library and President of the Mendocino Coast Writers' Conference.

Email info@briighthillpress.org to be considered for the open mic portion of the program.

Ever since the announcement March 29 that Triple-S Blue Stamps are being phased out in this area, crowds at the redemption center in the West End Shopping Plaza have been "just like Christmas," according to the manager, Thelma Orlandi.

Distribution of the stamps by the Grand Union was discontinued March 29 but the redemption center will be open until July 5.

Mrs. Orlandi said there is no problem in filling orders and merchandise is not likely to run out, but people seem in a hurry to redeem their stamps.

Two or three lines of young housewives, couples and retired people continue to fill the room thumping through catalogs and counting batches of stamp books.

These tariff revisions cover the third annual delivery rate increase under the terms of a three-year rate plan approved by the PSC in October 2023 and they include a $200.6 million increase in electricity revenue and a $12.9 million increase in natural gas revenue. These tariff revisions also recover revenue shortfalls for the electric service classes for the period May 1, 2023, to November 1, 2023.

A residential electricity customer with an average use of 600 kilowatt-hours/month can expect an average monthly bill increase of $11.34. A residential natural gas heating customer using 100 therms/month can expect an average monthly bill increase of $4.10.

Customers may see some charges prorated on your May or June bill to take into account energy delivered before and after the new electricity and natural gas delivery rates went into effect.

RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

Regular Residential Customers: The electricity delivery charge will increase 1.889 cents per kilowatt-hour. The per-therm natural gas delivery charge for the 4-to-50-therms block will increase 6.102 cents per therm and 2.463 cents for the block rate over 50 therms. The customer charges for electricity and natural gas will not change.

Day/Night and Time-of-Use Customers: The electricity delivery charge will increase 1.760 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 8 and 1.329 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 12. The Service Class 8 and Service Class 12 customer charges will not change.

Additional information about changes in residential electricity and natural gas delivery charges is available at nyseg.com (click on the Account tab and select "Electric Pricing" or "Natural Gas Pricing" in the "Understand Your Bill" column).

NONRESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

Information about changes in nonresidential electricity customer charges, electricity demand and energy charges (where applicable), natural gas minimum charges and natural gas therm charges is available at nyseg.com.

Changes are also in effect for standby, street lighting and economic development rates. Please check page 2 of your bill for bill messages and nyseg.com for detailed information.

Regarding energy supply: If you purchase energy supply from NYSEG, your price will continue to be based on market prices, we pass through that cost to you without profit; if you purchase your energy supply from a supplier other than NYSEG (also known as an energy services company or ESCO), your energy supply price depends on your agreement with your ESCO.

Area organizations to hold Easter egg hunts this weekend

Several local organizations will host Easter egg hunts and other Easter events this weekend, beginning on Good Friday, April 18.

River Street Baptist Church will host its annual hunt and Easter activities from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Friday, April 18 at 133 River St. in Oneonta. According to a Facebook post, the church welcomes children 12 and younger. Each child will be provided a basket and have the chance to find enough eggs to fill that basket. There will also be games, crafts and with the help of ventriloquist comedy by Pastor Frank Westcott, the Bible story Christians celebrate at Easter will be told. Kids 12 and under can participate for free. Children 4 and under must be accompanied by an adult. People are asked to preregister at <https://tinyurl.com/mwpt2b5e>, however, walk-ins will be welcomed.

The Delhi Rehabilitation and Nursing Center will hold its annual Easter event at 1:30 p.m. Friday, April 18 at 41861 State Route 10 in Delhi. According to a Facebook post, the event will feature an egg hunt including golden egg prizes, craft corner and face painting.

Pathfinder Village at 3 Chenango Road in Edmeston will hold its annual community Easter egg hunt at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 19. For information, call 607-965-8377.

Glimmerglass State Park and Hyde Hall's annual Easter egg hunt is scheduled for at 11 a.m. April 19. The hunt will begin promptly at 11 a.m., and there will be designated "egg zones" for different age groups — 0-3, 4-7 and 8-11 — ensuring everyone has a chance to participate. Special golden eggs will also be hidden, and those who find one will receive an extra prize, a news release stated. For more information, email info@hydehall.org or call 607-547-5098.

DeLancey United Presbyterian Church at 444 County Highway 2 in DeLancey will hold its annual hunt at 1 p.m. April 19 for children 2 and older. The oldest age group will search outside. Refreshments will be served after the hunt.

Morris VFW & AMVets 1417 at 314 Ellis Road in Morris will host an Easter party from noon to 2 p.m. April 19. The event includes snacks and a visit from the Easter Bunny.

