

STATE OF NEW YORK
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

CASE 14-M-0224 - Proceeding on Motion of the Commission to Enable Community Choice Aggregation Programs.

NOTICE SOLICITING COMMENTS

(Issued September 15, 2026)

On August 25, 2026, Department of Public Service staff filed a proposal for modification of the Community Choice Aggregation (CCA) Program (the Proposal). The Proposal addresses the Public Service Commission's (Commission) Order Modifying Outreach and Education Requirements and Directing Program Evaluation and its requirement for an evaluation of the CCA framework to assess whether the program continues to meet its intended objectives and to determine whether modifications are warranted.¹ Specifically, the Commission directed an analysis of CCA Program pricing as compared to default utility service, levels of municipal engagement, and measurable contributions to the Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act. Based on its analysis, the Proposal finds that the CCA Program has not achieved its primary objectives and does not provide sufficient benefits to justify its continuation. The Proposal recommends that the Commission discontinue the CCA Program in New York State by directing CCA administrators to: 1) transition remaining customers back to utility default supply service, if any; 2) establish reporting and compliance requirements to ensure a transparent and orderly CCA Program closure, and; 3) decline to authorize new CCA programs under the current framework.