Cherry Valley will hold its annual Easter egg hunt from noon to 2 p.m. April 19. Children can pick up maps at the Telegraph School at 83 Alden St. and try to find eggs at local businesses. Bring a completed map to earn prizes and have refreshments. The event will be run by the Cherry Valley Cadette Girl Scouts, who will also be running a Girl Scout Cookie Booth.

Downsville Girl Scouts and the Colchester Chamber of Commerce will hold an Easter egg hunt at 11 a.m. April 19 at the Downsville Central School playground at 14784 State Highway 30. The egg hunt will be held inside in case of inclement weather.

The Stamford Rotary will host its annual Easter egg hunt at 11 a.m. April 19 at Rexmere Parke and West Main Street for children 10 years and younger. Find the golden and silver eggs for a special prize.

The First United Methodist Church at 66 Chestnut St. in Oneonta will hold an Easter egg hunt at 9:45 a.m. Sunday, April 20.

The Andes Hotel at 110 Main St. will hold photos with the Easter Bunny from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Easter basket giveaways and an Easter egg hunt at 1 p.m. April 20.

Fort Hill American Legion Post 376 at 17 S. Washington Avenue in Oxford will host a pancake breakfast with the Easter Bunny from 7:30 to 11 a.m. April 20. The Easter Bunny will be there from 9 to 11 a.m. for pictures. The menu will be eggs 'your way', pancakes, sausage, bacon, home fries, and French toast. To drink will be juice, milk, hot coffee, cocoa or tea. Cost is $9 adults, $8 seniors 62 and older, $7 children 6 to 12, $2 children 2 to 5, and free for those younger than 2.

The Easter Bunny will visit the Village Green Park in Bainbridge from noon to 2 p.m. April 20. There will be games, prizes and giveaways hosted by the Bainbridge Dunkin Donuts crew.

Pre-registration links and more information about the hikes can be found at <https://susqadk.org/outing-schedule/>.

Participants must have a level of fitness appropriate for the type of activity and proper clothing and gear, including enough water to stay hydrated.

AREA NEWS

Restoration landscaping talk planned

WALTON — The William B. Ogden Library announced it will hold a talk about restoration landscaping from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. April 16 at 42 Gardiner Place.

According to a news release local landscape architect Katherine Ruth Bridges, RLA will talk about the benefits of restoration landscaping, a holistic approach that works with the local ecology and natural processes to improve biodiversity and the well-being of the land. Attendees will learn next steps on how to turn their lawn and garden into beautiful high quality habitat and how to increase diversity by using native plants.

Bridges is a landscape architect with more than 30 years of experience designing and restoring public parks across New York City's five boroughs. "From her early work with the Central Park Conservancy to award-winning projects like Blue Heron Park and Canarsie Park, Bridges has left a lasting legacy of thoughtful, sustainable design," the release stated. Now living locally, she is an active community member and continues to share her passion for ecological restoration and creating timeless beauty in landscapes.

County seeks input for health study

The Otsego County Department of Health, in partnership with the Bassett Healthcare Network, announced it is launching the development of the 2025–2030 Community Health Needs Assessment and is seeking input from residents, businesses and organizations across Otsego County to help shape future health initiatives and improve the overall well-being of our communities.

According to a news release, the CHNA is a comprehensive survey and analysis designed to identify the most pressing health needs facing the community. It serves as a roadmap for health departments, healthcare providers, and community organizations to allocate resources effectively, prioritize programs and develop strategies that target the specific health challenges of Otsego County.

Community input is essential in creating a health plan that reflects the real needs of Otsego County residents, according to the release. By participating in surveys, focus groups, or public forums, individuals have the opportunity to share their concerns, experiences, and suggestions on issues such as access to healthcare, mental health resources, chronic disease prevention, nutrition, physical activity, and more.

Community members can provide feedback by completing an online survey at <https://arcs.is/CuH5W>. Deadline for feedback is April 16. All responses will remain confidential and will be used solely to inform the development of the CHNA and guide local health initiatives from 2025 to 2030.

STEP BACK IN TIME

Step Back in Time features news items from The Daily Star 25 and 50 years ago.

APRIL 15, 2000

Golf course owners appear to have won their battle with the Susquehanna River Basin Commission over retroactive water-use payments.

At the commission's meeting Tuesday, Paul Swartz, SRBC executive director, will recommend that the authority's four commissioners drop plans to obtain water use fees dating back to 1993, a commission spokeswoman said Friday.

And the proposal appears to have the support of the commissioners.

In a letter Friday to Sen. James Seward, John Hicks, the New York commissioner, said he is confident that the SRBC will approve a new compliance program at its Tuesday meeting.

The program, Hicks said, "will include amnesty, no penalties or fines for timely application submission."

APRIL 15, 1975

The Oneonta Urban Renewal Agency would like to proceed with plans to demolish the old Winney Hotel building, but can't because a Black Cat has crossed its path.

Agency Director David

Cooper said last night that the contractor for the demolition is prepared to move ahead but is stymied because the Black Cat Tavern is still located in the block despite, Cooper says, several requests to leave.

Now the agency's attorney, James Konstanty, and the tavern's attorney, Frank Getman, have been asked to pursue the matter, but can't because both are in Florida.

Agency Relocation Director William Hughes said he has made three or four locations available to Black Cat owner Clarence May for relocation of his business, but none have been acceptable to May.

Public Notice

NYSEG has filed tariff revisions October 27, 2023, with the New York State Public Service Commission (PSC) for new electricity and natural gas delivery rates to become effective May 1, 2025. These tariff revisions cover the third annual delivery rate increase under the terms of a three-year rate plan approved by the PSC in October 2023 and they include a $200.6 million increase in electricity revenue and a $12.9 million increase in natural gas revenue. The customer charges for electricity and natural gas will not change.

Day/Night and Time-of-Use Customers: The electricity delivery charge will increase 1.760 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 8 and 1.329 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 12. The Service Class 8 and Service Class 12 customer charges will not change.

Additional information about changes in residential electricity and natural gas delivery charges is available at nyseg.com (click on the Account tab and select "Electric Pricing" or "Natural Gas Pricing" in the "Understand Your Bill" column).

NONRESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

Information about changes in nonresidential electricity customer charges, electricity demand and energy charges (where applicable), natural gas minimum charges and natural gas therm charges is available at nyseg.com.

Changes are also in effect for standby, street lighting and economic development rates. Please check page 2 of your bill for bill messages and nyseg.com for detailed information.

Regarding energy supply: If you purchase energy supply from NYSEG, your price will continue to be based on market prices, we pass through that cost to you without profit; if you purchase your energy supply from a supplier other than NYSEG (also known as an energy services company or ESCO), your energy supply price depends on your agreement with your ESCO.

Library Life: Some gothic novel suggestions

Spring break is over and I'm already collecting book ideas to add to my TBR list. Summer reads are often light or cozy but since I spent my winter with that type of book, this summer I want to try something different.

It's a stretch for me but I might try some new gothic novels. I absolutely loved Silvia Moren-Garcia's "Mexican Gothic." It was a book I chose at random but found to be a mysterious and surprising story. A newlywed cousin begs her glamorous debutante relative to come save her from a shadowy doom. The family she married into resides in the far away countryside. The family is difficult enough to handle but it's the house that seeps into her dreams with visions of blood and doom.

"The Forgotten Sisters" by Cynthia Pelayo is about two sisters who live in a historic bungalow on the Chicago River. It seems that readers either love or hate Pelayo's prose style and this story is a combination of historical fiction and creepy ghost stories. Two sisters are overly attached to the family home. To stave off loneliness, one of them starts a podcast about

Tina Winstead
LIBRARY DIRECTOR

Chicago's ghostly tales. It captures the attention of a male listener but as their relationship grows, so do the number of bodies that float past her window.

"Gothictown" by Emily Carpenter is a story about one of those "it's too good to be true" situations. She's living in a tiny apartment in NYC with some painful memories. One day, she gets an email telling her she can buy a spacious Victorian home in Juliana, Georgia for a mere $100. The town is eager to boost its economy, and she can get a business grant to open a new restaurant. At first, everything seems perfect but as time goes by, she feels like something is off-kilter and menacing. She's starting to wonder how, or whether, she'll be able to leave.

"Model Home" by Rivers Solomon turns the haunted house genre on its head. Three siblings were raised in a gated enclave outside of Dallas. They were the first Black family in the neighborhood and people were nice enough. But right away, bad things, scary things began to happen in their house. As adults, they left but had to return to the horrors of the home upon their parents' deaths. Their deaths were not natural, but was it supernatural?

"Victorian Psycho" by Virginia Feito has a cover that will make your skin crawl; unless you like dolls. Winifred Notty is hired as the governess in a bleak mansion in the town of Grim Wolds where you'll be transported directly to Victorian England. Winifred is immediately disliked by her charges and her inner dialogue is full of menace, so you probably won't like her either. This is a creepy read with a horrifying finale.

Library Hours: 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday and Friday; 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Elks plan chicken barbecue

CHESTNUT STREET — The Oneonta Elks Club announced its first chicken barbecue dinner of the season will be at 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 23 at the lodge at 84 Chestnut St.

According to a news release, the dinner will include chicken, soup, various salads, rolls, dessert and beverages. Dinner will be served in dining room at 6 p.m. for $15 and by reserved takeout at 5:45 p.m. for $17. Call 607-432-1312 for reservations.

Young adult author to speak

SUNY ONEONTA — Young adult novelist Adib Khorram will read at 7 p.m. April 23 at Hunt Union's Red Dragon Theater, Ravine Parkway in Oneonta as the culmination of the The Oneonta Literary Festival and Red Dragon Reading Series. The reading will be followed by a Q&A and book signing.

According to a news release, Khorram is a queer Iranian-American author. He was born and raised in Kansas City, Missouri. A theater kid in high school, he went on to study design and technical theater at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, with an emphasis in lighting design, and spent several years in the event production industry.

Khorram's first novel, "Darius the Great is Not Okay," won YALSA's William C. Morris Award for Best Debut Author Writing for Teens, the Asian/Pacific American Literature Association's Young Adult Award, and a Boston Globe-Horn Book Award Honor, among other accolades. A companion novel, "Darius the Great Deserves Better," became an instant Indie Bestseller and received a Stonewall Honor.

Books will be made available by the Green Toad Bookstore. The event is free and open to the public.

ROXBURY — Roxbury town officials are trying to decide if they want to take a swing at owning a golf course.

The Roxbury Town Board will hold two public information meetings to discuss the proposed acquisition of the Shepherd Hills Golf Course property. The first meeting will be at the Grand Gorge Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, and the second meeting will take place at Roxbury Central School at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Roxbury Councilman Stephen Walker said the town should take advantage of the opportunity to purchase an option to buy the 360-acre parcel of land that includes the nine-hole golf course and a clubhouse, tennis courts, gazebos, a lake and a network of roads and footpaths.

Walker said the price of the property is $617,000. The property is owned by E.H.R. Investments. The golf course has been operated by the Shepherd Hills Golf Association for the past 25 years.

Ten of 19 doctors in private practice will close their offices if malpractice insurance is not available by July 1, as indicated in questionnaires returned at the regular monthly Fox Hospital staff meeting last night.

"But patients are not going to be abandoned. Some kind of arrangements will be made for handling emergency cases," Dr. Cornelius Ryan, chief of medical services, emphasized.

On July 1, all present malpractice coverage by the Argonaut Insurance Co., which provides coverage to 60 per cent of the New York State doctors and to all Oneonta doctors, will terminate. No other insurance plan has become available and the problem is being considered by the state legislature.

If the legislature does not provide an insurance program by July 1, six of the 19 Oneonta doctors said they will give up private practice and seek salaried positions in which they will be covered by insurance carried by their employers — such as in schools, industries, insurance companies and, possibly, hospitals.

Public Notice

NYSEG has filed tariff revisions October 27, 2023, with the New York State Public Service Commission (PSC) for new electricity and natural gas delivery rates to become effective May 1, 2025. These tariff revisions cover the third annual delivery rate increase under the terms of a three-year rate plan approved by the PSC in October 2023 and they include a $200.6 million increase in electricity revenue and a $12.9 million increase in natural gas revenue. These tariff revisions also recover revenue shortfalls for the electric service classes for the period May 1, 2023, to November 1, 2023.

A residential electricity customer with an average use of 600 kilowatt-hours/month can expect an average monthly bill increase of $11.34. A residential natural gas heating customer using 100 therms/month can expect an average monthly bill increase of $4.10.

Customers may see some charges prorated on your May or June bill to take into account energy delivered before and after the new electricity and natural gas delivery rates went into effect.

RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

Regular Residential Customers: The electricity delivery charge will increase 1.889 cents per kilowatt-hour. The per-therm natural gas delivery charge for the 4-to-50-therms block will increase 6.102 cents per therm and 2.463 cents for the block rate over 50 therms. The customer charges for electricity and natural gas will not change.

Day/Night and Time-of-Use Customers: The electricity delivery charge will increase 1.760 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 8 and 1.329 cents per kilowatt-hour for Service Class 12. The Service Class 8 and Service Class 12 customer charges will not change.

Additional information about changes in residential electricity and natural gas delivery charges is available at nyseg.com (click on the Account tab and select "Electric Pricing" or "Natural Gas Pricing" in the "Understand Your Bill" column).

NONRESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS

Information about changes in nonresidential electricity customer charges, electricity demand and energy charges (where applicable), natural gas minimum charges and natural gas therm charges is available at nyseg.com.

Changes are also in effect for standby, street lighting and economic development rates. Please check page 2 of your bill for bill messages and nyseg.com for detailed information.

Regarding energy supply: If you purchase energy supply from NYSEG, your price will continue to be based on market prices, we pass through that cost to you without profit; if you purchase your energy supply from a supplier other than NYSEG (also known as an energy services company or ESCO), your energy supply price depends on your agreement with your ESCO.
